HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

According to recent estimates, about one in three U.S. adults have high blood pressure. Because there are no symptoms, many do not know they have it. Uncontrolled high blood pressure can lead to stroke, heart attack, heart failure or kidney failure. This is why high blood pressure is often called the "silent killer." The only way to tell if you have high blood pressure is to have your blood pressure checked. Simple lifestyle changes to reduce your risks for heart attacks are, maintaining a healthy weight, don't smoke, getting regular exercise, reducing salt intake, drinking alcohol in moderation, and reducing stress levels. For more information contact your doctor or the Livingston County Department of Health at 243-7299.

WATER ILLNESS

Many people are not aware of recreational water illnesses. Germs on and in swimmers' bodies end up in the water and can make other people sick. Specific actions you can take to promote healthy swimming include: not swimming when you have diarrhea, staying out of the water if you have an open wound, washing your hands after using the toilet or changing diapers, showering before swimming and not swallowing pool water or getting pool water in your mouth. For information on recreational water illness, call the Livingston County Department of Health at 585- 243-7299.

Livingston County Department of Health Warns of Dangerous Food Trend

Liquid nitrogen puffs, also known as Dragon's Breath, are a food novelty made by freezing cereal puffs in liquid nitrogen. When the frozen cereal is chewed, the coldness condenses moisture. When an individual exhales and it looks like the person is breathing smoke.

Local and state health departments warn that there is a chance of injury when eating this item. Frostbite and tissue damage have been reported when some of the liquid nitrogen is left in the serving cup. If fingers are used to remove the product from the cup, skin contact with liquid nitrogen can cause frostbite. Eating liquid nitrogen can cause severe damage to the mouth, esophagus, and stomach.

"While food service operators are encouraged to describe how they will ensure that patrons are not served residual liquid nitrogen to permit issuing officials such as the Livingston County Department of Health, caution is strongly recommended when individuals are thinking about eating Dragon's Breath", stated Mark Grove, Director of the Center for Environmental Health.

For more information, please call the Center for Environmental Health of the Livingston County Department of Health at 243-7280.

Protect Yourself and Your Pets from Rabies

Rabies is a viral disease present in saliva and nervous tissue of an infected animal that attacks the central nervous system of humans, which includes the brain and spinal cord. Rabies is transmitted from infected animals to humans; all mammals can get rabies. People can contract rabies by coming in contact with a rabid animal through a bite. Exposure may also occur if saliva from a rabid animal enters an open cut or mucous membrane, which includes your eyes, nose or mouth. It is almost always fatal once symptoms appear. Livingston County has confirmed rabies in raccoons, bats, cats, foxes, skunks, woodchucks and even cows.

With warm weather approaching, the potential for contact with wild-life increases. The Livingston County Department of Health urges residents to be aware of the danger of rabies and follow these guidelines to protect themselves against rabies:

- If you are bitten by an animal, immediately wash the wound with soap and water, seek medical attention and report the incident to the Livingston County Department of Health.
 - Avoid contact with any wild animal. Be suspicious of wild animals that are unusually tame or aggressive, especially those that attack your pets. Do not attract raccoons, stray dogs, stray cats or other wild animals to your yard by feeding them.
- News from Livingston County, NY
- Avoid contact with any stray animals. Call the Livingston County Health Department regarding any contact with an animal that may be rabid.
 - Teach children not to touch any animal they do not know and to tell an adult immediately if they are bitten by an animal.
 - By law, all dogs, cats and ferrets must be vaccinated against rabies. Make sure horses and valuable livestock are also up-to-date on rabies vaccinations.
 - Keep family pets indoors at night. Don't leave them outside unattended or let them roam free.
 - Wear gloves when handling pets after any involvement with suspected rabid wild animals. Pet owners should keep a pair of thick gloves handy for just such situations. Bathe pets after wildlife encounters using rubber gloves.
 - If a bat is found in your home or cabin, do not let it go. Isolate it in a single room and contact the Livingston County Department of Health to discuss the potential for exposure. In some cases the bat can be tested for rabies. Immediately report any possible contact with bats, especially contact with sleeping persons, unattended children, or individuals with impairments.

For more information about rabies or our upcoming rabies clinics, please contact the Livingston County Department of Health at 243-7280 or visit our website at www.livingstoncounty.us/doh.htm.

Mark 16:17 says (Jesus is speaking to His followers), "And these signs shall follow them that believe: in my name . . . they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover."

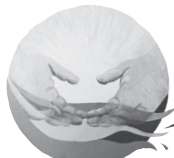

Why did Jesus use the word 'sign'?

Because, just like a road sign provides direction to somewhere, healings point the way to Jesus, and to Father God. Those who have been healed point the way to more healing for those who are sick.

If you or a loved one are sick, call us. We will be glad to come and pray for you.
