Albion Junior Accepted to Empire Girls State

Mariah Plain, an Albion High School junior, has been accepted to Empire Girls State.

The American Legion Auxiliary sponsors Girls State, which will take place at SUNY Brockport from June 30 - July 6.

Mariah recently met with Cathy
Fox, the American Legion Auxiliary Orleans County President and Empire Girls State Chairperson.
They reviewed information in preparation for the summer program.

Girls State is open to juniors in the top third of their class. It is an experiential “government-in-learning” program that helps young women develop leadership skills as they learn about ideals and principles of government. Students participate in a variety of Americanism activities including flag raising/lowering ceremonies and learning proper flag etiquette.

Congratulations Mariah!

Head Start Program

Volunteers Sponsor April/May "Sweet Cheeks" Diaper Drive

April is nationally recognized as the "Month of the Young Child" to emphasize the unique needs and rights of young children and their families.

In response to the Month of the Young Child, Community Action of Orleans & Genesee's Volunteer Advocacy Committee is sponsoring a "Sweet Cheeks" Diaper Drive to assist in meeting the ongoing needs of Community Action's Head Start program for young children. The Head Start Program promotes school readiness through education, health/nutrition, social/emotional, and family support services for local children age birth – five years who are income eligible. Community Action Head Start Program enrolls over 300 children in Orleans and Genesee Counties annually. "We provide developmentally appropriate comprehensive services at licensed agency centers, licensed day care partners and in the homes of children and families;" states Bonnie Malakie, Director of Children and Youth Services of Community Action.

The "Sweet Cheeks" Diaper Drive is being supported by over 40 local business entities in the two counties over the next two months. Customers, employees and the public are asked to donate disposable diapers (any size) and/or baby wipes in hampers at these locations. These donations will help off-set the cost of supplies utilized in the Head Start program and will count as part of the local match required by the funders.

Business or nonprofit entities interested in helping local young children may sponsor a "Sweet Cheeks" Diaper Drive donation hamper by contacting Barb Shine, Community Action Board Member at 716-474-4459. Look for the hampers at your local businesses! Individuals interested in dropping off a package of disposable diapers/wipes may take donations in Orleans County to 401 E. State St., Albion, NY and in Genesee County to 5073 Clinton Street Rd., Batavia, NY. Look for the containers as you enter the lobby.

WOW IT'S BEEN A WHIRLWIND OF SPRING ACTIVITY!

By Douglas H. Domedion

Lots of tundra swans in the area this spring!

Well I started getting excited last week when geese and tundra swans started piling into the area. The camera was point towards the sky most of the time and the swans especially were cooperating. Starting off on the Feeder Road on the Iroquois National Wildlife Refuge the swans and geese offered some nice shots with a few sandhill cranes thrown in.

A pair of trumpeter swans were captured in flight and when the images were put in the computer and reviewed, it was discovered that it was the same pair that nested and raised young in the marshes here last year (a first). The male has yellow wing tags on him and some research found out "93" was from Canada and I have spotted in the area for a couple of years.

I have a soft spot in me for these birds not only because they are BIG, pure white and have a neat trumpet type call, but also because I was involved with trumpeters back when they were being taught to fly behind ultra light trike planes to teach them a migration route from here at the John White Game Farm in to Virginia. The project went two years and ended up being a failure not because of the birds, but the folks who were running the show. I had the job of monitoring the birds (they had radio transmitter collars) and handling them many times. It isn't until you handle one of these native North America birds that you realize just how big and beautiful they are.

The trumpeter is larger than the Arctic tundra swan that migrates through here in the spring and is just a tad bigger then the non-native mute swan. The mute swan is a undesirable bird that is not only very aggressive and nasty, but competes in a negative way with our native waterfowl. The DEC has been trying to eliminate or at least keep them under control for years, but "public opinion" has made this almost impossible and now they can be found on almost all of our larger water areas across the state. They are beautiful, but that is the only good thing about them and the public can not get past that.

Back to the tundra swans. A few days after I began photographing them here in the swamp I get a call from Jim S. and then one from Krys E. telling me that there is huge bunch of them staying on Lake Alice and feeding daily in a field nearby. So a scouting trip was taken to locate a good position to get flight shots of these beautiful white birds; one of my goals with the camera this year. The field they were going in was huge and they were too far out to get any good shots so the next morning I headed up again to try and catch them before they got to the field. Well, a "hot" spot was located right away and that adventure got me way too many great flight shots with a blue sky back ground. Of course I had to give it another "go" the next morning to see if I could improve on what I had learned and got the first day. That happened and I was tickled pink, but then figure maybe I could catch them coming back to the lake in the evening for those "cupped coming in shots."

I got permission to "hide" near a private boat house on the lake to wait their arrival that evening, but the type of lighting I needed was lost and it looked like they were not coming to the lake until much later. Leaving the lakeshore I headed up to watch the "show" going on in the field. There were originally about 500 swans and thousands of geese in that field, but this evening the field was much "whiter" and I figured more swans had moved in. When the spotting scope was put on them some snow geese were seen. Then just as evening rolled in, snow geese began to show up spirally down from high above like a tornado, by the hundreds! Lighting wasn't much good for photographing, but it was quite a show to witness! The roar of their calling and the constant spirally down to the field was awesome. Then something spooked them and everyone except a hundred swans "jumped." What a sight to see and the sound of calling and wings was just awesome. The whole bunch came back down farther out in the field and when I left just about dark the snow geese were still coming in.

Snow geese travel in huge flocks and the Finger Lakes is more of their migration route, but every year we are seeing more of them this way. Their populations have skyrocketed and they are causing habitat destruction up in the Arctic tundra country. There is now a spring hunting season for them with allowances for lenient hunting methods and a daily bag limit of 30 a day. However, the areas they travel through on this spring migration is not widespread and they are much more difficult to hunt. When hunters do get an opportunity to shoot at them they educate a lot of them all at once because they travel and feed in such huge flocks.

AND YOU

BY NATHAN D. PACE
ATTORNEY AT LAW

FOR YOUR BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS

Small business owners sometimes shy away from seeking the services of a lawyer out of fear of the expense. However, while it is true that litigators, such as we generally see on TV and in movies, may be paid extraordinary amounts to resolve legal issues in court, "transactional" lawyers actually add value to small businesses. They act as strategic partners and coaches for their clients by spotting opportunities, avoiding bad deals, and quickly resolving disputes before they go to court. In short, they help identify and anticipate problems before they become full-blown issues that require expensive legal remedies. This preventive approach works with regard to legal matters as much as it does with health issues.

As a business owner, you launch your business with the hope that everything will go smoothly, and you'll wind up running a successful organization. Unfortunately, mistakes happen, issues arise, and you'll inevitably need an attorney from time to time. Having a good attorney can provide incredible value to your business, namely in helping to protect you from legal implications. To schedule a free consultation, please call the Law Office of MACK & PACE at (585)798-1000. We emphasize legal issues in business, will and trusts, probate, vehicle and traffic law, and mortgage and foreclosures

(585) 798-1000

534 Main St., Suite 6
Medina, NY 14103

HINT: By helping their clients get contracts and other legal matters right the first time, transactional lawyers help small businesses place themselves in a better position to succeed.

Did You Know?

Oxygen is essential for the roots of grass to breathe and grow strong enough to support healthy lawns. But according to the Center for Agriculture, Food and the Environment at the University of Massachusetts Amherst, compacted soil can produce a decrease in oxygen content that can make it hard for roots to thrive. Soil compaction can result from a number of activities, including walking on grass or driving or parking vehicles on grass. When soil is compacted, it breaks into small particles that reduce the amount of pore space in the soil. That makes it hard for water, oxygen and nutrients to get through, threatening the strength of the roots and putting the grass in jeopardy. Aerating a lawn can help homeowners foster strong root growth and healthy grass. When to aerate may be contingent upon local climate, so homeowners who suspect the soil in their yards is compact should consult with a local landscaping professional to determine the best time to aerate their lawns. ■

• Heating & cooling unit: Regularly inspecting and servicing the system can conserve energy and save money.

• Water heater: Energy Star suggests replacing water heaters that are more than 10 years old. Also, washing clothes in cold water can reduce energy consumption.

• Kitchen/laundry appliances: Trade in old appliances for new models, which are more energy-efficient. For example, an Energy Star-rated refrigerator uses 50 percent less energy to run than a refrigerator manufactured 15 years ago. Innovations in laundry appliances also help make units more efficient without compromising on performance. ■

Must-haves for a Kitchen Remodel

Kitchen remodels are among the most popular home renovation projects, whether they consist of swapping out cabinet hardware or doing major demolition.

• Deep, double sinks: Having a double sink enables you to soak dishes in one side and then wash on the other.

• Kitchen island and bar stools: Even though many meals are enjoyed around the table, there's something to be said for the convenience of a kitchen island and some well-placed bar stools for quick breakfasts or snacks.

• Smart kitchen storage: Slide-out shelving, nooks for a paper towel roll and custom-designed areas to store stand mixers and other necessities can make kitchens more functional.

• Outdoor access: If possible, design a kitchen so it is easy to access the backyard via sliding doors.

• Under-cabinet lighting: Fixtures installed under cabinets provide both ambient lighting and task lighting. Such lighting makes it easier to see what you're working on as well, as even well-placed overhead lighting can fail to illuminate dark corners and spots on the counters.

• Convenient warming drawer: This appliance provides backup to the oven. It's a slide-out drawer that can keep prepared foods out of the way and warm until they are ready to be served.

• Beverage station: Designate one area of the kitchen to beverages, such as coffee and tea. Or make the area an informal bar.

Kitchen remodels are exciting to envision, and several choices can make these high-traffic spaces even more coveted. ■

Home Improvements For the Weekend

Home improvement projects ramp up when the weather warms up, as homeowners channel the rejuvenating feelings of spring and tackle their home to-do lists. Large-scale renovations can greatly affect a home, but smaller projects can yield impressive results and be completed over the course of a single weekend. If time is of the essence, these weekend or one-day projects may satisfy homeowners' desires to fix up their homes.

- Create an accent wall. Painting a focal wall in a home can create a serious impact. The bonus is it will not take as long or require as many materials as painting an entire room. Accent walls frequently feature a bold color, so decide on placement and tackle this project in less than a day.

- Install stair runners. Dress up hardwood stairs with decorative carpet runners. Runners come in elongated pieces of carpeting or individual pieces that can be placed on each step. If carpeting doesn't fit with the home's design, painting individual stair treads also can create visual appeal.

- Dress up the entryway. An entryway is a guest's first impression of a home. Many entryways can use a minor overhaul, both inside and outside. Paint the front door a different color so it pops from the curb. Install a new mailbox or decorative house numbers. A new welcome mat can change the look as well. Inside, consider laying a new floor. Resilient vinyl tiles come in many different patterns and can mimic the look

Surviving a Home Renovation

Homeowners invest large sums into improving their homes to make them more comfortable living spaces or to increase their odds of selling quickly.

Whether one is doing a large renovation or a small remodel, life may be turned upside down during the project. Furniture may be moved out of the room, walls may be demolished, water or electricity may be turned off, and appliances may be missing or not hooked up. Home improvements often drum up dust and disarray. Such projects can try the patience of any homeowner, and things may get worse before they get better.

Even though remodeling can be taxing, the end result is often worth it. Here's how to look forward to the silver lining and come out unscathed.

Do one project at a time.

It's tempting to want to improve as much as possible at once to maximize motivation and renovation materials. However, having no place in which to escape the mess can elevate stress levels. Do not think about renovating kitchens and bathrooms all at once, or you will not have any working fixtures for tasks like washing up.

Have everything in place ...

Before demolition even begins, have building materials bought and stored, contractors and subcontractors lined up, and see what you can do to minimize the time workers need to spend in your home.

... but expect delays.

In a world where things move at lightning speeds, renovations have not gotten the memo. Home projects take lots of time and will likely take longer if you are doing the work yourself in your free time. Build lots of extra time into the project so you are not disappointed when delays happen.

Plan an escape zone

Construction environments can be messy, loud, smelly, and a host of other unsavory adjectives. Build escape moments into the plan and make sure everyone else at home is on board. During the real grind of the project, a night or two at a hotel may be a welcome respite. ■

Did You Know?

Lead is a naturally occurring element found in the earth's crust that can be toxic to both humans and animals. Lead can be found in air, soil and water, and human exposure to lead can often be traced to human activities, such as the one-time use of leaded gasolines and previous use of lead-based paints in homes. The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency notes that lead also may have been used in ceramics, pipes, plumbing materials, and even some cosmetics. Perhaps the most troubling aspect of lead is its potential effect on children. The still-developing brains and nervous systems of children are more sensitive to the harmful effects of lead because their bodies absorb more of it than the bodies of adults. The U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention notes that the use of lead in house paint, on products marketed to children, including toys, and in dishes or cookware was banned in the United States in 1978. However, lead may still be found on toys imported from countries that have not yet banned lead. In addition, toys and collectibles that were produced prior to the ban in the United States may still contain lead that can be harmful to children and adults. Parents who suspect their children have been exposed to lead can speak with their youngsters' pediatricians, who may order blood tests to check for lead exposure. ■

Save Time and Money with Material Alternatives

Home renovations are big business. The home renovation resource Home Advisor states that the national average cost of remodeling multiple rooms in a home was $41,784 in 2018. While homeowners cannot change the size of rooms to save money, they can manipulate the materials used to keep expenses down. Many products on the market today are designed to replicate the look of more costly materials without the higher price tags.

Resilient flooring: Resilient flooring is manufactured to mimic the look of hardwood, tile, stone, and other materials. Most resilient products are made up of several layers to create stability and absorb sound. These products tend to be less expensive than the materials they replicate.

Laminate countertops: Much like resilient flooring, laminate countertops are inexpensive, low-maintenance and durable alternatives to stone and solid-surface countertops. They come in many different styles that can look like granite or marble. Homeowners also can consider solid surface materials, tile, concrete, and wood block when looking for cost-efficient countertop materials.

Shower kits: Bathroom renovations can increase the overall value of a home. But some homeowners do not have the time or money to do a complete bathroom remodel. Shower kits and stalls enable homeowners to renovate bathrooms with less hassle than creating a tile- or stone-based shower enclosure. Certain kits can be installed directly over dated showers for a quick remodel turnaround.

Cabinet refacing: Homeowners who want to keep the layout of a kitchen intact, but simply update its look can turn to cabinet refacing. New doors, drawers and hardware will complete the transformation at a fraction of the cost of a new cabinet build.

Low-cost materials can keep renovation budgets in check and still produce beautiful results. ■

The STREAM & LAKE MAP OF NEW YORK resembles another map--known to Pennsylvania anglers as the "Lost Stream Map."

It was completed in 1965 after a 30 year effort by Howard Higbee, a former Penn State Professor.

Professor Higbee painstakingly plotted by hand, the location of 45,000 miles of streams onto the map. It sold extremely well - until the printer declared bankruptcy and hauled Higbee's work to the landfill.

But reprints were impossible because the maps were printed in non-photographic blue. Higbee was even offered $400 for one of his last maps. And state agencies were forced to keep their copies under lock and key.

Then, at the age of 91, Howard Higbee's dream came true. Computers made it possible to reprint the map.

Then the STREAM & LAKE MAP OF NEW YORK was created.

Stream & Lake Map of New York

Why every angler and boater needs this map

Professor Higbee's® Stream & Lake Map of New York is the first and only highly detailed map of its kind. The 3.5-foot-by-4.5-foot New York map shows 65,000 miles of streams plus lakes.

RAVE REVIEWS

"It is in showing where to find out-of-the-way trout streams that makes the map such a treasure to the fisherman."

—Joe Gordon, TRIBUNE-DEMOCRAT, Johnstown, PA

"I have one of the original Higbee's Stream Map of Pennsylvania on my wall behind my desk. It's the best thing available as far as streams are concerned. I use it all the time for reference. I don't know of anything more extensive and it is the most accurate map out there as far as streams are concerned."

—Dave Wolf, PA Fish and Boat Commission

Tips on how to write CLASSIFIED ADS that sell!

- 1 USE A KEY WORD. This immediately tells the reader exactly what you have to sell.
- 2 Make your description CLEAR AND FACTUAL. State the year, make, model, color & size and tell what condition the item is in. Also, state the special features.
- 3 STATE THE PRICE. Successful classified advertisers have learned that the price in an ad helps increase the chances for results.
- 4 IF THERE IS A GENUINE SENSE OF URGENCY, say so. The words "We're moving," or "Must sell fast," suggest that readers respond immediately.
- 5 INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER. Classifieds get results fast and often generate immediate sales. If you cannot be available to answer the phone at all times, be sure to specify special calling times such as "after 9pm" or "before 11am."

Did You Know?

Brief breaks during the work day can dramatically improve one's ability to focus on a task. A 2011 study published in the journal Cognition found that brief mental breaks can improve focus on a prolonged task. The study's authors tested participants' ability to focus on a repetitive computerized task for 50 minutes under various conditions. The control group performed the task without breaks or diversions. The switch group and non-switch group memorized four digits before performing the task and were directed to respond if they saw one of the digits on the screen while performing the task. The switch group was the only group to be presented with the digits twice during the experiment, and both groups were tested on their memory of the digits at the end of the task. Most participants' performance declined considerably over the course of the 50-minute task. However, the performance of those in the switch group did not decline at all, as the two brief breaks to respond to the digits allowed them to maintain their focus throughout the experiment. The researchers behind the study concluded that the switch group's performance was steady because the brain is built to detect and respond to change, and its performance will actually suffer if it must maintain prolonged attention on a single task without taking a break. Professionals with a lot on their plates may see their performance improve by taking frequent mental breaks throughout the workday. ■

Think Outside the Backyard Barbecue Box

While backyard barbecue menus are often dominated by hot dogs and hamburgers, hosts can expand that menu however they see fit. For example, fried chicken is a natural complement to popular backyard barbecue fare, such as potato salad and fresh watermelon.

Store-bought fried chicken can suffice in a pinch, but hosts who want to go the extra mile and offer a delicious homemade meal can prepare the following recipe for “Kansas City Fried Chicken” courtesy of Neal Corman’s “Virgil’s Barbecue Road Trip Cookbook” (St. Martin’s Press).

Kansas City Fried Chicken

Serves 4 to 6

1/2 cup buttermilk
1/2 cup hot sauce
5 1/2 tablespoons Fried Chicken Spice Mix (see below), divided
2 tablespoons kosher salt
2 4-pound whole roaster chickens, cut into 10 pieces each
5 cups all-purpose flour
2 1/2 cups canola oil

1. In a large mixing bowl, thoroughly blend the buttermilk, hot sauce, 2 tablespoons of the Fried Chicken Spice Mix, salt, and 1 cup cold water.

2. Press the chicken pieces into the marinade. Place in a covered container (ensuring that the chicken is covered with marinade), and refrigerate for 24 hours.

3. Thoroughly combine the flour with 3 1/2 tablespoons of the Fried Chicken Spice Mix in a medium bowl.

4. In a large and deep pan, or an electric skillet, add enough canola oil to fill the pan one-third full. Heat the oil to 350 F.

5. Set the marinated chicken next to the bowl of flour, close to the skillet. Remove a piece of chicken from the marinade, allow any excess to drain, then dredge in the flour mix. Shake off the excess flour and slide into the skillet.

6. Fry the chicken for 4 to 5 minutes on each side, or until the internal temperature reaches 165 F. Fry the chicken in batches, being careful not to crowd the skillet and to maintain the right temperature.

7. Remove the fried chicken to a sheet pan covered with three or four layers of paper towels. When all the chicken has been fried and dried on the paper towels, allow to cool slightly before serving.

Fried Chicken Spice Mix

Makes 2 cups, plus 2 tablespoons

6 tablespoons kosher salt	6 tablespoons sweet paprika
5 tablespoons onion powder	5 tablespoons garlic powder
3 tablespoons dry mustard	3 tablespoons cracked black pepper
1 tablespoon ground cumin	1 tablespoon dried thyme
1 tablespoon poultry seasoning	1 tablespoon dried oregano
1 tablespoon dried sage	1 tablespoon chili powder

Thoroughly blend all of the ingredients in a medium mixing bowl and transfer to a covered container. Keep in a cool, dry place until needed. ■

Angila T. ★★★★★

We came upon this dealership that was 730 miles away and truly found a gem amongst all dealerships far exceeding any experience that we've ever had. Dave, Charlene, and the rest of the staff went far far above and beyond to make a long distance trade one of the most seamless and enjoyable car buying experiences that we have ever had. Whether local, or far away, bar none these people are the ones to deal with. Thanks again, everyone! Honestly and truly a 5-star experience!

Gerry M. ★★★★★

I am now on my 6th lease with Orleans Ford. I just pulled out a new lease on March 19th for a 2019 Ford Explorer "Sport". They took care of my remaining payments for my 2017 Explorer Sport and they gave me another great deal as they did on the last 5 cars I leased. I'm from Seneca Falls so it's about 1.5 hours to get to Orleans Ford, but it is well worth it, not just because of the good prices they give me but because of the people there. Everyone has always been very honest and upfront with me. I dealt with Kevin and Randy and both are very awesome. I look forward to leasing again in 2021.

Dawn B. ★★★★★

Just bought another Dodge Grand Caravan. My 2007 had 172837 miles on it. Spent several months and several miles looking for a replacement. So many dealerships that we walked away from. I didn't get my hopes up that this one would work out. Salesman, Mike, was pleasant. I went though the van quite extensively. Joked about putting it on a lift to look at the underside, Mike said 'we can do that if you want'. I felt comfortable and not pressured to buy 'extras' I didn't want. We agreed on a reasonable price and I am happy.
