The cost of a business license is based on the type business it is and for certain businesses the location of the business. Any license not purchased or renewed during the month of October will face penalty and interest.

Per Act No. 2014-430 and effective October 1, 2014: Prior to being issued a business license by the Probate office, the applicant must provide the Social Security Number (SSN) for individuals or their Federal Employer Identification Number (FEIN) for other entities.

Certain businesses must have permits before obtaining the license. Please bring or include all permits for business license in order to avoid a delay in the purchase of the license. (Examples: Automobile Permit, Fire Marshal Permit, Food Permit &/or Health Food Permit, etc.)

Despite years of warnings that older adults shouldn't take sedative drugs that put them at risk of injury and death, a new study reveals how many primary care doctors are still prescribing them, how often, and exactly where. Mapped out county by county, the study shows wide variation prescriptions of the drugs, called benzodiazepines. Some counties, especially in the Deep South and rural western states, had three times the level of sedative prescribing as others. The study also highlights gaps at the level of individual prescribers - some primary care providers prescribed sedatives more than six times more often than their peers. These high-intensity prescribers of drugs such as Xanax, Ativan and Valium also tended to be high-intensity prescribers of opioid painkillers

A new study published in Circulation showed that fish oil-which contains the omega-3s EPA and DHA - did not increase perioperative bleeding in surgery patients. In fact, higher blood omega-3 levels were associated with lower risk of bleeding.

A drug first identified 150 years ago and used as a smooth-muscle relaxant might make tumors more sensitive to radiation therapy, according to a recent study published in the Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences. The researchers found that the drug, called papaverine, inhibits the respiration of mitochondria, the oxygen-consuming and energy-making components of cells, and sensitizes model tumors to radiation. They found that the drug does not affect the radiation sensitivity of well-oxygenated normal tissues. The study "represents a potential landmark in the six-decade-old quest to eliminate hypoxia as a cause for radiotherapy treatment failure."

Saving You MONEY

SHOP TODAY'S LOW PRICE TAGS:
We have THOUSANDS of non-advertised items marked down throughout our entire store. More savings passed on to our customers. Just look for blue tags on the shelves.

NO LIMITS:
Our competitors also have advertised specials. The difference is, in most cases, they have a limit on how many of an item you can buy at the sale price...we don't have any limits to family shoppers.
