Speeding Ticket

A lady who was speeding had an officer pull her to the side of the road. She didn't have her seat belt on so as soon as she stopped, she quickly slipped it on before the officer got to her window.

After talking to her about speeding, the officer said, "I see you are wearing your seat belt. Do you believe in wearing it at all times?"

"Yes, I do, officer," she replied.

"Well," asked the officer, "do you always do it up with it looped through your steering wheel?"

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You might be busier than you had expected right now. But between the socializing rounds and the workplace tasks, there are opportunities for special moments with that certain someone.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Your creative approach leads to a quicker-than-expected solution to a workplace problem. Now you can devote more time to that proposal you hope to introduce by midmonth.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Technological glitches create problems early on. But by midweek, all runs smoothly once again, and you're well and truly on your way to meeting all your deadlines.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Your energy levels are high, and you feel you can handle everything that comes along. But try to take a break from your hectic pace for some quiet time with someone close to you.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Before you pounce on that shiny new opportunity, take more time to check it out to see how much substance actually lies beneath all that glitter. A family member has important news.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A personal situation you thought was resolved resurfaces, thanks to a possibly well-intentioned move that went awry. Deal with it as soon as possible. Accept the help of a trusted friend.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) That goal you set way back when is finally in sight. Maintain your focus on achieving it, and don't allow yourself to be distracted by unimportant demands for your attention.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) A temperamental flare-up creates negative feelings that need to be dealt with immediately. But things once again go well after the apologies are made and hurt feelings are soothed.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) An early impulsive act causes confusion. But all is smoothed over once explanations are made. Expect a friend or family member to ask for your kind and always wise advice.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You might have to do some juggling of your priorities, as a personal matter appears to require more time and attention. Put your pride aside and accept help from those who offer it.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Your creative aspect is strong. Not only does it help you accomplish your goals, but it also inspires others. This could lead to a potentially rewarding collaboration opportunity.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Be careful about making major decisions when you're not really committed to them. And resist any pressure to do otherwise. Better to delay action until all doubts are resolved.

BORN THIS WEEK: You set goals and are rarely distracted by any attempt to move you off the path you've chosen to reach them.

PIEDMONT PETS

December 20, 2018
By Paulette Dean

It is humbling to work for an animal shelter during the holiday season. The Christmas/Hanukkah season is the time of year when individuals, families, and churches reach ever deeper into their hearts and wallets to spread joy. Thank you! We appreciate the extra food that comes to us during this time. We love seeing the look of joy on the faces of those who know that their gifts become the gift of love for the animals with whom we share the earth.

In this day when anyone with money can buy a myriad of dog collars, cat beds, toys of all size and description, premium food, the list goes on, I wonder what the companion animals' letters to Santa Claus would look like.

I believe that their list of wants would be basic. Animals want to eat food that they can thrive on. This is different for every species. They want the appropriate amount of water. They want to be warm in the winter and cool in the summer. They want a comfortable bed and the chance to lie without fear.

They want gentle hands to take care of them and kind words spoken to them. One really neat thing about animals is that they do not care about the things that consume so much of a human's time and attention.

Animals want the gift of time from humans. No matter if they share a small apartment or a mansion with their humans, they want to be in the same room with their beloved human companion.

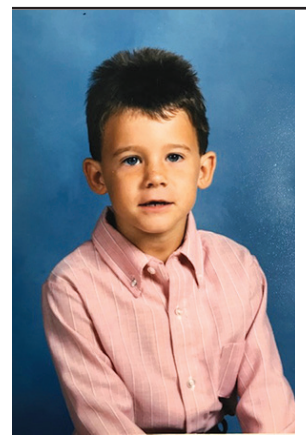

Perhaps if we looked at our wants through the eyes of animals, our letters to Santa would be quite different.

We wish for every creature a happier, kinder New Year in 2019.

Forget Kissing, Try These Quirky New Year's Customs
By Lucie Winborne

As we all know, New Year's isn't just about party hats, champagne, a kiss at midnight and watching a sparkly ball drop in Times Square — it heralds a season of new beginnings. And around the world, folks who want to get things off to a great start have been known to put some interesting practices to work for them. How many of these have you heard of — or tried yourself?

Before You Pack That Travel Bag ...

In many Latin American countries, New Year's merrymakers place an empty suitcase by their front door, drag it in circles around a room or even tote it around the block. Why? In the hopes it will summon adventure and travel!

Don't Forget The Beano

Feeling uneasy about the current economic climate? You might consider emulating the good folks of Argentina by eating beans just before the clock strikes 12:00 on Dec. 31 ... to ensure job security throughout the coming year.

Or Perhaps You'd Prefer Peas

Down south, you'll often find families feasting on a New Year's Day supper of collard greens, pork and black-eyed peas. The latter is credited with bringing good luck, though it's unclear why. One version traces it to the Civil War, when Union soldiers stole all the enemy's food supplies with the exception of black-eyed peas, rendering them "lucky"!

Who Needs A Dating Service?

Ladies, if you want your man to put a ring on it in 2019, take a tip from single gals in Belarus, who sit in a circle with individual piles of corn in front of them. A rooster is then set down in the middle of the circle, and the woman whose corn it chooses first will also be the first of the group to wed.

Break A Dish, Save It 'Til January

Now chances are good that when you break a dish, you just chuck the remnants into the trash, right? Not so fast! In Denmark the shards are saved till New Year's Eve, then tossed at the homes of friends and family for good luck. If your aim's not so hot, you can opt to leave them on the doorstep.

Here's One Way To Lose That Ugly Old Sofa

And speaking of tossing ... residents of Johannesburg, South Africa's Hillbrow neighborhood ring in the New Year by throwing their old furniture out the window or off a balcony! A word of caution, however: Unsurprisingly, injuries and police visits have been known to result.

Local Family Finds 'Joy in Difficult Times,' Mother Authors Book about Son

by DCC Student Tara Morris:

Steven Emerson, a young man from Danville with Down syndrome, passed away at the age of 53 on September 3, but his mother, Nancy Emerson, decided that her son's legacy would live on.

When Nancy found out her son had come down with Alzheimer's, she started keeping a journal about him and everything he accomplished. She documented things such as how he loved to run with his father, Louis Emerson, play basketball, his love for Christmas music, and even daily activities.

Steven Emerson was loved by so many people. He spent the majority of his time with family and friends and enjoyed attending church. When he was 18, he attended a program in Philadelphia seven days a week, for two and a half years, where he earned certificates in reading, math, general knowledge, and running. Steven has also participated in the Special Olympics. This shows how driven he was to accomplish things.

In his last five years on Earth, Steven required day support, which is an in-home service. This required him to stay at home and not go out as much as he normally would. Nancy and Louis cared for his every need. They fed him and helped him do things that he wasn't able to do for himself. Multiple other family members would come over and help as well. This family was very tight-knit and loved spending their time together and enjoying one another's company.

Nancy and Louis didn't let Down syndrome keep Steven from living his best life. Although he had this disability, they traveled to different places with him and showed him the world and all it had to offer. "He loved his life," stated Nancy. He enjoyed attending church and enjoyed the company of other people. Steven was surrounded by people who loved him at all times.

Writing this journal made Nancy realize that she wanted to share Steven's journey with others and wrote a book called "Joy in Difficult Times."

"I was putting my thoughts into words," she said.

She realized she couldn't do this all on her own, so Danville Community College (DCC) was where she turned to next.

Nancy signed up for DCC Instructor Ted Maier's creative writing class in September of 2015 in hopes of getting help with writing her book.

"It was such a great opportunity to learn and achieve my goals. Ted Maier, my professor, was very encouraging," Nancy explained.

This class was very enjoyable for Nancy, not only because she was able to learn from the class, but she was also able to open up to her professor about what her son was going through. Nancy was able to learn skills and techniques in his class that helped her through the book writing process. She said she is very thankful for the opportunity to be able to attend DCC and the knowledge she gained from doing so.

Her book was published in September of 2018 and can be purchased in Danville, Virginia, at Karen's Hallmark.

"It's not that I'm promoting a book to make money; I want to encourage people," Nancy said.

The purpose of her book is to walk others through Steven's journey and help others know that whatever they are going through, that they can conquer it.

"People with special needs can achieve and make a difference, and we can make a difference, too," Nancy explained, adding that she hopes her book will increase awareness of this fact.

The Emerson family is a very caring one. Nancy wrote her book to share with others that life shouldn't be taken for granted.

She said to live and love as if it were your last day, and you can get through anything. She wants people to know that if they are going through something, they are not alone.

"It is okay to laugh, and it is okay to cry, just know that you are strong and can conquer anything," Nancy said.

Nancy and her family are very giving and she hopes to inspire people to give back to the community and help others.

Steven's parents now take prayer requests from people, write them on sticky notes, and place them on the wall of his room. From speaking to Nancy, it was obvious that Steven was her and her husband's world. Their son may have had Down syndrome, but to his parents he was a normal person. As a family, they did everything together.

"He was very special to us," Nancy said.

The Emerson family has encountered many obstacles, but they fought through it all, together.

Nancy Emerson, right, sits with her husband, Louis, and shows the cover of the book she wrote for their son, Steven, who died earlier this year after a lifetime with Down syndrome and, in later years, Alzheimer's. Emerson's book, "Joy in Difficult Times," is available for purchase at Karen's Hallmark in Danville Mall.

Gym, Jr trip to the Casville lights

On Saturday evening, December 15, the kids of Gym, Jr went on a trip to the Casville lights. It was the first time seeing the lights for most of them and they were awed and amused. Lead by Mary Carpenter, Alex Kaspar, and John Chow, the kids were taken by van from the Providence gym to Casville and responded with vocal "wows" when the lights came into view. Mary Carpenter said, "I've been wanting to take the kids there for several years now. I'm glad we were able to do it finally. It was a positive experience for everyone." Gym, Jr is the children's program of Covenant Reformed Baptist Church in Providence (immediately south of Danville).

Great Expectations Program Gives Back

Great Expectations SouthPark Cohort (DCC, PHCC, SCC and CVCC) kicked-off the holidays with their 2nd annual GE Gives Back on Friday, 11/30. Through the generosity of several DCC and PHCC colleagues as well as various community donors, over 20 attendees filled 60 bags for DSS offices throughout Southside, VA for children who will enter foster care over the next year! Each Great Expectations draw-string bag has an age-appropriate toy along with a toothbrush, toothpaste, coloring book or journal, crayons, pencils, stuffed animal, etc and is awaiting a preschooler, youth or teen in need of some new things of their very own. The majority of our GE students experienced foster care entry so this event provides a meaningful way for them to support children facing that trial. Our GE SouthPark Cohort greatly values your continuous support for this VCCS initiative as well as for our local event so GE Gives Back can make a difference for a foster child of any age.

Roger Lee Rigney, superintendent for Piedmont Acoustic & Const., and life-long resident of Pittsylvania County, VA, died unexpectedly on December 17, 2018 at the age of 65.

Roger is survived by his sisters, Margaret Rigney, Linda Echols, and Angela Rigney, and one brother, Thomas D. Rigney. Roger is predeceased by his parents John Herman Rigney, and Beulah Light Rigney; sister Carolyn Rigney Gammon; and brothers Johnny R. Rigney, and Timothy E. Rigney.

Roger was born in Danville on March 30th 1953. He graduated from Tunstall High School in 1970. Roger was a veteran of the U.S. Air Force and served his country from 1972-1976.

Roger was a devoted brother, and great person to know. He was a hard worker his entire life, and was a movie buff in his spare time. He loved coffee, Camel cigarettes, and a good tall cold one.

He was raised in and was a member of Brosville United Methodist Church. He will be deeply missed by his friends, family, and all who knew him.

A memorial service is scheduled for 8:00 p.m. on December 20, 2018 at Barker Funeral Home in Danville with visitation one hour prior to the service. Pastor Gary Pierson of Lighthouse Church will officiate.

In lieu of flowers the family requests donations be made to Barker Funeral Home, 2025 N Main St, Danville, VA 24540.
