County will have early voting option for 9 days prior to Nov. 5 election

By Tom Rivers, Editor Posted 15 October 2019 on www.OrleansHub.com

ALBION – Registered voters in Orleans County will have the option to cast their ballots in early voting this year.

The county will accept ballots at the Board of Elections from Oct. 26 to Nov. 3. The county will have election inspectors on site and residents can vote as in any other election.

The option is part of a state mandate to allow greater access to the polls. The state is providing Orleans County with $27,251 towards the cost of implementing the reform.

The state is requiring at least one polling location for early voting for every 50,000 registered voters. The county was able to meet the standard with one polling location because it has 24,590 registered voters.

The Board of Elections moved in July from a suite in the Villages of Orleans Health and Rehabilitation Facility to the new addition on the County Administration Building, located behind the nursing home at 14016 Route 31.

The county will have four election inspectors on duty – 2 Republicans and 2 Democrats – for early voting.

The hours the polls will be open include:

- Oct. 26-27 (Saturday and Sunday) from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.
- Oct. 28 (Monday) from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.
- Oct. 29-30 (Tuesday and Wednesday) from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.
- Oct. 31-Nov. 1 (Thursday and Friday) from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.
- Nov. 2-3 (Saturday and Sunday) from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The general election is Nov. 5 with polls in the 10 towns in Orleans County open from 6 a.m. to 9 p.m.

New mural at Hoag Library will showcase swans

By Tom Rivers, Editor Posted 14 October 2019 on www.OrleansHub.com

ALBION – The design for a new mural inside Hoag Library will show swans flying high over the Erie Canal. Hoag Library patrons were asked to help pick the winning design. Stacey Kirby Steward, an Albion native, proposed three options for the mural, either showing swans, eagles or hawks in flight over the canal.

The vote totals include 71 for swans, 62 for eagles, and 27 for the hawk design. The Library's Board of Trustees approved the swan design after the community vote. Steward will paint the mural off-site and it will be installed in the Curtis Room, the largest meeting space in the library.

Betty Sue Miller, library director, said the mural could be in place in January. An anonymous donor is funding the project. This is the second art project at the library by Steward. She designed the stained-glass window with swans.

Before moving into the Hoag Library in July 2012, Albion's public library was known as the Swan Library, where it opened at 4 North Main St. in 1900 and remained the library's site for 112 years.

Tips on how to write CLASSIFIED ADS that sell!

- 1 USE A KEY WORD. This immediately tells the reader exactly what you have to sell.
- 2 Make your description CLEAR AND FACTUAL. State the year, make, model, color & size and tell what condition the item is in. Also, state the special features.
- 3 STATE THE PRICE. Successful classified advertisers have learned that the price in an ad helps increase the chances for results.
- 4 IF THERE IS A GENUINE SENSE OF URGENCY, say so. The words "We're moving," or "Must sell fast," suggest that readers respond immediately.
- 5 INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER. Classifieds get results fast and often generate immediate sales. If you cannot be available to answer the phone at all times, be sure to specify special calling times such as "after 9pm" or "before 11am."

Utility Vehicles: What's the Difference?

The terms "sport utility vehicle (SUV)" and "crossover" (also dubbed a compact sport utility vehicle, or CUV) are heard quite frequently and sometimes used interchangeably. It can be easy to blur the terms because of the subtle differences between these types of vehicles. But upon careful interpretation of these ultra-popular vehicles, the variations between them become more apparent. The frames of these vehicles can help people distinguish between them. Many car experts refer to SUVs as those vehicles that are equipped with the chassis of a truck, while crossovers are based on a car's platform. SUVs rely on a "body on frame," which means the body is built separately from the frame of the vehicle and then assembled later on. Crossovers use "unibody" architecture, which means the body and frame are one piece. SUVs are classified as a light truck and have the towing and performance capabilities of a pickup truck. As a result, the wheelbase, floorplan, suspension, powertrain, and other SUV arrangements are similar to those of a pickup. Conversely, crossovers use the platform of a sedan and handle much more like traditional passenger cars, offering smooth rides and responsive handling. Crossovers are often smaller than SUVs and may not have the off-roading or towing capacities of SUVs. Another difference is the driveline. Most SUVs employ four-wheel drive systems, while crossovers have two-wheel drive systems. ■

Keeping Your Vehicle Longer

Improved performance and reliability has increased the life expectancy of many vehicles. As a result, many drivers are keeping their cars and trucks in excess of 10 years. According to an IHS Markit study, the average age of vehicles in the United States is a record 11.6 years, with the average length of ownership at 79.3 months, or nearly seven years. Even after an owner has relinquished his or her new vehicle, that used car or truck can go on to provide many more years of utility for its next owner. Certain models top the charts among the longest kept vehicles, according to iSeeCars, an automotive industry group. These include the Toyota 4Runner, Chevrolet Corvette, Mercedes-Benz SLK, Porsche Boxster, and the Toyota Land Cruiser, which is the longest kept vehicle and also is the automaker's longest-running SUV. This vehicle is held onto for an average 10.6 years after being bought new. To hold on to their vehicles as long as possible, drivers should follow maintenance schedules, keep their cars and trucks clean and make repairs promptly. When it comes time to get a new vehicle, upkeep can go a long way toward improving resale value or getting back more on trade-ins. ■

Clean Air Filters

Cars and trucks can benefit greatly from clean air filters. Many drivers are aware of the need to change the oil in their vehicles according to the intervals designated in their owners' manuals, but few may be aware of the many benefits of changing air filters. One such benefit pertains to fuel efficiency. The automotive website CarsDirect.com notes that studies have shown that changing clogged air filters can improve fuel efficiency by as much as 10 percent and save drivers as much as 15 cents per gallon of fuel. Clean air filters also can benefit the environment. When vehicle air filters are clogged, air flow to the engine is reduced, adversely affecting vehicle emissions. Clean filters increase air flow to the engine, reducing vehicle emissions as a result. Clean air filters also can help drivers get more out of their vehicle investments. Designed to trap dirt and debris, clean air filters prolong engine life by preventing such particles from damaging engine components. Drivers can check their owners' manuals for air filter replacement guidelines, but manufacturers generally advise drivers change their air filters every 12,000 to 15,000 miles. Such a repair is inexpensive but can go a long way toward ensuring vehicles operate as efficiently as possible. ■

Why Do I Support Heritage Wind?

“The Heritage Wind project is exactly what Barre needs now! The tax breaks, improved roads, and help for the Town and School will be an amazing gift to us. We can't let fear, ignorance, and cynicism push the project out. We must get this project through and build the turbines!”

- Christine Loss

“Heritage Wind is a chance to do our part for future generations to provide clean energy.”

- George Mathes

“Our families are first and foremost in our minds, so we need to do what we can for future generations to survive in beautiful Barre.”

- Cyndy Vanlieshout

“Knowing your facts is not the same as knowing THE facts.”

- Tom Decker

“People who let their spouse drive their car are 99% less threatened by windmills.”

- Martin Bruning

“We have family that has been living with turbines on their property for 12 years. Their beef herd has a 100% conception rate and wildlife grazes directly under the turbines. Look at the health of the animals if you want to see the truth.”

- Ruth Miller

“A community is like a marriage. You need to give and take to make it work.”

- Mike Vanlieshout

“I don't like that I can't see the beautiful lakes that we all own. Unfortunately, almost every square foot of lake front has someone's home, but that is their land and their right to build there. I don't own that view of the lake any more than my neighbor owns the view of my land.”

- Kelly Dudley

Learn how to be more assertive in the workplace

Gender equality in the professional arena has come a long way in the 21st century. But while great strides have been made over the last two decades, women still face challenges unique to females as they look to establish themselves professionally and advance their careers.

According to the U.S. Census Bureau, women still earn roughly 80 percent of what men are paid in the same positions. Professional women often must walk the thin line between being too nice or too aggressive, a pressure not often faced by men. Assertiveness is an art for both genders, and women can take steps to be more assertive without giving the impression they're ruffling feathers.

- Be confident in your speech. It is easy to fall into "weaker language" habits when advocating for an idea. If unsure about the reaction to a proposal, you might say, "I think this is a good idea" or "I believe this will impart change." More assertive language is to simply stand behind the point: "This is a good idea." Confidence can go a long way.

- Allow people to disagree. It is acceptable for others to disagree with you. This can lead to discussion and an opportunity to present evidence why something should be done in a certain way. It also enables you to point out the strong points in their argument. Listening to all ideas can sway people in your favor, even if they don't necessarily agree with all you believe in.

- Be proactive and future-oriented. This is especially pertinent when asking for raises or promotions. Explain to a boss how you respect yourself and that your work merits the right compensation. Point out clearly defined future goals and successes you've had that warrant consideration for higher pay.

- Don't fear conflict. Conflict doesn't have to be confrontational, especially when respectable language is used and everyone is allowed to voice their opinions. Conflict can inspire great change. And remember, while you need to have solid relationships with coworkers, they do not have to be your best friends.

Assertiveness in the workplace can help female professionals achieve their goals and showcase their value. ■

THE LAW AND YOU

BY NATHAN D. PACE
ATTORNEY AT LAW

YOUR DUTY AS A CITIZEN

According to a recent Pew Research Center poll, two-thirds of U.S. adults believe that jury duty is part of what it means to be a good citizen. Any person over the age of 18 who lives within the court's jurisdiction and has not committed a felony qualifies to be called to serve on a jury. When summoned, it is a qualifying citizen's obligation to serve. After a judge gives questionnaires to potential jurors to ensure they are all legally qualified for the task, lawyers on both sides ask each juror questions about his or her background and biases to ensure they will be impartial. A jury candidate may be struck from the panel for valid reasons.

We all have the right to be tried by our peers, and the jury system is the best system yet devised; the one most likely to yield just, fair results. To schedule a free consultation, please call the Law Office of MACK & PACE at (585)798-1000. Our areas of specialization include vehicle and traffic law, living wills and trusts, small business, mortgages and foreclosures, powers of attorney, and probate and estate law.

Fall warmth is helping crops to mature

23,000 acres weren't planted in Orleans due to wet spring

By Tom Rivers, Editor Posted 10 October 2019 on www.OrleansHub.com

Farmers in Orleans County who took a chance by planting crops later than usual are getting some nice warm weather to help the crops mature. Normally a hard frost has hit by now, which shuts down corn and soybeans.

But the freezing temperatures have stayed away, allowing crops to mature. Farmers would like about two more weeks of warmth for the corn and soybeans to reach good yields and high quality, said Larry Meyer, director of the Farm Service Agency in Orleans and Monroe counties.

In Orleans, there are usually about 125,000 acres planted each year with corn and soybeans. Meyer said the wet spring delayed planting with farmers deciding not to plant 23,170 acres. There were about 90,000 acres that went unplanted in Orleans, Genesee, Niagara and Monroe counties, Meyer said. "There is still a lot of corn that is green," Meyer said today. "But most of the soybeans are drying down. Most are looking good."

Farmers who planted late will know in couple weeks if they have a quality crop with a good yield. "If we can get a couple more weeks without a killing frost, we'll catch up," Meyer said. "It could turn out OK for people who did plant."

Chocolate-Peanut Butter Terrine with Sugared Peanuts

Serves 8

Terrine

11 ounces bittersweet chocolate, finely chopped
1 ounce unsalted butter
6 tablespoons creamy peanut butter
4 large egg yolks
1/4 cup granulated sugar
1 3/4 cups whipping cream

Glaze

4 ounces bittersweet chocolate, finely chopped
2 1/2 ounces unsalted butter
2 teaspoons light corn syrup

Sugared Peanuts

1 large egg white
6 tablespoons granulated sugar
1 1/2 cups unsalted peanuts

Spray an 8 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 2 3/4-inch loaf pan with nonstick spray. Line the sprayed pan with plastic wrap, allowing a 1 1/2-inch overhang on all sides.

In a stainless-steel bowl, combine the chocolate, butter, and peanut butter. Place the bowl over a pan of simmering water, making sure the bottom of the bowl does not touch the water. Heat, stirring occasionally, until the chocolate and butter melt. Remove from the heat and whisk until smooth.

Combine the egg yolks and sugar in the bowl of a stand mixer fitted with the whip attachment and whip on high speed until thick, about 1 minute. Remove the bowl from the mixer stand. Using a wooden spoon, stir in the chocolate mixture in 3 equal additions. The mixture will be quite thick.

In a separate bowl, whisk the cream until it starts to thicken. Using a spatula, fold the cream into the chocolate mixture in 4 equal additions. Spread the batter in the prepared pan. Cover with the plastic wrap overhanging the sides and refrigerate until firm, at least 4 hours.

To unmold the terrine, fold back the plastic wrap and invert the pan onto a wire rack. Pull on a corner of the plastic wrap to release the terrine from the pan. Lift off the pan and carefully remove the plastic wrap. Line a baking sheet with parchment paper and place the rack on it. Return the terrine to the refrigerator while you make the glaze.

To make the glaze, in a stainless-steel bowl, combine the chocolate, butter and corn syrup. Place the bowl over a pan of simmering water, making sure the bottom of the bowl does not touch the water, and heat, stirring occasionally, until the chocolate and butter melt. Remove from over the heat and whisk until smooth. The glaze should be pourable but not so thin that it will run off the terrine. If the glaze is too thin, let it sit at room temperature for about 30 minutes.

Slowly pour the glaze evenly over the top of the terrine, allowing it to stream evenly down the sides. With an offset spatula, spread the glaze to cover the terrine smoothly and completely. Refrigerate until the glaze is set, about 30 minutes.

To make the sugared peanuts, preheat the oven to 350 F. In a bowl, whisk the egg white until frothy. Whisk in the sugar. Add the peanuts and mix until they are evenly coated with the mixture. Spread the peanuts in a single layer on a rimmed baking sheet and place in the oven. Toast the nuts, stirring them every 5 minutes, until dry and golden brown, 15 to 20 minutes.

To serve, transfer the terrine to a serving platter and arrange the sugared peanuts on top. Cut the terrine with a hot, dry knife. ■

Jeanine B. ★★★★★

They made the process so easy and quick. No haggling - without all the nonsense you go through with those other dealerships. Jen was knowledgeable and all around awesome to work with. Thank you for a pleasant experience!

David S. ★★★★★

Steve was awesome! He made the nearly hour long drive to Albion definitely worth my time. Quick to respond to my questions and continued to work with me to get the price to right where I wanted it. Informative, courteous, and altruistic. Definitely happy with the service and the vehicle I purchased.
