By Lorraine Gabbert
Senior Staff Writer

Featuring local artisans, wineries, and community, the 43rd annual Almaden Valley Art & Wine Festival is just around the corner. Beautiful Almaden Lake Park will be the setting for this highly anticipated event from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., on Sunday, September 15, 2019.

“People love having an open space where they can walk along with their wine glasses and tour the artists’ booths while listening to music, all outdoors and close to home,” says Jenny Teixeira, Festival Entertainment Chair. “It’s a whole experience only an outdoor festival can provide.”

An Almaden Valley tradition since 1976, the festival features a wide variety of entertainment.

Team M Taekwondo, Aerial Tumbling, and Acrogymnastics, Leland High School Dance Team, Almaden Spirit Athletics, and Willow Glen High School Spirit Squad will be performing on the Main Stage, in addition to popular, local bands.

To encourage the audience to sit awhile and enjoy the show, a large shade structure has been extended from the stage into the food area, and tables with umbrellas will be provided. Boutique wines from Northern California vineyards will be available, including rose wines from Guglielmo Winery and Ironstone Vineyards. A variety of food offerings include gourmet food trucks, and new this year, Indian cuisine and snow cones.

ley, Teixeira has been attending the festival since she was a child and appreciates being a part of it now. “I always try to take a moment to walk down the center and watch people enjoying themselves,” she says. She also loves seeing the proud faces of parents watching their kids perform.

SVO PAC endorses Matt Mahan for San Jose City Council District 10

The Silicon Valley Organization (The SVO) Political Action Committee (PAC) announced the endorsement of Matt Mahan for San Jose City Council District 10 in the March 3, 2020 primary election.

“Matt’s past experience both in the community and in the business sector will help him be an effective legislator on the San Jose City Council,” said Matthew R. Mahood, President & CEO of The SVO. “In a time of unprecedented growth, coupled with the challenges of housing costs and traffic congestion, Matt brings a fresh perspective that will positively impact San Jose residents for years to come. Out of all the candidates running in this race, Matt is the most prepared and most knowledgeable on the issues that matter to his district.”

Matt Mahan

Mahan has served as a teacher, neighborhood leader, and Commissioner to San Jose’s Clean Energy Community Advisory Commission while serving as CEO for the technology company he founded, Brigade. His vision for San Jose includes increasing housing supply at all income levels, using new innovative strategies to address homelessness, and investing in transit infrastructure. Mahan says he intends to accomplish these goals by increasing collaboration between local businesses and the City of San Jose.

In addition to the SVO PAC’s endorsement, Mahan’s other current key endorsements include Santa Clara County Assessor Larry Stone, San Jose Mayor Sam Liccardo, San Jose Vice Mayor Chappie Jones, Councilmember Lan Diep, Councilmember Pam Foley, and former San Jose Mayors Chuck Reed, Tom McEnery and Ron Gonzales.

“With just under six months still left until the March 2020 primary, Matt has already secured support from numerous San Jose leaders and District 10 community members. This is a testament to his ability to deliver results through building a diverse coalition of stakeholders throughout San Jose” said Anil Babbar, SVO PAC Chair.

Sales tax hike considered for 2020 ballot

Santa Clara County Supervisor Cindy Chavez wants her board colleagues to agree on placing a 5/8-cent sales tax increase on the November 2020 ballot.

The Board of Supervisors have agreed to consider Chavez's proposal at its Sept. 10 meeting. An estimated $250 million a year would be added to the budget if at least four of the supervisors choose to put the proposed tax on the ballot and voters approve it.

How Will the Express Lanes Work?

1. Express lanes are separated from regular lanes by double white painted buffer.
2. Electronic signs display the current toll for solo drivers with FasTrak®. Toll will vary based on the level of congestion in the express lanes and will be adjusted to maintain free-flowing traffic.
3. An overhead antenna reads a FasTrak transponder and the correct toll is automatically deducted from prepaid FasTrak accounts.

SR 85 HOV Lane - finally on the move

By Johnny Khamis
Special to the Times

Those of you who have been following my efforts to relieve traffic congestion along the clogged Highway 85 corridor will know that my former colleague, Don Rocha, and I got unanimous support from the City Council to advocate for the SR 85 Express Lane/High Occupancy Vehicle Lane (HOV) project back in 2014.

I'm excited to report that the Highway 85 Policy Advisory Board, of which I am a member, has finally voted to recommend to VTA that we move forward with construction of new express lanes for Highway 85.

In 2015, following opposition to the project from leaders in cities along the 85 corridor, instead of moving forward with express lanes immediately, the VTA voted to perform another study – despite existing studies that already justified the need for the addition of a lane in each direction on Highway 85. Now, after several more years and undertaking this expensive study, we've come to the same conclusion: new HOV lanes will help relieve an overcrowded Highway 85. While the lanes are being recommended as bus-only lanes, I'm looking forward to their completion so they may begin to provide some relief to the congestion on Highway 85.

Thanks to voter approval of the 2016 Measure B transportation tax, $350 million was designated specifically for express lanes. When I served on the VTA Board, I worked to ensure that this was included in the spending plan for Measure B.

What I said back then is even truer today: traffic congestion is bad for workers, bad for our economy, and bad for the environment. Adding lanes to the wide median of SR 85 is an easy way to relieve terrible congestion while avoiding the negative effects typically involved with widening a highway.

I am looking forward to fewer commute delays, improved air quality, and less stress once the project and other transportation improvements are implemented.

Delta Air Lines contributes $25,000 to 2019 YMCA of Silicon Valley Summer Learning Programs

Thanks to a generous $25,000 sponsorship from Delta Air Lines supporting YMCA of Silicon Valley's Summer Learning Program, San Jose youth have had a safe place to continue learning this summer.

Delta's support helps prevent summer learning loss and provide reading and enrichment to the 117 youth who have participated in the 2019 YMCA Summer Learning Program at Rocketship Los Suenos Academy in San Jose.

The YMCA Summer Learning Program is designed to mitigate summer learning loss and improve literacy skills for low-income first through third grade students who are reading below grade level.

During the last three years, Delta has partnered with the YMCA of Silicon Valley to help close the academic achievement gap for Silicon Valley youth through YMCA after school and summer programs that improve students' educational readiness, engagement and outcomes, while helping them grow emotionally and physically, too.

When school is out for the summer, many children struggle to access educational and enrichment opportunities. The Y's Summer Learning Program is part of an ongoing effort to close the academic achievement gap and ensure that all students have a safe and enriching environment to be in when school is out. Evidence-based research has shown that low-income students lose 2.5 to 3 months of learning each summer and this is cumulative over their school career. This program enables students to avoid falling further behind over the summer and even catch up to their peers performing at grade level by the start of the next school year. Additionally, studies show that getting kids to read at grade level by third grade significantly improves their likelihood of completing high school.

JoJojiCreations products are hand generated by Kyle and his mom, Jo. Kyle is a high-functioning autistic young man. He started sewing to earn money each week. His favorite thing to do is to organize all his pin cushions before he can even sew. His parents are so proud of him! So how did they come up with the name ‘JoJojiCreations?’ Jo is the main seamstress who also loves to shop for the fabric used on all items. Joji is Kyle’s middle name and he is the main super sew dude. And together these two generate a lot of ‘Creations!!!’

Welcome to the 43rd Annual Almaden Valley Art & Wine Festival!

The Almaden Valley Women’s Club is pleased to bring you the 43rd Almaden Valley Art & Wine Festival. Our dedicated team, made up entirely of volunteers, has been working hard to plan this fun family-oriented annual event which showcases our community spirit and mobilizes its talent to raise funds to support community needs within San Jose and Almaden Valley. From the first Jaws of Life purchased with Festival Proceeds and given to the Almaden Fire Station in 1976 to the 27 charitable grants and six scholarships awarded from the 2018 Festival proceeds, these contributions are made possible by the volunteers, vendors, entertainers, corporate sponsors, and most importantly all of you, the community members who attend the festival!

We want to specially thank the City of San Jose and the Almaden Lake Park Staff for partnering with us to make the Festival a success. We would also like to give a personal thank you to the City of San Jose Cultural Affairs Department for their generous grant.

It takes hard work and lots of time from each member of the Almaden Valley Women’s club to put on one of the best festivals in San Jose. I thank each of these wonderful ladies for their support and dedication.

Times Community

Festival

Festival Chair Lisa Boissier. "These are our community's kids. It shows how vibrant and active members of our community are. Families, parents, grandparents, aunts, and uncles come to see their kids perform and enjoy the art, food and wine, and Kid's Fun Zone. It gives it a real community feel. It's what we're all here for; our friends, neighbors and kids. We have a lot of talented kids, musicians, artists, and wine-makers."

The festival's Kid's Fun Zone includes a rock-climbing wall, fly-high jumpers, giant slide, bounce houses, face painting, art projects, and a Children's Stage. Leland Robotics, Little Gym, and Shaolin Kungfu Martial Arts will be performing and SJ Sharkie will be making an appearance.

"We're hoping to bring out the community and make it a nice day to reconnect after summer," says Teixeira. "With its pumpkins, sunflowers, and candles, it's always been a great way to kick off the fall."

For Almaden Valley Women's Club members, watching people enjoy themselves is the highlight of their day, making all of their hard work worthwhile. "It's such a rewarding experience, we sign up to do it again and again," says Teixeira. "Some of us have done it for 15 or 20 years. Our motto is, 'Friendship through Service,' and it's really the case. We work side by side to accomplish something great together."

In addition to planning and hosting the festival, members attend social events and meetings with guest speakers. "We have a great time coming together and we also bring friends into it," says Teixeira. Those who live and/or work in the 95118, 95120, and 95123 ZIP codes are eligible to join the Women's Club.

All of the festival's proceeds go back into the community. Money from the very first festival went towards purchasing the jaws of life for the Almaden fire station, which was used to rescue a teenager from a car accident on Almaden Expressway.

The Almaden Art and Wine Festival is the signature fundraiser of the Almaden Valley Woman's Club. Half of the festival's proceeds benefit community non-profits, and the other half provides merit-based scholarships to deserving students. Kaitlyn Barbaccia, Sergio Camacho, Bhargavi Gabriella, Capriana Jiang, Tushar Lakshminarayanan, and Megan Shieh are this year's scholarship award winners.

About 25 community organizations received grants last year, ranging from counseling services to women's shelters and local schools. Some recipients include: Almaden Valley Counseling Services, Castillero Middle School, Jake's Wish Dog Rescue, Leland High School, Live Oak Adult Day Services, Loaves & Fishes, Next Door Solutions to Domestic Violence, Pioneer High School, Respite and Research for Alzheimers, and Stroke Awareness.

"Giving back is the most rewarding part," says Teixeira. "The Women's Club is a great support group and a lot of fun."

"Every single person in the club is dedicated to the community," says Boissier. "It takes hard work and lots of time from each member... to put on one of the best festivals in San Jose. We put this on as a team. It's challenging, but when it all comes together, it's joyful. There's just this great sense of satisfaction that we're doing something productive and helpful for the community. It's gratifying."

The festival, which costs $100,000 to run, wouldn't be possible without sponsorship. Last year, the festival received corporate sponsorship of $54,000 and in-kind donations valued at $50,000. About $50,000 was raised from the festival, largely from wine and beer sales, as well as artists and vendors fees. "We try to minimize costs and maximize donations," says Boissier. "We're very grateful for the bands that donate their time."

Each year, the Women's Club must reapply for a grant from the City of San Jose's Office of Cultural Affairs. This year, they were fortunate to receive a grant of $20,000 from the City. Other platinum sponsors include: Jackie Jones/Coldwell Banker, Skip's Tire and Auto Repair Centers, Almaden Times, San Jose Giants, KLIV 1590, KRTY 95.3, Del Grande Dealer Group, and Bloomster's. Many other sponsors reflect community-based businesses, such as: Almaden Valley Nursery, Amato's Pizzeria, Ana's Bakery, and Posh Bagels.

"We could not put on the festival without the support of our Corporate Sponsors and a generous grant from the City of San Jose Cultural Affairs," says Boissier. "We have many Corporate Sponsors that come back year after year to support us, such as Jackie Jones, Skip's Tires, and Amato's Pizzeria, who are all sponsors for our commemorative glasses."

Each year, local students submit logo designs to the Women's Club, which also decorate souvenir glasses and promote the festival. This year's chosen design, created by Spencer Dyson, features an "A" and a "V" for Almaden Valley, paint brushes, wine grapes, and Mt. Umunhum. The four finalists are: Kyle Lai, Rebecca Lofis, Heeju Nam, and Megan Pham. The winner is awarded $200, 2nd place $150, 3rd place $100, 4th place $75, and 5th place $50.

Bloomster's, known for distributing its iconic sunflowers from its booth, also decorates the VIP area and corporate sponsor booths. The first year Boissier and her family attended the festival, her daughter, then elementary-school age, was delighted to receive a sunflower. She never forgot that and today, a photo she took at age 14 of a sunflower set against a blue sky decorates the festival ads and posters.

"Just being able to sit in the park from any vantage point and look over at the lake or at Mt. Umunhum... it's gorgeous," says Boissier. "It's such a beautiful setting and in our own backyard. I can't think of a better place for our festival. It's a great celebration. I hope it will be a lot of fun."

San Jose named 2019 Most Educated City

San Jose, CA has won the 2019 Most Educated City Award in California from Insurify.

Using the educational data reported by drivers who submitted over 1.6 million car insurance applications, each city was analyzed for the overall academic achievement of its citizens.

An education score was determined using a proprietary scoring algorithm that incorporated the educational history and performance of each driver or the GPA of current students. The city with the highest average score per state was then selected.
