A Healthy Family Lifestyle Study

Researchers at the University of Virginia invite all interested families of children ages 5 to 12 to join a healthy lifestyle study that is part of a team effort between Danville Parks and Recreation, Sovah Pediatrics, PATHS and the University of Virginia. With a flip of a coin, you will be randomized into one of these programs: Family Connections or iChoose. Programs will be offered at locations in Danville and Chatham.

The purpose of the study is to compare two healthy lifestyle programs to see which one is the best fit for your community. The study includes health screenings, small group healthy living classes and telephone support calls, all offered at no cost. Families will receive $300 in gift cards for participating in the study.

Primary Investigator: Dr. Jamie Zoellner (IRB #19748)

To learn more about the study and see if you qualify, please call Danielle Montague at 434.799.5150.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You're doing better on the flexibility issue, but you still need to loosen up a bit to show you can be less judgmental and more understanding about certain sensitive matters.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Your personal aspect continues to dominate this week. But try to make time to deal with important career-linked matters as well. A change of plans might occur by the weekend.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Excuses are not really needed for much of the confusion occurring this week. However, explanations from all parties could help in working things out to everyone's satisfaction.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) That surprising (but pleasant) recent turn of events continues to develop positive aspects. But be prepared for a bit of a jolt on another issue that needs attention.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Creating a fuss might bring you that attention you want. But are you prepared for all the explaining you'd have to do? Better to use more subtle ways to make your bid.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) With education continuing to be a strong factor this week, this could be the time to start learning some new skills that can later be applied to a bid for a potential career move.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You might do well to reconsider some of your current time priorities before you get so deeply involved in one project that you neglect meeting a deadline on another.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) With an important decision looming, you need to be careful about the information you're getting. Half-truths are essentially useless. Get the full story before you act.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Find out what everyone's role is expected to be before accepting that workplace proposal. Getting all the facts now could prevent serious problems later on.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A flexible position on a workplace matter could be the best course to follow during the next several days. A personal issue also benefits from an open-minded approach.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Involving too many people in your workplace problem can backfire. Remember: Allegiances can shift. Ask trusted colleagues for advice, but don't ask them to take sides.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Before submitting your suggestions, take more time to sharpen the points you want to make. The clearer the presentation, the more chance it has to get through when submitted.

BORN THIS WEEK: Your clear sense of who you are gives you confidence when you need to tackle difficult situations.

Don't Say a Word

Tommy Bolt, winner of the 1958 US Open, tells the story of an incident he had during one of his golf tournaments. Bolt arrived at the golf course for the tournament and was approached by a youngster, "Mr. Bolt, do you need a caddy, sir?"

Bolt went to the caddy master and asked about the youngster. The man said, "He's a real good caddy, knows the course, the greens, and the rules of the game. But he talks a lot."

So Bolt went back to the youngster and said, "You can caddy for me on one condition: Don't say a word." The young man accepted and carried Bolt's bag. The first three rounds went well, and Bolt was in contention in the fourth round, when an errant tee shot landed in the rough. The ball was sitting down in a bad patch of turf, with a difficult shot to the green which was well guarded by water on the right.

Bolt asked his caddy, "You think a five iron will do the trick?" The kid shook his head no, but never said a word.

"What, you want me to hit a six iron?" Again, the kid shook his head no, but did not speak. Bolt grabbed a six iron and lashed the ball out of the rough and landed on the green, rolling to within three feet of the hole.

As they walked to the green, Bolt said, "Aren't you going to say something now, after seeing a shot like that?"

His caddy then replied, "Mr. Bolt, that wasn't your ball."

KOVELS® Antiques & Collecting
By Terry and Kim Kovel

Donald Duck Knockoff

Donald Duck is a Disney character and there are strict laws about copying his likeness, so this wooden toy from the 1930s must be a knockoff. The duck could be a relative, but it certainly is not one sanctioned by The Collectors like unique examples, even those that are mysteries. This wooden pull toy, a copy of Donald Duck, was possibly made in China in the 1930s. It sold at a Milestone auction in Wiloughby, Ohio, for $4,200.

Walt Disney Company. The wooden pull toy has a place to attach a string. Pull it, and Donald's legs "walk," the wheels turn and the tiny chick bobs back and forth. Toy collectors like early examples of comic characters that are rare and by unknown makers. This is the only one the Ohio auctioneer had ever seen. It is thought it was made in China in the 1930s. The toy, perhaps an Easter gift, sold on the 57th bid for $4,200, well over the estimate.

Q. I have some blue-and-white dishes my grandmother said she took from the dining car on a B & O Railroad trip years ago. I know stolen paintings, ancient relics and other stolen items are confiscated and, if possible, returned to the original owners. Can I put my dishes in an auction?

A. Railroad dining cars and airplanes used to have special dishes made with their names and significant views or logos. And there have been "Railroad China" collectors for years. Some of the china was "liberated" by dinner guests, but much was sold at the railroad's gift shop. Most popular was the Centenary china first used in 1927 by the B & O Railroad for their 100th anniversary. It was so popular that they continued to use it for over 50 years, and later, even made copies that were sold at the gift shop. The original, and most expensive for today's collectors, are Centenary pieces with the rectangular "Scammell's Lamber-ton China Patent Applied For" mark on the back. It was used from 1927 until 1930-31, when the mark was changed to read "Design Patented."

Q. My six flat silver butter knives are stamped "Pat. Apld. For Puritan Silver Co." Are they sterling silver? Are they worth anything?

A. Puritan Silver Co. is a trade name used by Oneida Silver-smiths on silver-plated flatware. Silver-plated flatware doesn't sell well. Young people don't want to bother to keep it polished, and it doesn't have the meltdown value that sterling silver has. Silver-plated butter knives sell for about $1 each.

PIEDMONT PETS

April 11, 2019
By Paulette Dean

996 South Boston Rd.,
Danville, VA 24540
Phone: (434) 799-0843

Each year animal shelters receive rabbits and ducks that had been given as surprises in Easter baskets. However, we once again emphasize, as we do every year, that live ducks, chicks, and rabbits are not the appropriate gifts to give children.

Young children oftentimes do not understand how fragile these little creatures are. In an attempt to play or give affection, children can injure or kill the delicate babies. Also, many of these animals may carry parasites. Salmonella is a real danger to children, and can be transmitted from chicken or ducks to humans.

Baby animals are often acquired on impulse at Easter, without consideration of a lifelong commitment. Rabbits, chickens, and ducks have an average lifespan of 8-10 years. The longest recorded lifespan of a chicken was 34 years!

These animals have specific physical and behavioral needs that a caring, responsible owner would want to fulfill. A special diet and a carefully controlled environment are necessary for the well-being of the Easter pet.

Pet bunnies especially are being bred in increasing numbers by "rabbit mills" and breeders for the lucrative pet industry. They are marketed as easy, low-maintenance pets who will sit quietly on a child's lap, when in reality they are complex animals with unique traits and needs.

The novelty of the cute bunnies, chicks, and ducklings wears off and animal shelters and humane organizations begin receiving these unwanted Easter surprises when people determine they are not willing to take on the responsibility of a full-grown pet. Worse, many of these animals are merely dumped in the woods and parks where they are easy prey for other animals and cruel people.

We urge everyone to help make Easter a humane holiday by buying only toy or candy animals!

The corresponding Annual Percentage Yield (APY) for this offer is 2.10%. The Special Rate will be applied to the enrolled savings account for a period of 12 months, starting on the date the account is enrolled in the offer. However, for any day during that 12 month period that the daily account balance is less than the $25,000 minimum, the Special Rate will not apply, and the interest rate will revert to the standard interest rate applicable to your Platinum Savings account. As of 02/15/2019, the standard interest rate and APY for a Platinum Savings account in AR, CT, DC, FL, GA, MD, MS, NC, NJ, NY, SC, TX and VA with an account balance of $0.01 and above is 0.05% (0.05% APY). Each tier shown reflects the current minimum daily collected balance required to obtain the applicable APY. Interest is compounded daily and paid monthly. The amount of interest earned is based on the daily collected balances in the account. Upon the expiration of the 12 month promotional period, standard interest rates apply. Minimum to open a Platinum Savings account is $25. A monthly service fee of $12 applies in any month the account falls below a $3,500 minimum daily balance. Fees may reduce earnings. Interest rates are variable and subject to change without notice. Wells Fargo may limit the amount you deposit to a Platinum Savings account to an aggregate of $1 million. Offer not available to Private Banking or Wealth customers. 2. Annual Percentage Yield (APY) is effective for accounts opened between 03/25/2019 to 05/31/2019. The 11-month New Dollar CD special requires a minimum of $25,000 brought to Wells Fargo from sources outside of Wells Fargo Bank N.A., or its affiliates to earn the advertised APY. Public Funds and Wholesale accounts are not eligible for this offer. APY assumes interest remains on deposit until maturity. Interest is compounded daily. Payment of interest on CDs is based on term: For terms less than 12 months (365 days), interest may be paid monthly, quarterly, semi-annually, or at maturity (the end of the term). For terms of 12 months or more, interest may be paid monthly, quarterly, semi-annually, or annually. A fee for early withdrawal will be imposed and could reduce earnings on this account. Special Rates are applicable to the initial term of the CD only. At maturity, the Special Rate CD will automatically renew for a term of 6 months, at the interest rate and APY in effect for CDs on renewal date not subject to a Special Rate, unless the Bank has notified you otherwise. 1,2. Due to the new money requirement, accounts may only be opened at your local branch. Wells Fargo reserves the right to modify or discontinue the offer at any time without notice. Minimum new money deposit requirement of at least $25,000 is for this offer only and cannot be transferred to another account to qualify for any other consumer deposit offer. If you wish to take advantage of another consumer deposit offer requiring a minimum new money deposit, you will be required to do so with another new money deposit as stated in the offer requirements and qualifications. Offer cannot be combined with any other consumer deposit offer, except the Portfolio by Wells Fargo $500 offer, available from March 25, 2019 until May 31, 2019. Offer cannot be reproduced, purchased, sold, transferred, or traded. 3. The Portfolio by Wells Fargo program has a $30 monthly service fee, which can be avoided when you have one of the following qualifying balances: $25,000 or more in qualifying linked bank deposit accounts (checking, savings, CDs, FDIC-insured IRAs) or $50,000 or more in any combination of qualifying linked banking, brokerage (available through Wells Fargo Advisors, LLC) and credit balances (including 10% of mortgage balances, certain mortgages not eligible). If the Portfolio by Wells Fargo relationship is terminated, the bonus interest rate on all eligible savings accounts, and discounts or fee waivers on other products and services, will discontinue and revert to the Bank's then-current applicable rate or fee. For bonus interest rates on time accounts, this change will occur upon renewal. If the Portfolio by Wells Fargo relationship is terminated, the remaining unlinked Wells Fargo Portfolio Checking or Wells Fargo Prime Checking account will be converted to another checking product or closed. © 2019 Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. Averett University Junior Selected for the 2019-2020 Newman Civic Fellowship

Averett University junior Cassidy Pruitt has been named as one of 262 college students across the country as a Newman Civic Fellow for 2019-2020. The fellowship is hosted by Campus Compact, a Boston-based non-profit organization working to advance the public purposes of higher education, of which Averett is a member of the Virginia chapter.

Pruitt was nominated for the program by Averett University President Dr. Tiffany M. Franks for her involvement with and dedication to the Love Danville Higher Education Council, along with her efforts towards her goal to create and host financial literacy classes in her native Pittsylvania County for those who can't afford them. Pruitt wants to focus these classes toward seniors so they can learn how to budget their monthly income with the cost of medications.

Averett University Receives Governor's Volunteerism and Community Service Award

DANVILLE, Va. (April 10, 2019) – Averett University today announced that it is the recipient of a 2019 Governor's Volunteerism and Community Service Award. Presented by Virginia Governor Ralph Northam yesterday evening during a special ceremony held at the Executive Mansion, these awards spotlight the outstanding efforts individual volunteers and organizations make on behalf of citizens throughout the Commonwealth.

"I am honored to announce this year's Governor's Volunteerism and Community Service Award recipients," said Governor Ralph Northam. "These incredible individuals, organizations and companies are an inspiration to all of us for how we can make a difference in our communities. We thank them for their commitment to service and their determination to make Virginia stronger, healthier and happier."

Averett was honored in the Outstanding Education Organization category, one of nine recipients from across the Commonwealth to receive recognition in their respective categories. Averett was selected for its role in the Center for Community Engagement and Career Competitiveness (CCECC), which serves as an innovative program pairing volunteers from Averett, Danville Community College and Piedmont Community College with local organizations throughout the Dan River Region. Additionally, "service opportunities offered through the Averett Athletics program, AmeriCorps and AmeriCorps VISTA foster a culture of volunteerism as a model for other universities to create a common expectation and opportunity for more young Americans to serve their communities and country," according to the Governor's news release.

The CCECC at Averett University is the regional hub for linking students, faculty and staff with community partners to create distinctive learning experiences and career opportunities, as well as to strengthen the social and economic vitality of the region. The CCECC puts Averett's mission of preparing students to serve and lead as catalysts for positive change into action by focusing on three areas: (1) experiential learning, including service-learning, internships and studies abroad; (2) community and civic initiatives, including volunteerism, the National Bonner Leader Program and national service; and (3) career competitiveness, in which all Averett students benefit from a comprehensive career development program beginning in their first semester. By making intentional and meaningful connections among these focus areas, Averett strives to provide its students with access to resources and networks in the Dan River Region and beyond, all while contributing to the community it serves.

"To receive this distinguished recognition from Governor Northam is humbling and truly an honor," said Averett University President Dr. Tiffany M. Franks. "Averett is the Hometown University to the Dan River Region. Community service is woven into our DNA, and we are truly committed to helping our students and employees make a lasting impact on the region through their service."

Virginia Department of Social Services Commissioner Duke Storen congratulated this year's winners saying, "Volunteers build strong communities and have a lasting impact on the areas they serve. For the families and individuals in need of assistance and support, these individuals and organizations are changing their lives for the better."

"More than two million Virginians volunteer in communities across the Commonwealth each year," added Gail P. Harris, director of the Virginia Department of Social Services' Office on Volunteerism and Community Services. "We are thrilled to be able to highlight the service of a few of these outstanding organizations and individuals who have made a commitment to serve."

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

* It was 19th-century French novelist Gustave Flaubert who made the following sage observation: "Our ignorance of history makes us libel our own times. People have always been like this."

* Visitors to Chicago might want to keep in mind that in that city, it's against the law to dine in any establishment that is on fire.

* In 1856, a soldier of fortune (who was also a journalist, doctor and lawyer) by the name of William Walker and his hand-picked group of mercenaries took over Nicaragua. Walker appointed himself dictator, thus securing for himself the distinction of being the only native-born American citizen to become head of state of a foreign nation.

* If you're like the average American, you consumed more than 250 eggs last year.

* You might be surprised to learn that the giant bullfrogs of South Africa have sometimes been known to attack lions.

* If you like to go out and hit the greens on a nice summer day, you might want to consider this fact the next time you're thinking about breaking out the irons and putters: More people are struck by lightning on golf courses than anywhere else.

* Mike Edwards, one of the founding members of the British band Electric Light Orchestra, met with an untimely death decades after he left the group. In 2010, as Edwards was driving in the rural southwest of England, a farmer lost control of a 1,300-pound bale of hay. This wheel-shaped bale rolled down a hill and over a hedge, and just happened to smash into the van Edwards was driving.

Thought for the Day: "I am prepared to meet my Maker. Whether my Maker is prepared for the great ordeal of meeting me is another matter." -- Sir Winston Churchill

Taking Steps to Balance Work and Family

Whether they're logging extra hours in the office or taking work home with them, many professionals today work hard so they can better provide for their families. Parents often say, "I want my children to have things I didn't have growing up." While such a thought process is both natural and admirable, it's also somewhat of a catch-22. The more parents work to provide for their families, the more they tend to deprive their children of what they need most: time with their folks.

Of course, the fact such a dilemma exists comes as no surprise to working parents, who struggle each day to let their kids know they come first and work second. Adding to the struggle is that, unlike previous generations, more of today's children are growing up with both parents working, further straining the balance between work and family. With both parents having commitments outside the household, meshing two adult schedules with the schedule of a child (or children) is harder than ever before. But just like families must work together within themselves to ensure they spend quality time with one another, parents and their employers need to take steps to maintain a healthy balance between work and family.

• Ask for or institute family-friendly benefits or policies. Recognizing the needs of their workforce, many companies, particularly larger ones, have begun to institute policies such as flexible schedules, work-from-home opportunities and on-site daycare, among others. These are a great way for an employer to let staff know their needs away from the office are a concern, too. Employers without such benefits should consider them, while employees should open a dialogue with their employer as to the likelihood of implementing such policies.

The benefits of such policies are abundant for all parties involved. Employers will notice workers who are less stressed and less prone to fatigue. In addition, companies that provide such benefits tend to attract better candidates for job openings. For parents, such benefits help lessen some of the daily load, while provide more time to spend with the kids.

• Don't let go of your values. Again, this can apply to both employees and employers. Employees need to keep in mind that while it's nice to give kids something you might not have had, it's nicer yet to spend time with them. Ultimately, making it to all of your kids soccer games or piano recitals will mean more to your child than another video game.

For employers, especially those with small businesses, it's often best to reflect on why you started your own business. More often than not, one of the main reasons small business owners set out on their own is to leave behind a world where their time was becoming less and less their own. Small business owners or even managers in large corporations should remember a parent's first responsibility is to his or her children, not his employer. Encourage such a thought process and do what you can to make meeting the needs of family easier for your employees.

• Become more efficient. While it's perfectly normal and healthy to take breaks throughout the workday, limit the time you spend around the water cooler or getting a cup of coffee. In the long run, distractions or extended breaks only extend the time it takes to do your job, which in turn limits your ability to leave the office on time and get home and see your family.

Employers, as well, can take steps to increase efficiency. Make sure technical problems are addressed in a timely fashion and keep machines such as computers, printers and fax machines as up-to-date as possible. Other perks, such as keeping the office coffee pot full throughout the day, will encourage breaks but minimize the time spent taking them.

• Recognize balance is a work in progress. While it's great to get a week where you get your work done and get to spend ample time with your family, recognize that the next week won't necessarily go as smoothly. Rather, balancing work and family is often a full-time job in and of itself, one that needs to be worked on each and every week. If you find one week where your office workload is abnormally light, try and get ahead on other projects that you know are coming up. Getting a head start, even a small one, will pay dividends for you and your family down the road.

Employers, as well, should recognize that not all weeks are going to be demanding for their employees. Use the slow weeks as a chance to show your appreciation to your employees by letting them leave early here and there or even take a personal day off the books. Such loyalty will be appreciated and remembered by employees when the more hectic weeks return. (MS)

Simple Holiday Hams

Ideas for an easy Easter menu

FAMILY FEATURES

Whether you're new to hosting or simply looking for ideas to make Easter entertaining easier than ever, there are plenty of ways to save time and stress in the kitchen.

Go with what you know. Trying out new recipes is fun, but it can also add stress when they don't turn out like you expected. Stick to tried and true dishes you can prepare and serve with confidence and save the experimenting for another time.

Take shortcuts. At the center of many Easter feasts is a ham that has been expertly cured and cooked to perfection. Even so, starting with a full-cooked ham is a shortcut that no one is likely to notice, especially if you heat it properly. For exceptional quality and a variety of flavor profile options to choose from, turn to America's Original Butcher, Omaha Steaks. The meats are fully cooked then frozen before being delivered to your door for maximum convenience.

Work ahead. Plan your menu to incorporate items you can make ahead of time so you're under less pressure the day of your dinner. Even handling the prep work like slicing veggies the night before can buy back precious minutes, that way when guests begin arriving, you can step out of the kitchen and enjoy the day right along with them.

Find more ideas to make hosting this year's Easter meal easy at OmahaSteaks.com/buy/meals/easter.

How to Heat a Frozen Ham

Many frozen hams are fully cooked and can be served as soon as they're properly thawed, which is an ideal solution for a casual brunch with mini sandwiches on the menu. However, if you're serving an elegant holiday dinner, you're more likely to prefer a warm centerpiece dish. A fully cooked ham is still a time-saving option; you'll just need to allot time to heat it in the oven once it's thawed.

Start by thawing a fully cooked ham in the refrigerator for 24-48 hours.

To keep your ham extra moist, always put the cut-side down. You might also consider placing a baking rack in the pan and adding a quarter-inch of water before placing the ham on the rack.

For a spiral-cut, bone-in ham, heat the oven to 325 F. Remove ham from film and foil. Place ham cut-side down on a raised edge baking pan lined with foil. Heat uncovered 60-75 minutes for the entire ham or 10 minutes per pound for smaller portions.

For a boneless ham, heat the oven to 350 F. Place the ham, cut-side down, on a raised edge baking pan lined with foil. Cover the ham tightly with foil and heat 35-40 minutes.

Another option for adding extra juicy flavor is a glaze, which can be as simple as dissolving three parts brown sugar into one part honey in a small saucepan. Or for a more elegant affair, consider a fruit-infused glaze to complement the savory pork.

A Host of Hams

If you always thought a ham is a ham is a ham, it's time to think again. From the type of meat to the smoking preparation to specialized slicing that makes serving easy, there are plenty of options to consider from a supplier like Omaha Steaks when choosing the right ham.

Savory

For an elegant gathering that demands premium ingredients, an all-natural Duroc Boneless Country Ham may be the answer. These hams tend to feature more marbling for an exceptionally rich flavor and texture, making for a tender, savory and juicy main course with no basting or injection needed.

Smoky

Put a little flair in your Easter meal with a uniquely flavored ham like the Pecanwood Smoked Flank Ham, smoked with real pecan wood for 8 hours to add a rich yet mellow smoky flavor. This tender, juicy uncured whole-muscle ham earns its place of distinction on your holiday table. Complementary sides with subtle nutty notes, such as a sweet potato casserole, can enhance the menu even more.

Sweet

Each Spiral-Sliced Ham is slowly smoked with real wood up to 24 hours to infuse flavor and maximize juiciness then generously brushed with a sweet and sticky brown-sugar crust that is torch-glazed to create a flavorful, crunchy crust. It's spiral-sliced before delivery, so once it's thawed and heated, it's ready for quick service to your guests.

EASY FRUIT-INFUSED GLAZES

Apricot Glaze

- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon cornstarch
- 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1 cup apricot nectar, canned

In saucepan, mix brown sugar, cornstarch and ginger. Stir in apricot nectar. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and boils.

Cranberry Orange Glaze

- 1 can (16 ounces) cranberry sauce
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1/2 teaspoon cloves, ground
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, ground
- 1/4 teaspoon allspice

In small saucepan over low heat, combine cranberry sauce, brown sugar, orange juice, cloves, cinnamon and allspice; simmer 5 minutes, before serving.
