The School Answering Machine

Hello! You have reached the automated answering service of your school. In order to assist you in connecting the right staff member, please listen to all your options before making a selection:

To lie about why your child is absent - Press 1

To make excuses for why your child did not do his work - Press 2

To complain about what we do - Press 3

To swear at staff members - Press 4

To ask why you didn't get information that was already enclosed in your newsletter and several flyers mailed to you - Press 5

If you want us to raise your child - Press 6

If you want to reach out and touch, slap or hit someone - Press 7

To request another teacher for the third time this year - Press 8!

To complain about bus transportation - Press 9

To complain about school lunches - Press 0

If you realize this is the real world and your child must be accountable/responsible for his/ her own behavior, class work, homework, and that it's not the teachers fault for your children's lack of effort, hang up.

Card Reader Instructions

Hard to believe, but many of our customers at the bank still don't know how to swipe their card through the ATM card reader. Because of this, my fellow tellers and I often find ourselves having to explain how it's done.

One teller complained that she kept getting odd looks every time she explained it. I found out why when I overheard her tell one man, "Strip down facing me."

Which Tooth?

A lady makes an emergency stop at a dentist office and tells the dentist, "I need a tooth pulled right away. Don't even bother with the Novocain, just yank the tooth out. We're in a really big hurry."

The dentist is really impressed and says, "M'am I really admire your courage. Which tooth do want to have pulled?"

The lady shoves her husband toward the dentist and says "Go ahead dear, show him your tooth."

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Your zeal for challenges usually works well for you. But this week it's best to avoid jumping into new situations without more information. Vital news emerges by the weekend.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Once again, the Bovine's patience pays off as that pesky problem works itself out without taking too much of your valuable time. A new task opens interesting possibilities.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Those suggestions you want to share need to be set aside for a while so you can focus on the job at hand. There'll be time later to put your ideas into a workable format.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Be sure about your sources before you use the information in any decision you reach about your new project. Some of the data might be out of date or misinterpreted.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) A sudden challenge might rattle you at first. But pump up that strong Lion's heart with a full measure of courage, and face it with the continuing support of family and friends.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Watch your expenses this week so you can have a financial cushion to fall back on should things tighten up later this month. Money matters ease by the 1st.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Uncertainty over workplace policy creates anxiety and confusion among your colleagues. Don't be surprised if you're asked, once again, to help work things out.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) The workweek keeps you busy tying up loose ends and checking data that needs to be verified. The weekend offers a chance to relax and restore your spent energies.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) This is not the best time to go to extremes to prove a point. Better to set a sensible goal now and move forward. There'll be time later to take the bolder course.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A step-by-step progression is the better way to move ahead. Taking shortcuts could be risky at this time. Important news arrives on the 1st.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Avoid getting drawn into workplace disputes that should be handled by those directly involved. Instead, spend your energy developing those new ideas.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You still need to be prudent about money matters. But things start to ease by the end of the week. A weekend encounter with an old friend brings welcome news.

BORN THIS WEEK: You handle challenging situations with boldness when necessary and caution when called for.

* Summer kids tip: Create an "I'm Bored" jar with ideas about things to do. Now when that phrase inevitably comes up, you'll be ready with a quick solution.

* This tip takes the pain out of a task nobody likes: dusting the blinds! Use a set of salad tongs for a blinds duster; just wrap a microfiber cloth around each of the tongs and secure it with a rubber band or two. Then use the tongs to grab and glide along each blind. Even kids can get behind this dusting job.

* "Tacos are a favorite meal in our house, but very messy -- until we discovered a great use for coffee filters. We use a filter to hold the taco and peel back the paper as we eat. Now nothing drips out or falls out, even if the shell cracks!" -- E.B. in Oregon

* "We like juice at home, and the kind we like has a large mouth on the bottle. It turns out that after we finish the juice, the bottle makes a great storage container for snacks. We clean and dry it, then fill it with cereals or dry pasta. We've even used them for popcorn." -- R.K. in Missouri

* Recipe substitution: For 1 cup of tomato juice, use 1/2 cup of tomato sauce plus 1/2 cup of water.

* If you have dry, cracked heels from wearing flip-flops and sandals too often, apply a layer of petroleum jelly to your feet before bed and cover with socks. If you can't sleep with socks, do this in the evening, maybe while watching TV. It will soften the hard skin after a week or so -- sooner depending on how dry your feet are.

PIEDMONT PETS
The Cycle of Violence
July 12, 2018
By Paulette Dean

When people contemplate bringing an animal into their lives, a vital part of pet ownership - the financial responsibility - is often overlooked. However, the cost of having a pet needs to be considered; it could even be the deciding factor.

Having a companion animal is expensive. The American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals estimates that dog/cat ownership costs $1,000-1,500 each year. The one-time expense of acquiring a dog or cat is from $100-565, although that can widely vary. The beginning costs of a pet include the price of the animal, food, toys, housing, and a routine veterinary check-up. Any type of pet has certain physical needs that must be met, and even animals obtained from "free to good home" advertisements carry a financial burden.

In troubled economic times, we get many calls from people who want us to pay for pet food or veterinary services. The reality of pet ownership is that accidents and illnesses happen and that costs money. Daily expenses of food, litter, toys, and treats add up. People who have acquired a "free" animal suddenly need help with veterinary treatment for injury or illness. We have limited funds to help in those circumstances and it is very sad.

996 South Boston Rd., Danville, VA 24540
Phone: (434) 799-0843

Companies downsize, and family and personal circumstances change. The pets already in a home continue to have needs. All of these considerations prove why it is wise to have at least a small amount of savings; it is also helpful to have a solid business relationship with a veterinary clinic.

It may not seem fair that sometimes a decision to acquire a pet has to be based on the ability to financially handle the responsibility, but that is a reality in today's world.

HOLLYWOOD
by Tony Rizzo

HOLLYWOOD — George Clooney took time away from preparing to direct the sci-fi thriller "Echo" to set up a $100,000 donation, with his wife, Amal, and The Clooney Foundation, for the Young Center for Immigrant Children's Rights. The organization helps protect and promote the best interests of immigrant children in the United States who've been separated from their families. Meanwhile, Fox series star and creator of "The Orville," Seth McFarland, has donated $2.5 million to National Public Radio and its Los Angeles station, KPCC, after Fox News host Tucker Carlson's suggestion that viewers not watch any media besides Fox News. McFarland said it's like they're saying, "Don't think critically, don't consult multiple news sources and in general don't use your brain!" Fox TV isn't thrilled with his opinion or generosity.

"Saturday Night Live" alum Kristen Wiig had to bow out of the proposed half-hour Apple comedy series based on the book "You Think It, I'll Say It" because of a conflict with the "Wonder Woman 1984" sequel. Reese Witherspoon's company Hello Sunshine, which is producing the Apple series, will have to find a replacement for Wiig. Hello Sunshine is currently preparing "Are You Sleeping," with Oscar-winner Octavia Spencer, and a morning-show drama starring Reese and Jennifer Aniston.

Paramount Pictures is preparing a biography film about Sammy Davis, Jr. based on his 1965 memoir, "Yes, I Can." Davis was a member of Frank Sinatra's Rat Pack along with Dean Martin, Peter Lawford and Joey Bishop, who all starred in the original "Ocean's 11" and several other films.

It's a good thing Jennifer Lopez has her hit Las Vegas show and the successful NBC show "World of Dance" to fall back on, given that the second season of her series "Shades of Blue" is being killed in the ratings by ABC's game shows. If ratings don't improve it will be headed for the chopping block. Because of the initial success of "Roseanne" (before Roseanne screwed it up), Fran Dresher is planning a reboot of "The Nanny" (1993-1999). The show has proven to be pure gold in syndication with a loyal following. Chris Hardwick, host of NBC's high-rated game show "The Wall," is the latest male celebrity caught in the "Me Too" web. Allegations by Chloe Dykstra, who claims Hardwick sexually abused her during their three-year relationship, has caused AMC to pull his talk show, and he'll no longer be moderating the panel at the San Diego Comic-Con in July. NBC is currently "assessing" his position as host of "The Wall," which goes back into production in September. Even though Hardwick denies all charges, his protestations of innocence also have hit a "WALL!"

Jennifer Lopez

Coolers of refreshing water and gatorade are available at all times.

Don't miss out! Last week of camp is July 16-20

Our camps teach team work, leadership skills, listening skills, socialization skills, and much more.

Our summer campers learn how to care for the animals, ride the horses, work the fields and learn all about agriculture. They also enjoy a splash in the creek each day and use their creativity to complete several craft projects for the week.

Lunch is provided each day unless your child has allergies. Each afternoon we enjoy a refreshing snack such as: watermelon, freezer pops, snow cones or homemade ice cream.

Unique Business Enters the Fray in River District

Owner/Operator Fred Shanks IV plans to shake up an overlooked industry

DANVILLE, VA - 27 year old Danville resident Fred Shanks IV is excited to join the ranks of a growing community of young professionals in the Danville, Pittsylvania County area. He sees his new endeavor, Apex Bail Bonds, located in Danville's River District, as a chance to give an often-overlooked industry a makeover. "I see opening this business as an opportunity to provide a new approach to an industry that is absolutely vital to a community's health, and at the same time provide a necessary public service," Shanks said. "As with any industry, when there is less competition it only hurts the consumer, so I believe Apex Bail Bonds will naturally be a huge positive for Danville and the surrounding area. If I can introduce a fresh, perhaps younger, perspective to the bail industry it will only strengthen the level and quality of services available to local consumers," he added. Shanks says Apex Bail Bonds will prioritize providing a compassionate and professional service to its clients over some of the more traditional processes many bondsmen currently use. "I think it's stale," Shanks says of the bail industry, "I want to shake the industry up in a responsible manner and use my experiences growing up in Southside Virginia as a guiding light of sorts to better understand that defendant and his or her family when they need my services."

Shanks says he often is surprised to see former classmates and peers in the newspaper or evening news as either victims of a crime or the accused. "I see them, and I remember them as good people, funny people, great athletes or students and I wonder what happened. But I'm also not here to judge their guilt or innocence. In our system, citizens are presumed innocent and, so long as they aren't a danger to the community, they are guaranteed a Constitutional right to bail." Shanks hopes that the result of his approach, and the mission of Apex Bail Bonds, to provide compassionate, courteous, and professional bail bonds service to its clients, will be two-fold.

"First and foremost, the goal of Apex Bail Bonds is to increase the quality of bail bond services available, and to increase the number of people they are available to. Secondly, I hope that by becoming a value-added member of the community, it will change the way some people look at bail bondsmen and provide a clearer picture of the difficult but vital role we play in serving our communities," Shanks said.

"Too many people think of bondsmen as low-rent or give them the used-car-salesman cliché of a persona, which is unfair. But it is also, in many ways, is the fault of the bail industry for not better informing the public." Shanks notes that bail bondsmen are one of the most highly regulated professions in the state. "Bondsmen are regulated by two separate governmental agencies, both the Bureau of Insurance and the Department of Criminal Justice Services (DCJS). We are required to take and pass all of the courses and exams necessary to become an insurance agent before we can even begin another equally strenuous process for the bail license itself," he added. Shanks believes many people are also unaware that even if they never need a bail bondsman personally, bondsmen still carry out vital roles in every community. "Bail bondsmen guarantee your 8th Amendment right to bail. It's one of the few, very distinct professions mentioned in the Constitution, and the founders clearly believed it to be vital for it to appear in the Bill of Rights," Shanks said.

However, he believes one of the most critical services that the bail industry provides is a service that is not actually performed on behalf of their clients, but instead performed on behalf of law-abiding people and their families living in the community. "Bondsmen have a vested interest in ensuring the defendant shows up for his court date, if they don't appear the bondsman forfeits the full bond amount to the court. When that happens, we use our own resources, not taxpayer dollars, to track him or her down and ensure that justice is done for the victims." Shanks believes that role is as important as ever in a day and age where police forces across the country are stretched so thin.

Apex Bail Bonds aims to fill a public need by increasing consumer options through its offering of compassionate, professional, courteous, and confidential bail bond services. Although Shanks believes that being in the River District, at 509 Loyal Street, is a distinct advantage for the company as well. The location puts Apex Bail Bonds right across the street from the Danville jail. "Locating in the River District was a no-brainer. It's booming right now and it's the center of Danville once again. Who wouldn't want to be a part of that growth?" Shanks said. He added, "And of course, being located right across from the jail allows Apex to provide the fastest bail bond service possible, which is the name of the game." Shanks believes that by locating on Loyal St., he has taken speed out of the equation which will allow Apex to lend more focus to making other aspects of its service just as exceptional.

"Our clients will literally have Apex by their side every step of the way. After signing for the bond, we can walk the friend or family member across the street to the jail and retrieve their loved one," Shanks said. He added, "This is the type of quality service Apex Bail Bonds aims to provide to all of Southside Virginia." The primary service area for Apex Bail Bonds includes Danville, Pittsylvania County, Henry County, Franklin County, Halifax County, and Mecklenburg County. However, Apex Bail Bonds is fully licensed to offer bail services anywhere in Virginia.

About the Owner:

Fred Shanks IV graduated from George Washington High School in 2008 and later attended Hampden-Sydney College. He comes from a family of small business owners, many of whom located their businesses in the River District also. He is the son of Fred Shanks III, a civil engineer and surveyor who owns and operates Shanks Associates, P. C. at 507 Loyal St. and is also a Danville City Councilman. When still in high school, Fred began working for a local insurance agency which also provided bail bond service. Because bail bonding is an offshoot of the insurance industry, Fred became more familiar with it as he continued working in insurance. He believes this is what planted the seed that would later lead to him founding Apex Bail Bonds in June 2018. An entrepreneur by nature, Fred enjoys the challenge of small business ownership and looks forward to encouraging more young people to fulfill their dream of becoming business owners. He is the owner/agent of Apex Bail Bonds and welcomes anyone who wishes to learn more to call or stop by its Danville location.

"Crazy Mad Ninja Skills"

I truly believe that, when I get to the end of my life, I will be able to look back and feel as though I have squeezed every drop of fun and adventure out of it. God has blessed me to be able to do many things that make for quite an interesting bucket list. One of the things in that bucket was fulfilled in 1992 when I earned my black belt. But, like so many, life got very busy thereafter. That is to say, that, I have practiced on and off through the years, but have not continued to attend classes. Something about getting married, ten years of college, three children, starting a church, building two buildings, learning foreign languages, traveling overseas, getting into scuba diving, taking up power lifting, the list could go on and on, has not left much time for the martial arts.

So I have often wondered if I still have all of the skills and sharpness, and if I would be adequately prepared in a time of crisis.

And then came the day that I was mowing grass in the wooded area beside our church. The ground slopes steeply away at certain points, and once the mower starts downward, there is no stopping or going back.

Coming around a tree, and then going down one of those slopes, completely oblivious to anything but the task at hand, I encountered an enemy of Biblical proportions. There simply is no giant, lion, demon, or devil from the pit that strikes instant fear and terror into a heart quicker than unexpectedly running your face through an inhabited spider web...

I am quite certain, looking back on the entire event, that the spider was no happier about the arrangement than I was. Nonetheless, at that moment, all reason was gone, and there was only the desperate desire to survive, the instant "fight or flight" reaction that God has built into all of us. And it was then that all of my crazy mad ninja skills came flooding back in a split instant of time.

There were wild flailing chops. There were defensive gyrations of the arms and wrists that would make Mr. Miagi shed tears of utter joy. There were guttural screams that were doubtless meant to mimic the normal "ki-ya!" of the trained martial artist, but instead surely sounded like the squealing, agonized cries of a constipated elk.

And then I saw him, my dreaded foe. He was about a quarter of an inch long, and was hurriedly scooting across my stomach, six legs running for safety, two covering his ears against my frightened fury. Instantly, I went into action. I distinctly remember six or seven hard chops to the mid section. Not his, mine. This did not result in any harm to the spider, mind you, he was quick enough to dodge each one. It did leave me, though, with the distinct impression that my chops were still good, but my abs need some re-tightening.

The spider lived. He lives still, as far as I know, and is doubtless going to tell and re-tell to his children and grandchildren his tale of victory over the giant on the metal monster. I myself live also, since, as a famous president once said, "We have nothing to fear, but a spider web to the face," or something along those lines.

All of this has me thinking, though. Why does it take an

Mix together:

- 1 tablespoon of baking soda
- ½ teaspoon mild detergent
- 2½ tablespoons of olive oil
- 1 gallon of water

This mixture can be put into pump bottles, and sprayed onto tomato plants as a natural insect repellent or as a fungicide for blight and mildew. Be sure to shake the mixture sufficiently before each spraying. - Brenda Weaver

THIS WEEK'S FARM FRESH RECIPES

Italian Sausage with Garlic Peppers, Onions and Grilled Cherry Tomatoes

Ingredients

- 1 Pack of Italian Sausage Links
- 1 Red Bell Pepper
- 1 Green Bell Pepper
- 1 Yellow Onion
- 1 Pint Cherry Tomatoes
- 1 Teaspoon Garlic Powder
- 2 Skewers (Wood or Metal)

Directions

Preheat grill to 350 degrees. Slice the peppers and onions into 1/4 inch slices and saute on the stove or on the grill burner. Cook until the onions are translucent and the peppers are soft. Season with the garlic powder. Once the grill is preheated, cook the sausage to 155 degrees while rotating frequently. Skewer and char the cherry tomatoes. Slice and plate the sausage, topping with peppers, onions and the tomatoes.

Summer Squash and Basil Pasta

Ingredients

- 1 Medium Yellow Squash
- 4 Cups of Water, Salted
- 1 lb. Rigatoni Pasta
- 1/3 Cup Cooking Oil
- 1 Oz. Fresh Basil
- Grated Parmesan Cheese to Taste

Directions

Begin by bringing the salted water to a boil in a large pot. As the water is heating up, mince the fresh basil and whisk into the cooking oil to the point until the oil is infused and has a greenish color to it. After the rigatoni has been cooked in the water, drain the pasta well and return to the pot. Over low heat quickly add the basil oil to the pasta and toss quickly to avoid sticking. Cut the squash long ways and then into 1/4 inch pieces. Saute over medium heat until tender and mix into the pasta. Plate and garnish with grated Parmesan cheese. Pairs well with white wine.

1. What was the name of the instrument played in the bridge solo of "Runaway," by Del Shannon?
2. Who released the song "Nag"?
3. Name Barry White's first No. 1 song.
4. What was the original name for The Five Man Electrical Band?
5. Name the song that contains this lyric: "They say you really mean it, This guy's the one that makes you feel, So safe, so sane and so secure."

Answers

1. A clavoline, but it had been reworked by Max Crook (playing the solo) into what he called the Musitron. In "Runaway," the bridge was written first, before the rest of the song.
2. The Halos, in 1961. The song went to No. 25 on Billboard.
3. "I'm Gonna Love You Just a Little More Baby," in 1973 on the R&B chart. The song also charted (although not as well) on international charts.
4. The Staccatos, until 1968. Their big hit was "Signs" in 1971.
5. "The Worst That Could Happen," by the Brooklyn Bridge in 1968. Oddly enough, the song appeared on the Clear Channel Communications 165-song list memo to all its stations after Sept. 11 of songs that should not be played on the air.

Do you suffer from gout?

You may qualify for a clinical research study.

The EXPLORE study will observe the safety and effectiveness of using the medication lesinurad in combination with a xanthine oxidase inhibitor (XOI), compared to using an XOI alone, to lower uric acid levels in the blood of adult patients with gout and kidney disease.

You may be eligible to participate in this study, if you meet all of the following criteria:

- You are between 18-85 years of age
- You have been diagnosed with gout
- You have problems with your kidney function
- You are taking either allopurinol or febuxostat

For more information about the EXPLORE study, please contact:
