Home remedies for joint pain can provide relief

Stiff, painful joints affect a vast number of people. According to the American College of Rheumatology, arthritis and other rheumatic diseases afflict roughly 23 percent of Americans, while Canadian Health Surveys indicate that nearly 17 percent of the Canadian adult population have arthritis. The number of people living with arthritis is expected to increase as the Baby Boomer generation continues to age.

Treatments for joint pain and stiffness range from medication to physical therapy. Finding the right regimen may take some effort, including some trial and error. For those looking for treatments they can try at home, consider these homespun remedies. (Note: Check with a physician to confirm the safety of alternative treatments before adding herbs to or modifying your existing medications.)

- Exercise more. Regular movement helps to maintain flexibility in the body's joints. Those with joint pain may shy away from exercise, but they could be doing themselves a disservice. Low-impact exercises, like swimming and water aerobics, can work out muscles and joints without adding extra stress. Walking can replace jogging or running, and yoga and pilates may be just the thing for deep stretching.

- Lose weight. Joint pain is often tied to obesity. Losing just a few pounds can ease up strain on certain joints, such as the hips, feet and knees. Shedding weight can improve mobility and decrease pain and potential future damage to joints. Exercise goes hand-in-hand with healthy eating to lose weight.

- Consider hot and cold therapies. Using a heating pad, hot shower or bath or an ice pack can work wonders on arthritis-related pains. Hot treatments will loosen up stiff joints, while cold therapy is best for acute pain relief. Do not apply hot and cold packs to the skin directly, as this can injure the skin. Wrap them in a towel first before application.

- Include anti-inflammatory foods and beverages in your diet. Explore the many different natural foods and herbs that are purported to reduce inflammation in the body. Ginger, turmeric, flaxseed, grape juice, and bromelain can alleviate inflammation and stiffness. Foods such as fatty fish and nuts high in omega-3 fatty acids also will help fight inflammation. Blueberries, garlic, celery, and kelp should be included in diets as well.

- Go for a massage. The Arthritis Foundation says regular massages can help reduce pain and stiffness and improve range of motion. The massage therapist should have experience working on people with arthritis. In addition, massages should be performed by licensed massage therapists.

- Massage Therapists are licensed healthcare professionals who have an understanding of Anatomy and Physiology, basic knowledge of mechanics and fundamentals of disease. Massage Therapists are also taught when massage is indicated or contraindicated for an individual with specific diseases or illnesses. Massage Therapists can care for your needs without a prescription or referral.

- Increase magnesium intake. Magnesium can alleviate pain and reduce inflammation. It is best ingested through dark, leafy greens but also can be taken in supplement form. Magnesium oil can be applied topically to sore joint areas.

Joint pain can impact daily life and make activities less enjoyable. Fortunately, there are plenty of ways that do not require harsh medications to loosen joints and combat pain.

Red Type: Clarification to the Living 50+ Magazine published on August 5, 2015 and additional information on massage therapy.

Hope Sartain
 Sales Representative

"Eight years ago I started a life changing career that allows me the freedom to create my own schedule, provides professional and personal growth and is now furthering my education in marketing. My job gives me the opportunity to work with small business owners to create an effective and affordable advertising campaign customized for each business. Exchange Media Group encourages community involvement and supports my roles in the Highland Rim Kiwanis Club and the Tullahoma Area Chamber of Commerce, which are two groups I am very passionate to serve."

Mary Ann Marsh
 Sales Representative

"Bill Thomas, founder of the Exchange, brought me on board 25 years ago. We had 1 edition at that time and now have grown to 6 editions. Our weekly Exchange reaches over 83,000 homes and thousands of people visit our website. I love seeing my customers connect to their customers and watching their businesses grow. Many of my customers over the years have become very good friends, which has been rewarding. I have been a member of the Fayetteville Kiwanis Club for 24 years and have loved working and helping serve children in our community. I feel very fortunate to have been a member of Team Exchange Media Group for so many years."
