TREAT TREES
NOW
FOR NEXT SPRING

Spotted Lanternfly Treatment

Best Solution To Treat Spotted Lanternfly: Systemic Tree Drench

This should be applied to trees NOW (in the fall) so it has time to permeate the tree; then when the spotted lanternfly nymphs hatch next spring, they will feed on the trees and die. Bonide Annual Tree & Shrub Insect Killer Liquid Concentrate is a systemic soil drench for trees/bushes. One application can kill insects and prevent infestation for an entire year. It will kill all stages of spotted lanternfly that pierce the bark- the first stage of nymphs in the spring do not feed on the bark. That is when it important to use the sticky tree bands to capture the nymphs.

Tree Drench Is A Preventative Method To Drastically Decrease Infestation!

- Contains active ingredient Imidacloprid which has been found to be effective against spotted lanternfly.
- Imidacloprid is a chemical recommended as effective to treat spotted lanternfly.
- Simply mix with water and pour at base of tree and insecticide is absorbed through the roots to all parts of the plant.
- One (1) application is good for (1) year protection.
