by police leadership on the radio, spoke of how terrible arbitration is. In Feb. 2019, the MN Supreme Court reversed a court of appeals decision that overturned an arbitration report. In the analysis, the court stated: Generally, arbitrators serve as the "final judge of both law and fact, including the interpretation of the terms of any contract".

The court's decision reinforces the validity and importance of binding arbitration. BMS Case No 17-PA-0260 (read at www.NewsHopper.net) found the police leadership lied, distorted the truth, altered documents, conducted biased, prejudiced investigations and interviewed their own officers

The police leadership stated it is difficult to drive bad cops out of the business. That is true. Letters to the editor exposing them takes time — effort that is well spent.

Crosby is lucky, the officers in the PD are professional, credible, and have earned respect, despite the leadership dragging them into their fight looking for empathy for their egregious acts.

Three failed attempts to prosecute a private citizen brings their level of expertise to the Keystone Cop average, as it keeps people laughing. The tragedy, they have cost the citizen thousands of dollars to defend himself, the officer has

I agree with the police leadership, bad cops need to be terminated, the city council and Mayor terminated the wrong ones.

Best of luck to both in the private sector, enjoy your new career as mall cops. Mall of America, West Gate Mall, Ridgedale Mall could use the leaderships expertise for loss prevention. They would succeed as Mall Cops.

It should be noted that the losing council in the MN Supreme Court reversed decision is Crosby's current labor attorney.

Female Brainerd graduates accomplishments highlighted for history month

By ANN SCHWARTZ The hallway of Brainerd High School swarmed with people March 4 at the opening event for the Legendary Women of Brainerd Public Schools.

March 9, 2019

An exhibit by the same name, located in the showcase in the media center in Brainerd High School's northwest corner, features 20 women from various graduating classes. Although from different walks of life, and with varying interests and vocations, this exhibit is meant to inspire.

Lisa Salo, retired from the Brainerd School District.

"We want this to inspire and empower all of us," noted Lisa Salo, chair of the organizing committee, who gave opening remarks. "We especially want to inspire little girls and young women. This is the first of many exhibits and we want to continue this journey to highlight Brainerd graduates of varied interests and walks of life."

This year, 20 women are featured in the inaugural exhibit, which coincides with National Women's History Month. The women include: Shelly Boyum-Breen (BHS 1992); Stephanie White (BHS 2004); Michelle Kraklau Andres (BHS 1995); Erin Twamley (BHS 2005); Lissa Waller Carlino (BHS 1998); Jessica Kramer Ryan (BHS 1990); Yen Chu (BHS 1989); Tiffany Templeton (BHS 2002); Jama Davidson (BHS 1982); Kaylo Brooks Gustafson (BHS 1993); Jeanne McDowell Larson (BHS 1966); Hailey Hinrichs (BHS 2015); Sharon Schockley Kramer (BHS 1961); Quinn Nystrom (BHS 2004); Gail Dailey Helmer (BHS 1978); Jennifer Erickson (BHS 1997); Peggy Kriha Dye (BHS 1987); Meg Knutson (BHS 2002); Alena Grabowski (BHS 1991) and Kate Engelbrecht (BHS 1994).

Legendary Women of Brainerd Public Schools tells the individual stories of 20 incomparable, extraordinary Brainerd Public Schools women graduates from diverse class years and life experiences, both within the schools system and after graduation from BHS," according to organizers.

One women's story

Graduating in 1978, Gail Dailey Helmer was the first generation of young women who grew up under the Title

Gail Dailey Helmer was an oustanding high school athlete in the 1970s.

IX act, which opened the door for girls' high school sports.

Following her non-traditional path, Gail now works as a plumber and medical gas fitter. She was the first female pipefitter at the former Potlach Paper Mill in Brainerd.

She is married to Brian Helmer, retired, BHS class of 1972. Together, they have raised eight children and have 17 grandchildren.

Gail played four sports in high school (volleyball, basketball, track and softball) and later played basketball at St. Cloud State University and Brainerd Community College, where they were state champions.

She went on to spend a year in Sweden as a foreign exchange student and then got trained and was the first woman pipefitter at the former paper mill in Brainerd.

When the mill closed she joined the local union and went back to school in Michigan to become a plumber. She also took training in medical gas fittings.

She works for RJ Mechanical now, out of Mora, and travels around the area and Twin Cities for various projects. "I've been lucky for the last year or so because there has been work in the Brainerd area - at the Brainerd and Crosby hospitals and the Crow Wing County Museum."

When not working, Gail is a self-proclaimed "junk collector." She loves to preserve items from the past and attends all sorts of sales and actions, looking for items to salvage that can be used in gardens. She holds a big sale each year and spends all the proceeds from her sale over the very special competenthe following year - acquiring more junk.

She believes that Carol Miller, her college basketball coach, Joey Halverson of Brainerd and John Erickson, exhibit archivist and curator, had a hand in her nomination.

About the exhibit

Each woman in the exhibit will have a special collection in her name in Brainerd Public Schools Archives. That collection will include artifacts and an expanded biography #### of each woman.

The exhibit opening was intentionally staged during National Women's History Month, itself a celebration of women's accomplishments in the life of America, and is intended clearly to demonstrate cies of these women from all walks of life and of all ages. These women provide role models to male and female Brainerd students.

The exhibit may be viewed during school hours, but during school hours visitors should enter BHS through the main entrance on South Fifth Street and are required to report in at the front desk. The exhibit will continue throughout this 2019 school year and into the summer if remodeling projects allow it.

If you wish to recommend a woman graduate of Brainerd for consideration in subsequent years, please contact Archivist /Curator John Erickson at 218. 330. 1780 or via email at bps.history@ isd181.org.

The Brainerd Public Schools Archives collection of artifacts reflects the history of Brainerd Public Schools, its students, graduates and past and present educators and staff.

Do you have items relating to BPS which might help tell the story of BPS, its students and teachers? Do you want to preserve and protect those items? If so, then please consider making a gift to BPS Archives.

askdrsmith.com featuring Dr. Murray Smith Dealing with detox

So, the plan was to jump into the different ways to detox your body and begin this path to health. But... you could experience some turbulence you may want to know about BEFORE you begin.

NewsHopper™

Often times, clearing the toxins that have been making us sick and/or taking us away from being in our best state of health, can make us temporarily feel withdrawal symptoms or flu-like symptoms.

Very commonly, toward the beginning of your detoxifying program, you could experience an array of symptoms. Don't fret! This often happen as our body is taken away from things that are addictive like caffeine, alcohol, or nicotine. This can even occur when foods we have an allergy or sensitivity to are taken away. All in all, this shouldn't be a worry as it can be a sign we're dumping toxins and moving away from things that are making us sick.

Here's a brief list of the signs and symptoms you may get:

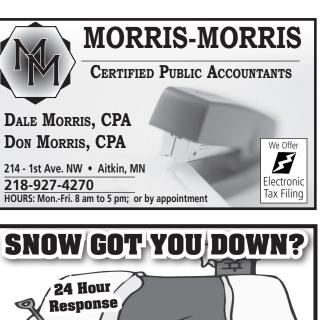

- Nausea
- Headaches
- Fatigue

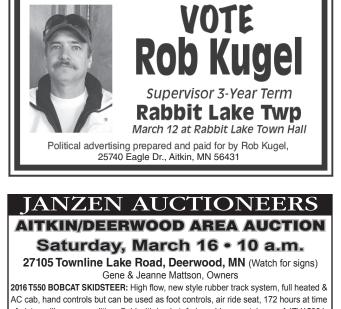

• Sleep issues (too much or too little)

• Irritability

Dr. Murray Smith is the co-founder of SHIFT Integrative Medicine serving the Cuyuna Lakes and Brainerd Lakes areas of central Minnesota for over 25 years.

For more information, log on to www.askdrsmith.com or call 218-851-9626.

• Achiness and flu-like symptoms

- Offensive body odor
- Bad breath
- Constipation
  - Itchy skin

These can last for several days. But stay strong, these will improve!

Sometimes things such as caffeine, alcohol and sugars may require us to slowly reduce our intake prior to and during the program.

Other things can help as well. Drinking filtered water, 6-8 glasses, can help with being adequately hydrated during the process. It's also a good idea to stay away from plastics such as plastic water bottles of Styrofoam coffee cups and lids. Getting plenty of rest and sleep can also help. If you have access to a sauna, this can help greatly. Certain nutrients such as vitamin C can help dampen symptoms.

Next week, we'll show a variety of ways to detoxify.
