Calming The Student With Hypnosis

By: Lori Kleinsmith

For some students, the stress and anxiety of school and academics can become overwhelming. The huge amount of pressure can come from themselves, parents, teachers, and friends. Stress affects students in many different ways. For some students, their grades start to suffer. Others become so overwhelmed by stress that they start self-mutilating, develop tics, delve into drug or even drop out of school all together. Hypnosis can be very useful tool for struggling students who are seeking help in reducing their stress. A study performed in 1990 took a look at the role hypnosis played on helping college students with test anxiety. The participants in the study were randomly divided into two groups. One group served as the control group and received no form of treatment. The other group received cognitive-behavioral hypnosis. The researcher evaluated the effects of hypnosis in improving academic performance and decreasing test anxiety. Both groups were enrolled in a demanding psychology course. All students were evaluated based on their midterm grade and anxiety levels. The hypnosis group reported a significant reduction in test anxiety and improvement in academic achievement. Both groups were evaluated 6 weeks after the end of the course and the hypnosis group was found to have maintained their hypnosis treatment gains in achievement and reduction in anxiety. Cognitive behavioral hypnosis is a highly effective form of treatment that helps students improve performance and reduce anxiety. The self-hypnosis that was taught to students, which included relaxation techniques and the usage of imagery, was able to help the college freshman cope with stress and the pressures of college.

Hypnosis is a very effective in helping to reduce stress and anxiety in college students and also students of all grades. Having the ability to better manage stress not only improves their academic performance, but will continue to help them cope with stress in other situations throughout their lives. As their stress and anxiety lessens their confidence grows.
