Evergreen Valley College president placed on leave; reason a mystery

Chancellor will assume Keith Aytch's administrative duties

The president of Evergreen Valley College, Keith Aytch, has been placed on leave, but there is no explanation for his absence.

Byron Breland, chancellor of the San Jose-Evergreen Community College District, has taken over Aytch's administrative duties in the interim, according to spokesperson Ryan Brown.

Breland sent an email regarding Aytch's leave, but he provided no details on why he was placed on leave, or if he will be returning. It was reported that Breland did not discuss the matter at a recent staff-wide meeting and asked the faculty not to discuss Aytch's leave.

Breland said that rumors about Aytch being arrested

Initiatives introduced to build back yard cottages

Abodu Corp. will rapidly install backyard home in two weeks

By William Bellou

The mayor recently unveiled a series of initiatives that he says would shorten the time and lower the cost to build a backyard home (Auxiliary Dwelling Units - ADU) by streamlining San Jose's application process.

"We all know that we are in a housing crisis," Liccardo said. "We are struggling mightily to get more rent restricted apartments built. We are not going to solve this crisis $650,000 at a time—that's the cost to build a single apartment."

San Jose lawmakers hope that as a result of the initiatives, more people will build backyard cottages. The city's goal is to add 25,000 units—10,000 of them below-market-rate—to the city's housing units by 2022. ADU construction has been prioritized largely because it's a potentially cheaper, faster way to boost the number of housing units.

To make the process as easy as possible, the city has created an online portal and a checklist to educate homeowners about ADUs and the regulatory requirements to build them. Liccardo said a full-time employee, Sarah Shull, will help homeowners applying for an ADU permit. Officials estimate that there's room to build as many as 160,000 such backyard homes in San Jose.

The new online portal asks San Jose residents to sign up for information on how to build and permit Auxiliary Dwelling Units (ADUs) and how to take advantage of ADU programs. The online portal will also allow home-

Dust flies as buildings are demolished at Evergreen Valley College

The dust was flying and metal screeching noises could be heard as the old San Jose/Evergreen Community College District Office and South Bay Regional Public Safety Training building used for the police academy were demolished on September 5.

The old District Office facility sat vacant since early 2015 when the District Office was relocated to its current location at 40 South Market Street in downtown San Jose. The Academy relocated to Gavilan College.

"The primary purposes and uses for both the old San Jose/Evergreen Community College District Office and South Bay Regional Public Safety Training ended and the buildings were in poor condition and presented a community safety hazard, said SJECDD Interim Vice Chancellor Jorge Escobar. "The buildings are located on what has been designated as surplus land and they are contained in approximately 27 acres at a premium location in Evergreen."

Escobar said, "The District felt that with the liability and safety concerns on vacant and fully powered buildings, the best course of action was to demolish the existing buildings. The project planning and architectural work on this project began in 2018 and is being funded through general obligation bonds."

The old San Jose/Evergreen Community College District Office and South Bay Regional Public Safety Training building were razed on September 5.

Three finalists for San Jose Planning Commission announced

Three finalists for a highly-coveted position on the San Jose Planning Commission will be interviewed by the San Jose City Council during its meeting on Sept. 17.

The finalists are: Mariel Caballero, a Santa Clara County deputy director at the probation department; Louis Barocio, vice principal at East Side Union High School District; and business owner Rolando Bonilla.

In order to become a finalist, applicants must receive indications of interest from four or more San Jose councilmembers. The candidate who receives six or more votes will be appointed to a term that expires June 2020

BART's extension through San Jose chosen to receive $125 million federal grant

BART's long-awaited extension through downtown San Jose is poised to get a $125 million windfall from the federal government to bring its construction vision into reality.

"This $125 million is really a down payment on the future," San Jose Mayor Sam Liccardo said. "And of course, this is a down payment on the future of transit."

The Federal Transit Administration picked Valley Transportation Authority (VTA) for a pilot program to fast-track funding for major transportation projects. VTA requested about $1.4 billion in federal funding for four new stations. The agency will collect the $125 million grant when it meets all the requirements to proceed to a construction agreement.

Liccardo said, "Silicon Valley suffers from a 'suburban sprawling pattern,' where families struggle to find affordable housing and residents are caught in traffic that is 'choking us.' The extension project will be instrumental in creating a promising vision of Silicon Valley

Laurelwood School begins again with a running start

By Frank Shortt
Times staff writer

Laurelwood School in the Evergreen School District got off to a running start as the school year began successfully and smoothly.

Back-to-school night, Sept. 5, was a time for parents to meet teachers, and vice-versa, and had a very favorable turnout. Parents were enthused to see their children's classrooms as well as to be able to meet the capable principal, Mrs. Kameelah Green who once again is at the helm of the school for another year.

The Mix-It-Up lunch and Lion Character Lessons occurred on Sept. 9. This activity teaches children valuable lessons on getting along and mostly focuses on Respect. The idea is to mix up the lunch table assignments during lunch so that students may meet new friends. There were also presentations about meeting new people. The Lion Character lessons for each grade level are about showing respect for each other's names and featured a book entitled: "My Name Is Sangoel." This activity will be accompanied by a corresponding art activity.

Roald Dahl Day will be celebrated all day on September 13. Dahl is the author of Willie Wonka and the Chocolate factory, a well-known children's book. There is to be a celebration of reading through Roald Dahl's Birthday led by Mr. Calderon (4th/5th) and Ms. Kemling (4th). All participants are to dress-up as their favorite book character or author. The 4th and 5th grade students will enjoy a BFG dream/happy thoughts bubble release party. These students made shadow drawings and an extension activity related to THE BFG by Roald Dahl. On Friday morning there will also be a photo booth set up in front of Laurelwood School.

On Thursday, Sept 19, it will be Beautify Laurelwood Day. This will be the 3rd annual day for this event. This is the day when children can wear their 'outdoor clothing' and take on a project of cleaning and beautifying an assigned block of the school. Parents and community members will join faculty and students on campus for various cleanup projects throughout the day. This project teaches students how to respect, not only the school environment, but the total environment.

Beautification of Laurelwood is enhanced by the newest mural by Lila Gemellos, San Jose Muralist of fame, adding to the ambiance of the entire school.

Residents want to stop the 'Dollar Tree' from opening at the Evergreen Village Square

Sikhya Gupta started a petition to stop the opening of a Dollar Store at the Evergreen Village Square, and nearly 1,400 have signed the petition so far.

By signing this petition you do not want either Dollar General or Family Dollar (Dollar Tree) in the Evergreen Village Square.

The reason for the petition is the residents believe they would rather have a different kind of store in the family friendly location. They also believe another location is not needed as there are two other Dollar stores in Evergreen.

This type of retail shop gives a negative perception of a desperate, struggling community which directly affects property values by discouraging new home buyers and potential businesses of investing in our community.

"Having a Dollar Tree at the square will attract a lot of traffic and unwanted elements in the community," said an Evergreen resident.

Those interested in signing the petition, do a google search: change.org/village-square.

owners to determine if their property qualifies for an ADU, and begin the application and permitting process. The online portal can be accessed at www.sjbackyardhomes.com.

Abodu launches new "backyard home"

Abodu, San Jose's first pre-approved ADU builder, has begun selling homes this month in San Jose. The company is offering backyard homes for extra space or rental income with a fast 2-weeks-in-your-backyard install process.

"We won't solve our housing crisis $650,000 at a time—we have to bend the cost curve in order to build more housing," said San Jose Mayor Sam Liccardo. "We're grateful for Abodu's partnership in offering residents pre-approved "backyard homes" — which will help add critically-needed affordable housing to our city's housing stock. I encourage others to follow their lead."

Abodu says it builds well-designed backyard homes and offers an easy delivery process, installing a new home within two weeks in a backyard. Abodu claims its homes add "unparalleled functionality, value, extra space and/or rental income to a home."

"Abodu is proud to enter the Bay Area market and provide a new, cost-effective alternative for those seeking more space or looking to monetize their backyard via rental income," said John Geary, Co-Founder at Abodu. "Whether a buyer is installing an Abodu backyard home for a family member or as an additional source of income, this is a great and easy way to increase the value and functionality of a home."

Geary said, "Abodu backyard homes are a balance of thoughtful design and a right-sized space. Each 495 square foot unit is highly customizable, providing options for a range of uses -- all with the goal of creating a no-compromise, standalone unit owners will be proud to have in their backyard."

"We applaud Abodu for working with us on our new Master Plan Program, and for creating an ADU product that enables customers

2000 Measure A Citizens Watchdog Committee REPORT TO THE PUBLIC Fiscal Year 2018 (July 1, 2017 – June 30, 2018)

2000 Measure A Fiscal Year 2018

VTA delivers transportation solutions critical to the vitality, prosperity and quality of life for all who live, work, study or play in Santa Clara County.

In November 2000, Santa Clara County voters approved Measure A, a 30-year half-cent sales tax devoted to specific public transit capital improvement projects and operations. Tax collection began in mid-2006, making FY 2018 the 12th year of the 30-year program.

2000 Measure A Citizens Watchdog Committee Finding

Santa Clara County voters entrusted the Citizens Watchdog Committee (CWC), comprised of fellow community members, with overseeing Measure A expenditures to ensure sales tax dollars are spent as intended by the ballot. After thorough and careful consideration:

It is the conclusion of the CWC that, for the period of FY 2018, 2000 Measure A tax dollars were spent in accordance with the intent of the measure.

FY 2018 Key Accomplishments

- Extending BART to the Silicon Valley cities of Milpitas, San Jose and Santa Clara. Construction for the two stations and parking structures for BART Silicon Valley Phase I was completed and systems integration testing is underway. Revenue service is projected by the end of 2019. In FY 2018, the VTA Board of Directors certified Phase II's Subsequent Environmental Impact Report, approved a single-bore tunneling methodology, and approved two station options: Downtown San Jose West and Diridon Station North. Phase II also received a Record of Decision from the Federal Transit Administration, the first required step to seek federal funding.
- Improving Bus Service in Major Corridors. The Alum Rock Santa Clara Bus Rapid Transit had its first complete year of operation in FY 2018. Curb side shelters will be installed to enhance customer experience.
- Extending Light Rail from Downtown San Jose to the East Valley. Final engineering was advanced for the Eastridge to BART Regional Connector Project (EBRC) in FY 2018. The supplemental environmental report incorporating aerial alignment and expressway geometry improvements was adopted in June 2019.

to swiftly install an ADU,” said Rosalynn Hughey, director of Planning, Building and Code Enforcement. “ADUs can help us address the housing crisis, and San Jose is committed to making ADUs easy to build; we welcome and appreciate vendors like Abodu for helping achieve that goal.”

Installation process

“Installation of an Abodu backyard home living unit is transparent from beginning to end, Geary said. “Abodu starts with a fixed-price approach in the purchase process and provides multiple financing options. Abodu works with the buyer to find the best financing from a flexible set of options, whether they want to put $0 down or pay entirely up front. With home construction off-site, buyers do not have to listen to a construction crew in the backyard for four months or more. Each Abodu home is crafted in a nearby factory and engineered to the highest environmental standards.”

Abodu units arrive fully constructed, with interior plumbing and electric completed in factory and Abodu units are fully electric and can be ordered with supplemental solar power. Abodu handles all of the work required to connect the unit to local utilities including water, plumbing and electric. Abodu backyard homes come fully appointed when delivered. This includes a dedicated bedroom (with built-in wardrobe), full bathroom (with large shower, built-in vanity and recessed medicine cabinet), fully appointed kitchen (including a full sized fridge/freezer, stovetop, oven, vented hood, dishwasher and kitchen sink) and a dedicated living room (with window bench). Additionally, all Abodu backyard homes come standard with air conditioning, heating and include a water heater.

Abodu's pricing

Pricing for Abodu's 495 square foot model starts at $199K and customers have the option of upgrading certain features including the entry door, exterior siding and appliances. As with all newly built homes in California, Abodu offers a limited warranty on the structure for 10 years.

Several thousand attend Hot San Jose Nights 2019

Several thousand people turned out for the 11th annual Hot San Jose Nights 2019 on an unusually cool Saturday, Sept. 7.

Under cloudy skies, the classic car show and air-plane show was held at Reid-Hillview Airport.

On display were a wide variety of new and vintage aircraft and a car show featuring an incredible array of antique cars, vintage cars, muscle cars, and sleek sports cars.

The very talented Victoria McDowell sang a very beautiful and emotional rendition of the National Anthem while the Civil Air Patrol presented the Color Guard.

Baylands RC Group dazzled the crowd with an air show with radio control prop planes, jets and a helicopter commentary.

The fabulous Eagles tribute band, Lyin' I's entertained everyone for several hours.

Romeo in Evergreen Valley says, "Where am I going to take them?"

Closure of recycling centers creates environmental problem

By Frank Shortt
 Times staff writer

Closure of recycling centers throughout the bay area, and especially San Jose has created an environmental problem.

It is noticeable that our streets are becoming more and more cluttered. Some say that some folks do not care about the environment any more. Some say that it is because the homeless, who used to be able to pick up a few cans and bottles along the streets, are unable to sell them any more due to recycling centers closures.

Regardless of the main reason, the fact remains that we do have more of a clutter problem. Two people, at least, care for the environment. They can be seen picking up the litter around the San Felipe and Yerba Buena Rd. area that originates at the local eateries in that area in Evergreen.

Each time we buy drinks in aluminum and plastic containers, we must pay a deposit fee as dictated by the state of California. The fee ranges from 5 cents to 15 cents per container, depending on the size, volume, and the beverage therein. Consumers are supposed to be able to return these containers to the store where they were purchased for a refund on the bottle or container. Where is this happening? As a result, these containers are most likely ending up on the streets.

With the closing of recycling centers, there will be more clutter on the city streets. Some are blaming the Federal Government because of the standoff with China on tariffs. Some say it is because of health issues that recycling centers are closing. What is the answer? If the State Government requires each of us as consumers to pay deposit fees, then it is up to the State Government to provide us with a place to recycle these objects requiring a deposit fee.

Many Californians are losing hundreds of dollars per year on deposit fees. It is especially so for those with larger families and who need to buy bottled water because they are afraid of existing water supplies. "Dumpster Divers" used to come around the neighborhood dumpsters and help keep down the amount of recycles in the dumpsters. These are not seen any more as there is no profit in doing it.

SB54 requires that all single-use plastics be made out of recyclable materials. This was a California Key Vote. State Senator Jim See CLOSURE, next page Beall voted yes on this piece of legislation. The question that most folks would like to ask Mr. Beall is: It is all well and good to require that all single-use plastics be made of recyclable material, but where do citizens go to recycle these materials to regain their deposit? Will this not add to the existing problem?

Closings of the recycle centers were brought about, supposedly, because of the dropping prices of aluminum and plastic. These centers were just no longer profitable to operate.

Most countries that were taking recycled material such as India, China, Vietnam, and a few others, have reached their limits of American recyclables. Some countries will not take our recyclables because of food contamination. So, what happens to the things we cannot recycle? They end up in landfills where some States have admitted that recycled materials are being incinerated. Is this what will happen in California? This will only add to the environmental problem.

The average American does not realize the environmental impact of one single piece of legislation. Not only the added manpower needed to implement the legislation, but the extra costs of implementing the law. It is easy for a legislator to submit a piece of legislation to the State Senate to please his or her local constituents, but the paying for the legislation rests solely upon the local taxpayers.

Cries can be heard from those who depended upon the local recycle centers for a few extra bucks. Before the local centers closed, they were able to walk there as they had no other transportation. Some could be seen carrying as many cans and bottles as their bikes allowed. The nearest recycling center for them now is in Berryessa. The recycler is helping to keep cans and bottles off the local streets. Such is progress!

Smoking/vaping and pets

By Dr. Raj Singh
Special to the Times

Cigarette smoke in people can cause lung cancer, bronchitis and heart disease.

Exposure to environmental cigarette smoke, also known as second hand smoke is linked to a long list of ailments and diseases in pets. Nicotine, tar and carbon monoxide are carcinogens found in cigarette smoke. Unfortunately, pets can be innocent victims of somebody's choice to smoke in the same home.

Pets share their home with us and breathe the same air as their owners. Small pets that spend a great deal of time with their smoking owners have almost the same nicotine levels as their owners. Nicotine can be detected in and on the hair of dogs and cats when they are exposed to second hand smoke. So along with inhaling second hand smoke, pets also ingest nicotine when they groom or clean themselves. When they inhale and ingest they get a double dose of the nicotine, a carcinogen. Typically, smoker owners have smoke residue in their home which has settled in the environment and other things like carpets, chairs, beds etc. so when pets sleep in that environment they again are exposed to smoke residue.

Effects of second hand smoke on pets

Pets have smoke related illnesses just like people, most commonly cancer and lung disease. Pets can have buildup of carbon in their lungs exactly as smoker's lungs which can lead to lung cancer. So your smoking affects your pet's health.

- Continuous exposure to secondhand tobacco smoke increases chances of your pet having nasal cancer. Pets also are more susceptible to having skin issues like allergies and scratching.

- Studies have found that dogs exposed to environmental smoke had higher chances of having heart disease and suffered damage to heart vessels.

- In cats, the most common tumor is lymphoma and cats inhaling secondhand smoke are at increased risk for developing this lymphoma.

- Oral tobacco use in humans can cause oral cancer. Similarly cats and dogs exposed to years of environmental smoke can also have oral tumors.

about your pet's health and yours as well. If you are a smoker, then please consider things you can do to reduce your pet's exposure to environmental smoke. You can take certain steps to minimize presence of secondhand smoke in your pet's environment:

- Steam clean carpets, curtains, and bedding to remove carbon deposits from your home.
- Bathe your pets to get rid of smoke residue from their fur.
- Smoke outdoors and away from pets. Do not smoke while your pet is in your lap or while driving when your pet is in the car.

So let's try to minimize the exposure to secondhand smoke. Quit smoking for good to protect your beloved pet's health and yours as well.
