THEY SEEM TO BE SHOWING UP EVERYWHERE

By Douglas H. Domedion

Bears are being seen more frequently in our area.

They are not only showing up around our area but also in Amherst, North Tonawanda, Wheatfield, Youngstown, Lewiston, Akron, Clarence, Ransomville and Lancaster. I'm getting a lot of calls and emails about it with some folks being very nervous about them.

One lady is worried about her goats, some about their dogs and another her cats.

So what is this creature, that seems to be showing up all around Western New York that we are not use to seeing? Black bears! According to the DEC this has been a record year for bear sightings in Western New York but that is really happening because the bear is expanding its range. In the mid-1990s their range was pretty much confined to the extreme Southern Tier area but they have been expanding northward until they are now in our part of the state too. In fact the hunting season for bears has been expanded into our area. And no, the DEC didn't start stocking them around here.

So why are these bears migrating north into our area? Well the young bear remains with his mother until his second year and then is driven away when she is ready to mate again. During the months of June and July these young bears are traveling looking for their own territories and mates. These "traveling" bears give the impression there are a lot of bears around when actually many are the same ones.

These animals are pretty interesting creatures with some unique life styles. Bears are meat eaters but they also eat plant matter. They love honey but get into beehives also for the bees and their larvae. They will eat about anything including carrion, garbage and can be a prime predator of fawns. In the fall black bears begin to gorge themselves especially on apples, corn, beechnuts and acorns to put on extreme amounts of fat to get them through their winter hibernation.

They mate in the summer but because of delayed implantation the fertile eggs don't start to develop until late fall. This protects the mother because she is in peak shape then and will soon be inactive and so the cubs and mother have the best chance of survival.

Although bears will hibernate in caves when available most of the time they also will use a hollow in the ground, a huge hollow tree, beneath a blown down tree or under a summer cottage.

In January or February the female will give birth to two or three tiny cubs weighing only 1/2 to 3/4 of a pound. Bears don't really hibernate in the true sense but awaken frequently so the mother is quite aware of the cubs and takes care of them.

During this time the mother's heartbeat slows to 8 beats per minute. She absorbs her fat to survive and does not urinate or defecate.

Black bears only breed every other year so the female cares for the young for a year and a half. Mortality is high (50 percent or more) for the cubs their first summer.

A boar bear can reach weights of 700 or 800 pounds but the common range is from 150 to 350 pounds with females being smaller.

Not only do bears have tremendous strength but they show an ability to think too. In one case a bear that was only live trapped once would return later and stand with one hind foot raised while taking the bait thus preventing the trap door from unlatching and coming down to catch him. The bear would then simply back out of the trap with the bait!

So are we endanger because of the increase of bears in our area? The black bear is normally an extremely shy and reclusive animal that will flee at the first sight or smell of a human. However foolish people who put out food for them can condition them to humans. The next thing you know the bear is begging for handouts by roadsides, backyards and campgrounds. They seem tame because they have lost their fear of man and this is what can make them so dangerous. So the real danger is from the dumba#ses who put out food so they can see them. With their conditioning to humans they get bolder and start getting into garbage cans, bird feeders and may even break into cottages, sheds and garages. These "conditioned" bears may even get nasty when they don't get food.

So if you see a bear consider yourself lucky and observe from a distance and don't try getting close to get that "great" picture. Their sense of smell is great but their eyesight not so much, which means they may not be too sure what you are or what your intentions. Bears can turn mean quickly and are extremely fast; much faster than you!

Nineteen grandchildren and eleven great-grandchildren were blessed to know him. Lee's life was defined by his love for his family and his commitment to service to others. He was a graduate of Kingston (NY) High School and Ithaca College. Lee moved his family to Lyons in 1949 and taught physical education at Lyons Central School for 36 years. During his tenure he coached football, tennis, basketball, baseball, wrestling and his beloved golf. He also was Director of Physical Education and Athletics for 19 years, Secretary-Treasurer of Wayne Finger Lakes Football League, President of Wayne County Athletic Association, and Chairman of Wayne County Golf League. Lee left an impressive legacy of public service. He served in the US Navy during World War II on the aircraft carrier USS Randolph and received the American Theater Medal, Victory Medal, Philippine Liberation Medal, and Asiatic Pacific Medal (3 stars). Some of his contributions to his community included volunteering for Meals on Wheels, St. Michael's Roman Catholic Church, AFS, and Lyons Hall of Fame Committee member. The Chamber of Commerce named him Citizen of the Year in 1979. While living in the Wayne County Nursing Home he taught, from his wheelchair, an exercise class twice a week for the residents. Lorne J. McMurray, of Medina, passed away on Sept. 19, 2018, at the VA Medical Center in Batavia. After a 20-year courageous battle with Parkinson's Disease, Lorne is now running in the open fields of grace. Lorne was born in Albion on Oct. 13, 1936, a son of the late Lorne and Vera (Frasier) McMurray. Lorne gave to others all through life, whether they were family members or complete strangers. He always listened and gave sage advice. Lorne served in the U.S. Marine Corps after graduating from Medina High School. The late John "Jack" Williams appointed

Lorne Undersheriff of Orleans County. At that time, Lorne was the youngest appointed Undersheriff in New York State. On Dec. 18, 1960, Lorne married the love of his life, Nancy (nee Hill) in a candlelit ceremony. Lorne continued to serve in the political circle. He was a Town of Ridgeway Justice of the Peace, served on the Town of Ridgeway Board, served as an Orleans County Legislator at Large and served on the Town of Shelby Board. In the 1960's, he started the Young Republicans organization in Orleans County with the late Jim McCabe. Both Lorne and Jim served at the state level with the Young Republicans. In November of 2010, the Shelby Town Board dedicated the Shelby

Town Hall in Lorne's name. In the late 1960s Lorne and the late Joe Minervino owned the Chrysler, Plymouth, Dodge and Jeep franchise in Medina. Later Lorne and Al Kropf owned the Ford and Mercury dealership. Both franchises were located on South Main Street. He worked for Barden Homes as an independent builder and dealer. Lorne and Nancy also owned and operated Oasis Pool Supplies and the Fairview Restaurant in Medina. Lorne was predeceased by his "little brother" Buzz Hill, and brother-in-law, Richard Freed. He leaves to cherish his memories his forever bride, Nancy McMurray; their children, Lorne Ashley McMurray and Sherrie (Paul) Wishman; five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren; sister, Pat (Darwin) Marble; brother, Vernon (Florence) McMurray; sisters-in-law, Carol (John Heath) Freed and Sue Hill; also many cousins, nieces and nephews. Lorne has unselfishly donated his body to the University of Buffalo Anatomical Gift Program. He always said if he could help save just one person with Parkinson's, it would be his gift to humanity. Services were held privately by his family. If you wish to make a donation in Lorne's memory, please make it to the National Parkinson Foundation WNY Chapter- 2805 Wehrle Dr. Suite 12, Williamsville, NY 14221, U.B. SHERIFFS WEEK – SEPTEMBER 16-22, 2018

NYS Sheriffs' Association and Sheriff Randy Bower are announcing the week of Sept. 16 through Sept. 22, 2018 as "Sheriffs Week" in New York.

Today's Sheriffs are proud of the rich history of their office. It is one of the oldest institutions in America, dating back to Biblical times. The modern office of sheriff in the United States descends from a one-thousand-year-old English tradition: a "shire-reeve" (shire-keeper) is the oldest appointment of the English crown. Because county governments were typically the first established units of government in newly settled American territories, sheriffs were among the first elected public officials in an area and thus developed a leading role in local law enforcement.

Most Sheriffs are elected every four years. It is this election process that makes the Office of Sheriff unique to all of law enforcement. These elections make most of the 3,085 county Sheriffs throughout the United States directly accountable to the people they serve.

A Sheriff's Office for the People

We represent the highest order of law enforcement in Orleans County and answer directly to the people. The Orleans County Sheriff's Department strives...

- To serve and protect the citizens of Orleans County
- To provide a safe and secure jail, providing necessary treatment to better prepare inmates to reenter society
- To be visible and accessible
- To maintain peace and order in Orleans County
- To provide professional public safety dispatching
- To properly receive and execute all legal and civil processes referred to the Office of the Sheriff
- To deliver effective law enforcement services to all citizens of Orleans County
- To support and defend the Constitution of the United States of America

Activities scheduled for Sheriffs week:

- Lunch with a Deputy Sheriff and students at all county elementary schools
- Village and Town Park clean up detail by the inmates of the Orleans County Jail

FOR ROY-HART NEW DUGOUTS ARE A TEAM EFFORT

Anyone driving by the soccer fields at Royalton-Hartland Elementary has probably noticed two new dugouts. School Business Administrator, Andy Lang, says the new structures are part of the District's ongoing long-range facilities plan. "The District will be allocating a portion of the Operations and Maintenance budget to fund facilities improvements throughout the District. This will be an ongoing continuous initiative."

The District's Director of Facilities, Tim Pietrowski, says the new dugouts were long overdue. "The structures that were out there had been there for years and were old and dilapidated. It was a big concern on everyone's part to replace them with something safe that would last a long time. Thanks to the generosity of several local companies: All Metal Works, Oak Orchard Concrete and Standish-Jones Building Supply, who helped provide us with materials at a substantial discount, the Building and Grounds Department was able to build the new all steel dugouts and place them on concrete slabs, making a much safer space for our students to utilize. It's great to get the support from the community on a project like this. At Roy-Hart Central School District we are a team!"

"I want to thank the Buildings and Grounds crew and Tim for helping to put the new dugouts in at the soccer fields," says Athletic Director John Grzymala. "It's exciting that a lot of our athletic fields are getting updated and made to look more professional. We hope that it makes it more welcoming not only for our own students, but for our opponents. It makes it a good and safe environment for everyone. It is a great reflection of what we want our athletic department to be."

Warning Signs of Suicide

In June of 2018, the deaths by suicide of two high-profile celebrities garnered substantial attention. Within days of each other, fashion designer Kate Spade and television host and author Anthony Bourdain took their own lives.

The deaths of Spade and Bourdain prompted many to inquire about suicide, its causes and if there are any signs that might help them identify if a loved one is having suicidal thoughts. According to the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention, no single thing causes suicide. The AFSP notes that suicide is most often a byproduct of the convergence of stressors and health issues that, when coupled, create a sense of hopelessness and despair.

Depression and anxiety are two conditions most commonly associated with suicide. But the AFSP notes that most people who have been diagnosed with these conditions and actively manage them go on to engage in life. Undiagnosed depression and anxiety, as well as undiagnosed or unaddressed substance abuse, increase a person's risk for suicide. That's why it's so important for men, women and young people to learn to recognize warning signs for suicide and put themselves in position to promptly address their own issues or those of a loved one.

Speech

The AFSP notes that people who take their own lives may speak about doing so prior to committing suicide. People should seek help if they or a loved one talks about feeling hopeless, having no reason to live or being a burden to others. People who speak of feeling trapped or feeling unbearable pain also may be exhibiting warning signs of suicide.

Behavior

Behavior, especially behavior that can be linked to a painful event, loss or change, is another potential indicator that a person is having suicidal thoughts. Such behaviors include:

- Increased use of alcohol or drugs
- Looking for a way to end their lives, such as searching online for methods
- Withdrawing from activities
- Isolating from family and friends
- Sleeping too much or too little
- Visiting or calling people to say goodbye
- Giving away prized possessions
- Aggression
- Fatigue

Mood

Mood also is a potential indicator that a person might be having suicidal thoughts. In addition to depression and anxiety, people who are considering taking their own lives may exhibit a loss of interest in things they once enjoyed. Irritability, humiliation, agitation/anger, and relief/sudden improvement are other moods the AFSP notes may be warning signs for suicide.

The deaths of two highly regarded celebrities brought suicide to the forefront in 2018. Taking the time to understand suicide and its warning signs can help people prevent tragedies. More information is available at www.afsp.org. People who are in crisis or suspect a loved one may be in crisis are urged to call the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline at 1-800-273-TALK (8255) or contact the Crisis Text Line by texting TALK to 741741. ■

Do you have HEEL pain or ARCH pain?

HEEL SPUR SYNDROME/PLANTAR FASCITIS

is a common problem among people who are active. It starts as a dull intermittent pain in the heel which may progress to a sharp persistent pain. Classically, it is worse in the morning with the first few steps, after sitting, after standing, or after walking.

- Plantar fasciitis often begins with irritation and tearing of the fibrous band of tissue on the bottom of the foot, which may eventually result in the formation of a heel spur.

- Contributing factors: flat pronated feet, high arched feet, poor shoe support, increased age, sudden weight increase, increased activity level, family tendency.

- Approximately 2-3 times your body weight of force is exerted on each foot with walking. Flexible, non-custom molded arch support found at those advertised shoe stores cannot support these forces and usually do not provide long-lasting relief, do not come with a lifetime warranty, and are typically more expensive than custom-molded ones made by our office.

- 95 percent of our patients symptoms are resolved with conservative treatment, avoiding surgical intervention.

- We also offer surgical procedures with the best post-op success rates using Endoscopic Plantar Fasciotomy techniques and EPF resulting in minimal incisions and scarring, immediate ambulation and often back in a shoe in one week.

If you can't remember when your feet didn't hurt, now is the time to give us a call!

Tips on how to write CLASSIFIED ADS that sell!

- 1 USE A KEY WORD. This immediately tells the reader exactly what you have to sell.
- 2 Make your description CLEAR AND FACTUAL. State the year, make, model, color & size and tell what condition the item is in. Also, state the special features.
- 3 STATE THE PRICE. Successful classified advertisers have learned that the price in an ad helps increase the chances for results.
- 4 IF THERE IS A GENUINE SENSE OF URGENCY, say so. The words "We're moving," or "Must sell fast," suggest that readers respond immediately.
- 5 INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER. Classifieds get results fast and often generate immediate sales. If you cannot be available to answer the phone at all times, be sure to specify special calling times such as "after 9pm" or "before 11am."

Five Ways to Get Acquainted with a New Neighborhood

Across the country, people are packing boxes, hiring trucks and moving short and long distances. The U.S. Census Bureau says that around 12 percent of the population moves each year. According to a survey by DuProprio, a Quebec-based real estate advice site, 28 percent of Canadians feel the need to move every five years. Surprisingly, DuProprio also found that 14 percent of owners wish they could move every year.

The main reasons people move are expansion of the family, a career change, retirement, empty nest situations, or when moving is more practical than large-scale home renovations. While some people stick close to previous home locations, a 2015 American Community Survey found approximately 16.9 million people moved to a different county in 2015.

Whether a move is across county lines or overseas, it can take some time to acclimate to a new neighborhood. These tips can help anyone get acquainted with their new surroundings and make friends in the process.

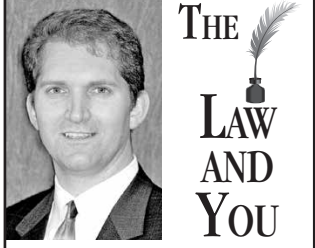

1. Host a housewarming party. Get to know immediate neighbors by hosting a party. After some unpacking is done, host a simple get-together for people who live nearby. Ask if neighbors can help out by bringing chairs. Offer light refreshments and some type of activities for children. The event doesn't have to be extensive, just long enough to engage in some conversation and introduce yourself.
2. Walk and drive around. Scout out the area by driving around and making note of shopping centers, parks and places of interest. Schedule times when you will get out of the car and walk around on foot, which makes it easier to take everything in. Use a website like Walkscore.com to find places within walking distance of your new home. Bring the dog along. Dogs can be great ice breakers with new neighbors.
3. Check out community blotters. Community events may be posted in print and distributed through a local newspaper and also on municipal websites. Find out where the locals go on weekends or during the week. Communities may take pride in certain activities. It's easier to get a feel for the neighborhood by spending time with the locals.
4. Become active in the community. Find a volunteer organization or join a local house of worship. Check with the local chamber of commerce for ways to get involved or clubs to join. Like-minded people can make living in a new locale more enjoyable.
5. Dine out once a week. If budget allows, try a new neighborhood eating establishment each week to get a lay of the land. You'll identify hot spots and hidden gems and will also be able to mingle with the community. An app such as Open Table can help you find places to eat nearby. ■

GARAGE SALES & AUCTIONS

THE LAW AND YOU

BY NATHAN D. PACE
ATTORNEY AT LAW

ENTERING INTO A CONTRACT

Most people enter into contracts more often than they realize. Bills of sale, purchase orders, employment agreements, and other common business transactions are legally enforceable contracts, which bind a person or company to take some action or make a payment in exchange for something of value. Problems arise when one party to a contract fails to fulfill its responsibility under the contract, in which case the contract is "breached." At this point, one or both of the parties may seek to have the contract enforced on its terms. Otherwise, a party may try to recover for any financial harm caused by the alleged breach. Either way, it is best to enlist the help of an attorney to resolve contract disputes.

If you're in a contract dispute because you think the other party isn't living up to their side of the bargain, providing a notice of breach is the first formal step in resolving the problem. The notice, generally in the form of a letter, explains why you believe there has been a breach of the contract, and lays out the actions that must be taken next. To learn more, please call the Law Office of MACK & PACE. When conflict comes, we bring it hard with no apologies. We emphasize legal issues in real estate, business, banking, will and trusts, probate, criminal law, family law, and entertainment law.

(585) 798-1000
534 Main St., Suite 6
Medina, NY 14103

HINT: In the event that a contractual breach involves the failure of a party to deliver goods as part of its contractual obligation to do so, the court may direct "specific performance" of the breaching party.

"The Right Lawyer Matters."

How to Build a Career in Philanthropy

Working in a field one loves is a key to a satisfying career. Making a difference and feeling a sense of accomplishment each day can make going to work easier and more enjoyable. Working in the nonprofit sector fuels such feelings for millions of people each day.

According to the National Center for Charitable Statistics, more than 1.5 million nonprofit organizations are registered in the United States. Imagine Canada says that there are an estimated 170,000 nonprofits and charities in Canada.

Philanthropic groups are staffed by millions of people, offering a vast array of job opportunities. In Canada, the nonprofit sector represents around 8 percent of the country's gross domestic product, making the nonprofit sector larger than the country's automotive or manufacturing industries. The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics says that, as of 2012, nonprofits accounted for 11.4 million jobs and 10.3 percent of all private sector employment. The District of Columbia, New York and Rhode Island are three areas of the country with the highest shares of nonprofit employment.

Nonprofit organizations offer many of the same types of positions as commercial companies. Because many nonprofit groups are small, those who work in philanthropy may be able to get hands-on experience in a short time, with the opportunity to move up the ladder faster. Furthermore, nonprofit workers often wear many hats, gaining valuable experience in different areas that can benefit their careers going forward. Here are a few of the positions available in the nonprofit sector.

- Grantmaking: Many nonprofits raise money for the express purpose of directing grants to address specific community needs. Those who work in this field may be part of a board that decides on the grant applications and the allocation of funds.

- Foundation board: Those with great managerial skills may find work on a foundation board. The board has the responsibility to manage the foundation, set the direction and mission and approve grants.

- Fundraising/donor relations: Well-oiled nonprofits typically have a top-notch staff of fundraisers who are responsible for bringing in the capital to run the nonprofit. Fundraising often involves pavement canvassing and networking.

- Administration: Nonprofits rely on a team of administrative professionals to keep things running smoothly. Such positions include assistants, receptionists, office managers, computer IT teams, and human resources professionals.

- Research team: Groups that work with emerging issues need to stay on top of the latest research and developments. Researchers investigate data and write reports to keep the nonprofit in the know.

Emerging Practitioners in Philanthropy suggests those who want a career in philanthropy should brush up on the jargon of the industry. Attending nonprofit events to network, seeking out mentors, and advertising one's skills are other ways to gain entry into the nonprofit sector. ■

SHERIFFS VISIT ALBION ELEMENTARY FOR SHERIFFS WEEK

In recognition of "Sheriff's Week" Sheriff Bower and two deputies visited Albion Elementary School students during lunch on Sept. 18, 2018.

Sheriff's Week is September 16 - 20.

The students enjoyed meeting Sheriff Bower as well as Deputy Stirk and Deputy Doyle. Students weren't shy about striking up a conversation with the deputies and sheriff. Deputy Stirk, an Albion High School graduate, was busy talking with students and answering questions about his career. He said, "I am happy to have this position so I can give back to the school and community. These are my roots and it is nice to be back in this cafeteria where I ate lunch 20 years ago. I would have loved something like this when I was a kid."

Sheriff Bower was very complimentary of the elementary school students. He said, "I love how well behaved and welcoming the Albion students have all been to me!"

The students were all smiles and very happy to spend lunch time with their visitors.

The STREAM & LAKE MAP OF NEW YORK resembles another map--known to Pennsylvania anglers as the "Lost Stream Map."

It was completed in 1965 after a 30 year effort by Howard Higbee, a former Penn State Professor.

Professor Higbee painstakingly plotted by hand, the location of 45,000 miles of streams onto the map. It sold extremely well - until the printer declared bankruptcy and hauled Higbee's work to the landfill.

But reprints were impossible because the maps were printed in non-photographic blue. Higbee was even offered $400 for one of his last maps. And state agencies were forced to keep their copies under lock and key.

Then, at the age of 91, Howard Higbee's dream came true. Computers made it possible to reprint the map.

Then the STREAM & LAKE MAP OF NEW YORK was created.

Guess Who?

I am a singer born in California on Oct. 3, 1969. As a child, I was diagnosed with ADHD and dyslexia. But there was no doubt I would become a performer. I have fronted a rock band and also had a successful solo career. A new gig as a talent judge paved the way for romance.

Answer: Gwen Stefani!

After many years of welcoming old and new friends, the Last Wednesday Supper Crew of the Albion First United Methodist Church needs to say goodbye. We have fond memories serving the FUMC Church dining room. Thank you for being part of our lives.

Shalom to you, our friends.
