NW-SCC a Go on Center

MUSCLE SHOALS -- Northwest-Shoals Community College (NW-SCC) President Dr. Glenda Colagross met with representatives from the Alabama Community College System and Lauderdale County Schools last week to discuss the new Advanced Manufacturing Center to be located in Lauderdale County off U.S. Highway 72. "The new center in Lauderdale County will provide a seamless transition for career technical high school students through the Dual Enrollment/Dual Credit program," said Colagross. The location of the new Advanced Manufacturing Center will allow for dual enrollment partnerships with Lauderdale County Schools and Florence City Schools as well as other high schools in the area.

UNA OPERA'S Holiday Premier

By Vanessa Borelly Vega
UNA School of the Arts

FLORENCE—UNA Opera is excited to bring the Shoals the collegiate premiere of "The House Without a Christmas Tree." Performances are in Norton Auditorium on Friday, November 16 at 7:30pm and Sunday, November 18 at 2pm.

In this captivating Christmas story, we meet Addie, a precocious child who doesn't understand why her father dislikes Christmas so intensely. He even refuses to allow a Christmas tree in the house. When Addie brings home a tree she won in a school contest, it leads to a miracle of sorts—her father's broken soul is transformed.

from Bank Independent and UNA as the 2018 recipients of the Edward Fennel Mauldin Endowed Scholarship.

Freshman Milaya Marks, sophomore Katlyn Barnes, and graduate student Fabian Cortez were honored as first-time scholarship recipients. Seniors Ben Ish and Gabrielle Ward were returning scholarship recipients.

Bank Independent President Macke Mauldin congratulated the students on their achievements. Mauldin explained that his father, the late Edward F. Mauldin, never graduated from college, but he was a lifelong learner who deeply appreciated the value of the college experience.

Scholarship recipient Gabrielle Ward, who is majoring in social work, explained what the scholarship has meant for her, "I can honestly say that I would not be graduating this May if not for this scholarship."

"Bank Independent's mission is to make a positive difference in people's lives, and you have the support of all 575 of our team members," said Mauldin. "Our challenge to you today is to pay this forward. Remember what has been done for you and pass that kindness along to others."

UNA President Dr. Ken Kitts congratulated the students on their accomplishments. "We offer our heartfelt thanks to Bank Independent and the Mauldin family for helping these first-generation college students realize their dreams."

Did You Know 99% of Christians Are Not Saved?

Satan has deceived 99% of all preachers worldwide! They unknowingly preach a False Gospel of Salvation and "We the Sheeple" believe these deceived preachers! A deceived preacher doesn't know they are deceived and therefor are sincere and are convincing. What we believe determines if we are saved or lost. Our "Willful Ignorance" makes us "Useful Idiots" in Satan's game of religion. If we don't hear and believe "The True Gospel of Salvation" we will remain lost even if we think we are saved. My desire is for you to hear and believe "The True Gospel of Salvation" and receive "Eternal Life". I am here to help. Call or email me anytime. 2nd Corinthians 11:14-15; 2nd Corinthians 4:3-4; 2nd Corinthians 11:4; Revelation 12:9;

In the recent meeting, Lauderdale County Schools Superintendent, Jon Hatton, stated, "Helping our students is the main focus for us daily. Pursuing career technical education and workforce development opportunities is something we are excited to be involved with because it expands their future real-world job possibilities."

A three-way path from high school through Northwest-Shoals and on to the University of North Alabama (UNA) is currently being developed in some programs. Therefore, UNA will also have a presence in the proposed center. "These paths will help ensure that students complete an education and move into high wage/high demand careers," Colagross stated.

In addition to dual enrollment opportunities, the proposed center will provide flexible training for business and industry. The high wage/high demand programs offered will include electrical, machine tool, industrial systems, welding, and robotics. Additionally, the college plans to offer a machinist apprenticeship program on-site. Plans also are underway to start a Federation for Advanced Manufacturing Education (FAME) program. The FAME program allows students to earn a wage and gain work experience while pursuing an advanced manufacturing degree.

A portion of the funding needed to construct the proposed center has already been secured. Due to the 2017 efforts of Senator Tim Melson and Representative Lynn Greer, Governor Kay Ivey set aside four million dollars for the project. The Shoals Economic Development Center earmarked an additional five million dollars for the project in 2018.

Council of Hospital Auxiliaries in Mobile.

AlaHA Chairman Owen Bailey, CEO of USA Health, applauded Carson's hard work. Bailey noted that Jordan has been volunteering since the age of 14, providing invaluable support to staff members in the hospital's emergency room. "Jordan is described by his hospital as hard working, dependable, and very mature," said Bailey. "When Jordan is not at the hospital, the straight-A student is running track, playing tennis, or volunteering with his church where he works on fundraisers, food drives, and visits local nursing homes. He even makes time to help elderly and disabled people with their yardwork."

"We are extremely proud of the honor Jordan has received. His hard work and dedication to helping others has been demonstrated throughout his time at Helen Keller Hospital. We look forward to seeing what he achieves next," said hospital President Paul Storey.

The Alabama Council of Hospital Auxiliaries is an affiliate of the Alabama Hospital Association, a state trade organization which supports hospitals in providing quality health care to their communities.

Book Release at Florence

FLORENCE—Dr. Ansley Quiros, Assistant Professor of History at UNA, will speak at the Florence-Lauderdale Public Library to launch her new book, God with Us: Lived Theology and the Freedom Struggle in Americus, Georgia, 1942-1976. The launch is on Monday, November 19 at 5:30pm

For many, the struggle over civil rights was not just about lunch counters, waiting rooms, or even access to the voting booth; it was also about Christian theology. Since both activists and segregationists ardently claimed that God was on their side, racial issues were imbued with religious meanings from all sides. God with Us examines the theological struggle over racial justice through the story of one southern town—Americus, Georgia—where ordinary Americans sought and confronted racial change in the twentieth century.

For more information about this event, call 256-764-6564, ext. 127.

A Turkey Dinner Again at Seasons

FLORENCE – The 4th Annual Free Thanksgiving meal will be served to those in need in the Shoals area on Thanksgiving Day, November 22 at Season's, Good Moods, Good Food, Restaurant at 1420 Huntsville Road next to Staggs Grocery.

Any individuals or families in need of a free holiday meal with all the trimmings can come by between the hours of 11am and 2pm. The sit-down restaurant style meal will be provided to families or anyone who is in need, struggling, alone, or college students who couldn't make it home for the holiday. Everyone is welcome.

Those in need of transportation, food delivery, wishing to make donations, or wishing to volunteer are encouraged to call Kym Robinson at 256-810-8426 for more information.

This is the fourth year for this Thanksgiving meal. The event hosted over 350 people last year and the goal is 500 people this year. The idea for this event came about from a desire to give back to the community. AHU Entertainment owner and international rap artist Geoffrey, "GMANE" Robinson, a Shoals native, wanted to help those in need during the holiday season. Robinson and his wife, Kym, are partnering with James and Mary Mitchell, owners of Season's Restaurant. The group wants to make sure that no one in this area who wants to eat and be with others on Thanksgiving be denied that opportunity.

Dinner will be prepared and served at Season's Restaurant. It will consist of turkey & dressing, green beans, mashed potatoes, dessert, and soft drink. Donations and volunteers are welcome.

Opera

season. It is based on an original story by Gail Rock and the beloved 1972 television movie of the same name. Gordon chose to translate this into an opera because he said, "What you want a piece about the holidays to do is to open hearts and help people to feel closer to one another." Gordon and Vavrek accomplished both with this masterful score.

The University of North Alabama Opera program, School of the Arts, and Department of Music invite you to start the holiday season with this heartwarming story. Purchase your tickets by visiting una.edu/schoolofhearts, contacting the School of the Arts Box Office at 256-765-5500, or by stopping by the School of the Arts Box Office on 126 W. Tombigbee St. (Wednesdays and Thursdays 10am - 6pm and Fridays 12pm - 7pm.

Tickets are $12 for adults in advance and $15 at the door. Tickets are $5 for children 17 and under and UNA students.

For more information on any of the programs in the UNA School of the Arts or the Department of Music, contact una.edu/schoolofhearts or una.edu/music.

I CAN'T SET A FOOT on the internet without some yahoo screaming about how ticked off he is at some comment or question or dirty look or whatever the offense du jour is today.

Fisher

We live in a world where one person out of a world population of 6 billion can say something so stupid or so crazy or so inflammatory that they get the attention of millions of us. Their only credentials: access to the internet. We somehow assume that one stupid person is representative of all of his country/religion/skin color/tribe/political party.

We have to get to a place where we realize that what

by "The Computer Skeptic"

we see on the internet is not necessarily reality. News outlets try very hard to attract visitors to their websites because they collect a penny of advertising revenue for every person that clicks on their headline. As a result, they publish headlines intentionally designed to inflame people because they know many of us will share those headlines and drive even more pennies to their website.

This nasty news is literally everywhere and inescapable. So how do we get back to the good old days of sane people discussing sane stuff without wanting to strangle each other? I have no idea but I do think we need to talk about it.

Those of us on social media can use numerous tools to bring back a little sanity. We can easily unfollow or even unfriend those whacky people who constantly post negative stuff that clouds our sunny day. If you're one of those who post negative news constantly, just stop polluting the internet. We can switch channels or simply make a conscious effort to avoid the negative vibes.

I was inspired to write about our nasty environment when I recently parked beside a person with different skin color at a local shopping complex. This was a day after a viral video was released about a white person being stupid towards a black person vice versa. We opened our doors at the same time careful not to ding the other's car. I said something like "Sorry about the tight squeeze," and he responded, "Man, you can ding my car if you want to. There's too much hate in this world to be worried about car dings!"

I think I knew what he was referring to. I extended my hand, we shook, and I said, "Amen!" We had a short conversation about the hate that seems rampant in this world before we entered the store. He and I might have traded a couple of barbs over the football team shirt he was wearing versus the one I was wearing but we still respected each other. No one will ever see a viral video of that nice person and I treating each other like humans but THAT kind of interaction is what happens every day.

The Good Will season is upon us so I hope each of us will make an effort to be nice some stranger somewhere.

Conservative Red but Changes Soon

Midterms are finally behind us and there are multiple perspectives to be considered.

Alabama and the Shoals are solidly conservative-red. Much of that is because the Democrat platform is fragmented for so many fringe causes. Hats off to the D-candidates who managed a win or who even made it a close race in this environment.

Many Republicans nationally may look at the bright side. For instance, the losses in the House of Representatives were less than the predicted "blue wave" and (as of pres time) a couple of seats were gained in the Senate.

I am confident that the recent Supreme Court Kavanaugh hearings gave Republicans a real chance to maintain a majority in the house.

Trump has put America first, and it is about time someone did. His early reforms have been hugely successful. They could have stood on their own with the Kavanaugh energy had he just kept his edge with the press and backed off his social media arrogance a bit. However, that is just not Trump. He apparently fails to realize that he is his own worst enemy. Republicans captured some important races, but they let several get away.

Democrats can look at it the same way. They had a great opportunity for huge gains in the Frankie Lee Wallace will culminate in the dedication of 18 miles of U.S. Highway 72 beginning at the Alabama and Mississippi state line and running to Cherokee will officially be dedicated as the Lt. Home for Wallace was Cherokee where he lived and graduated from Cherokee High School, according to his first cousin, Curtis Wallace.

The Cross

Editor:

Do you unwittingly wear something you know little about? I used to.

How does God feel about it? What is the original translation of the word cross? Don't run to a man or a preacher for opinion. Do your own legwork, homework, research. Seek and YOU will find the truth. Google or go to the public library where they have excellent encyclopedias. The Greek word Sta'ros originally used was replaced with the word Cross. Was this an accurate Translation? Either way, 1John 5:21 "Little Children, guard yourselves from idols."

"The helper is not made of wood or stone or metals."

John 14:26 but God's Holy Spirit. Please see origin of multiple crosses at Google, encyclopedias and/or the library. Wish you well.

Time for Early Vote Alabama?

Editor:

Are you as relieved as I am that the election is over? While the election process is a precious right, it sometimes taxes our patience with the relentless mudslinging and nonstop TV ads.

Yet, I always look forward to casting my vote. It was not totally unexpected that there were troublesome delays with incredibly long lines Tuesday both locally and nationally. While the national media reports that more than 39 million Americans voted early, there were long lines across the country the entire day. Georgia reports that several voting locations had voters complaining they waited up to 3 hours to vote.

The Birmingham News reported on November 7 that the voting process in Alabama was marred by long lines, machine malfunctions, and other inexplicable delays state wide. In Talladega, significant delays were present especially at the Spring Street voting location. Personally, I experienced unnecessary delays both Tuesday and during the earlier primary election. Some of my neighbors stated that they were unable to vote after having gone to their voting place twice because the workers were unable to find their names even though they are lifetime residents of this city. Other friends said they didn't try since they had experienced past delays.

Commentary

house and senate based on two years of unrest and animosity toward the administration. They lost votes through the gross mishandling of Kavanaugh hearings and by the far-left fringe candidates and platforms. Some 'working man first' Democrats who are more socially conservative don't want anything to do with such antics. That certainly cost the Dems in some close house, senate, and gubernatorial races.

However, younger generations with differing perspectives will soon be moving those election results to the left.

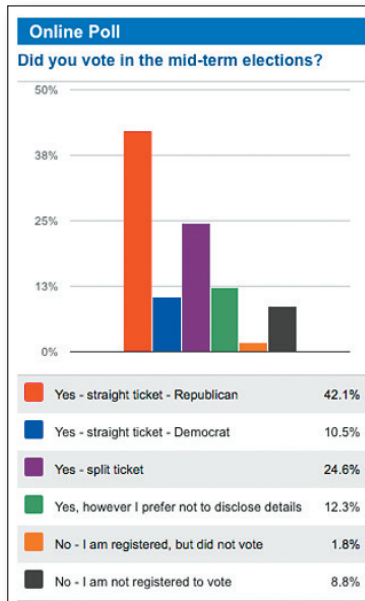

SOME OTHER ELECTION TAKES

- Just before press time over 50% of voters in our unofficial poll at Courier Journal.net indicated that they voted a straight ticket. (graphic)

- The left still thinks Republicans fared better than they should have based solely on the spread of fear and lies.

Fear and lies are bipartisan and have been for centuries. If you believe democrat claims, the republicans are always going to eliminate Medicare and Medicaid.

- We will have the distinct pleasure of watching Nancy Pelosi run the House, and Maxine Waters chair a house committee. To say it will be entertaining is a gross understatement.

- I believe most of the voters in Florida and Georgia really don't understand how close they were to a gubernatorial disaster. Thankfully, they narrowly elected Ron DeSantis in Florida. At press time Brian Kemp still looked good in Georgia, but Stacey Abrams had not conceded. To simply describe Democrats Andrew Gillum (Florida) and Abrams as avowed socialists is generous.

- Broward county Florida mysteriously still has votes trickling in, all heavily democrat-leaning. Twenty years later and they are still at the manipulation game in Broward.

- There always HAS to be some racial aspect to democrat losses. According to the entertainment industry, this election cycle it's white women voting incorrectly.

Liberal activist, Marisa Kabas, tweeted, "White women uphold white supremacy through their vote. They have no qualms about hurting women of color, and that's an objective truth."

"Really, truly embarrassed that 76% of white women in Georgia voted for Kemp. It's shameful. Humiliating," New York Magazine writer, Hillary Kelly tweeted. -- Like that alone confirms a racially biased element is present. She did not mention that 97% of black women voted for Abrams. Apparently, that is not racist; it's just liberating.

- Finally, no other member of the administration had done more to implement the President's "America First" immigration policies than Jeff Sessions.

In his 18 months as Attorney General, Sessions took legal action against sanctuary cities, hired more immigration judges to deal with the unmanageable backlog of immigration cases, put teeth in the 'credible fear' standard for asylum-seekers aligning it more with federal law, and stood with Trump's decision to end Obama's executive amnesty DACA program.

His allowing a resignation aside, Trump's treatment of Jeff Sessions has been simply atrocious. Even in his forced resignation a day after the elections, Sessions was by far the most dignified and loyal part of Trump's administration. His recusal from the Russia probe and its timing can be debated. However, Sessions handled every stab and verbal attack with grace and class; a lot more class than Trump deserved, especially when considering the degree of support that Sessions offered during Trump's fledgling primary campaign.

gallantry in action when on February 4, 1966 he led a squad patrol on a routine search of several villages in the Republic of Vietnam. As his squad approached a village, they were suddenly engaged by small arms and automatic weapons fire by an estimated Viet Cong squad. Exposing himself to the deadly insurgent fire, Lt. Wallace led an assault that was so aggressive that the Viet Cong were forced to withdraw. Lt. Wallace then led his patrol across an open rice paddy, skillfully executing fire and movement in pursuit of the enemy insurgent force. The Viet Cong squad joined an estimated platoon-size force who were well entrenched. Lt. Wallace directed effective artillery fire and air strikes on the hostile positions.

When the supporting fires lifted, Lt. Wallace led his squad in an assault and was met by intense automatic weapons and mortar fire which forced him to withdraw. One fire team leader fell wounded in withdrawal. Lt. Wallace ran in to the open rice paddy to aid his wounded comrade without hesitation. Lt. Wallace was wounded in the leg before he could reach him. Unmindful of his wound, Lt Wallace got up and continued toward the wounded man.

As he approached the stricken soldier, Lt. Wallace killed two Viet Cong who were also attempting to reach the wounded man. Fully exposed to the intense Viet Cong fire concentrated on him, he aided the wounded soldier. Lt. Wallace was mortally wounded by hostile automatic weapons fire while assisting his wounded comrade to safety. Due to his courage, inspiring example, and his leadership, Lt. Wallace was instrumental in saving the life of a fellow soldier and accounted for twenty-seven Viet Cong killed. Lieutenant Wallace's unimpeachable valor in close combat against a numerically superior hostile force was in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflects great credit upon himself, his unit, the United States Army, the town of Cherokee and a grateful nation.

Ask Dr. Webb

My grandfather has metastatic cancer and is refusing chemotherapy. How can I persuade him take the treatment?

The real question should be: "is chemotherapy even appropriate for him?"

Cancers progress through four stages: metastatic refers to the final stage (4), meaning it has spread beyond the original tumor. Whereas stage 1 is often curable (using surgery, radiation, and/or chemotherapy), stages 2 and 3 are less so; and stage 4 usually results in death.

An article in the Times-Daily of June 27, 2017 described how patients with stage 4 keep receiving false hope from doctors and the cancer treatment industry, hoping for a cure, when in reality, chemotherapy in stage 4 only creates increased suffering—with a worse quality of death and no improvement in quality of life.

Everyone hopes there will be miraculous cure for the dreaded big 'C'. But, as reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association in 2015, despite all the research and promotions, all we've done over the last 20 years is make patients feel worse and they don't live any longer. The editors stated, "It is disturbing that this trial demonstrated no benefits of chemotherapy... and... that oncologists still recommend and use systemic therapy so close to patient death."

The evidence is accumulating: once you have metastatic cancer, your chance of living longer and better by taking chemotherapy is poor indeed. When the goal is quality of life, not quantity, your grandfather's decision is the best one: essentially, eat and drink what you like, enjoy your family, and avoid all the side-effects from treatment.

If someone tries to make him feel guilty for refusing chemotherapy, remember that 'false hope' is worse than 'no hope'. A comfort-focused approach improves not only our quality of living, but also of dying: it's what our hospice does well!

A special kind of caring

SIGNS OF THE PAST

ANTE-BELLUM COTTON MILLS
 -1840-

About one mile west of here is the site of the Globe Cotton Factory which was erected on Cypress Creek in 1840. By 1857 its operations included three cotton mills, a flour mill, and two corn mills, all powered by the use of three dams. By 1860 the factory employed 310 people, including a large number of women and children, at average salaries of $2.50 per week. These mills were burned by the Union Army in May, 1863. One factory, called Cypress Mill, was re-built after the war, but its operation was never successful.

HISTORICAL MARKER LOCATION:

Appleby Blvd,
 N of Cypress Mill Rd, Florence, AL
 34.8188°N, 87.6940°W

The Antebellum era, before the Civil War, marked a period of economic growth for the South, due in part to available cheap labor (slaves). Alabama was a leading cotton producer. Cotton Mills needed power and usually were situated next to streams using water power. This marker describes the Globe Cotton Factory which was to the west on Cypress Creek. This historical marker is on Appleby Blvd for better visibility.

ASK THE ATTORNEY

Thomas McCutcheon

Ask the Attorney is sponsored by local attorneys, McCutcheon & Hamner, PC, as a service to the residents of NW Alabama.

Q My uncle is 85 years old. He has never been married and has no children. He has a sizable estate but does not have a Will. My mother (his sister) passed away six years ago. Her name is on his life insurance policies and the beneficiary to all his money. I have three brothers and just wanted to know if his estate should go to me and my brothers?

T.B.H.20 Florence, AL

A When there is a Will, property and money is distributed according to the terms of the Will. When there is not a Will, property and money is distributed under the laws of intestate succession. When there is a Will, the estate is probated. When there is not a Will, an estate is administered.

It is always better to have a Will because that saves the estate the cost of a bond and if the estate is not finished within the first year, then another bond must be purchased.

As you've heard on television, the State does have a Will that is written for everyone and that is known as intestate succession. In Alabama, intestate succession provides that if there is a surviving spouse, the spouse would get a certain amount of money in value and that amount changes if the decedent (person who died and left the estate) and the surviving spouse together had children. If all of the children were by the decedent and the surviving spouse the spouse gets more. If the decedent has a surviving spouse and children that are not the issue (children of) the surviving spouse, then the surviving spouse receives less allowing for more to go to the surviving children of the person who died.

If there is no spouse, then to the children, if no children then to the parents, and if there are no children or parents, then to the aunts and uncles and so forth. You can read the rules at Alabama Code §43-8-41 and §43-8-42.

The way that the legislature is set up "the Will the State wrote for you" or intestate succession is about as rational and well thought out as any group of people could come up with.

Remember that life insurance and investment accounts are going to be distributed according to the contract under which they are made. If your uncle left his life insurance to your mom and she has passed away, I would think that the money would be paid to her estate and distributed according to the terms of her Will or the rules of intestate succession. Remember that a home is usually held in a deed that provides that the survivor of a marriage gets the property. No matter what a Will provides, the deed controls the disposition of the property.

Buckle up, drive safely and as always, your referrals are appreciated! 256-764-0112.

Time for Early Vote Alabama?

Social media over the past 24 hours was replete with complaints of long lines outside the building and down the sidewalk as late as 6:30pm at Spring Street. The complaint seemed to be either malfunctioning machines or workers unable to promptly process voters.

Currently, 23 states allow early voting. It is time for Alabama to come into the modern world and allow early voting! Thousands of working Alabamians simply cannot spare the time to stand in long lines to vote! By virtue of the outdated process we are denying the right to vote by not providing a fluid and modern system.

Effectiveness or Roll Backs?

Dear editor:

What policies should the Federal government follow for the next two years now that the elections are over?

The most important objective must be that the accomplishments of the past two years not be undermined.

We have a booming economy and rising wages, resting on a foundation of lower taxes, deregulation, and cheaper energy. That must be protected.

Respect for the law is being restored with illegal immigrants being identified and deported. That must not be undermined.

The fight against anti-American terrorists is being carried on effectively in their foreign bases, along our borders, and within our country. Our safety must not be compromised.

The US Constitution is being protected by Federal judges with a deep respect for what it actually says. That must continue.

The possibility of bipartisan cooperation depends upon whether liberals want to reinforce these accomplishments or roll them back.

See It

Why did God give us these babies? Lots of "Why?" questions are futile and fruitless, but not this one – the answers are not many, obvious, and beneficial. I thought of this question recently as I did leaf etchings with our two year old grandbaby. As I hid the rib-side-up leaf under the paper and told her to color on top of the leaf with me, I could see at first that she didn't understand. As she followed my lead and rubbed her crayon with mine, I said, "Oh here it comes! Can you see it?!" Her eyes just sparkled as that leaf surprise showed up on the page! As we did several of the different shaped leaves that we brought in from outside, she even peeked under the paper to confirm the leaf's existence and shape. We did this art exercise fairly quickly, but I had long enough to be fascinated at her being fascinated. I thought then, there are so many reasons why this little one is in my life.

Why did God give us these babies? To procreate – to keep his creation going. It is still super weird and amazing how God chose to do this. You know, you have a good time with your husband – your bodies fitting together so well; you eat well (or not) and sleep poorly (or not) for nine months and then after pain, pushing and gloriousness, you are handed a little one who will be your charge for a couple of decades. And then that person will have to decide how to impact this world (or not). Then they will likely have little ones and that cycle will continue. And this is your legacy.

But why did God give us these babies? To reflect. I can't stand the term "mini me" because everyone needs to feel whole in themselves. But there is no question that ours are ours. Their likes, mannerisms, eyebrows, and some attitudes are uncannily the same as ours. Some untaught, others very taught. But truly the reflection has been my own. I have grown through our children's existence. God gave me some people to serve other than myself. In this I reflect Him. I have the opportunity right in front of me – in my children - to reflect good. But with reflection comes responsibility.

So why did God give us these babies? To remind us. Little children are innocent, loving, blameless, accepting, trusting and humble. When we push them out and they step on the planet, they are good people. New people's eyes sparkle when they see a leaf surprise. They are thankful when we pick them up – we feel that when they put their heads on our shoulders and pat our backs. They look lovingly interested into our eyes when we talk to them. They wait for us at the door. Undefined loved. God-like love. Babies are not given to us so that we can have love, but for us to see love – to be reminded of the kind of love that we have been given and should be giving. Self-less. Exciting. Flagrant and genuine. Like Him. Little children are a reminder of what should be underneath.

So many times my grandbabies will see something or understand something or enjoy something and they will take a quick inward breath, and say, "Ah!" Their eyebrows will go up, their eyes will brighten and a smile comes across their faces. I return that smile. That is why these babies have been given to me.

Did you know that there are 250 children who can't live at home in our community each month? These children can't live at home because the very people who are supposed to protect and care for them are not able to do so. These are the children in foster care. These are the children that need someone to stand up for them when it feels like no one cares. These are the children that need a CASA Volunteer.

Please consider becoming a Volunteer Advocate for local children who need a caring and committed adult to speak up for their best interest. Call the Shoals CASA office at 256-765-0041 or check out the agency's website for more information www.ShoalsCASA.org.

Medicare Minute

"Types of Medicare Advantage Plans"

There are basically two types of Medicare Advantage Plans. One type is a HMO. HMO stands for Health Maintenance Organization. The other type is a PPO or Preferred Provider Organization. Although both are Medicare Advantage Plans there are some distinct differences in the two.

In most HMO plans you generally can only go to doctors, health care facilities or hospitals that are on the provider list of the plan except in emergency. HMO plans require you to name a primary care provider (PCP). Your PCP becomes the quarterback of your health care. This means you may have to have a referral from your PCP if you want to see a specialist or another health care provider. All HMO plans do not require a referral, so this is a question you will want to ask of considering a HMO.

In a PPO plan, you also have a defined network of providers. You will pay less if you use a provider in the plan's network but, unlike a HMO, you may have some coverage if you go to an out-of-network provider. You will pay more for using an out-of-network provider versus an in-network provider. Also a PPO plan may give you the option of getting your health care from a provider outside your immediate geographical area whereas a HMO can be more limited.

HMO and PPO plans are similar in many ways. They both have a defined network of providers, both have a copay on most services you receive and except for a few exceptions will both include prescription drug coverage. Finding a Medicare health plan is about finding the plan that is right for you. It's a good idea to research both HMO and PPO plans if you are considering a Medicare Advantage Plan.

If you have questions regarding any aspect of Medicare or Medicare health plans feel free call us at Alabama Health Guidance (256-648-5710), stop by our office at 885 Florence Blvd (Four Lane Shopping Center) or email me at ikey@alabamahealthguidance.com. Christmas in the Country...

first holiday event of the season for Shoals residents. This year's Christmas in the Country is from 10am-4pm on Friday, November 16 - Sunday, November 18 at the LaGrange College site near Leighton. Admission is free. Donations will be accepted.

Louise Lenz, an organizer of the Christmas in the Country event said new decorations have been added this year to enhance the festive atmosphere of the celebration.

The buildings at the college site will be decorated with Christmas trees and evergreen boughs as they would have been 150 years ago. The historic buildings at the college site include dogtrot log cabin that serves as a welcome center, a chapel, country store, and the Bonner House Bed and Breakfast.

LaGrange volunteers and vendors will offer handmade crafts and Christmas decorations, along with baked goods for sale. Admission to the park is free, but donations and proceeds from sales will benefit operation and maintenance of the LaGrange site.

According to Lenz, the arts and crafts offerings this year should be the best ever.

There will also be a bake shop, hay rides, live entertainment and opportunities to visit Santa and Mrs. Claus.

Lenz said, "Christmas in the Country is a perfect opportunity to make family photos with Santa and Mrs. Claus or at the decorated buildings to use in Christmas cards."

LaGrange College was Alabama's first chartered college and the forerunner of the University of North Alabama. It was burned by Union forces during the Civil War. LaGrange College Site Park is located off Alabama 157, eight miles southeast of Muscle Shoals.

Retired Georgia police captain, Toni Tidwell, began spinning fiber when she was eight years old. She will also be demonstrating the spinning of animal fiber during Christmas in the Country on Saturday, November 17.

"My large animal vet taught me spinning when I was eight. I currently own 4 spinning wheels. My first is from Poland, as an homage to my grandfather, who came to the U.S. in 1908. I have two more from Australia that I bought second hand. The fourth is an electric wheel made in the U.S."

I will demonstrate the spinning of animal fiber such as Alpaca, Sheep and Goat, explain the spinning wheel, and explain the fiber preparation.

"Christmas in the Country provides an opportunity to relax and step back in time and enjoy the holidays as they were in a time when things were less hectic," said Susann Hamlin, president and CEO of the Colbert County Tourism and Convention Bureau.

For more details about the festival, call 256-446-9324 or the Colbert County Tourism and Convention Bureau at 256-383-0783.

Making A Difference

Mark 1:41 "And Jesus, moved with compassion, put forth his hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, I will; be thou clean." Jude 1:22 "And of some have compassion, making a difference:" In a world full of hatred, division, confusion, violence, unbelief, sin and rebellion, thank God there is still someone out there that regardless how wicked and rotten you are, that still loves you and will save you if you come to Him. His name is the Lord Jesus Christ. Christ has made the difference. Christ will take care of your todays and tomorrows if you will believe on Him and receive Him today. It was Christ that bore our sins in His own body and died and shed His blood and rose again for our justification. Romans 4:25 "Who was delivered for our offences, and was raised again for our justification." 1 Peter 2:24 "Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness: by whose stripes ye were healed." That's why you can trust Him. Jesus paid it all and He made the difference. Romans 3:25 "Whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God;" 1 Corinthians 1:30 "But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who of God is made unto us wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption:" John 6:37 "All that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out."

Jesus Christ offers eternal hope to the hopeless, eternal salvation to the lost, eternal friendship to the friendless and an eternal promise to live with Him forever. How can anyone still having a sane and sound mind reject an offer like that? God loves you and so does this preacher. Please, please, why you are still breathing receive Christ and believe on Him today and get saved. You can make a big difference in your world and someone else's world today. Jesus made a difference by having compassion and love for you. If everything else you've tried has failed, what have you got to lose by accepting Christ? This world will fail you, but Jesus Christ cannot fail. Receive Christ and let Him save, clean, and clear you today.

THE BOLD AND THE BEAUTIFUL Ridge and Judge McMullen were extremely worried when they realized they'd been duped. Eric reminded Quinn that Pam was family. In the Spencer office building, Justin played back a recording proving that Ridge and Judge McMullen were in cahoots. Pam conspired to get Donna hired at Forrester so she could drive a wedge between Quinn and Eric. Katie consented when Bill requested an immediate change in the child custody agreement. Wyatt was stunned to learn about Ridge blackmailing the judge and that Katie and Thorne were, technically, complicit. Wait to See: The Forresters, Logans, et al. put aside their grievances for the sake of the holiday.

DAYS OF OUR LIVES Gabi pleaded with Stefan to keep her secret. Paul was tempted to read Will's journal. Ciara confronted Claire about her lies. Chad made a deal with Stefan. Brady confessed the truth to Paul. Rex attempted to reconcile with Sarah. Gabi wrestled with her conscience. Paul confronted Will about his true feelings for Sonny. Rex made a difficult decision about his future. Eric tried to help Sarah when she made a scene at the pub. Lucas said goodbye to Chloe before leaving Salem. Kayla had her suspicions about Gabi. Abigail felt betrayed by JJ. Jennifer and Stefan fought over Abigail and the baby. Wait to See: Claire's plot begins to unravel.

GENERAL HOSPITAL Julian seemed to have the upper hand. Carly was outraged. Anna began to lose her patience. Carly couldn't find her husband. Jason received an important update. Jordan and Curtis discussed their wedding plans. Monica shared her experience. Julian grew suspicious of Alexis. Elizabeth's patience was tested. Franco turned to Scotty for help. Laura finally met Sasha. Peter accepted an invitation. Michael and Stella had a heart-to-heart talk. Anna offered her words of encouragement. Sonny made a plea to Margaux. Curtis was touched by Drew's act of kindness. Ryan got close to Jordan. Elizabeth was heartbroken. Sam met Michael at the Metro Court restaurant. Sasha defended herself against Kiki's accusations. Liz tried to help her son. Wait to See: Ava manipulates Franco.

THE YOUNG AND THE RESTLESS Despite Sharon and Rey's attempts to stay professional, they found themselves caught between formality and their undeniable chemistry. Despite her worries over Rey's investigation, Phyllis focused her attention on running Jabot, which included recruiting Dark Horse as a partner for a launch party celebrating the Jabotiques. However, Billy continued to resist her leadership. Thrilled by how well their relationship was going, Mariah and Tessa moved in together. Rey's investigation into JT's murder put more stress on Sharon, Phyllis, Nikki and Victoria. The four women agreed to never meet again as a group. Kyle hired Lola for a catering emergency. Billy and Sharon arrived at the launch party united against self-proclaimed power couple Nick and Phyllis. Wait to See: Abby struggles with Arturo's past.

DENTAL INSURANCE FOR THE KIDS?

Dear Dave,
Should I keep buying dental insurance for my kids, or is it just a gimmick?
Brenda

Dear Brenda,
Dental insurance is one of those things where it's easy to see that the payout is greater than the return. We've had dental insurance proposed to us at my company several times as an employee benefit, but when you add up what you pay for it you'll find you rarely spend that much on dentistry. In many cases, I advise self-insuring for dental care.

Now, there is a dental discount company I highly recommend called 1Dental.com. This kind of thing is worth it. As a member, you get discounted rates on dental work when you visit an in-network provider. I've gotten to know the folks behind this organization, too, and they're great people.

Hope this helps, Brenda!

WAIT ON THE HONEYMOON?

Dear Dave,
My fiancé and I are getting married in three weeks, but he lost his job as an experienced HVAC technician at a hospital a few days ago. Do you think we should still go on a honeymoon, or wait until things are more stable? I'm on Baby Step 3 of your plan, and I make $56,000 a year. I also have $7,000 in an emergency fund. He was making $64,000 a year, and he's on Baby Step 2 with about $10,000 in car debt remaining. We have $3,000 already set aside for the trip, plus another $2,000 we were planning to put toward fixing up his place.
Corina

Dear Corina,
First, congratulations on your upcoming wedding! I hope you two will have long and happy lives together.

Usually, I'm not a big fan of spending when someone loses a job. But I think your situation is a little different than most. You're both serious about dumping debt and getting control of your finances. Plus, you're working together, and you've already got a nice chunk of cash parked in the bank. That tells me you're both wise enough to know the importance of saving.

Your guy can find another job in a couple of weeks, considering his field and experience. Companies everywhere are hiring people right now, and the economy is booming! If he gets out there and really busts it looking for another position leading up to the wedding, I think you two will be fine. He might even be able to work it out to start right after the honeymoon.

You two have some financial padding, his job is an easy one to replace, and his income will be restored soon if he'll just get out there and make it happen. Go on the honeymoon, and have a wonderful time. God bless you both!

—Dave

With God's Help - You Never Know!

I had an old childhood friend to stop by and visit with me recently. It was an enjoyable time to reconnect with someone of my growing up years. We reminisced about a lot of things that happened in days gone by - both good and bad.

During the conversation, my friend brought to my attention what many remember about me during my teen years, which was, I was painfully shy. I think that most people who knew me then, never thought I would be doing what I do today. To be honest, at that time, I didn't see it coming either! But with time, maturity and God's help you never know how things might turn out in the long run.

I am reminded of a story I once read that took place back in the 1800's. It involved a prosperous farmer in Ohio by the name of Worthy Taylor. One spring Mr. Taylor hired a young man to help out on his farm. Other than knowing his name was "Jim," he really knew nothing of new hire's background.

Jim spent the summer doing whatever was asked of him to help the farm run smoothly. He cut wood, cared for the cows and a thousand other chores. But something else happened that summer that neither Jim nor the farmer anticipated. Jim fell in love with Taylor's daughter. In fact, he wanted to marry her.

However, when Mr. Taylor found out, he flatly refused to let his daughter marry Jim. He told the young man in no uncertain terms that he had no money, no name and very poor prospects. Shortly thereafter, Jim rounded up what few belongings he had and left.

Then, some thirty-five years later, Mr. Taylor tore down his old barn in order to build a new one. Something interesting happened when he pulled down one of the rafters above the haymow where Jim once slept. It was then he discovered Jim's full name which had been carved in the rafter years before. It was James A. Garfield, who at that time was serving as President of the United States. Wow! Again, with time, maturity and God's help you never know!

Who would have ever thought that Saul of Tarsus who was a "blasphemer, a persecutor, and an insolent man" (1 Timothy 1:13) of Christianity, would have become such a valiant soldier for Christianity. Maybe Paul himself gave the best answer: "If anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation; old things have passed away; behold, all things have become new" (2 Corinthians 5:17).

So, let us be slow to judge those whom we feel have no future. With God's help - you never know!
