Fair season returns to Wellington

August is fair season as the annual Lorain County Fair makes its return to the county fairgrounds in Wellington.

The summer tradition dating back to 1846 will return starting on Aug. 19 with final preparations well underway.

Lorain County Fair Board President Ron Pickworth said the process is shaping up well.

"Everything's going pretty good," Pickworth said. "Next week, there will be lots of activity."

Pickworth said the Fair Board is excited to add a beer tent to the festivities this year and expanded activities for Children's Day.

The beer tent will be connected to the grand stand in a defined area for enjoyment during the grand stand shows.

"We've been studying it for several years, and checked with several other local fairs and we think it will be a reasonable addition to our fair,"

Pickworth noted. "I guess if it's good enough for Cedar Point and Disney World, it's good enough for us."

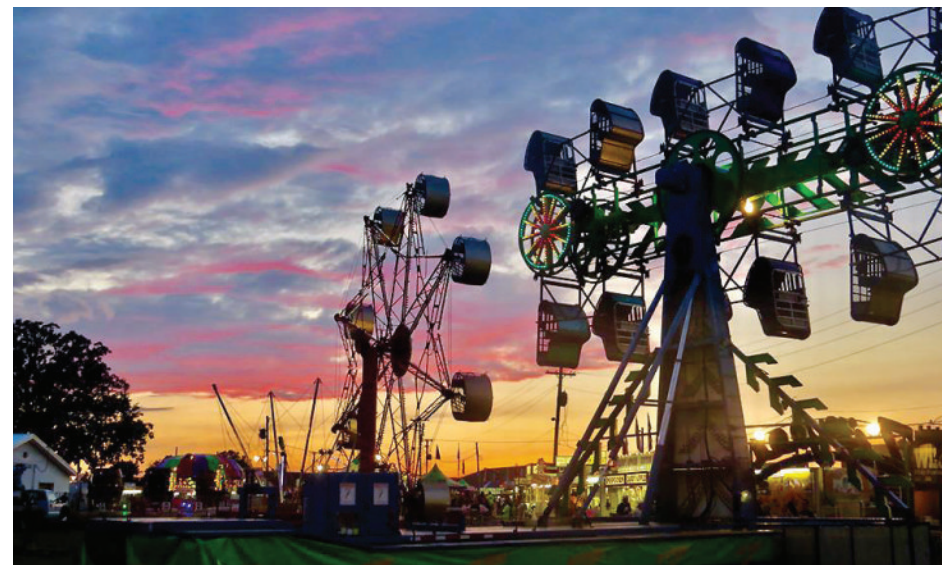

Additionally, after the successful introduction of Children's Day in 2018, it will return and is slated for Aug. 21 with expanded activities for families and children.

"Last year, we stated our Wednesday kids day and it was very successful," Pickworth said. "And this year, we've added more activities. We've been very happy with it."

With the Fair mere days away, Pickworth said organizers are ready for another successful year.

"Everybody right now is starting to work on their departments they are tied to, and getting areas cleaned up and prepped for all the animals and the cages," he said. "The grounds people are working all the time and things are shaping up really well."

The 2019 Lorain County Fair will feature headlining artists Granger Smith at 7:30 p.m., Aug. 19, followed by Foreigner at 7:30 p.m., Aug. 20.

Aug. 21 will feature the Ohio State Tractor Association's truck pull at 7 p.m.

Aug. 22 is senior citizens and veterans day with all military veterans and seniors ages 65 and older getting in free of charge.

Aug. 24 will host the evening combine derby and truck derby at 7 p.m. with the concluding day of Aug. 25 hosting the demolition derby at 4 p.m.

The Lorain County Fair goes from Aug. 19-25 from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m., Aug. 19-2.

General admission is $5 at the gate.

Lorain County Fair marks it's 174th Year

By the Lorain County Fair Board

The present Lorain County Agricultural Society was organized in the year 1846.

Prior to that date, shows for stock, etc., had been held in Elyria and Oberlin.

As early as 1833, a stock show was held east of the Beebe House, on the site of Ely Park.

How many of these exhibitions were held previous to the organization of the present Society cannot be ascertained — there must have been several.

In October 1845, a show was held in Oberlin and it appears that there had been earlier meetings of a like nature.

Whatever had been done by Elyria or Oberlin prior to 1846 no doubt partially paved the way for the Lorain County Agricultural Society, which was formed under an act of the legislature that would encourage agricultural development.

This piece of legislation passed on

Feb. 27, 1846, and the first meeting of the Society was held on Wednesday, April 29, 1846.

Those present voted on committees, directors, and membership.

It is very evident that, in the early days of the Society, the managers were men who were deeply interested and very zealous in the work.

The first four Fairs were held at Summer's Park in Elyria.

The first permanent Fairgrounds extended south along the Black River on West Avenue from Second Street to Third Street.

The fifth Fair was held in Oberlin in 1850 and was moved to Wellington the following year.

In 1852, the Fair was brought back to the original Elyria site and, in 1863, the Society voted to enlarge the Fairgrounds.

Purchase of land from the Ely family for $500.00 cash was finalized in 1867, and volunteers helped the Society move buildings to the new Elyria site, get the grounds ready, and build offices and other buildings.

Over the years, a dining hall and floral hall were added.

The Fairs were held at this location until 1941, when the Lorain County Fair merged with the Wellington Independent Fair and moved to Wellington at the site they are held today.

One of the original buildings from the Elyria site was moved to the current Fairgrounds and the restoration was complete in 2009.

It is now known as Heritage Barn.

Following the 1941 merger, the Fair struggled through the war years but still continued to grow.

As the Fair grew, it was extended over the years from three days to the seven-day Fair we have now to accommodate the throngs of people who came to the Fair.

More land was purchased and some land traded with the Village of Wellington.

The land south of the railroad was traded so that Wellington could build its Upgrade Reservoir.

The Fair received land on the east side of the Fairgrounds beyond the old pond that was used for livestock water.

When the Fair began to get its water from the Village, the pond was filled and used for more parking.

The 4-H program is one of the largest in the state, and our young people are very dedicated to their projects and a big asset to the Fair with many volunteers.

LORAIN COUNTY FAIR FROM PAGE 3

programs have grown as quickly as the Fair and the Society.

The Junior Fair Boar is made up of teenagers with several adult advisers.

Currently, there are 30 youth on the Junior Fair Board selected by the Junior Fair membership.

That membership consists of more than 2,000 members involved through 120 4-H clubs, special interest programs, overnight camping participants, day camp participants, and school enrichment programs.

Over the years, from the late '50s to the present time, the Board of Directors have filled the evening hours with many different attractions, such as country music stars, super modified tractor pull, combine demolition derby, car demolition derbies, and rodeos, to name a few.

Two stages behind the grandstand provide free entertainment and many more events too numerous to mention. During the daytime, there are many judged events at the Livestock Barns and in the Arts and Crafts Buildings.

We can thank our ancestors for the Lorain County Fair as we know it today.

They laid a good foundation for what a county fair should be.

The Lorain County Fair represents the work of many dedicated and hard working Board members, volunteers, individuals and families. Hours of labor and love of many people who share their leadership skills and talents are responsible for making this event happen each year.

The Lorain County Fair is always held in August, two Mondays before Labor Day, and runs for seven days.

It is the second largest county fair in the state, with one of the largest Junior Fair programs.

The goal of the Fair has always been to educate people about animals and to hold a family-oriented event that represents the high standards that have been set over the many years.

Special thanks to Gordon Greene for his contribution to our History page.
