TWO GRADUATE FROM CANINE TRAINING PROGRAM AT ALBION CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

The Orleans County Sheriff's Office is pleased to announce that on April 17, 2019, two dogs from the Orleans County Sheriff's Animal Shelter have graduated from the Canine Training Program at the Albion Correctional Facility.

Undersheriff Christopher Bourke reports that the partnership between agencies has had a positive effect on everyone involved. Two teams, consisting of three handlers each, work as a team to live with, train and care for each of the dogs in the facility program for approximately 14 weeks. One of the results of this amazing program is the benefit to the shelter dog. Penny and Princess have learned through obedience training and living in the facility to socialize with people and other dogs along with receiving love and attention. This program allows them to become excellent candidates for adoption from our shelter. The second benefit of the program is the positive effect on the inmates participating. The handlers learn new skills in handling and caring for animals. As they work through the program, they can see the results of their hard work, love and dedication as the dog makes progress.

After meeting the handlers, you can see the positive effect this program has had on them. Many of the handlers and staff were teary eyed as the dogs were preparing to return to the shelter for adoption.

"We feel this is a win-win situation. The handlers and the dogs are getting a second chance in life and we at the Sheriff's Office are proud to be a part of his program."

PHOTOGRAPHING AND OBSERVING

By Douglas H. Domedion

"BIG GOBLER STRUTS FOR THE PHOTOGRAPHER"
© Douglas H. Domedion
A slow approach with a vehicle gave me a nice photo with out disturbing the turkey.

The big migration is over and now nature is rejuvenating. The eagles are busy raising their young, geese are beginning to nest, leaves are starting to come out and many of our early flowers are in bloom. Amazement is all around us.

With the arrival this outdoor wonder there is also a great influx of folks who are eager to see and photograph it all. For many of these people it is a new experience and to make this "adventure" more meaningful and educational there are a few things I would like to pass on to you.

A lot of this observation will be along our roads and safety is the first consideration. Some places just don't have good road shoulders to pull off on and those areas just have to be avoided for your safety and that of others. Route 77 by the Iroquois NWR is one of the places that is extremely dangerous. There are marshes, usually with waterfowl on them, right next to the road and there is also an osprey nest on a power line pole next to the road. The temptation is great to pull over here, but don't do it! There is not enough road shoulder to pull completely off the road and there are some "blind" spots in this area. Actually, it is illegal to pull off along this stretch of road as the area is saturated with "NO PARKING" signs because it is so dangerous. In fact, there have been a few tickets handed out for this area already. Besides safety the ospreys trying to nest there don't need harassment. Last year the nest was a failure and I suspect it was because people kept stopping "pushing" the birds off the nest.

Another helpful tip is to remain in your car when you spot wildlife and pull over where it is safe to do so. Getting out of your vehicle does several things, it usually scares the wildlife off and you have ruined the observation for someone else. What it does do is make wildlife more intolerant of vehicles, which will ruin future observations, and may cause a nesting failure. As far as a good photograph, trying to get "a little closer" will not make much noticeable difference and most of the time you only get a lovely shot of a bird's butt going away. If you want closer shots invest in better photography equipment and LEARN HOW TO USE IT.

Another helpful thing is don't suddenly stop by some wildlife and expect it to remain there. Instead you should use a slow approach. I usually drive by some wildlife subject near the road and then turn around and come back slowly, some times taking 10 or 15 minutes to creep up to a good position, advancing only after the subject is comfortable with my last move. Before I start my "stalk" I have already adjusted my camera settings.

While you are out there be courteous to other nature watchers or photographers who may have already spent a great deal of time "stalking" the subject before you came along. How would you like it after you used a lot of caution and time getting closer to your subject just to have someone suddenly stop by you and scare off the wildlife?

By using a little caution, common sense and ethical action you will get to see nature more and learn more about it which in turn makes you a better naturalist and photographer.

If you really want to get into nature photography you really need to put your hands on some serious equipment (not a smart phone camera). Even more important is learning how to use it. All the automation in cameras today is amazing but in nature photography learning how to adjust your camera for each situation and subject is more important. When you do get a great picture shooting on manual it is much more rewarding than letting the camera make all the decisions, you are just a button pusher. I always shoot in the manual mode and find things come out better my way. It is difficult at first but eventually you will build up a database in your brain that can do better than the automation for all the different situations Mother Nature provides.

A little side bar here: The "immature kids" with vehicles have been tearing up the road sides and refuge overlooks. An effort has gone out recently for law enforcement to nail these asses. Well last week one of them was doing "donuts" in one of the refuge overlooks in broad daylight (not too bright either) and was nailed and it going cost him some big bucks. Two of the law enforcement fellows are pretty determined to catch some of these "brainless children" so I suspect they will be nailing some more in the near future. You can help by getting vehicle descriptions and license plate numbers if you see this activity.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY NATHAN D. PACE
ATTORNEY AT LAW

TO YOUR WEALTH AND HEALTH!

Increasingly, aging adults with blended families in charge of their care are finding themselves in the midst of family battles over decision-making authority. While a second wife or husband may be designated as health care proxy or the agent under the power of attorney, adult children from the first marriage may pursue a legal challenge to the second spouse's powers. When these disputes land in court and a judge appoints a guardian or revokes a relative's authority, it can lead to long-standing resentments that may generate significant legal bills. To circumvent such problems, it is important for aging adults with blended families to choose carefully when giving someone the power of decision over their wealth and health.

A health care proxy lets you name a trusted person or persons to make health care decisions for you should you become temporarily or permanently unable to think for yourself. The person you empower with this responsibility is called your "agent." We recommend that you also name an "alternate agent" who can fulfill this responsibility if your primary agent is unavailable or cannot be contacted quickly enough in case of an emergency.

To schedule a free consultation, please call the Law Office of MACK & PACE. We emphasize legal issues in business, will and trusts, probate, vehicle and traffic law, and mortgage and foreclosures.

The Effects of Stress on Your Body

Stress affects people of all ages from all walks of life. Though work is a primary source of stress for many people, a recent survey from the American Psychological Association found that stress is more than just work-related.

Mental side effects

Stress can have an adverse effect on mood and has even been linked to depression, which the World Health Organization reports is the leading cause of disability across the globe. People suffering from stress also may experience anxiety, restlessness and feelings of being overwhelmed. In addition, stress can compromise a person's ability to focus, adversely affecting a person's ability to complete their work-related tasks. That's not insignificant, as 61 percent of respondents in the 2017 "Stress in America" survey reported that work was a significant source of their stress.

Physical side effects

Stress affects more than the mind, manifesting itself physically in various ways. The Mayo Clinic reports that common physical side effects of stress include headache, muscle tension or pain, including chest pain, fatigue, and a change in sex drive. Upset stomach also may be a byproduct of stress. People dealing with stress may even have trouble sleeping.

Behavioral side effects

Behavior also can be affected by stress, which may cause some people to abuse drugs or alcohol. Some may even turn to tobacco, either becoming a smoker or smoking more if they're already smokers. Smoking has been linked to a host of negative physical side effects, including an increased risk of developing cancer. Angry outbursts, social withdrawal and overeating or undereating are some additional potential side effects of stress on the body.

Coping strategies can be highly effective at alleviating stress and its negative side effects. Learn more about such strategies at www.stress.org. ■

Did You Know?

Testicular cancer is not common, but it does affect about one out of every 250 males at some point in their lifetimes, states the American Cancer Society. The average age at the time of diagnosis of testicular cancer is about 33. Unfortunately, the rate of testicular cancer, at least in the United States, increased over the last several decades, particularly in seminomas. It is important to note that testicular cancer can usually be treated successfully, so the risk of dying from the disease is very low. Still, it is important to discuss risk factors with one's doctor, alerting physicians to any abnormalities in the testes or during urination, which may indicate a problem. ■

Do you have HEEL pain or ARCH pain?

HEEL SPUR SYNDROME/PLANTAR FASCITIS

is a common problem among people who are active. It starts as a dull intermittent pain in the heel which may progress to a sharp persistent pain. Classically, it is worse in the morning with the first few steps, after sitting, after standing, or after walking.

- Plantar fasciitis often begins with irritation and tearing of the fibrous band of tissue on the bottom of the foot, which may eventually result in the formation of a heel spur.

- Contributing factors: flat pronated feet, high arched feet, poor shoe support, increased age, sudden weight increase, increased activity level, family tendency.

- Approximately 2-3 times your body weight of force is exerted on each foot with walking. Flexible, non-custom molded arch support found at those advertised shoe stores cannot support these forces and usually do not provide long-lasting relief, do not come with a lifetime warranty, and are typically more expensive than custom-molded ones made by our office.

- 95 percent of our patients symptoms are resolved with conservative treatment, avoiding surgical intervention.

- We also offer surgical procedures with the best post-op success rates using Endoscopic Plantar Fasciotomy techniques and EPF resulting in minimal incisions and scarring, immediate ambulation and often back in a shoe in one week.

If you can't remember when your feet didn't hurt, now is the time to give us a call!

SIGNS OF A STROKE

Sometimes symptoms of a stroke are difficult to identify. The stroke victim may suffer severe brain damage when people nearby fail to recognize the symptoms of a stroke. Now doctors say a bystander can recognize a stroke by asking a few simple questions:

- 1 Ask the person to SMILE.
- 2 Ask the person to TALK AND SPEAK A SIMPLE SENTENCE. i.e. It is sunny out today.
- 3 Ask the person to RAISE BOTH ARMS.
- 4 Ask the person to STICK OUT HIS TONGUE. If the tongue goes to one side or the other, that is a sign of a stroke.

OTHER STROKE WARNING SIGNS

- Sudden numbness or weakness of the face, arm or leg, especially on one side of the body
- Sudden confusion, trouble speaking or understanding
- Sudden trouble seeing in one or both eyes
- Sudden trouble walking, dizziness, loss of balance or coordination
- Sudden, severe headache with no known cause

If you or someone with you has one or more of these signs, don't delay!

CALL 9-1-1 IMMEDIATELY!

Signs of a HEART ATTACK

Some heart attacks are sudden and intense, but most heart attacks start slowly, with mild pain. Often people affected aren't sure what's wrong and wait too long before getting help. Symptoms include:

CHEST DISCOMFORT. Most heart attacks involve discomfort in the center of the chest that lasts more than a few minutes, or that goes away and comes back. It can feel like uncomfortable pressure, squeezing, fullness or pain.

DISCOMFORT IN OTHER AREAS OF THE UPPER BODY. Symptoms can include pain or discomfort in one or both arms, the back, neck, jaw or stomach.

SHORTNESS OF BREATH with or without chest discomfort.

OTHER SIGNS may include breaking out in a cold sweat, nausea or lightheadedness

Women are somewhat more likely than men to experience other common symptoms, particularly SHORTNESS OF BREATH, NAUSEA/VOMITING, AND BACK/JAW PAIN.

If you or someone with you has one or more of these signs, don't delay!

Call 9-1-1 immediately!

REAL ESTATE GUIDE

Three Tips to Prepare to Sell Your Home

According to Realtor.com, spring is the busiest and best season to sell a home. While a good home can find a buyer any time of year, homeowners might find the buyers' pool is strongest in spring and into summer. The reasons for that are many, ranging from parents wanting to move when their children are not in school to buyers wanting to move when the weather is most accommodating.

1. Address the exterior of the home. Winter can be harsh on a home's exterior, so as winter winds down, homeowners who want to sell their homes should make an effort to address anything that might negatively affect their homes' curb appeal. If it's in the budget, hire professional landscapers to fix any problematic landscaping or address any issues that arose during the winter.

2. Conquer interior clutter. Clutter has a way of accumulating over the winter, when people tend to spend more time indoors than they do throughout the rest of the year. Homeowners who want to put their homes on the market in spring won't have the luxury of waiting until spring to do their "spring" cleaning, so start clearing any clutter out in winter, even resolving to make an effort to prevent its accumulation throughout winter. Buyers, like appraisers, see cluttered homes as less valuable. In addition, a home full of clutter might give buyers the impression, true or not, that the home was not well maintained.

3. Eliminate odors. A home's inhabitants grow accustomed to odors that might be circulating throughout the house. Pet odor, for instance, might not be as strong to a home's residents as it is to guests and prospective buyers. Because windows tend to stay closed throughout the winter, interior odors can be even stronger come late-winter than they are during the rest of the year. A thorough cleaning of the house, including vacuuming and removal of any pet hair that accumulated over the winter, can help to remove odor. In the weeks leading up to the open house, bathe pets more frequently, using a shampoo that promotes healthy skin so pet dander is not as prevalent.

Spring is a popular and potentially lucrative time to sell a home, and homeowners who spend winter preparing their homes for the market may reap even greater rewards. ■

• FIRST WEEK OF MAY •

ARIES – Mar 21/Apr 20
Your emotions can be overwhelming, Aries. This encourages you to share your softer side with others. Embrace this sense of openness and others will reciprocate.

TAURUS – Apr 21/May 21
Make the most of others' cooperative spirits to get things done, Taurus. It is always good to advocate for yourself, but more effective when others are receptive.

GEMINI – May 22/June 21
Focusing too much on one thing is not healthy, Gemini. It is better to diversify your thinking and surround yourself with as many ideas and perspectives as possible.

CANCER – June 22/July 22
A coworker may need your assistance in the weeks to come. You are ready and willing to put in the extra effort to help this person with no strings attached.

LEO – July 23/Aug 23
Focus on the positive things this week, Leo. Forget about what could go wrong. With the right mindset, you can accomplish anything you want.

VIRGO – Aug 24/Sept 22
You are always willing and able to help a friend out, Virgo. That will prove true once again this week when a loved one calls you up and needs a shoulder to cry on.

LIBRA – Sept 23/Oct 23
Lately you have been a rock that others lean on, Libra. This is a good role for you, as you are compassionate but also fair. Just make sure you take care of yourself as well.

SCORPIO – Oct 24/Nov 22
Scorpio, just when you think you have everything figured out, a new challenge presents itself. Seek a second opinion to work it out if this nut proves tough to crack.

SAGITTARIUS – Nov 23/Dec 21
A new idea could spark a big change in your life, Sagittarius. Are you ready for the adventure that is going to ensue? Look to others to join in the good times.

CAPRICORN – Dec 22/Jan 20
Capricorn, many challenges have been coming your way, and you have handled them like a champion. Spend a little time pampering yourself as a reward.

AQUARIUS – Jan 21/Feb 18
Aquarius, when others test your patience, find a healthy way to blow off some steam. Enlist the help of a fun-loving friend to get away for a little bit.

PISCES – Feb 19/Mar 20
For single Pisces, a new romance could be on the horizon. If you are attached, the romance may be kicked up a notch.

WE'RE THE PEOPLE YOU'VE KNOWN AND TRUSTED FOR OVER 25 YEARS

GENUINE PEOPLE, REAL PRICES

Stephen K. ★★★★★

Best prices you'll find around. I traveled 2 hours to get to Orleans Ford. The cars sometimes sell themselves, but I was also assisted by a salesman. Aaron was the best! Not even trying to push the sale as many other salesman do while being backed into a corner. The car was beautiful and as advertised. One of the mechanics in the shop was a little grumpy when I asked for the car to be put on a lift. I understand where he was coming from though. He needs his lift to make money. Aaron made sure everything was taken care of for me. They have coffee and other drinks while waiting as well. I'd definitely by from Orleans Ford again. Great car, good staff and all around perfect service. A++++++

Tyler B. ★★★★★

From start to finish the entire buying process of my new 2018 F150 Lariat Sport SE was flawless. This is my 4th new Ford vehicle however it's the first time I've dealt with Orleans personally and I have no complaints. I laid out my expectations from the get go and Mike never skipped a beat on delivering exactly what I wanted.

Gene G. ★★★★★

Service associates are pleasant and professional. Sales associates seem courteous. A larger service parking area would be nice. It's a tight squeeze to get in, out, and pick up both vehicles and people. To date, we have purchased 3 Ford vehicles from Orleans, and will, most likely, continue to do so. We are Ford Folks. Great vehicles, great service at Orleans Ford.
