FIFTY years tells a story! Though you may have heard it, let me tell you ours. October 16, 1965 after knowing each other only 3 months, 19-year-old Wayne Vincent and 17-year-old Betty Jo Breedlove got married. Ten days later after going to join the Marine Corps that morning, Wayne lost most of his right hand in a Cotton Gin accident. That was a devastating blow for two young kids just starting out. Most people would have given up; but he was determined to support his family and started looking for work. He traveled as far as Michigan; but after being told they didn't need any more "handicaps" he came home. Thankfully, he found work at the King Edward Cigar plant. They added a son and were expecting again; and the motivated 21-year-old knew they needed more. While working at King Edward, people began giving him their old furniture if he would haul it away. Instead of "hauling off their junk"; he began to refinish and restore these pieces and sell them. He soon realized that repairing and selling furniture was something he could do.

So in 1968, he took a leap of faith, rented a building and went to work. Pretty soon that part-time extra income became his primary income. Years later, a sales rep took a chance on him and granted him his first credit line and sold him a truck load of brand new dining room chairs. That was the beginning of the thriving business known as VINCENT FURNITURE. He turned a second hand junk store into a future for his wife and four children. Although we lost Daddy on November 11, 2002, we have done our best to keep the dream of a handicap boy just trying to support his family going. For 50 years, it has been OUR family serving YOUR family; and THIS is our story.

Thank you for supporting our small business!

The Holy Bible vs man's religion. What Christ was manifested to destroy (1Jn 3:4-9) is what most so-called Christian churches call liberty. For love of money (1Tim 6: 10), fake healers, wolves in sheep clothing, false prophets, liars, etc., fleece the gullible and will quote 2Cor 9:7 for more. 2Cor 11:13-15! So Be It!

Proton pump inhibitors (PPIs)-medications commonly used to treat heartburn, acid reflux, and ulcers-have been linked with potentially serious side effects including a possible increased risk of bone fractures. In a new Alimentary Pharmacology & Therapeutics study, however, patients with Barrett's esophagus- a long-term complication of acid reflux- who took high doses of PPIs for prolonged periods were no more likely to have bone fractures or evidence of bone thinning (osteopenia or osteoporosis) than people in the general population.

Maintaining sufficient vitamin D levels may help to prevent the onset of inflammatory diseases like rheumatoid arthritis, according to a study published in the Journal of Autoimmunity.

Hope may be on the horizon for children and teens who suffer from migraine headaches that don't respond to traditional treatment. Injections of botulinum toxin (BOTOX) may provide significant relief, suggests a small preliminary study presented at the ANESTHESIOLOGY 2017 annual meeting. Currently, BOTOX is approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) only to treat migraines in adults. One in 10 school-aged children and teens suffer from migraines, but there are few FDA-approved medications for this age group. Additionally, some children and teens don't respond well to available options, such as certain migraine "rescue" pain medications, and the pain and disability of migraines can have a severe impact on their lives. In some cases, preventive medications, may help. However, currently only one preventive migraine medication, topiramate, is approved for adolescents. Presented as a service to the community by

Saving You MONEY

SHOP TODAY'S LOW PRICE TAGS:
We have HUNDREDS of non-advertised items marked down throughout our entire store. More savings passed on to our customers. Just look for blue tags on the shelves.

NO LIMITS:
Our competitors also have advertised specials. The difference is, in most cases, they have a limit on how many of an item you can buy at the sale price...we don't have any limits to family shoppers.
