DORDT COLLEGE
Adjunct Faculty Positions
2018-2019

Communication Foundations

The Communication Department seeks an adjunct to teach Communication Foundations during the Fall 2018 semester. This is an introductory course which examines the ways in which communication is used in the public sphere to create, maintain, and change culture. Emphasis is given to public speaking, to listening skills, and to rhetorical methods for analyzing and constructing oral and written arguments. A master's degree in communication or a relevant field is required, as is commitment to teaching from the perspective of the Reformed faith. Preference will be given to those with college teaching experience.

Piano Instructor

The Music Department at Dordt College seeks an adjunct faculty member to provide piano lessons during the 2018-2019 academic year. Primary responsibilities include providing private instruction in piano. A master's degree is preferred, as is commitment to teaching from the perspective of the Reformed faith.

Application reviews will begin immediately. Qualified candidates committed to teaching from a Reformed, Biblical perspective and educational philosophy are encouraged to send a letter of interest, curriculum vitae/résumé, and official transcripts to:

Adjunct Faculty Positions
Fall 2018

Criminal Law
The Criminal Justice Department seeks an adjunct to teach an introductory course on the basic concepts of criminal law focusing on a study of what constitutes particular crimes, both in the common law and by statute, including certain defenses. Principles learned in this course will help students develop a deeper ability to discern what constitutes fair administration of justice; dealing fairly with the accused while continuing to uphold the interests of both victims and society at large. A Juris Doctorate (J.D.) is preferred; a master's degree is required, as is commitment to teaching from the perspective of the Reformed faith. Preference will be given to those with college teaching experience.

Machining, Metalworking, and Tooling
The Manufacturing Technology program seeks an adjunct to develop and teach this course, which develops competencies in the operation of lathes, milling machines, borers, grinders, and drill presses. Applies plan reading concepts to develop sketches, perform layouts, and generate specifications for where and how to machine metal. Includes tool and material selection and use of precision measuring devices to produce quality parts on CNC lathe and milling machines. A bachelor's degree is required, as is commitment to teaching from the perspective of the Reformed faith. Preference will be given to candidates with significant experience and/or certification in the operation of CNC lathes and milling machines.
