New Speed Limit

The speed limit on the highway running through our small town was changed from 40 to 35 MPH.

Then one afternoon the town mayor was stopped in the coffee shop by a police officer. "Can I speak to you a moment?" he said.

"Sure," the mayor replied. "What can I help you with?"

"We're advising people that the speed limit has been lowered on the highway through town, and we'd appreciate your co-operation."

"No problem," said the mayor. "Do you want me to bring this up at the next council meeting?"

"No," replied the police officer. "We want you to slow down."

A cowboy named Bud was overseeing his herd in a remote mountainous pasture in California when suddenly a brand-new BMW advanced toward him out of a cloud of dust.

The driver, a young man in a Brioni suit, Gucci shoes, RayBan sunglasses and YSL tie, leaned out the window and asked the cowboy, "If I tell you exactly how many cows and calves you have in your herd, Will you give me a call?"

Bud looks at the man, obviously a yuppie, then looks at his peacefully grazing herd and calmly answers, "Sure, Why not?"

The yuppie parks his car, whips out his Dell notebook computer, connects it to his Cingular RAZR V3 cell phone, and surfs to a NASA page on the Internet, where he calls up a GPS satellite to get an exact fix on his location which he then feeds to another NASA satellite that scans the area in an ultra-high-resolution photo.

The young man then opens the digital photo in Adobe Photoshop and exports it to an image processing facility in Hamburg, Germany.

Within seconds, he receives an email on his Palm Pilot that the image has been processed and the data stored. He then accesses an MS-SQL database through an ODBC connected Excel spreadsheet with email on his Blackberry and, after a few minutes, receives a response..

Finally, he prints out a full-color, 150-page report on his hi-tech, miniaturized HP LaserJet printer, turns to the cowboy and says, "You have exactly 1,586 cows and calves."

"That's right. Well, I guess you can take one of my calves," says Bud.

He watches the young man select one of the animals and looks on with amusement as the young man stuffs it into the trunk of his car.

Then Bud says to the young man, "Hey, if I can tell you exactly what your business is, will you give me back my call?"

The young man thinks about it for a second and then says, "Okay, why not?"

"You're a Congressman for the U.S. Government", says Bud.

"Wow! That's correct," says the yuppie, "but how did you guess that?"

"No guessing required." answered the cowboy. "You showed up here even though nobody called you; you want to get paid for an answer I already knew, to a question I never asked. You used millions of dollars worth of equipment trying to show me how much smarter than me you are; and you don't know a thing about how working people make a living - or about cows, for that matter. This is a herd of sheep. ....

Now give me back my dog.

The Wonderful Husband....

Several men are in the locker room of a golf club. A mobile phone on a bench rings and a man engages the free speaker function and begins to talk. Everyone else in the room stops to listen.

MAN: 'Hello'
WOMAN: 'Honey, it's me... Ru at the club?'

MAN: 'Yes'
WOMAN: 'I'm at the City Centre mall now and found this beautiful leather coat. It's only $1,000 Is it OK if I buy it?'

MAN: 'Sure, go ahead if you really like it.'
WOMAN: 'I also stopped by the Mercedes dealership and saw the new 2019 Models. I saw one I really liked.'

MAN: 'How much?'
WOMAN: '$98,000'
MAN: 'OK, but for that price make sure it comes with all the options.'

WOMAN: 'Great! Oh, and one more thing, the house I wanted last year is back on the market. They're asking for $980,000.'

MAN: 'well, then go ahead and make an offer of $900,000. They will probably take it. If not, go the extra 50 thousand if you think it's really a pretty good price.'

WOMAN: 'OK. I'll see you later! I love you so much! You're so generous!' MAN: "You're worth it. 'Bye!'

The man hangs up. The other men in the locker room are staring at him in astonishment, with mouths wide open. The man turns and asks "Anybody knows whose phone this is?"

PIEDMONT PETS

March 14, 2019
By Paulette Dean

The end of cold weather means wild animal baby season is starting! The local wildlife center, the Southside Virginia Wildlife Center in 2018 received 216 baby opossums, 141 baby rabbits, 43 baby deer, 94 baby squirrels, 66 baby raccoons, 9 baby red foxes, 5 baby gray foxes, and about 320 baby songbirds. And that wasn't all the animals they received!

It is easy to believe that wild babies that are found are in need of human intervention, but that is not always true. Before making a decision to pick up the baby, there are steps to follow. As Tanya Lovern, the local licensed rehabilitator says, "A rehabber cannot care for a wild baby better than its own mom can."

The Center's Facebook page gives the following useful information: If you find a wild baby that looks healthy, hydrated and not injured, it's possible they were blown out of their nest by the wind or their tree has been damaged, etc. You should put the babies in a box or basket next to the tree you believe the baby fell from. IT DOES NOT MATTER IF YOU TOUCH WILD BABIES-their moms still want them!!! Wait for a few hours to see if mom comes back for her babies and if not, and you don't see a mom looking around for them, you should contact your nearest wildlife rehabber for direction on what to do next.

If the baby is wrinkly and dehydrated, injured, covered in bugs, looks pale, or the baby runs directly up to you, then you need to contain the baby in a towel lined box and contact your nearest wildlife rehabber ASAP.

If you have any questions, take a picture of the baby and contact the Southside Virginia Wildlife Center at (434) 334-8968.

Please consider making a donation to the Formula Fund. Last year, the Center spent over $9,000 on formula! Visit their Facebook page for instructions about how to donate.

Irish Leprechaun Nodder

Bobble heads are popular today as sports collectibles. Most baseball teams offer souvenir bobble-head dolls at some of the games during the season, but today's dolls are made of slick plastic and usually are wearing fabric uniforms. Early toy bobble heads were made of painted paper-mache. The head bobs up and down because it is attached to a long-weighted neck that's suspended in the neck's hole. It is balanced on a narrow metal rod that swings back and forth, making the head move.

was made in Germany of a composition material; his glass eye is winking. He's a charming fellow, but St. Patrick's Day collectibles are not as popular as those for Halloween or Christmas, and there were fewer bids. The buyer paid only $59.

Q. Is it true that furniture from the U.S. House of Representatives is sometimes sold at auction? Who owns the chair used by each elected official?

A. For many years, there were few rules about the furniture that belonged to the government in the Congressional buildings, the White House or other Federal buildings. It is said that President Lincoln's wife sold some of the furnishings because she needed money to live on, as there was no pension for the wife of a president. Now there are pages of instructions about buying and selling official furnishings. Most pieces have to be paid for by the elected official according to a written schedule.

We have seen several Victorian chairs from the House of Representatives sold. They were made in 1857 by a famous New York firm, Bembe & Kimbel. They featured three stars carved on the chair crest, and carved oak branches representing longevity and laurel for victory on the arms and legs. In 2008, a chair sold for about $19,000.

There are many collectors of Christmas and Halloween items, but few celebrate St Patrick's Day with a collection of figures. This smiling leprechaun nods his head as he learns that he was bought for $59 at a Bertoia auction in New Jersey.

The idea came from 18th-century porcelain figurines that had moving heads and hands. The major German porcelain factories made complicated nodders. One was a group of four women drinking tea while their heads and hands moved. Another was a 20th-century figure of a woman seated in front of a typewriter. Her hands moved up and down as she typed.

This bobble-head figure in a lime-green suit and hat is a 5-inch-tall, smiling Irish Leprechaun nodder. It

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You'll want to discourage well-meaning but potentially ill-advised interference in what you intend to accomplish. Your work has a better chance to succeed if it reflects you.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) The Bovine's well-deserved reputation for loyalty could be tested if you learn that it might be misplaced. But don't rely on rumors. Check the stories out before you decided to act.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You've been going on adrenaline for a long time, and this unexpected lull in a recent spate of excitement could be just what you need to restore your energy levels. Enjoy it.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Friends can be counted on to help you deal with a perplexing personal situation. But remember to keep your circle of advisers limited only to those you're sure you can trust.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Security-loving Lions do not appreciate uncertainty in any form. But sometimes changing situations can reveal hidden stresses in time to repair a relationship before it's too late.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) This is a good time for single Virgos to make a love connection. Be careful not to be too judgmental about your new "prospect" -- at least until you know more about her or him.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Your sense of justice helps you resolve a problem that might have been unfairly attributed to the wrong person. Spend the weekend doing some long-neglected chores.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) You might feel justified in your anger toward someone you suspect betrayed your trust. But it could help if you take the time to check if your suspicions have substance.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Ignore distractions if you hope to accomplish your goal by the deadline you agreed to. Keep the finish line in sight, and you should be able to cross it with time to spare.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Your creative self continues to dominate through much of the week. Also, despite a few problems that have cropped up, that recent romantic connection seems to be thriving.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) As curious as you might be, it's best to avoid trying to learn a colleague's secret. That sort of knowledge could drag you into a difficult workplace situation at some point down the line.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Instead of spending too much time floundering around wondering if you can meet your deadline, you need to spend more time actually working toward reaching it.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have a natural gift for attracting new friends, who are drawn to your unabashed love of what life should be all about.

HOLLYWOOD

by Tony Rizzo

HOLLYWOOD — J.J. Abrams has completed filming Episode IX in the Luke Skywalker "Star Wars" saga. George Lucas first conceived chapters 4-6 in 1977 and always intended they'd be followed by the prequels 1-3, and finally three sequels, episodes 7-9. But after the first six films from 20th Century Fox, Disney became the new owner, Lucas bowed out and Abrams took the reins. The final episode of George Lucas' "Stars Wars" baby premieres Dec. 20, more than 42 years after the original.

Also done and shedding his cowl is Ben Affleck, who has decided not to continue as Batman in the Marvel Universe after playing the caped crusader in "Batman v Superman," "Suicide Squad" and "The Justice League." Already mentioned in dream casting to replace him are Jake Gyllenhaal, Jon Hamm, Robert Pattinson, Kit Harington, Ryan Gosling, Josh Brodin, Matthew Goode, Richard Armitage, Josh Harnett, Keanu Reeves and Armie Hammer. To give themselves more time to nail down a new Batman, the next film will be a prequel with 18-year-old "Gotham" Bruce Wayne, David Mazouz (who has played Batman's alter ego since 2014), for a June 2021 opening.

Another superhero, Chris Evans, aka Captain America, had to bow out of star billing in "The Devil All the Time," with Tom Holland, Mia Wasikowska and Robert Pattinson, because of schedule conflicts. He's been replaced by Sebastian Stan — Bucky Barnes/Winter Soldier in "Captain America: Winter Soldier" and "Civil War," "First Avenger," "Ant Man," "Black Panther" and "Avengers: Infinity War." Instead, Evans is taking second billing to Daniel Craig (007) in the mystery crime film "Knives Out," also with Michael Shannon, Don Johnson, Jamie Lee Curtis, Toni Collette and Christopher Plummer, due in theaters Nov. 27.

Ben Affleck

Also changing his life is superstar Robert Redford, who retired from acting after "The Old Man and the Gun" (which grossed only $15 million), with Sissy Spacek and Casey Affleck. He's also retired from his work of 34 years at Sundance Institute. Redford turned a piece of property in Park City, Utah, into a resort and founded the largest independent film festival in the U.S., which showcases films for distributors to buy and is attended by 50,000 people annually.

I met Redford in 1961, when he was on Broadway in "Little Moon of Alban," with Julie Harris. In the many times I've run into him he's always treated me like a long-lost friend. His work at the Sundance Institute has done so much to advance the independent film industry. In 2009 he wed longtime girlfriend Sibylle Szaggers, and at 82 years young it's time for him to start a new phase of his life. Park City is an Eden, and Adam and Eve have found their paradise. ... You've earned your new life, old friend!

Mayor says state title reflects community

On Friday following the state championship won by the George Washington High School basketball team, Mayor Alonzo Jones said he could see the Danville community in the team's determination to win.

The Eagles on Thursday night outlasted Louisa County 55-44 to win the Virginia High School League Boys Class 4 title in Richmond.

"This is a special moment, and just thinking about it gives me chills," Jones said. "These talented young men showed that when you come together for a common goal, and you work hard, then truly special things happen. It reflects our community."

Jones and other members of City Council offered statements on Friday congratulating the team on winning the school's first state championship in 21 years.

Averett Announces Addition of Competitive Dance Team, Names Harris as Head Coach

Averett University Director of Athletics Meg Stevens announced the addition of a competitive dance team, which the university will launch for the 2019-20 academic year.

Stevens also announced the hiring of Alexis Harris as the program's first head coach.

"We have done a lot of research about what new programs to add and what would be a good fit at Averett," Stevens said. "Competitive dance is a natural fit for us. Not only will a competitive dance team attract new prospective students, it will also add to our game day atmosphere."

Averett's competitive dance team is the fifth new program that Averett has added under the Department of Athletics in the past three years, joining esports, men's and women's lacrosse and men's wrestling.

"We are thrilled to add competitive dance to our co-curricular offerings at Averett, and believe Alexis will help us propel this program forward," Averett University President Dr. Tiffany M. Franks said. "We know there is a large local and regional dance community with many potential students who could continue dancing through their college years right here at their Hometown University, joining other prospective and current students from around the country."

As the program's first head coach, Harris comes to Averett with a background in dance. She was a four-year member of Limestone College's dance team from 2013-17, including serving as the team captain for two seasons. While at Limestone, she helped the Saints win the 2016 and 2017 Cheer LTD National Championship in hip-hop, as well the 2016 championship in open variety.

"Alexis is a great addition to our department," Stevens said. "She has the knowledge and enthusiasm to successfully launch a first-year program."

In addition to attending the ProAction Dance Convention twice, Harris remained involved in dance since graduating. In 2018, she was the choreographer for Limestone's game day dances. She also served as the assistant dance coach at Spartanburg Preparatory School in 2018.

"I am very excited to be a part of the Averett University family and honored to be the first dance head coach," Harris said. "I'm ready to get started and do as much as possible to build a great program."

Get ready: Early spring landscaping tips

During the cold months of winter, many people stare longingly out of the window dreaming of spring and time spent outdoors. For those with green thumbs, images of tending to the garden and other aspects of their landscapes no doubt dominate such daydreams. Draw inspiration from those budding crocuses and daffodils pushing through the last remnants of snow and employ these tips to prepare for the upcoming gardening season.

- One of the first steps is to apply a preemergent weed killer to get a head start knocking out weeds that can plague the lawn during the growing season. Killing weeds at the roots early on can mean far fewer hassles in spring and summer, and may prevent new generations of weeds from cropping up each year.

- While it may be tempting to take a prematurely warm day as a sign that spring is in full force and purchase a bunch of annuals, it's better to know the last of the possible frost dates (check "The Farmer's Almanac"); otherwise, you may waste time and money planting flowers or vegetables only to have them zapped by another frosty day.

- Amend the soil so that it is the right consistency — just crumbling when lifting it. Soil that is too muddy after spring thaw can harden, making it difficult for plants to flourish later on. Speak with representatives at a local lawn and garden center about which types of amendments you can add to the soil in your particular area to enrich it.

- Lawn and garden experts at The Home Depot suggest filling in bare patches of lawn now by mixing a few shovelfuls of soil with grass seed. Then apply this patch to the bare areas, water, and continue to care for the area until the spot fills in.

- Spend a day in the garage or shed tending to the lawn mower and other gardening equipment. Clean all tools and ensure that everything works, repairing parts as needed.

- Give outdoor entertaining spaces a good scrubbing, clearing away dirt and grime that may have accumulated over the winter. Use a leaf blower to blow away any leftover leaves.

- Check if the front porch, railings or decking need painting and/or staining. Tackle these projects when the weather is cooler so everything will be ready for those peak spring days.

- Think about any annuals you might want to plant in the landscape this year that will complement any existing shrubbery or perennials. Come up with a theme so that the entire yard is cohesive. Before homeowners know it, winter is gone and it is time to once again enjoy long days spent outdoors. Get a jump start on spring lawn prep as soon as you can.

A Healthy Family Lifestyle Study

Researchers at the University of Virginia invite all interested families of children ages 5 to 12 to join a healthy lifestyle study that is part of a team effort between Danville Parks and Recreation, Sovah Pediatrics, PATHS and the University of Virginia. With a flip of a coin, you will be randomized into one of these programs: Family Connections or iChoose. Programs will be offered at locations in Danville and Chatham.

The purpose of the study is to compare two healthy lifestyle programs to see which one is the best fit for your community. The study includes health screenings, small group healthy living classes and telephone support calls, all offered at no cost. Families will receive $300 in gift cards for participating in the study.
 Primary Investigator: Dr. Jamie Zoelner (IRB #19748)

To learn more about the study and see if you qualify, please call Danielle Montague at 434.799.5150.
