The theme of this year's fair "See yourself in 4-H, See yourself at the fair" is our simple way of saying everybody is connected and we're happy to be part of this. "Seeing yourself in 4-H" means accepting three key components of 4-H: learning by doing, making the best better, and having a gosh darn good time while you're at it! Fair is rich with examples of ways for you to see these attributes in yourself.

When you walking through the cattle barn teaching your little one about all the wonderful foods that come from milk and how lucky we are that our farmers provide a bounty, you are learning by doing.

When you learn more about or shop from an Orleans County business participating in the fair you help making the best better by supporting our neighbors and friends.

As for that last part, "having a gosh darn good time," if you come to fair with friends and family there's no way that you're going to fail. We have magic, music, acrobats, puppets, games, food, and more. Everybody can find their fun at the fair.

The Orleans County Cornell Cooperative Extension Board of Directors and Fair Committee all hope fair is a chance for you to see your connections to the our world and our community and see the 4-H experience in you!

Greased Pole Climbing Contest

Where can you go to see a team of 6 to 10 people try to scale a greased telephone pole?

Come check out one of Orleans County's most exciting competitions of the year, the Greased Pole Climbing Contest. Watch as teams try shimmy their way to the prize at the top. Those who don't slip back down the pole receive an invite to the championship run on Saturday.

If watching isn't exciting enough for you, register your team at the Fair Office to compete. Contestants must be at least 18 years old. Teams must register before the start of competition each night.

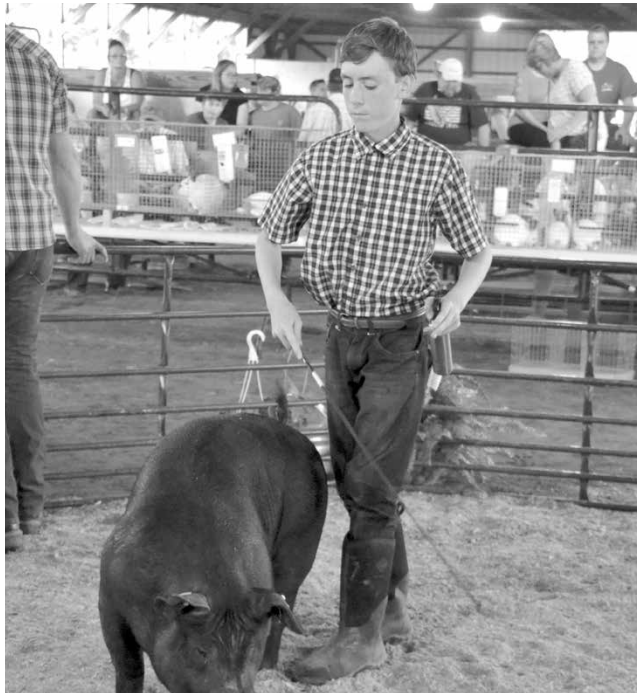

The Greased Pole Climbing contest will be run Wednesday - Saturday.

Ag Education Area

Bring your little ones to enjoy our new agriculture education area located in the commercial exhibits building.

They can harvest a potato, apples, eggs, or milk a cow. Members of the agricultural community will be dropping in throughout the week to share information and maybe a tasty bite from their industry.
