Open-Shop Electrical Contractors, Your Time is Now!

For the past several years IBEW Local 99 has been actively recruiting, testing and welcoming into our Local: Apprentices, Journeymen Wiremen, Tele-com Techs and Contractors.

That effort has been an amazing success. We now have a database of many unrepresented hard working men and women who will be coming in the Union. Many of these people currently work in parts of the industry that the IBEW has historically not been as prevalent in, such as Residential and Light commercial.

We are now looking to expand our recruitment of high quality and ethical open shop contractors that specialize in that type of work.

Discover the value IBEW can have for your company:

- You pay nothing to the Union to sign with us!
- Immediate access to indentured apprentices!
- 1-1000 qualified Men and Women available with a single phone call!
- IBEW quickly becoming the main source of manpower in the Northeast!
- Flexible rates for non-traditional work!
- Your partner in protecting the industry!
- The safest and most productive workforce in the industry!
- The undisputed best training facility and staff in the industry!
- Complete flexibility in Staffing!
- Access to General Contractors and Bidding Opportunities!
- Free Benefit Management!
- Contractor Training and Support!

We are looking for only the best in manpower and contractors. If you are a great contractor, we should be talking to you now. There are many very unsatisfied craftspeople looking for a better life who are available right now and ready to move to your company!

MANTLY WORDS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) With new facts to work with, you should feel more confident in moving ahead. But continue to do so at an unhurried pace so you can spot details you might otherwise miss.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Taking on that new workplace project could be one of your smarter career moves. Expect a surprising show of support from someone who had always been a critic.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You might feel you're too busy to undertake a new responsibility. But check it out before making any decisions. What you learn could persuade you to change your mind.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) You feel quite content enjoying all the comforts of home right now. But the urge to travel grows stronger, and by week's end, you could begin packing your bags.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) A hectic period begins to ease up, but that doesn't mean the Fine Feline can do much catnapping these days. You need to finish those old tasks and prepare for new ones.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Expect to get some good news about your financial situation by week's end. But it could still be too early to rush out with a long shopping list of things to buy.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Your management skills make an impression on some workplace VIPs who might be looking for someone like you to take on an upcoming project. Good luck.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Meeting a former adversary might be unsettling at first. But time has softened hard feelings, and you could be on the brink of starting a new relationship.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A troubling situation close to home might cause you to change your travel plans. But getting all the facts before you act might cause you to reconsider.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You might be quite alone right now in deciding to support a major workplace shift. But others will join you as new information supports your bold move.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A former co-worker returns with news that could persuade you to reassess recently made plans. Be sure to consult with a trusted colleague before you act.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Your motives behind a recent decision could be called into question by a rival. But once you present the facts, all doubts will be resolved. Enjoy an arts-rich weekend.

Donna's Day

Creative family fun

by Donna Erickson

Try Something New With Kids This Summer
Have you tried something new with your kids lately? There's still time this summer to plan an activity or adventure.

Karl Nelson, 40-year-old dad of two sons and executive of an educational nonprofit in Seattle, says introducing his boys to new experiences is vital for growth and learning about themselves and their world. He recently took his 5-year-old son, Oskar, who is always game for new adventures, sailing. "My task was to make sure he had a good enough time, so he'd want to do it again. Fortunately, his only complaint was the lack of snacks," says Karl. Next time there will be plenty! "Exposure to new ideas and concepts through experiential learning isn't just something that happens at school," says Karl. "Parents modeling lifelong learning at home is essential, like the day I picked up a violin 10 years ago in a quest to learn more about music. I started lessons and continue to this day. I like that my sons see (and hear!) their father practicing and improving over time. My efforts are also a reminder that we don't just start out being good at something; it takes discipline and hard work."

Gather your family to talk about activities that seem interesting, fun and perhaps a little out of the ordinary. Routines are important, but sometimes they become protective bubbles that need to be broken, or maybe just bent, for new perspective and growth. Here are two ideas to get you inspired.

1. Join a family exercise program, such as outdoor yoga and/or stretch class at a community center or park in your area. Some are free. If there are non-swimmers in the family, check out your local YMCA or community center for swimming lessons to learn this important life skill.

2. Partner with an experienced camping family and spend a few days together in the wild hiking, fishing, cooking and enjoying the outdoors together. It's a practical way to learn the ropes of camping and to get to know friends better. You might even start an annual tradition.

If sleeping in a tent is not your idea of fun, pack up a picnic and drive to a local park or nature preserve. Take a hike, play, build a campfire, roast some marshmallows and have all the fun of camping, then head home to your own beds at the end of the day.

HINTS FOR HOMEOWNERS

Tips Today For A Cool Tomorrow

(NAPSA)—Taking a few steps now can improve the odds that your air-conditioning system will be able to deal with warm weather heat and humidity.

Begin by clearing the area around your outdoor compressor, removing leaves, twigs and other debris that may have accumulated over the winter and providing clear, uncluttered space around and above the unit.

Next, check the system's filters, typically located along the return duct. Dirty filters can block airflow and reduce system efficiency, so it's important to clean or replace them regularly, preferably every month.

Holes or separated joints in the ductwork can also impact airflow and efficiency, so turn your system on and make sure air is flowing properly through the vents. If you suspect a leak in the ductwork, hire a professional to make the necessary repairs.

Use this time to caulk and weather-strip around doors and windows. This often overlooked step will help keep cool air inside your home during warm summer months and warm air outside.

It's also a good idea to add insulation around air-conditioning ducts when they are located in unconditioned spaces, such as attics, crawl spaces and garages.

Finally, contact a certified technician to do a preseason check of your system.

An annual inspection should include cleaning indoor and outdoor coils; checking your system's refrigerant charge and adjusting it, if necessary, to meet manufacturer specifications; cleaning and

If a certified technician says your air-conditioning system needs to be replaced, choose an energy-efficient model.

adjusting blower components to provide proper system airflow; lubricating all moving parts; inspecting the condensate drain for clogs that can cause water damage, affect indoor humidity levels and breed bacteria and mold; checking thermostat settings and system controls to ensure proper and safe operation; and tightening all electrical connections and measuring voltage and current on motors.

To locate a contractor that employs NATE-certified technicians, visit www.hvacradvice.com.

If you find your air-conditioning unit needs to be replaced, you may want to consider an energy-efficient model, such as the Luxaire Acclimate 18 SEER air conditioner, which is ENERGY STAR qualified, uses environmentally friendly refrigerant and features high-efficiency scroll compressors that enhance reliability and contribute to quiet operation.

Q.I've been watching that new private-detective show on ABC called "Take Two," and the actor who plays the lead looks so familiar to me. Can you tell me where I may have seen him before? —K.T. in Minnesota

A.Eddie Cibrian plays a hardscrabble detective (also named Eddie) who takes under his wing a down-and-out actress, Sam (played by Rachel Bilson of "The O.C." fame), to help her prepare for a movie role. If the premise seems a little familiar to you, that's because it comes to us by way of the folks who brought us "Castle," except the roles are reversed.

As for where you may have seen Eddie previously, he got his start in the mid-'90s playing Matt Clark on "The Young and the Restless," and since then he's starred in "Third Watch," "Rosewood," "CSI: Miami" and tons of other stuff. He's also well-known for being Mr. LeAnn Rimes, whom he married in 2011. Before that, he was married to "The Real Housewives of Beverly Hills" star Brandi Glanville (whom he left for LeAnn), and together they have two sons.

Q.I read about George Clooney's motorcycle accident in Italy recently and wondered if he's OK. Also, does he have anything new coming up? I feel like I haven't seen him in a movie in a while. —Diana F., via email

A.George was on his way to a film set in Sardinia on July 10 when he sustained non-life-threatening injuries when he was knocked off his motorcycle by a car that didn't yield the right of way. According to his agent, George "was treated and released from an Olbia hospital. He is recovering at his home and will be fine." He is in Sardinia filming the new Hulu miniseries "Catch-22," which is based on Joseph Heller's book of the same name.

Another project on George's radar is the new YouTube Red dark-comedy series "On Becoming a God in Central Florida," which centers on the dark side of the rise of waterparks in the Orlando area back in the late '80s to early '90s. The show, which is expected to premiere next year, also stars Kirsten Dunst, and both are executive producers on the project.

ABC/Craig Sjoдин

Eddie Cibrian

Q.Can you tell me what's up with NBC's "Champions"? I love that show! —Valerie F., via email

A.The Mindy Kaling-produced sitcom, which starred Anders Holm, Andy Favreau and J.J. Totah, has been axed by the network after its first season. To me, that really is a shame because I found it to be a fun, feel-good and intelligent series unlike anything on television today. It's still being shopped around to other networks, but as of this writing, there is no word on whether it's been picked up. Maybe Hulu will sweep in and save it, like the streaming service did with the other brilliant Mindy Kaling series, "The Mindy Project."

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

News For Older Americans

Stay On The Road To Safety

(NAPSA)—The number of senior drivers on the road continues to rise. According to AAAse-niors.com, there will be approximately 54 million Americans over 65 years old in 2020 and many members of that group will be driving. Being an older driver doesn't mean that person shouldn't drive, but it's helpful to plan ahead and take steps to ensure the safest trip or drive possible.

• Assess the situation— While it should be up to the older driver to evaluate his or her own driving abilities, senior driver or senior improvement courses are great ways to help in that assessment. Senior driving classes can reacquaint a driver with the rules of the road, point out warning signs and discuss new driving issues such as distractions, including texting and cell phones.
Check with your local senior center, AARP or AAA for senior driving courses near you.

• Be prepared for emergencies—Consider getting a cell phone if you don't have one.
Donated and recycled phones programmed to only dial 9-1-1 are available. Some cell phones come with larger buttons and displays to make them easier for seniors to use and several service carriers have special senior calling plans.
Have an emergency preparedness kit in the trunk that includes phone numbers to call in an emergency (relatives or neighbors, towing company, local garage or dealership), quart of motor oil, tire gauge, white cloth or sign that will help you signal for help, jumper cables, flashlight and blanket.

• Running smooth—A well-maintained vehicle is another factor in safe driving. That's why it is For seniors who still enjoy driving, one of the first steps for safety on the road is following the basics and being prepared.

important to follow regular maintenance practices. Check the air pressure and condition of your tires and have them rotated. A good rule of thumb is to rotate them every other oil change. Get your oil changed and, to extend the life of your car and the oil, consider using a synthetic motor oil. Cars using a synthetic oil such as Royal Purple can go up to 10,000 miles between oil changes, which means less money spent on oil changes and less impact on the environment with less oil disposed.

• Keep it safe—Other items to check for safe driving include:
Clean and adjust your headlights.
A technician at a dealership or repair shop can adjust the aim to help you see the road better and help other drivers avoid glare.
Keep your windows clean inside and out to increase visibility.
Repair any windshield chips or cracks before they have a chance to spread.

For seniors or anyone who enjoys driving, one of the first steps for safety on the road is following the basics and being prepared. For more information on Royal Purple products, visit www.royalpurple.com or call (888)

Pointers For Parents

How To Design A Bedroom That Unleashes Your Child's Creativity

(NAPSA)—Many parents may be surprised to learn that, according to Harris research, children begin taking an interest in changing their rooms just after the age of 5, citing more space to hang out and play as the No. 1 wish for the space. The study also found that 71 percent of parents think the design of a child's room impacts creativity.

"We've seen how room design can unleash a child's creativity in our own family," said Cortney Novogratz from HGTV's "Home by Novogratz." "For example, it's important to give children their own workspace and play space filled with materials designed to help express their ideas in a productive and inspirational way, like arts and crafts supplies and construction toys such as LEGO Friends. It's also important to give children plenty of floor space in which to play and get creative; this gives them their own personal space in which to spread out and use their imaginations to the fullest."

In addition to inviting children to put their remodeling and rebuilding skills to the test using toys that encourage construction, Robert and Cortney Novogratz offer these suggestions for creating those special environments that children will find inspiring and parents will find appealing:

•Give kids more space. Leave as much floor space open for playing and hanging out as possible. Center the room with a soft rug and include easy storage solutions. The most effective storage is easily accessible to kids, where they can pull it out, play with their toys and be able to put it back without any help. The best storage solutions do not dominate the room but cleverly do the job without taking up too much space. Kids need room to build, paint, create and so on but they also need supplies to do so, so try to keep storage solutions simple.

Simple cubed shelving units are cost effective and can be a great way to display models, trophies and other things kids like to create and collect.

•Show children their ideas have value by including them in the design decision-making process as much as possible, letting them offer their ideas. Bear in mind that boys and girls are equally interested in having a say in the design of their rooms. If you make your children a part of the creation process, they may be more likely to take better care of their environment and their belongings.

•Personalize with color and collections. Embrace bold colors and don't forget to have fun with it. Add more personality and originality, and foster a child's pride by displaying his or her collections. Fun solutions for displaying collections include corkboards or pin boards to display art; Lucite shelves and boxes to display collections; and simple cubed shelving units that are cost effective and great for displaying models, trophies and other things that kids gravitate toward.

•Learn more. For further visual inspiration from the Novogratz on how to put these tips into action, visit www.LEGOBuildTogether.com or call (800) 838-9647.

By Terry and Kim Kovel

Cutwork Picture

The very thin, graceful lines, the black-and-gilt frame, and the cutwork initials and date "JB/1760" added up to a bid (with premium) of $2,460 at a Skinner auction in Massachusetts. Cutwork, or paper-cutting, has been an art form since the second century, after paper was invented in China. Most of the pictures were made by women as a hobby. Today, cutting is enjoyed in many countries. Each picture is a single sheet, not a collage. Scissor cuts are used with up to eight sheets of paper held together. Knife fit onto the rod and are ornamental, designed to make the lightning rod more attractive. They come in many colors and different shapes. The most common are round and light blue or white. The colorful glass balls are collectible and often sell at bottle shows, Depression glass shows and auctions. Common balls sell for about $35 or less, while those with rare shapes and colors can sell for more than $100.

It took a skilled person to cut the tiny branches of flowers in this 18th-century cutwork picture. It is only 12 by 16 inches and sold for $2,460.

cutting is made with a few layers of paper on a soft waxy surface. It takes skill — there is no erasing errors. The auctioned picture has a vase made by folding the paper, so the finished piece is symmetrical with many branches of flowers cut as single images. The white cutwork paper is attached to a black paper background.

Q. My mom has two blue glass lightning rod balls from my great-grandfather's house. She was trying to find out how much they are worth. Any suggestions on where to take them or what to look for?

New DVDs Reviewed in This Column Will be Released the Week of July 16, 2018

Rampage (PG-13) — Down-to-earth primatologist Davis Okoye (Dwayne Johnson) is a special-forces soldier who, in the course of his work with an anti-poaching unit, discovers and befriends a silverback gorilla named George. Overhead in an orbiting space lab, a science experiment goes wrong, exploding the station and raining bits of genetics-twisted pathogens that cause three very scary animals to become impossibly large and aggressive: an alligator, a wolf and our dear, sign-language-communicating George. Davis must team with a scientist (Naomie Harris) to subdue the animals and save the population from the animals' rampaging. It's loosely based on a video game, and the plot is a hot mess. But you get what's advertised: The Rock and a big ol' gorilla interacting with much physical mayhem.

Dwayne Johnson in "Rampage"

I Feel Pretty (PG-13) — Amy Schumer stars as Renee Bennett, a low-level computer nerd who, like many, MANY women, feels the familiar lack of confidence of the overweight and under-pretitled. It doesn't help that she maintains the website of a beauty brand (read that: marketer of unattainable looks). She takes a cycling class, bumps her head and wakes up feeling like she's a supermodel-level hottie, brimming with confidence and life changes. Schumer may not be a supermodel, but she is not the poster child for the looks-disadvantaged. The message — love yourself; because no matter what you look like, if you act confidently, you can have it all! — gets stepped on as a result.

Isle of Dogs (PG-13) — Wes Anderson's stop-motion animated sweetheart of a film tells the story of a boy named Atari (Koyu Rankin) and his dog Spots (Liev Schreiber). An outbreak of canine flu in Japan causes the evil mayor to send all the dogs to an island off the coast for quarantine.
Atari steals a plane to get to Trash Island where all the dogs are being held. He is assisted in his search by a dog named Chief (Bryan Cranston), whose pack must reunite human and canine before the mayor's goons exterminate the whole island. The list of contributors is deep indeed: Ed Norton, Scarlett Johannsson, Bill Murray, Jeff Goldblum, Greta Gerwig and many more.

Super Troopers 2 (R) — The gang from Broken Lizard is back, after years of dragging their feet, with a sequel to the 2002 underground hit. This time, Mac, Thorny, Foster, Rabbit and Farva are called back into action to police a newly discovered bit of America off Vermont that had inadvertently been living Canadian all this time. The usual antics ensue — and none of them are fit for description in this paper (if you saw the first one, you know what I mean, right meow). Although "ST2" is not as good as "ST1," if you start drinking early, you may still enjoy the ride.

Tiffany Haddish

HOLLYWOOD — “Beautiful Mind” Oscar-winner Russell Crowe will play Roger Ailes, the late Fox TV executive who single-handedly inspired the “me too” movement with his sexual harassment of Fox TV employees, in a Showtime limited series. The script is based on the book “The Loudest Voice In the Room” and includes as least two U.S. presidents.

Mark Wahlberg is one busy dude. In addition to “Mile 22,” with John Malkovich and Ronda Rousey (opening Aug. 17), and “Instant Family,” with Rose Byrne and “The Help” Oscar-winner Octavia Spencer (awaiting a release date), he’s just committed to the Netflix film “Wonderland.” It’s the reboot of Robert Parker’s “Spencer,” which was a TV series with Robert Ulrich from 1985-1988 and the basis for most of Tom Sellack’s “Jessie Spencer” films. It will be Wahlberg’s fifth collaboration with director and former actor Peter Berg.

Tiffany Haddish, whose work in “Girls Trip” (2017) led to the much-talked-about appearance on the Oscars when she presented with Maya Rudolph, is on fire, film-wise. She recently starred with Magic Johnson in “Uncle Drew” and is upcoming with Melissa McCarthy and Elizabeth Moss in “The Kitchen” (out Sept. 20); “Night School,” with Kevin Hart (Sept. 28); and “Nobody’s Fool,” with Whoopi Goldberg and Amber Riley (Nov. 2). It’s been a big year for the 38-year-old Haddish.

The success of “Murder on the Orient Express” ($352 million gross) has prompted director Kenneth Branagh to do a remake of “Death on the Nile,” which starred Oscar-winner Peter Ustinov as Hercule Poirot, as well as Bette Davis, Maggie Smith, Angela Lansbury and David Niven. But first we’ll see Disney’s “Artimus Fowl,” which he produced and directed with Dame Judi Dench and Josh Gad, due in August 2019.

The Broadway smash hit “Wicked,” which opened in 2003 and has become the seventh longest-running Broadway musical, will finally reach movie screens in December 2019. The “Wizard of Oz” themed musical is about Glinda and The Wicked Witch of the West, and Dorothy passes through for just a few minutes.

Tom Holland returns in “Spider Man: Far From Home,” with Jack Gyllenhaal as baddie “Mysterio,” along with Marisa Tomei and Michael Keaton, out July 5, 2019.

Chris Pratt, who was an out-of-shape comedian in “Parks & Recreation,” will follow the $800 million-plus grosser “Jurassic World: Fallen Kingdom,” with Disney’s upcoming “Cowboy Ninja,” based on the Image Comics comic book. Pratt became attached to the project in 2014 and director Michele MacLaren signed on in January. Filming finally began this month. From dinosaurs to ninja cowboys ... Chris is making good use of his “Pratt” falls!

HINTS FOR HOMEOWNERS

Cleaning Tips For A Healthy House

(NAPSA)—The right kind of vacuum could help families keep a clean bill of health.

That’s the news from scientists who now say that in addition to harboring dust mites and other microcontaminants, a typical home’s floors and rugs have more bacteria on them than the kitchen counter and even the toilet seat.

The bacteria, along with a number of germs and viruses, is often tracked in from the outside on people’s feet and on pets and generally can’t be sucked up by conventional vacuums. Flu, colds and other ailments have been linked to viruses sometimes found in the home, and—equally concerning—the National Center for Health Statistics warns that dust mites are one of the leading causes of indoor allergies, in particular asthma.

Protecting Families

A new type of vacuum called the Oreck Halo cleans floors and rugs while killing more than 99 percent of many common germs as well as bacteria, viruses, allergens and mold on flooring surfaces.

Instead of using chemicals, it projects a safe and powerful beam of ultraviolet light—the same UV-C technology that safely and effectively disinfects drinking water and sterilizes operating rooms—downward and outward at an intensity that will not harm any type of floor or carpet but that will kill contaminants. And to help control allergies and asthma, it has disposable HEPA dust filter bags that trap 99.95 percent of the dirt and germ particles that the vacuum kills and suctions from carpets.

Healthy Cleaning

As more families look for natural ways to fight germs and allergens, UV-C light has become increasingly popular in household products ranging from toothbrush holders to knife blocks. Other chemical-free ways to keep microorganisms at bay include:

- Air It Out—Open a few windows. The American Lung Association says circulating air can help prevent mold growth.
- Water Works—A portable steam cleaner can blast germs and mildew off of bathroom walls and tile grout.
- Zap It—Two minutes in the microwave could disinfect your kitchen sponge, according to a study in the Journal of Environmental Health. Just be sure the sponge has cooled before you handle it.

For more information, visit www.oreck.com.

There are ways while you vacuum to kill the germs that live on floors.

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

- On Aug. 1, 1498, Italian explorer Christopher Columbus sets foot on the South American mainland for the first time, at the Paria Peninsula in present-day Venezuela. Thinking it an island, he christened it Isla Santa and claimed it for Spain. Columbus, a deeply religious man, believed that Venezuela was the edge of the Garden of Eden.
- On Aug. 4, 1927, the Father of Country Music, Jimmie Rodgers, is recorded for the first time during the legendary Bristol Sessions. A talent scout had set up a makeshift recording studio in an empty warehouse in Bristol, Tennessee, and recorded numerous then-unknown acts during the 12-day marathon.
- On Aug. 2, 1943, future President John F. Kennedy is serving as commander of a torpedo boat in the Solomon Islands when his ship is rammed at night by a Japanese destroyer, cutting it in two. Kennedy's heroics led to the rescue of the survivors from an island six days later.
- On July 30, 1965, President Lyndon B. Johnson signs Medicare, a health insurance program for elderly Americans, into law. Former President Harry Truman was enrolled as the first beneficiary and received the first Medicare card.
- On Aug. 5, 1957, "American Bandstand" goes national on television, hosted by 26-year-old Dick Clark. He pushed hard for a 3:30 p.m. time slot, when teenagers were out of school and most likely to watch.
- On Aug. 3, 1988, Soviet authorities free Mathias Rust, the daring young West German pilot who landed a rented Cessna on Moscow's Red Square in 1987, from a labor camp as a goodwill gesture to the West.
- On July 31, 1990, Nolan Ryan wins the 300th game of his career. A believer that pitching power, as well as consistency and endurance, comes from the legs, not the arms, Ryan ran every day.
