Hemp

There is rarely an opportunity in history for farmers and manufacturers to control every element of a commodity crop. Yet that reality will soon be upon us with the passage of the 2018 Farm Bill which contains language that will nationally legalize the hemp crop! Hemp has had an important place in the history of the Commonwealth of PA. In fact, one of the first Acts passed in 1786 by the new State government was the Hemp Act, which encouraged patriots to grow hemp for seed, oil and fiber. Pennsylvania was one of the leading growers of hemp. More than 100 hemp mills were located in Lancaster County alone, producing hemp rope, canvass, paper and textiles. Two drafts of the Declaration of Independence were written on hemp paper. Betsy Ross' American flag was made of hemp fabric. So important was hemp that townships, like Hempfield Township and 26 school districts were named after the crop! The opportunity today is to capitalize on this opportunity to use hemp as a replacement for carbon fiber and plastics, use it in 3-d printing of buildings and your own shoes, build and fuel your homes, automobiles while producing one of the most highly nutritious seeds for your family, pets and livestock. There is also a wellness component of hemp and we are only today starting to understand its potential. All of this can be done from a crop that is 100% usable, can grow to 20' feet in 100 days, is planted like corn and is like most legumes. It requires no pesticides, has no known pests, needs little to no fertilizers, takes toxins from the soil, its bio mass can be used for erosion control, animal bedding, building blocks, cabinets, flooring and prefab hemp panels. Our challenge is to immediately address the need for harvesting and processing equipment – as there is none to address a crop that can grow 20' tall and has these valuable parts. The national leaders of this movement are in Pennsylvania, in Berks County. We are committed to rekindling this industry in the Greater Berks, Lancaster and Lehigh county region and will be looking to grow 12,000 acres in 2019! Come to our Hemp Field Day September 8 in Oley. Visit www.pahic.org for details.

Oley Valley Hemp Field Day

What Is Shiatsu Massage Therapy?

Shiatsu massage therapy relies on the use the fingers, thumbs and palm to apply pressure to various areas of the body's surface to help heal common ailments and conditions, and correct imbalances in the body. Pressure applied to points on the body promotes energy flow and corrects disharmonies throughout the patient's body. In addition to being a deeply relaxing experience, Shiatsu helps relieve stress, treat pain and illness, and contributes to a patient's overall health and wellbeing. Shiatsu regulates the automatic nervous system activity and stimulates the circulatory, lymphatic and hormonal systems. Poor posture, joint problems, sprains, arthritis, sciatica, acute and chronic neck and back pain, sinusitis, and bronchitis are treatable with Shiatsu. Like most natural therapies, shiatsu is based on the assumption that the body is a self-healing organism, and that the role of the practitioner is to aid and support that naturally occurring process. Shiatsu can assist an individual with their self-development and self-healing; balancing the underlying causes of a condition and addressing physical and psychological functions; promoting health and strengthening the body's own healing abilities. How is Shiatsu similar to or different from other techniques? Shiatsu massage therapy uses techniques similar to those found in other treatment methods such as osteopathy, lymphatic drainage and physiotherapy. However, Shiatsu practitioners attribute physical health conditions and diseases to blockages and imbalances in the energy flow throughout the body, which differentiates its diagnosis and treatment from other massage therapy modalities. How does Shiatsu help? Shiatsu works to improve overall health by affecting the internal energy system. Therapy often results in increased range of motion and improved coordination. Used as either a primary or complementary therapy, Shiatsu combines assisted-stretching techniques and acupressure to restore muscle and bone structure. The person receiving shiatsu remains clothed. Shiatsu Massage Therapy by Kim Dixon is now available the last Wednesday of every month (September 26) at Pinnacle Hypnosis and Therapies. 400B South Fourth St., Hamburg, PA 19526. Call to reserve your appointment 610-823-4160. Also, Jeff Hardman of KARMA FARMA 1000 will be having a meet and greet at Pinnacle Hypnosis and Therapies on Wednesday, July 19. Jeff will be discussing the endocannabinoid system (ECS) and how CBD rich hemp oil supports that system. Stop in and meet Jeff any time between 11 am and 3 pm and pick up your FREE SAMPLE. This is a great time to have your questions answered about CBD oil! Pinnacle Hypnosis and Therapies 400B South Fourth St., Hamburg, PA 19526 610-823-4160 www.pinnaclehypnosis.com

The Kempton Hotel
 The Kempton Hotel has been open since March 7th. We will have our 6 month anniversary September 7th with a new menu rollout.
 TJ Bebb, a Pennsylvania native, will be joining us to do an acoustic set from 9 pm - 12 am. After easily making a huge fan base and a name for himself he moved to Nashville to further pursue his career. TJ has opened for numerous acts including George Jones, Loretta Lynn, and Craig Morgan.
