Habits That Can Promote Personal Growth

The dawn of a new year is a time of personal reflection for many people. Upon reflecting on their lives, many people resolve to change those lives for the better.

Making the most of opportunities for personal growth can help people enrich their lives and be happier. Embracing some habits and ditching others can contribute to personal growth and help people live full and fulfilling lives.

- Wake up early. Many people can think of various things they would like to do if they only had more time. Reading more books, exercising more often or learning to cook are just a handful of activities that can enrich peoples' lives. By waking up earlier each day, people can make better use of their mornings. Read a book while the morning coffee is brewing or run a little on the treadmill before the kids wake up. Waking up earlier also can give you a chance to get some chores done, opening up more time to pursue some new hobbies at night.

- Quit smoking. The ill effects of smoking are many. Smokers may not know just how quickly after quitting their bodies will begin to recover. The American Lung Association notes that smokers' heart rates drop to a normal level 20 minutes after quitting. Twelve hours after quitting, the carbon monoxide levels in smokers' blood return to normal as well. Quitting also can provide people with more financial freedom. The resource Smokefree.org notes that, in early 2018, someone smoking a pack a day spent about $177 per week on cigarettes. That amounts to roughly $9,200 per year. Financial freedom can make it easier to pursue passions that promote personal growth, such as traveling.

- Volunteer. A study from researchers at the London School of Economics that was published in the journal Social Science and Medicine found that the more people volunteered, the happier they were. The researchers compared people who never volunteered to people who did, finding that the odds of being "very happy" increased by 7 percent among people who volunteered monthly. Those odds increased by 12 percent among people who volunteered every two to four weeks. Volunteering also provides opportunities to meet new people, including those from different backgrounds than your own. Such interactions can help people develop more well-rounded worldviews.

- Turn off your devices. Numerous studies have discovered that the brain cannot multi-task. Unfortunately, many people unknowingly try to force their brains to do just that by checking their devices. Avoiding devices during the workday can make you more productive, and turning them off when you arrive home at night can foster stronger relationships with your loved ones.

The dawn of a new year is a great time to explore various ways to promote your personal growth. ■

Christmas Trees Brighten the Season

Decked out in tinsel, lights, ornaments, and garland, Christmas trees are enduring symbols of the holiday season that boast a rich history.

Evergreen trees have been used to celebrate winter festivals for thousands of years, and eventually became associated with Christianity. Plants and trees that remained green all year held special meaning to ancient peoples, and were purported to keep away illness and evil spirits.

Germans were credited with tying evergreen trees to Christmas celebrations. In the sixteenth century, devout Christians brought decorated trees into their homes. Martin Luther, the Protestant reformer, is believed to have first added lighted candles to these trees after he was inspired by twinkling stars in the night sky.

While early Americans found Christmas trees an oddity, the tradition, brought over by German settlers, eventually caught on. Today, between 25 and 30 million natural Christmas trees are sold in the United States each year, states the National Christmas Tree Association. Trees are grown in all 50 states and Canada.

With proper care, any variety of Christmas tree can look beautiful throughout the holiday season. ■

In an effort to keep our roadways safer during the Holiday Season, Orleans County Stop DWI Coordinator, Sheriff Randall Bower announced Orleans County law enforcement agencies will join forces to increase presence during Stop DWI'S Holiday Crackdown initiative (Dec. 13, 2018 - Jan. 1, 2019).

December can be a dangerous time on our roadways due to the increase in holiday parties and festivities. Although it is illegal to drive with a BAC of .08 or higher, National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) 2017 stats revealed 885 deaths due to drunk driving across our nation in December, and a yearly total of 10,874 drunk driving deaths (average one person killed every 48 minutes).

There are no excuses to drinking and driving, plan ahead for safe travel!
You can help save lives. Don't drink and drive! Have a sober plan!

The History of Holiday Lights

Holiday celebrants employ holiday lights in various ways. Certain individuals may be content to hang lights on their Christmas trees and call their decorating complete. Others may get their holiday jollies by making sure each square inch of their home is covered in twinkling lights. Still, other people prefer the more subdued effect of lights framing one picture window of the house.

The tradition of Christmas lights stretches back to early modern Germany when people used candles to decorate Christmas trees in Christian homes. Those candles were harbingers of what would come when electric lights replaced gas and other open flame illuminating devices that were commonplace prior to the 20th century.

Thomas Edison, the inventor of the first successful practical light bulb, also created the first strand of electric lights that would be used in holiday decorating. By 1880, Edison had standard incandescent light bulbs well sorted out and desired a way to better advertise his invention, so he decided to make the most of the holiday season and put his light bulbs on display. According to a 2003 article in American Heritage magazine titled "The Wizard of Your Christmas Tree," Edison strung incandescent bulbs all around the compound of his Menlo Park, NJ, laboratory. Edison constructed an eight-mile underground wiring system in order to power this grand light display. Because the laboratory was situated along the railroad that passed between Manhattan and Philadelphia, thousands of people were able to see the display.

The concept of electric holiday lights took a bit of time to catch on. Edison's friend and associate Edward Johnson was tasked with stringing together colored lights in 1882 and placing them on an evergreen tree. Johnson hand-wired 80 red, white and blue light bulbs. In 1895, President Grover Cleveland requested the White House family Christmas tree be illuminated by multi-colored electric light bulbs. In 1903, when General Electric began to offer pre-assembled kits of holiday lights, stringed lights were reserved for the wealthy and electrically savvy. For example, in 1903 a single string of electric lights cost $12, or around $300 today.

It would take several more years before holiday lights became a national tradition. On Christmas Eve 1923, President Calvin Coolidge began the country's celebration of Christmas by lighting the National Christmas Tree on the Ellipse located south of the White House with 3,000 electric lights.

Today, illuminated strands of lights have become a large part of holiday celebrations and have even been adopted for use during various year-round events. Such lights can be a beautiful and festive addition to many celebrations. ■

Steps to Take Before an Appraiser's Visit

Homeowners unfamiliar with the appraisal process might not know if there is anything they can do to make the process go more smoothly. While certain variables involved in the appraisal process, such as location of the home and the value of surrounding homes, are beyond homeowners' control, the Appraisal Institute recommends homeowners take the following steps before an appraiser visits their home.

- Clean the house. A dirty home that is full of clutter will not make the best impression on appraisers. Dirty homes may be vulnerable to insect infestations that can lead to structural problems with the home. While a dirty home is not necessarily an indicator of infestations or a reflection of a home's value, a clean home will create a stronger first impression with the appraiser.

- Make any necessary repairs ahead of the appointment. Homeowners who have been putting off repairs should make them before the appraiser arrives. Homes with repairs that still need to be made will likely be valued less than similar homes with no such repair issues.

- Obtain all necessary documents before the appraiser arrives. Homeowners who have certain documentation at the ready can speed up the appraisal process. Such documentation may include a survey of the house and property; a deed or title report; a recent tax bill; if applicable, a list of items to be sold with the house; purchase history of the home; and the original plans and specifications of the home.

- Inform the appraiser about recent improvements. The value of home improvements with regard to a home's appraisal value vary depending on a host of variables, but having such information at the ready can help appraisers make the most informed appraisal possible. ■

Tips on how to write CLASSIFIED ADS that sell!

- 1 USE A KEY WORD. This immediately tells the reader exactly what you have to sell.
- 2 Make your description CLEAR AND FACTUAL. State the year, make, model, color & size and tell what condition the item is in. Also, state the special features.
- 3 STATE THE PRICE. Successful classified advertisers have learned that the price in an ad helps increase the chances for results.
- 4 IF THERE IS A GENUINE SENSE OF URGENCY, say so. The words "We're moving," or "Must sell fast," suggest that readers respond immediately.
- 5 INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER. Classifieds get results fast and often generate immediate sales. If you cannot be available to answer the phone at all times, be sure to specify special calling times such as "after 9pm" or "before 11am."

GARAGE SALES & AUCTIONS

Steps to a More Organized, Functional Garage

Organized garages that are free of clutter can serve as valuable work spaces for handy homeowners.

Organization can help homeowners transform their homes into less cramped, more spacious oases without forcing them to finance potentially expensive expansion projects.

Homeowners who park in their driveways may find that their garages have become crowded, cluttered spaces in which searching for tools can feel like scouring a haystack in search of a needle. Organizing a garage can create extra room in a home while affording homeowners the chance to protect their vehicles from the elements. Homeowners who want to turn their garages into something more than cluttered storage units can employ the following strategies to transform these largely overlooked areas into more valuable spaces.

- Choose the right day. Garages tend to be separate from the rest of the homes they're a part of, meaning the only way to organize a garage is to first remove all items from the garage and into the driveway. Because items removed from the garage will be exposed to the elements, homeowners should choose a day that's temperate and sunny to clean their garages. If possible, homeowners should opt to organize their garages in late spring, summer or early fall when there are additional hours of daylight. This protects homeowners from having to work in the dark should the job take longer than they initially anticipated.

- Discard or donate duplicate items. Duplicate items are some of the main culprits behind cluttered garages. As garages gradually become more cluttered, homeowners may buy tools they already have simply because they cannot find their original tools. When organizing the garage, create separate piles for duplicate tools, placing still-useful items in a pile that can be donated to neighbors, local charities or organizations and another pile for old tools that are no longer useful.

- Host a garage sale. Homeowners who want to organize their garages and make a buck at the same time can host garage sales. Make only those items that are still functional available for purchase, and let neighbors and bargain hunters do the bulk of your organization work for you.

- Designate areas of the garage for certain items. Once the items that won't be going back into the garage have been sold, donated or discarded, organize the garage by designating areas for certain items, making sure to separate items that can pose safety risks. For example, store kids' bicycles and outdoor toys in a corner of the garage that is opposite the corner where potentially dangerous items such as power tools and gas cans will be stored. Keep the center of the garage open for vehicles.

- Periodically park cars in the garage. Homeowners who are comfortable parking their vehicles in their driveways can improve their chances of maintaining organized garages over the long haul by periodically parking in the garage. Doing so not only prevents the gradual buildup of clutter that can slowly take over a garage, but also protects homeowners' automotive investments.

Maintaining an organized garage can help homeowners make more practical use of the space in their homes. ■

Did You Know?

Brief breaks during the work day can dramatically improve one's ability to focus on a task. A 2011 study published in the journal Cognition found that brief mental breaks can improve focus on a prolonged task. The study's authors tested participants' ability to focus on a repetitive computerized task for 50 minutes under various conditions. The control group performed the task without breaks or diversions. The switch group and non-switch group memorized four digits before performing the task and were directed to respond if they saw one of the digits on the screen while performing the task. The switch group was the only group to be presented with the digits twice during the experiment, and both groups were tested on their memory of the digits at the end of the task. Most participants' performance declined considerably over the course of the 50-minute task. However, the performance of those in the switch group did not decline at all, as the two brief breaks to respond to the digits allowed them to maintain their focus throughout the experiment. The researchers behind the study concluded that the switch group's performance was steady because the brain is built to detect and respond to change, and its performance will actually suffer if it must maintain prolonged attention on a single task without taking a break. Professionals with a lot on their plates may see their performance improve by taking frequent mental breaks throughout the workday. ■

LOSE THE RIFLE FOR DEER HUNTING IN ORLEANS?

By Douglas H. Domedion

Will we be able to use rifles in Orleans County for deer hunting next year?

The Orleans Federation of Sportsman's Clubs worked hard to get us the right to use a rifle for deer hunting in Orleans County. Two seasons have been with the legal use of a rifle and there have been no problems as some thought there would be. The rifle has been a legal firearm for fox and coyote for a long time and there haven't been any problems.

I have had extensive experience with both shotgun slugs and rifles my whole life and I never could understand why a shotgun with slugs was the only choice for us all these years. I guess it was because our lawmakers didn't understand bullets, ballistic, trajectory, and ricocheting.

A shotgun slug is a large, heavy and slow bullet while the rifle bullet is much smaller, lighter and faster. A large, heavy and slow bullet is very much prone to ricochets where as the rifle bullet has a tendency to deform and expand it's energy when it hits something and thus doesn't ricochet as bad as the shotgun slug. The heavy slug makes for a poor trajectory which makes it a good candidate for wounding shots at longer distances; just the opposite of a rifle bullet.

I think many used to think that because a rifle bullet is much faster and lighter, it would travel long distances and hit someone or something on the other side of the county. Well, deer are pretty low to the ground and so the bullet is flying pretty level and will eventually hit the ground. The rifle bullet with it's lighter weight and faster speed doesn't usually ricochet when it hits something. The bullet usually gets badly deformed and it's velocity drops quickly. When a shotgun slug hits the ground or a branch its heavy weight and slow speed tends to make it ricochet or "skid" and the slug is off in another direction with not much lost of speed. Thus, a big slug can actually be airborne again and again traveling a long distance. And even though the rifle bullets are capable of traveling a farther distance means nothing as hunters are not shooting at a steep angle upwards.

So we have had the benefit of using rifles for safer deer hunting in Orleans County for two years now with no problems However, the ruling was a temporary one and now it needs to be made permanent. On Dec. 19. around 4:30 p.m., there will be a legislation meeting in Albion on the second floor of the County Courthouse to decide if the rifle bill should be made permanent. It is very important if you enjoy this privilege of using a rifle for your deer hunting to show up for this meeting and express your feelings or at least inform you representative. Don't count on others to do it. Did you vote for Cuomo? Many did not and many didn't even vote, so there you go!

Another proposal I would like to make is about our public shooting ranges on the Tonawanda Wildlife Management Area. Many use these ranges just to target practice and many are not hunters which is fine. At present, these ranges are open to the public from noon to sunset and there is no supervision. As a result, many individuals with no gun safety training are using the ranges and many in a very unsafe way. Signs, both highway and DEC, are also being shot up in such a way as to make driving on the Owen-Bartel Road a hazard for driver. I have seen some really dangerous gun handling at these ranges and a trip down this road will show you how out of hand these ranges are. I think it should be mandatory for all personnel using those ranges to have Hunter Safety Certificates.

The DEC personnel have to police the area every week (truck loads) to remove all the crap the irresponsible shooters haul in for targets and then leave there. If people using these ranges were required to have a Hunter Safety Certificate it would make it a much safer environment for everyone and possibly instill some responsibility in keeping the ranges cleaned up. For those of you who don't use the ranges, you may not think this is your problem, but it is. You see non-hunters drive down the Owen-Bartel Road and see these reckless shooting and the trash and automatically associate it with hunters. In today's public eye that is the last thing we need. Maybe if a enough folks contact their representatives on this subject matter we can improve on it or possibly prevent an accident.

My contact information is 585-798-4022 or woodduck2020@yahoo.com.

Stream & Lake Map of New York

The STREAM & LAKE MAP OF NEW YORK resembles another map--known to Pennsylvania anglers as the "Lost Stream Map."

It was completed in 1965 after a 30 year effort by Howard Higbee, a former Penn State Professor.

Professor Higbee painstakingly plotted by hand, the location of 45,000 miles of streams onto the map. It sold extremely well - until the printer declared bankruptcy and hauled Higbee's work to the landfill.

But reprints were impossible because the maps were printed in non-photographic blue. Higbee was even offered $400 for one of his last maps. And state agencies were forced to keep their copies under lock and key.

Then, at the age of 91, Howard Higbee's dream came true. Computers made it possible to reprint the map.

Then the STREAM & LAKE MAP OF NEW YORK was created.

Why every angler and boater needs this map

Professor Higbee's® Stream & Lake Map of New York is the first and only highly detailed map of its kind. The 3.5-foot-by-4.5-foot New York map shows 65,000 miles of streams plus lakes.

RAVE REVIEWS

"It is in showing where to find out-of-the-way trout streams that makes the map such a treasure to the fisherman."
—Joe Gordon, TRIBUNE-DEMOCRAT, Johnstown, PA

"I have one of the original Higbee's Stream Map of Pennsylvania on my wall behind my desk. It's the best thing available as far as streams are concerned. I use it all the time for reference. I don't know of anything more extensive and it is the most accurate map out there as far as streams are concerned."
—Dave Wolf, PA Fish and Boat Commission

A Sweet Treat for Chilly Mornings

'Tis the season for frost and snow, which means coming downstairs in the morning to a chilly home. Muffins are a go-to choice for a quick bite, and homemade muffins served right out of the oven can be just what's needed on blustery days.

This recipe for "Triple Chocolate Muffins" from "Chocolate" (Parragon Book Service), by the editors of the Love Food series, imparts rich, chocolately flavor into every bite of these mouthwatering muffins. They're equal parts breakfast and dessert.

Triple Chocolate Muffins

Makes 12

- 1 3/4 cups all-purpose flour
- 1/3 cup unsweetened cocoa powder
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 cup semisweet chocolate chips
- 1/2 cup white chocolate chips
- 2 large eggs beaten
- 1 1/4 cup sour cream
- 6 tablespoons packed brown sugar
- 6 tablespoons unsalted butter, melted

Preheat the oven to 400 F.

Line a 12-cup muffin pan with paper liners. Sift the flour, cocoa, baking powder, and baking soda into a large bowl. Add the semisweet and white chocolate chips, and stir.

Place the eggs, sour cream, sugar, and melted butter in a separate mixing bowl, and mix well. Add the wet ingredients to the dry ingredients, and stir gently until just combined.

Using two spoons, divide the batter evenly among the paper liners. Then bake in the preheated oven for 20 minutes, or until well risen and firm to the touch. Remove from the oven and serve warm, or place on a cooling rack and let cool. ■
