Councilman Mark Gjonaj

250 Broadway, Suite 1847
New York, NY 10007

Recently, I began ShameNYC, a social media campaign calling on residents of the Bronx to draw attention to the egregious neglect the Bronx has faced for decades. Residents of the Bronx and every New Yorker for that matter can use this online resource to alert my office of any new or outstanding issues throughout the city. It has become extremely evident that government agencies lack apt response and repair times for a myriad of issues, such as noise, illegal parking, unmaintained parks, potholes, and hazardous sidewalks. We have had previous dialogue with the Department of Parks, Transportation, and Sanitation for their unacceptable maltreatment of our public spaces.

However, we have succeeded in many ways. Rodman's Neck, a beautiful and lush destination off City Island, has been the unfortunate home to almost twenty abandoned and deteriorating boats. Along with debris, these boats have been both an eye-soar and a danger to people trying to spend time in and around the bay. Fortunately, last week, following incredible pressure from constituents through ShameNYC, the Department of Parks finally removed debris and five of the boats.

Overgrown grass has also threatened the cleanliness and aesthetic of the Bronx. On streets where the Departments of Sanitation and Transportation offer no help, grass and bushes creep through sidewalks and fences, damaging property and posing fall risks. Esplanade Avenue, East Tremont Avenue, and Bruckner Avenue are just three of many streets to suffer from this negligence. Fortunately, constituents used ShameNYC to bring these problems to our attention. While in one instance the Department of Sanitization addressed the issue, for the other we collaborated with Wildcat Service Corp to clean the sidewalk.

These successes, however, are only steps in the right direction. Boats remain Eastchester Bay and many sidewalks still sprout overgrown grass. While the Department of Sanitation, Parks, and Transportation are responsible for fixing these issues, it takes a considerable amount of time and pressure from my office and constituents. Hence, for the time being, it is imperative to hold every government agency accountable, in hopes that these departments become more responsible and productive.

1 tbsp. ranch seasoning
1 tsp. dried oregano
Kosher salt
Freshly ground black pepper

Directions

1. Preheat oven to 225°. Grease a large baking sheet with cooking spray. Slice zucchini into very thin rounds, using a mandolin if you have one! Pat zucchini with paper towels to draw out excess moisture.
2. In a large bowl, toss zucchini with oil then toss in ranch seasoning, oregano, salt, and pepper. Place in a single layer on baking sheets.
3. Bake until crispy, about 1 hour 20 minutes, checking after about an hour. Let cool to room temperature before serving.

Bronx, NY 10461

SENIOR CITIZEN DISCOUNTS AT AREA COLLEGES

Did you know that several of our City University schools such as Queens College, Lehman College, Hunter College and private institutions such as St. John's University are some of the many area schools that offer discounted tuition fees to adults over 60-years-old? At my alma mater, CUNY Hunter College, a senior citizen that is over 60-years-old and is a resident of New York State can take college courses while only having to pay $65 for the general fee at time of registration. If you or someone has interest, please feel free to contact me at my office at (718) 892-1161. I know exactly how difficult it might be to decide which courses you want to take and how to register. Please take advantage of this wonderful opportunity to take classes at some of New York City's best higher education institutions! For those who have young ones heading off to college in a few weeks, I am also available to discuss what college is like and what to expect as a student. My role as District Manager, if nothing else, is to convey what I learned to the next generation.

NOTIFY NYC

While Community Boards certainly do its part in disseminating information from the City, it is up to us as residents to register ourselves and our loved ones for instant notifications from our City during an emergency. Notify NYC, administered by NYC Emergency Management, is the City of New York's official source for information about City services and resources during emergencies. Notify NYC alerts you to public transit delays, vehicular collisions on highways and impending weather-related events that may affect school closures, City services or daily travel. If you wish to register, please call 3-1-1. If you wish to register online, please visit www.nyc.gov/notifynyc. You can also download the free "Notify NYC" mobile application on your smart phone and/or tablet.

NYC AGENCY WEBSITES

Calling 311 and visiting its website and retrieving the corresponding "service request number" when you file a complaint is extremely helpful for myself and my staff to track and resolve complaints with municipal agencies. However, I must bring to your attention that there are several city agencies that have websites that are becoming more user-friendly and more interactive where you can lodge a complaint, request or service on the actual website. I encourage all to visit agency websites such as the NYC Department of Transportation, Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, Department of Housing Preservation and Development and Department of Social Services. As always, my staff is available to help you navigate the respective websites as each has resources that can help homeowners, tenants, seniors, disabled persons and young people.

THE CENTER FOR COMMUNITY AND ETHNIC MEDIA at the Craig Newmark Graduate School of Journalism at CUNY is pleased to announce the 2020 Census Reporting Fellowship. The purpose of this fellowship is to help participants understand the importance of the decennial census both for their particular communities and the larger polity, and to give them the research and data tools they need to access a wealth of data and report on census-related stories in their communities. This way, the participants will enhance their ability to build civic connections within their communities. The fellows will attend classes for seven consecutive Thursday evenings (5:00 - 8:00pm) beginning on September 5 at the Craig Newmark Graduate School of Journalism. Instructors will include researchers, data journalists, demographers and reporters currently following the developing news about the Census.
