Bingo World Records Around the World

Bingo is a fun game that people play around the world. From church basements to playing online, this game is enjoyed by a diverse crowd of all age ranges. This is why it may not be surprising to learn that many bingo world records have been set throughout the game's history.

According to the Guinness World Records and other record-setting organizations, these are just a few of the more notable ones.

LARGEST GAME OF BINGO

This record is an interesting one since Bingo can usually only be played by a few people at a time. Online bingo games can have more players, but space often limits in-person games.

Well, a large retailer in South America decided to host a game and set a world record at the same time. They ended up with 70,080 people in attendance. This record for the largest game of Bingo took place in Bogota, Colombia in 2006 and hasn't been broken in that time. The crowd was pretty happy too and won thousands worth of cash prizes.

LARGEST ONLINE BINGO GAME

Since online games can accommodate more players, many people who enjoy bingo turn to virtual gaming. Organized by Coca-Cola in Tokyo Japan in 2010, the largest online game of bingo was set here. There were 493,824 players in the game, which must have been a chaotic game! Even if you play in crowded online bingo rooms, chances are, you haven't gotten anywhere near this number!

LARGEST BINGO CARD

This world record is one of the more amusing ones and was set by Gala Bingo in 2014. For their annual ball, Gala Bingo along with a team of reality television stars decided to set a world record. They build the largest bingo card measuring 4.98m x 1.99m. It was a great event and used to play bingo along with raising money for a charity.

LARGEST JACKPOT WON IN BINGO

Although the payouts for Bingo can vary a great deal, some games will pay out three digits for a jackpot. This is an impressive amount, but it's not even close to the record. The National Bingo Game Platinum Jackpot paid out 1,167,795 in English pounds in 2008 to their lucky winner, Soraya Lowell. The game took place in The Club 3000 in Coatbridge, Scotland and set a world record.

HIGHEST GAME OF BINGO

Most games of bingo take place in halls or online but have you ever played at a high altitude? Well, 24 Gala Coral employees trekked up to Mount Everest's base camp and played a few games while they were up there. At an altitude of 17,500 feet above sea level, they set the record for the highest game of Bingo. It's probably going to remain the world record for quite a while!

Sewing

My granddaughter came to spend a few weeks with me, and I decided to teach her to sew. After I had gone through a lengthy explanation of how to thread the machine, she stepped back, put her hands on her hips, and said in disbelief, "You mean you can do all that, but you can't operate my Game Boy?"

Young Baker Makes Millennium Falcon Cake From Scratch

A cake that looks like The Millennium Falcon from the Star Wars films is turning heads on social media.

The impressive cake was made by 23-year-old baker Maddie Carlos in Coon Rapids, Minnesota.

Maddie started out baking cupcakes for fun in high school. She often posted photos of her desserts on Facebook and people started asking if they could order them. Eventually, her home kitchen wasn't big enough to keep up with the orders so she opened her own bakery, Something Sweet by Maddie Lu, in May 2015.

Baking from scratch, she and her team of bakers create custom cakes, cupcakes, and desserts for any occasion.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Aspects favor new romances for unpaired Ewes and Rams. Already-paired Arian twosomes experience renewed harmony in their relationships. Money matters also take a bright turn.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Use that strong Bovine determination to help you keep the faith with your convictions while you move through a period of uncertainty. Things begin to ease by the week's end.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Pay attention to your intuition. It could be alerting you to be more careful about accepting a "statement of fact" simply on trust. Don't be shy about asking for more proof.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Concern for the well-being of someone in need is admirable. But don't forget to take care of yourself as well. Ask a family member, close friend or colleague to help you.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) It's OK to focus on the demands of your career. But try to avoid misunderstandings by also reaching out to family and friends. Your sharp intuitive sense kicks in by midweek.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Keep a rein on that green-eyed monster. Jealousy is counterproductive. Instead of resenting a colleague's good points, concentrate on developing your own abilities.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Spending time on a creative project during this high-energy week can pay off both in emotional satisfaction and in impressing someone who is glad to see this side of you.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Now is a good time to start planning that trip you've put off because of the demands on your time. Be sure to choose a destination that is new and exciting.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) That upbeat mood in the first part of the week makes you eager to take on new ventures. A more serious note sets in later to help you assess an upcoming decision.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A high energy level gives the Goat the get-up-and-go to finish outstanding tasks before deadline, leaving time for well-earned fun and games with friends and family.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Dealing with disappointment is never easy. But the wise Aquarian will use it as a vital lesson and be the better for it. A close friend has something important to say.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Best bet is not to get involved in an argument between colleagues until you know more about who started it and why. And even then, appearances could be deceiving. Be alert.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have creative gifts that inspire those who get to see this sometimes-hidden side of you.

PIEDMONT PETS

September 6, 2018
By Paulette Dean

The Virginia Alliance for Animal Shelters and the Virginia Animal Control Association worked together on a bill during the 2018 General Assembly session that passed both the House of Delegates and the Senate unanimously. SB 571 requires all releasing agencies (public shelters, private shelters, home-based rescues, etc.), animal control officers, law-enforcement officers, and humane investigators to ask and document if it is known that the dog or cat has bitten a person or other animal. The circumstances and date of the bite also need to be documented. Then, when dog or cat is adopted, returned to the rightful owner, or transferred to another agency, the documented information must be disclosed. The violation of such requirements is a Class 3 misdemeanor. The bill became law on July 1st.

According to news reports in June of 2017, a family in Virginia Beach adopted a pit bull; within a few hours, the 90 year-old mother who lived with the family had been fatally mauled. Other reports throughout the country tell of shelters that repeatedly adopt out dogs that have bitten humans, attacked other dogs, or killed other dogs.

Sharon Adams, chair of the Virginia Alliance for Animal Shelters, said, "While all shelters and rescues want to adopt all of the wonderful animals coming into our care, we also share the additional responsibility to do so with attention to the best interests of the community at large."

Several years ago, our records on a certain dog were subpoenaed during a civil lawsuit because a person was bitten by a dog they believed had been adopted from us. What kept us from being sued was that the dog had not been adopted by us, but had been picked up as a stray and returned to the owner. We have a policy that we do not adopt out animals that we believe are aggressive.

We believe that the ease with which it worked its way through the legislative branch of the Commonwealth government sends a message that organizations that deal with animals have a responsibility to help protect public safety.

Chinese Twins

Once long ago in China there was a pair of immortal twins, one bringing harmony and the other union, according to the legends. So, artists made figurines showing the twin brothers, who were called "He-He." They often were pictured and given to brides, because it was thought they brought a happy marriage. A recent auction had a 5-3/8-inch figurine of He-He wearing green-and-black, flower-decorated robes. It is easy to recognize the brothers; one carries a lotus flower, and the other carries a box. The auction figurine also had the traditional unglazed base. The twin boys modeled together as a group was estimated at $800 to $1,200, but no one bid high enough. Perhaps the bidders did not know the figures would lead to a happy marriage.

These twin boys, according to Chinese legend, will bring a happy marriage to the owner. But they must wait for another sale, because this time there was no bid high enough to buy the twins.

Q. I have an opportunity to acquire two vintage sperm whale teeth authenticated as over 250 years old. They are uncarved. They are treasured collectibles and will not be sold. Can I import them?

A. Sperm whales are protected by the Endangered Species Act and the Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1972. Whales' teeth are a hard form of ivory. According to the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service website, it is illegal to import whale ivory (whale teeth), or items made from whale ivory, except by special permit. Your whale teeth are not decorated (scrimshawed), so all of the laws may not apply, but you should check with the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service before importing them. Breaking the law can result in heavy fines or jail time.

Q. I have a "1969" Polaroid camera. Is it worth anything to a collector?

A. Polaroid was founded in 1937. The first Polaroid Land cameras were sold in 1948. They were named after Edwin Land, who invented the instant camera and demonstrated it in 1947. The name "Land" wasn't used on Polaroid cameras after Edwin Land retired in 1982. Film and batteries for old Polaroid cameras can be bought on Amazon and other sites. A Polaroid 350 model, which was made from 1969 to 1971, in perfect condition, sells online for about $50 to $75.

CURRENT PRICES

Tip: Handle gemstone jewelry carefully. Opals crack easily, and soaking them in water to prevent cracking may do more harm than good. Some stones, like pink beryl, will fade if left in bright sun for a long time.

HOLLYWOOD

by Tony Rizzo

Cher

HOLLYWOOD — Cherilyn Sarkisian began her career in 1965 at the age of 19 with a No. 1 hit record, "I Got You Babe," as part of the musical duo Sonny and Cher. Fast-forward 53 years, and a 72-year-old Cher is hotter than ever. She's headlining Las Vegas, at The Park Theater in The MGM Hotel (Oct. 31 to Nov. 17). Cher has added ABBA songs, including "Dancing Queen," "Gimme! Gimme! Gimme!," "Mamma Mia," "Fernando," "The Winner Takes It All," "Chiquitita," "Waterloo," "S.O.S." and "One of Us," into her live shows, and has a new album dropping Sept. 28 with ABBA songs.

Cher has been nominated for two Oscars — for "Silkwood" (1984) and "Moonstruck" (1988), for which she won — seven Emmys (one win), six Golden Globes (three wins), eight Grammys (one win), six People's Choice Awards (one win) and now she'll receive The Kennedy Center Honors on Dec. 2 (broadcast Dec. 26 on CBS). Since Cher has won an Emmy, an Oscar and a Grammy, she only needs a Tony Award to become a member of the elite EGOT club of entertainers who've won all four awards.

She'll get the chance to earn her Tony Award with the opening of "The Cher Show" Sept. 3 on Broadway. To recap, at 72, she's got a hit movie, ("Mamma Mia: Here We Go Again"), a Vegas residency, a new album and a Broadway show!

Get ready for two classic horror remakes. Sept. 14 will bring the remake of "Predator," starring Boyd Holbrook ("Milk," "Gone Girl," "Logan") and the TV hit, "The Hatfields and the McCoy's"), Keegan-Michael Key, Olivia Munn and Sterling K. Brown, followed Oct. 19 by the 11th installment of "Halloween," with Jamie Lee Curtis, Will Patton, Judy Greer and Nick Castle.

While still on remakes, action director Roland Emmerich, who helmed "Independence Day" (1996) and the sequel "ID: Resurgence" (2016), "Godzilla" (1998), "The Patriot" (2000), "The Day After Tomorrow" (2004) and "White House Down" (2013), among others, is remaking the 1976 epic war film "Midway," which starred Henry Fonda, Charlton Heston, Glenn Ford, Robert Mitchum, Cliff Robertson, James Coburn, Robert Wagner and Tom Selleck. Emmerich has cast Aaron Eckhart, Dennis Quaid, Nick Jonas, Luke Evans, Woody Harrelson, Mandy Moore and Patrick Wilson. Despite its $100 million budget, this sounds more like the cast of a TV movie than an epic war film!

Even though Nick Jonas was in the box-office hit "Jumanji: Welcome to the Jungle" ($962 million gross) and the upcoming "Chaos Walking," with "Spider-Man" Tom Holland and "Star Wars" Daisy Ridley, it doesn't give him enough screen cred to be the young star of an epic war movie. After all, he's not even "Midway" in his career!

Don't Miss The First Annual Bluegrass by the River Festival

If you know bluegrass, you know Bobby Hicks. That high, lonesome sound you get when playing two consecutive strings way up the neck of a fiddle – that's all Bobby Hicks. From his early years playing with the godfather Bill Monroe and his Bluegrass Boys to second-generation bluegrass outfits of the 1970s like the seminal Bluegrass Album Band (a collaboration with, among others, Danville-native and guitar legend Tony Rice), Bobby has left his trademark sound all over the genre and has 10 Grammy awards sitting on his bookshelf to prove it.

If you're curious to hear Bobby's sound or are already a fan of top-tier bluegrass performances sourced right out of our neighboring Virginia and North Carolina counties, your opportunity is now. And it'll only cost you $10.

The First Annual Bluegrass by the River Festival will take place on Saturday, September 15, 2018 at 2 Witches Winery & Brewing Co. at 209 Trade St right here in Danville, Virginia. As stated above, tickets are $10 in advance and $15 day-of and can be purchased in person at Two Witches, Karen's Hallmark and Vintages by the Dan or online at bluegrassbytheriver.com.

The festival will showcase live, professional bluegrass and Americana music sourced from the very place it all began – Southern Virginia. This year, Bobby Hicks is joined by renowned Swedish instrumentalist Jan Johansson for a set that is guaranteed to please. Though the recent IBMA Hall of Fame inductee might be this year's main attraction, Hicks tops off a lineup of other incredible musicians who all take that high, lonesome sound and make it their own.

Well-known local performers Jay Shelton and Friends – consisting Ernie Power on dobro, Stuart Werner on banjo, Glenn Scaggs on bass and Jackie Cooper on mandolin – are no strangers to the ever-evolving bluegrass scene and its roots in their hometowns. With nearly a century's worth of touring between them, the group rip through bluegrass staples and share harmony vocal duties throughout their entire set. An old friend of Bobby's, Jay Shelton has been fronting bluegrass bands since he was underage and had to be snuck into venues. "I thought it was about time we had a festival of our own here in town and the first person I thought of was Bobby," he says with a grin.

With roots in country, Americana and southern rock, Crawford & Power take traditional bluegrass instruments such as the dobro and give them new life. The duo consists of Jake Crawford on guitar and vocals and Ethan Power on dobro and lap steel. The young duo are heirs to that celebrated sound born of the Blue Ridge and aren't to be missed.

Local patrons of the Bright Leaf Brew Fest should be pleasantly familiar with Franklin County's The Harwell Grice Band. The traditional bluegrass outfit takes the moonshine their county is so famously known for and bottles it into fast-paced, blistering renditions of bluegrass favorites.

The lineup will also include the renowned, award-winning duo of Jeanette and Johnny Williams. There's hardly room to list this stunning duo's accolades – from IBMA awards to chart-topping bluegrass performances, Jeanette and Johnny have been getting it done for more than twenty years.

Proceeds for the festival will go to our Sheriff's Office's local chapter of Project Lifesaver, a non-profit organization designed to protect and locate individuals with cognitive disorders who are prone to life-threatening behavior.

While on the phone for one of their now-more-frequent conversations, Jay Shelton asked his old friend what made him want to play this new festival in Danville and if he's excited to be the year's headliner. "Oh, heck, Jay," he says, "Of course I am. All you had to do was ask."

Death Is Nothing At All

Death is nothing at all

I have only slipped away into the next room

I am I and you are you

Whatever we were to each other

That we are still

Call me by my old familiar name

Speak to me in the easy way you always used

Put no difference into your tone

Wear no forced air of solemnity or sorrow

Laugh as we always laughed

At the little joke we always enjoyed together

Play, smile, think of me, and pray for me

Let my name be ever the household word that it always was

Let it be spoken without effort

Without the ghost of a shadow in it

Life means all that it ever was

It is the same as it ever was

There is absolute unbroken continuity

What is death but a negligible accident?

Why should I be out of mind because I am out of sight?

I am waiting for you for an interval

Somewhere very near

Just around the corner

All is well

Nothing is past; nothing is lost

One brief moment and all will be as it was before

How we shall laugh at the trouble of parting when we meet again.

Canon Henry Scott-Holland

Swicegood Funeral Service is respectfully serving the Hall family.

"The Velveteen Christian"

"What is REAL?" asked the rabbit one day... does it hurt?"

"Sometimes," said the Skin Horse, for he was always truthful. "When you are Real you don't mind being hurt."

"Does it happen all at once, or bit by bit?"

"It doesn't happen all at once," said the Skin Horse. "You become. It takes a long time. That's why it doesn't often happen to people who break easily, or who have sharp edges, or have to be carefully kept. Generally, by the time you are Real, most of your hair has been loved off, and your eyes drop out and you get loose in the joints and very shabby. But these things don't matter at all, because once you are Real you can't be ugly, except to people who don't understand." (The Velveteen Rabbit, by Margery Williams)

Real. It is a lovely word for a child's story book. But it is lovelier far in those instances in which it can be applied in the real world, and especially to Christians. And, like the sage advice given to the Velveteen Rabbit by the wise old Skin Horse, I have found that "Real" is the process of years and use, not the instantaneous creation of a prayer. Salvation happens instantly; of that there is no doubt. The thief on the cross accepted Christ one moment, and not many minutes later was with him in Paradise.

But salvation and Christianity are not quite the same thing. To be saved is simply to be redeemed from sin and on your way to heaven. To be a Christian is to go far beyond salvation; to be a Christian is to become like Christ. And, interestingly, that title was not one that people chose for themselves; it was a banner applied to them by others. Acts 11:26 says, "And when he had found him, he brought him unto Antioch. And it came to pass, that a whole year they assembled themselves with the church, and taught much people. And the disciples were called Christians first in Antioch."

They did not name themselves Christians, they were called Christians by others. People saw their manner of living, their attitudes, their faithfulness, and reasoned, "those people remind us so much of that man they called Christ! We should call them Christians."

They were real.

Twenty years ago I became fascinated by that thought as read the Velveteen Rabbit. I really have no idea the particular religious affections, if any, of the author. I just know that the process she described seems so much like the process by which a person becomes a real Christian.

"It doesn't happen all at once," said the Skin Horse. "You become. It takes a long time. That's why it doesn't often happen to people who break easily, or who have sharp edges, or have to be carefully kept."

Bingo. Becoming a real Christian certainly does seem to take a long time. Day by day the Word of God molds us and shapes us, and year by year that process makes us more like Christ. It doesn't often happen to people who break easily; the attacks of Satan and the cares of life and conflicts with others shatter them before they can become Real. It doesn't often happen to people who have sharp edges; they cannot be used and worn in because everyone is afraid to be near them. It doesn't often happen to those who have to be carefully kept; people who always manage to have their feelings hurt never stay in any one place long enough to have God's Word, God's man, and God's people do them any good.

Generally, by the time a Christian is Real, most of their hair has been loved off, and their eyes are getting dim, and they get loose in the joints and very shabby. But these things don't matter at all, because once a Christian is Real they can't be ugly, except to people who don't understand, though there will always be plenty of those.

Christ was Real. He stood hard against sin and yet loved sinners. He was beaten and battered and abused by and for those that he loved yet he never quit. He could have lashed out in anger, but Isaiah says that through it all he "opened not his mouth." He cared only for those he came to save, and was willing to be mocked and abused along the way. And when he rose again the third day, his "Real" went to a whole new level. There was never anyone like him, and yet we are commanded to be like him.

Let's be real.

SPECIALIZING IN BIRTHDAY & WEDDING CAKES

Piedmont Shopper FAVORITE RECIPES

SKILLET BAKED SPAGHETTI

Ingredients

- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 4 large garlic cloves, minced
- 2 large yellow onions, chopped
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 2 pounds 80% lean ground beef
- 1 (28-ounce) can crushed tomatoes
- 1 (16-ounce) can tomato sauce
- 2 tablespoons balsamic vinegar or dry red wine
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 tablespoon garlic powder
- 1 tablespoon dried basil
- 1 tablespoon dried tarragon
- 1 teaspoon red pepper flakes, or more to taste
- 16 ounces angelhair pasta
- Mozzarella cheese as needed

- 1 - Heat a 12-inch cast iron skillet over medium heat. Add the oil, garlic, onions, and 1/4 teaspoon of the salt and cook, stirring a few times, until the onions are softened, 8 to 10 minutes. Add the ground beef and cook until no longer pink, breaking up any clumps of meat. Drain off any excess fat.
- 2 - In a Lodge 5-quart cast iron Dutch oven, combine the tomatoes, tomato sauce, vinegar, sugar, garlic powder, basil, tarragon, red pepper, and remaining 1 1/4 teaspoons salt. Simmer over medium to medium-low heat for 10 to 15 minutes, then stir in the browned ground beef. Wipe out the skillet and set aside.
- 3 - Preheat the oven to 350°. Put a large pot of water on to boil.
- 4 - Cook the pasta according to package directions. Drain and pour the pasta into the skillet you used to cook the beef. Pour the spaghetti sauce over the pasta. Shred as much mozzarella as you like over the top, covering the sauce. Bake until the cheese is melted and starts to brown, 15 to 20 minutes

Now here's a tip!

by Jo Ann Derson

* "I like a dark wash on my jeans and have found the perfect pair fitwise, but after repeated washing they tend to lighten up. I use an in-washer dye to freshen up the color, and my jeans go back to dark blue in a snap. You can do the same with once-black pants or T-shirts that have turned faded by using black dye. Just make sure that it's not embroidered, because it'll dye that too." -- R.H. in Arkansas

* Heading into sniffles season, here's a great tip from E.G.: "Get a roll of toilet paper that's easy on the nose, then squeeze to loosen the center cardboard roll. Remove cardboard. Carefully open the bottom of an empty tissue box and insert the roll of toilet paper, threading the TP from the inside of the roll up through the center. Tape the bottom of the box closed, and then use at will. It lasts longer, it's cheaper and you easily can replace it."

* Use this teachers' hack to hang a poster in your rental: Apply a piece of low-tack painter's tape to the wall. Run a line of hot glue along the tape and push the poster into place. The poster sticks to the glue, which sticks to the tape on the wall, which is not damaged in any way.

* "Sunglass cases are excellent cord keepers. I went through so many pairs of earbuds just stuffing them in my backpack, but now the ones I like are safe and secure, along with my charging cord and a cube to plug into the wall outlet if I need it." -- P.A. in Florida

* Recipe substitution: For a cup of heavy cream in sauces (not whipping) try this vegan alternative: 2/3 cup plain unflavored soy milk and 1/3 cup olive oil.

Try Baking Soda for Underarm Odor

DEAR DR. ROACH: I am a 77-year-old female. I had a left-breast lumpectomy (with some lymph nodes removed) about 15 years ago, leaving me with a much heavier right breast. I don't know whether this plays an important role with my problem.

Since the surgery, I have had a problem controlling underarm odor. I do not use any aluminum-based products. I have tried vinegar, milk of magnesia and a deodorant made from milk of magnesia. Within a matter of just a few hours, I notice quite an odor, particularly in my right armpit, which gets worse as the day goes on. I do not perspire profusely, but do develop some underarm moisture.

Can you think of any reason this is happening, or any remedy that might work for me? I would appreciate your comments. -- D.M.M.

ANSWER: I would start by trying a non-antiperspirant deodorant. These are not aluminum-based and work well for most people.

If the deodorant doesn't work, you should consider another old-fashioned remedy that you haven't tried: baking soda. It changes the pH of the armpit and helps to keep it dry, and both of those things help get rid of odor.

Underarm odor is caused by bacteria that live on our skin; the sweat itself is odorless. Thus, if you get rid of the bacteria, you can get rid of the odor. I have prescribed topical antibiotics on occasion. Some people have told me that an alcohol-based hand-sanitizing gel helps. It might be that it dries out the skin and also kills bacteria. I would be cautious about overusing this as a solution. The underarm is a sensitive area that can get irritated.

I'd be happy to hear from readers about other solutions for this common problem, and I will report back on the most successful methods.

DEAR DR. ROACH: I have severe halitosis. I have had my sinuses, teeth and gums checked to see if they are the cause of the odor, but the dentist and ENT found nothing. I was referred by my primary doctor to a G.I. specialist, who found I had a sliding hiatal hernia, which was causing acid reflux. He recommended surgery to push the stomach back into its normal position below the diaphragm. I decided to pass on the surgery. He recommended taking over-the-counter medications such as Nexium, but after several days my lower back started to hurt, so I stopped taking them. I am reconsidering the surgery and was wondering if this is a good idea. Is it possible that the hernia has nothing to do with the halitosis? -- E.H.

ANSWER: Experts believe that 90 percent of the time, halitosis comes from the mouth. What your gastroenterologist is suggesting as the cause of the halitosis is plausible. I found several anecdotal cases where surgery cured the halitosis. However, it's not only possible that the hiatal hernia has nothing to do with the halitosis, I think it is unlikely that it does. Since surgery would not otherwise be recommended for a sliding hiatal hernia, I can't recommend surgery.
