East Side Union High School District Board approves ballot measure for employee housing

By Carina Woudenberg

If San Jose voters approve a $60 million bond measure that's heading for the March 2020 ballot, East Side Union High School District employees could be moving into district-owned housing as early as 2022.

Given the current housing shortage and the district's struggle to hold onto its teachers and staff, the district has been looking into establishing employee housing for more than three years, says district Superintendent Chris Funk.

"We know the cost-of-living here — how high it is," Funk told San José Spotlight on Monday. "Many of our workers are forced to either partner up to afford the rent or commute from out of the area."

The superintendent added the district explored different ways to fund construction of the units before landing on the school bond measure, which was unanimously approved for the ballot by the board of trustees.

The district plans to construct 100 below-market housing units on roughly 4.5 acres of land located at its district office at 830 North Capitol Ave. A combination of one, two and three bedroom units would be provided. Funk said the district is modeling the apartments after units currently available to employees in the San Mateo Community College District.

East Side Union High School District employees could be moving into district-owned housing as early as 2022.

That district has two employee housing projects with 104 units. The homes are fully occupied with wait lists, and officials there say staff and faculty are more engaged in their work with students because they don't have long commutes.

The space on the 20 acres of district land would be reconfigured to accommodate employee apartments, he added. For example, a bus lot might be moved. "Our district office property is underutilized," Funk said.

According to a feasibility review conducted last month, the district land was chosen for housing because it's flat, semi-vacant and close dents, inspiring them to pursue opportunities that will have an impact on the world's biggest problems.

"Ultimately, we want to create a network that is mutually supportive and has the skill set to tackle our world's most significant challenges."

Bold solutions needed for power shutdown crisis created by PG&E

By Councilmember
Sylvia Arenas
Special to the Times

District 8 Report
By Sylvia Arenas
City Councilmember

Evergreen families deserve better than PG&E shutting down our power every time there's a gust of wind they don't like, instead of investing in their infrastructure to prevent wildfires.

That's why I'm committed to pushing for bold solutions to this crisis that PG&E has created. On October 23rd, I made a successful motion for the City to begin taking major steps to make San José's grid resilient, following a proposal from the mayor that includes:

- Exploring what would be needed to replace PG&E with a local municipal utility or a statewide customer owned utility.
- Exploring installing infrastructure to create hybrid off-grid solar systems with backup utility power.
- Engaging with the community to explore support for bonds and ballot measures for grid resiliency.
- Pushing PG&E for better information that can be used to facilitate the city's emergency response during the next power er shutdown.

Our Evergreen and East Side community was the most directly impacted part of the South Bay and I am glad that the City and my team acted swiftly to share public safety information with our neighborhoods. I was able to activate an additional City Resource Center at the Evergreen Community Center, once it was clear this center would not be losing power. In the second outage I was able to get resource centers at both Evergreen Community Center and at the East Valley YMCA on White Road.

While these were important small steps to limit the damage PG&E caused our community, now is the time to look to solve this problem. PG&E has made clear they will continue with power shutoffs in the future. That's why I'm committed to exploring every option to ensure the safety and well-being of San José residents—especially our seniors and medical-baseline residents. I will continue communicating about the need to move forward with solutions and not leave this up to PG&E.

Silver Oak School 2019 6th grade graduating class presents school gift of digital marquee

The 2019 Silver Oak Elementary 6th grade class has announced the arrival of their gift of a digital marquee for the school.

The 6th grade class fundraised 100 percent of the project by selling concessions at school events, raising generous 6th grade parent donations and obtaining a corporate match from Apple. The amount raised for the new marquee totals more than $20,000.

Gold Sponsor, Angad Singh and his family, explained, "This school has given us so much from the moment we began our journey as kindergartners. As a way to give back we decided to update the manual marquee with a digital one. Hopefully, this technology based marquee will help our amazing school administrative staff to display important announcements with ease and communicate school related information in an effortless manner."

The marquee was a suggestion from the faculty, students and parents. Silver Oak Elementary School was one of the few schools in the district without a digital sign. The signs are not funded by the district.

Silver Oak Elementary School acknowledged several community sponsors that helped with our promotions activities and class gifts. New Seasons donated the candy for the class gift. Burj Capital Group, Silver Creek Academy, Lilian Moore-State Farm, KP Services, Anubis clothing, Teddy Rockspin, Collideskope, WingStop and Postal Annex all donated money or their services toward the expenses of promotions activities.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Temple proposal weighs on resident's mind

Dear Editor,

It's heartening to know my community issue finally made it to Evergreen Times, Vol.36, No.22. The planned Khmer Kampuchea Krom Temple located on intersection of Ruby Ave. and Norwood Ave., has been weighing on nearby residents' minds since October 2018. Concerns regarding its size, density, multiple uses, and of course, the huge 42,500 SF underground parking have largely brushed off by City officials citing the property owner hasn't applied CUP (Conditional Use Permit) yet. Based on information available on City of San Jose Planning website, property owner has indeed applied for traffic analysis and demolition plan.

As Murali Pabbisetty mentioned in the D8CRT meeting last October, it is non conforming structures planned to be built in a well established residential area, on a lot that is too small for intending purpose. Thus, this is why an underground parking is needed to accommodate owners wishes. It's not because they have community interest at heart. The proposed 19,000 SF temple will include 9,293 SF assembly buildings, 8 bedrooms monk residence, an almost 1,800 SF commercial grade kitchen with walk-in fridge, classrooms, and administration office. According to Canyon Snow, PR firm hired by owner, these buildings are used to serve only 50 visitors on weekends and 15 visitors on weekdays at a time. This type

OP ED

Do Evergreen residents care about safety?

My family has lived in The Evergreen community since 1995. Over the past several years, I have noticed an increasing disregard for the basic traffic laws associated with receiving the privilege to drive a motor vehicle. I live near the intersection of Delta Road and Ruby Avenue. This intersection is posted as an All-Way Stop. I can say with great confidence that every time I am at that intersection, daily, several vehicles do not abide by the requirement to stop and they speed right through. I know this occurs at other locations within the routes near the Village Square too.

We have an annual crises in our city with pedestrian fatalities, and from what I am noting here it is just a matter of time until a member of our community becomes the latest individual to get hit by a vehicle driven by someone not following the traffic laws.

I hope this can serve as a call for action from our police department to help us regain a feeling of safety on our streets. I would also encourage our city council member, Sylvia Arenas, to use her influence to ensure the police department listens to these concerns.

Last but not least, if you are one of the many individuals running through stop signs in our neighborhood please START following the traffic laws!

Mark Milioto

of mismatch reality surely casts doubts whether Khmer Kampuchea Krom Temple will be a good neighbor. Also, underground parking and temple this size, located right on a problematic intersection, will create more traffic safety issues. Accidents and near misses often happen there.

Bottom line is, residents and community are not against proposed temple. It is the size, density, and uses that bring out valid concerns. A packed room on Oct 3rd D8CRT meeting should show attending officials and community leaders what residents think about this project plus its impacts to their well being and safety going forward. My appreciation to D8CRT for accommodating communities of Norwood, Quimby, and Groesbeck Hill Park to voice concerns.

To members of the community who are interested in this issue, please contact 2740ruby-concerns@gmail.com.

PG&E residential customers affected by PSPS to receive $100 refund

PG&E customers whose electricity was intentionally shut off during the Public Safety Power Shutoff (PSPS) event Oct. 9-12 are eligible for the rebates — but customers affected by other electricity shutdowns, including the two most recent ones, will not be eligible for refunds.

PG&E agreed to provide bill credits of $100 for residential customers and $250 for business customers.

Customers will be paid with onetime bill credits that are expected to appear on the bills as a “customer satisfaction adjustment,” over the next two billing cycles, according to PG&E.

Approximately 729,000 customers were affected by the Oct. 9 power shutoff event.

State Funding

New state funding is being made available to the City of San Jose by Governor Gavin Newsom and the State Legislature to support its Public Safety Public Shutoff (PSPS) emergency response efforts. $500,000 in state funds are now available to reimburse the City of San Jose for expenses incurred while implementing public safety and outreach efforts to ensure the security of residents during the initial and corresponding PSPS events.

Evergreen Valley College named 2019 'Champion of Higher Education' for transfers

Evergreen Valley College (EVC) is one of 12 California Community Colleges that has been named a 2019 Champion of Higher Education by the Campaign for College Opportunity as an institution leading the state in supporting transfer students.

EVC is one of 12 California community colleges that have significantly increased the number of students earning an Associate Degree for Transfer (ADT), according to COC officials.

ADTs provide students with guaranteed admission to a CSU if they earn an associate in arts transfer (AA-T) or associate in science transfer (AS-T) degree and meet the CSU minimum eligibility requirements, according to officials.

55 percent of all Associate Degrees Awarded at Evergreen Valley College were Associate Degrees for Transfer in the 2017-2018 academic year. This puts EVC tied for fourth in this category among 115 California Community Colleges.

“We are committed to ensuring our students complete their degrees and can transfer and earn a bachelor’s degree,” said Byron D Clift Breland, Ph.D., Chancellor, San Jose - Evergreen Community College District. “Out of 115 California Community Colleges, we are among the top institutions making college dreams a reality with the Associate Degree for Transfer. We are thrilled to be honored as a 2019 Champion of Higher Education.”

“Every year, we are excited to see thousands of students earning their Associate Degrees for Transfer and continuing their education at a university,” said Michele Siqueiros, President of the Campaign for College Opportunity. “The Campaign is proud to honor the top California leaders and campuses that are doing the necessary work to ensure transfer students can achieve their college dreams.”

Evergreen Valley College, along with other fellow community college and CSU campus honorees, is set to be recognized at the campaign’s 15th anniversary celebration on Thursday, Nov. 14 in Los Angeles.

Another successful Day on the Bay

By Supervisor Dave Cortese

Special to the Times

As I rode into Alviso Marina County Park on my bicycle at 10:30 a.m. on a sunny Sunday, the 10th annual Day on the Bay Multicultural Festival was already in action: Entertainers were performing, Resource Fair participants were engaging with visitors, pumpkins were ready for picking, free food was being grilled, kayaks were being loaded with passengers and children were building race cars from zucchinis. And everywhere I looked, people were smiling.

Each year, I marvel at how Day on the Bay comes together and how many people it takes to make it successful. First and foremost, I want to thank all of our attendees, the Santa Clara County residents who remind us that we live in a very special place. So, thank you all for coming.

And before we start planning the 2020 Day on the Bay, I'd like to thank all those who organized, produced and supported another successful event. A special thank you to the Santa Clara County Parks Department for co-hosting Day on the Bay in Alviso, and my staff for their hard work in planning, setting up and managing the event.

Thank you to the San Jose Bike Party for helping to organize the fourth 8.5-mile Bike to the Bay ride along the Guadalupe River Trail that brought me and about 70 others to the Alviso Marina County Park, and to the Silicon Valley Bicycle Coalition for the bike valet service. A special thanks goes to the Santa Clara County Firefighters who started early in the morning to grill 4,000 free hamburgers and veggie burgers enjoyed by our guests.

Next, thank you to all the volunteers who came from local high schools and community colleges to pitch in wherever needed. Starting at 7 a.m., they helped sign in our Resource Fair participants and unloaded their boxes, operated our pumpkin patch, distributed food and help to set up and break down the canopies and tables, and whatever else came up throughout the day.

Thank you to Bytes and Notes who provided and emceed entertainment on the Pumpkin Stage, and all the performers who danced, sang and entertained us at the Pumpkin and Trail Stages. I'm exceedingly grateful to the 120 nonprofit organizations, government agencies and County Departments that provided important links to services and to the Public Health Department and the Stanford Flu Crew for providing free flu shots.

We couldn't put on this event every year without our generous sponsors. Thank you to our Gold Sponsors: The Santa Clara County Public Health Department, the Stanford Flu Crew, the Santa Clara County Firefighters, San Jose Bike Party, Bytes & Notes, Anthem Blue Cross and Community Cycles of California.

We're also grateful for the generosity of our donors who provide the giveaway prizes, including two bicycles donated by the County's Park Service Attendants, and sports memorabilia donated by the San Jose Giants, the San Francisco 49ers, the San Francisco Giants and the Monterey Peninsula Foundation. And thank you to the Los Gatos-Saratoga Community Education and Recreation for providing the kayaks allowing our guests to paddle along the Alviso waterway to the Bay.

I also want to thank the Sheriff's Office, the Parks Department staff and George Mayne Elementary School for letting us rent their parking lot.

Believe it or not, we're already planning 2020 Day on the Bay, so please let me know what you liked and what you think we could do better. You can contact my office at 408-299-5030 or email me at dave.cortese@bos.sccgov.org.

GoFundMe campaign started to help South Bay Clean Creeks Coalition

A GoFundMe campaign has raised $3,580 so far for the South Bay Clean Creeks Coalition, a group that restores and revitalizes the creeks in Santa Clara County by having creek cleanups. The fundraising goal is $9,000.

The Coalition recently had all of their supplies stolen, including tables, chairs, awnings, walkie-talkies, first aid kits, team t-shirts, boxes of unopened brochures, artwork, art supplies, educational kits, and more.

All money raised by this GoFundMe will go towards replacing the stolen items so the group can return to their monthly cleanups.

South Bay Clean Creeks Coalition reclaims restores and revitalizes the creeks in Santa Clara County by having creek cleanups. These cleanups occur on the second Saturday of every other month for two hours. More than 200 cleanups have been conducted since the organization was founded five years ago, hauling away 200 tons of garbage from local waterways.

SOS AUTO REPAIR'S 'Quick Tip'

Your timing belt vs. timing chain: what's the difference?

The timing system is one of the main parts of an internal combustion engine. This system collaborates a number of components to keep your vehicle running in tip-top condition and performance. The two main types of timing systems are the timing belt and the timing chain.

Timing Belts

Timing belts are usually made of a composite based on rubber and other materials. They need to be replaced at certain maintenance intervals, your vehicle's owner manual will have this information. But we can also look up that information for you.

Depending on the age of your vehicle, and the amount of miles you have, the timing belt may need to be replaced. Most manufactures recommend the timing belt be replaced every 90,000 miles but each manufacture is different.

Timing Chains

Timing chain is a roller chain design that is far more reliable. It is very rare for vehicles fitted with a timing chain to require repairs or replacement on this system - as it is a maintenance free design.

Water Pump

The water pump is the main component of your car's cooling system. On most vehicles, it runs off the timing belt system and, if it fails, can cause expensive and irreparable engine damage. Replacing it while you have the timing belt off the engine will save you time and money.

How Long Will It Take?

Replacing the timing belt on most cars is a time consuming exercise, as most of the front part of the engine will need to be removed to allow access, and in some cases requires removal of body panels and other components. Expect to be without your vehicle for at least a day or two to allow for the job to be completed to a high quality standard.

While the initial cost of a timing belt can be a bit of a shock - it is a crucial maintenance requirement to keep your vehicle running safely, reliably and at its best for years to come.

If you're concerned about your vehicle for whatever reason stop by at: 3519 San Felipe Road in Evergreen. We'll be happy to assist you.

If you have a question regarding your vehicle email us at sosautorepair2004@gmail.com, if your question is published you'll receive a free oil change!

ROTARY REPORT

Local club to fulfill wishlists for LifeMoves

By Sara Calkins
Past President

Rotary International's ideal of "Service Above Self" encourages local clubs to serve in their communities and to reach out to communities in need throughout the world.

On Saturday November 9, 2019, the Rotary Club of San Jose East/Evergreen (SJE/E) will shop to fulfill a wish list of needs for people living at LifeMoves' San Jose locations. Community members are welcome to join us. Visit our website, rotarysjee.org for details. LifeMoves provides interim housing and supportive services for homeless families and individuals to rapidly return to stable housing and achieve long-term self-sufficiency. On any given night, they feed, clothe and house over 850 Peninsula and Silicon Valley residents experiencing homelessness.

Later in November, club members will provide turkeys and side dishes for parents at Foothill High School's Family Learning Center to take home in time to cook for a Thanksgiving dinner. The Center provides child care while teen parents finish requirements for high school graduation as well as learn important parenting and life skills. SJE/E members stress that the gifts of food are a tangible sign of their support of these determined students.

For one of the club's international projects, The Rotary Club of San Jose East/Evergreen participated, with Milpitas, Oakland Uptown, and Los Gatos Rotary Clubs, in the November 2, 2019 Rotary Vietnam Project Gala, a fundraiser to provide funding for a leadership camp and scholarships in Vietnam. Working with NGO, Pacific Links, we strive to keep students in school to receive education and training in life skills so they do not fall victim to the cruel system of human trafficking.

All funds raised from the Gala go to the Rotary Vietnam Project (RVP) which will then be matched by a foundation, AND those funds will be matched through a Rotary Global Grant Project.

Visitors are always welcome at any of our meetings and events. Please visit our website rotarysjee.org for schedules.

Our popular Crab Feed is coming up on December 14, 2019!

Evergreen School District offers new webpage to keep the community informed on the school consolidation process

Evergreen School District has developed a new webpage to keep the community informed on the school consolidation process which was announced recently.

There are many questions and concerns regarding the District's plans regarding the school consolidation process. The District's consolidation webpages provide up-to-date news and announcements, a timeline, FAQs and other important background information. The website address is: www.eesd.org

Here is the Frequently Asked Questions section from Evergreen School Districts website's school consolidation process webpage.

Frequently Asked Questions

We are providing answers to frequently asked questions during this phase of the process. Please note that this information will be continually updated throughout each phase of the school consolidation process, so please revisit this webpage for updates. We will also post updates on our social media pages (Facebook and Twitter) and through district communications.

Why are schools being closed?

Evergreen School District has a $12 million deficit that is the result of rising costs and declining enrollment. Enrollment in the Evergreen School District's enrollment has been in significant decline over the last five years and this trend will continue for the next five years. Specifically, over the past six years, the total enrollment has fallen by more than 2,500 students. The district also faces a projected enrollment decline of 1,500 students over the next five years, totaling a 10-year loss of more than 4,000 students. Over the next two years, the district is projected to lose over 750 students due to families moving out of the Bay Area to more affordable communities. This trend is not limited to Evergreen School District, as other Bay Area districts are facing similar situations.

By closing a $12 million deficit and addressing decline in enrollment, we can ensure that our schools maintain the level of excellence that our families expect for our students and support innovative learning in the classroom so that our students are prepared for a highly competitive global society.

What will be the process and timelines for the school closures?

The Evergreen School District Board of Trustees will be considering and adopting a process and timeline for school closures at its November 14 board meeting. Information on this web page will be updated following that meeting. District administrators will be providing a timeline and process at the November 14 board meeting. All information will be shared with the community.

How many schools will be closed and when will they close?

Two schools are scheduled to close by the end of the 2019-20 school year, and one more school by the end of the 2020-21 school year.

Which schools are closing?

At this time, the Board of Trustees has not determined which schools are closing. Decisions will not be made without full consideration of current enrollment and school boundary data.

How and when can I provide input in the process?

Evergreen School District will provide parents, staff, community members, and students opportunities to provide input and feedback once the Board of Trustees has approved the timeline and process. We will notify the community of these opportunities after the November 14 board meeting. In the meantime, please send your input and questions to schoolconsolidation@eesd.org

What will happen to the staff members at the schools that will be closed?

The district's Human Resources department will work closely with bargaining units, the Evergreen Teachers Association (ETA) and the California Schools Employee Association (CSEA) leadership to establish a process to transfer staff that follows both contractual language, as written in the respective collective bargaining agreements, as well as any applicable education codes to ensure a smooth and transparent process.

How will the district support students and families with school transitions?

One of the greatest strengths of the Evergreen School District community is that we are a family, and when students and staff members are moved to a new school they will be welcomed into the family of that school. While working with our District support teams, each school site will determine how they will welcome new students and staff members, and school principals will be responsible for working with district staff on a transition plan that ensures that new and existing students feel welcome and positive about the changes that they will be encountering.

How can I provide feedback now?

Please send your input and questions to schoolconsolidation@eesd.org.

Housing

to transit and existing residential uses. The site also needed to contain a minimum of two acres of developable land.

There are 16 schools in the district serving a total of 22,000 students. To qualify for the housing, Funk says the individual must be a district employee who does not own a home. In a survey emailed to the employees, Funk says the district received 700 responses with roughly half of the respondents reporting that they did not own homes.

District officials believe a third of the East Side Union High School District employees would qualify.

Funk says the community has been supportive of previous construction bonds and is optimistic that the bond will pass with its minimum requirement of 55 percent voter approval.

The housing project would ultimately require approval from the San Jose City Council before construction could begin. Once it starts, construction would be expected to take 12 to 15 months.

San Jose Unified School District is also looking into providing employee housing but is still studying potential sites. If approved, parcel taxes from the bond would last until 2050, according to district documents.

OP ED

Different, not less

By Trisha Parthasarathi
Special to the Times

Attaining social justice and equality for various groups of people is a prominent goal in modern day communities. We see recurring campaigns and protests advocating for these topics.

One group of people that is not in the limelight of the news is the neurodiverse community. Like many in our modern society, I was not aware of what neurodiversity was or how to interact with the individuals on its spectrum. Neurodiversity is simply the concept that neurological differences, such as in people with dyslexia, autism, down syndrome, Tourette Syndrome, and various other conditions, are to be respected as any other human variation.

Up until a few years ago, I had never met or interacted with anyone that was neurologically different from me. Two years ago, a friend of mine introduced me to Pragnya, a local non-profit that assimilates autism into mainstream society. When I began volunteering at this organization, I realized that despite my personal efforts to be as welcoming and educated as possible, I was completely uninformed on the topic of interacting with neurodiverse individuals.

Volunteers at Pragnya are known as allies to their neurodiverse peers. As an ally, I help teach these neurodiverse individuals academic and social skills on a weekly basis. After several weeks of forming unique friendships, I had repeatedly heard that we allies were some of these kids. Knowing that I was an ally, advocate, a friend, and support system to these children meant so much to me.

As the allies received training from a behavioral specialist and psychologist, I learned how to perceive and interpret the behavioral characteristics and needs of those with autism. Working with these children individually helped me understand how to interact with compassion, sensitivity, and respect. The majority of our communities lack a basic understanding of autism and other neurological disorders. Reading the news, I learned of instances where school administrators, peers, and first responders lacked the training to interact with understanding and sensitivity towards neurodiverse children. Many of these disturbing instances have resulted in severe injury or the death of children.

In an effort to create safer, more accepting communities, Pragnya is leading several student run projects that create new legislation proposals and advocacy measures to promote Autism awareness. We met with State Assemblyman Kansen Chu to discuss promoting neurodiversity training in local schools that would be available to students and first responders. The allies of Pragnya have also created several clubs at their respective high schools and recruited new allies to join the advocacy effort. Additionally, our organization's efforts were recognized in Congressman Ro Khanna's Town Hall Meeting.

Working at Pragnya has taught me the importance of respect and compassion. With a little patience and compassion from my end, I was able to form new relationships and be a part of a unique community at Pragnya. Being able to volunteer here has been an unparalleled experience where I learned to never look down on another human being, because different never means less. Working with kids who are different from me helped me understand that being open-minded, accepting, and compassionate can change one's outlook on life and is the first step in creating safer, more welcoming communities.

Laurelwood Elementary celebrates Fall Festival and Hispanic Heritage

By Frank Shortt
Times Staff Writer

Laurelwood Elementary School celebrated two major events last month; The Fall Festival and the Hispanic Heritage Assembly.

Both events were educational, fun, and informative for parents, teachers and students.

Fall Festival

This event was enhanced greatly this year by the handiwork of Mr. Dallas Clark, designer extraordinaire of spooky displays. He has had his exhibitions at several schools in the Evergreen School District throughout the years and Laurelwood was chosen this year to be the place of honor. We may remember Carolyn Clark, Mr. Clark's wife who once graced the Board of Trustees of the ESD and was honored to have a school named for her.

Mr. Clark spent many hours assisting the PTA of Laurelwood, headed by President Mylinh Chan, in setting up his very colorful, graphic, and professional quality creations! This was done under great sacrifice by Mr. Clark due to failing health. It has been said by all who worked with him that he improved in health greatly as he helped to set up his wonderful exhibits. Principal, Kameelah Green, spoke great words of praise for Mr. Clark and his work.

Hispanic Heritage Assembly

Also celebrated during October by Laurelwood Elementary school was the Hispanic Heritage Assembly commemorating National Hispanic Heritage Month. Hispanic Heritage Month which recognizes and celebrates the many contributions, diverse cultures and extensive histories of the American Latino Community.

Beginning in 1968, Hispanic Heritage Month was originally observed as "Hispanic Heritage Week" under President Lyndon Johnson and was later extended to a month during President Ronald Reagan's term in 1988. Since then the month has been celebrated nationwide through festivals, art shows, conferences, community gatherings and much more.

The month also celebrates the independence days of several Latin American countries, including: Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, and Nicaragua on September 15th, Mexico on September 16th, and Chile on September 18th. Nearly 1/3 of Laurelwood's students come from a Hispanic Heritage!

Hispanic families have been asking for an assembly that recognizes and celebrates the beautiful Hispanic Heritage of the Laurelwood students so the PTA partnered with the school to achieve this vision by finding and funding the Tezkatlipoka Aztec Dance and Drum performers.

Mrs. Green, principal of Laurelwood, challenged the upper grade students of Hispanic Heritage to write and perform an "I Am..." poem. Eleven students accepted the challenge and practiced during their lunch time. They were a committed ensemble. The assembly held on Oct. 24 consisted of these 11 students proudly reciting their poems and then an educational Aztec drum and dance performance by Tezkatlipoka Aztec Dance and Drum. Students learned the language, culture, and history of the Aztec Tribe of Mexico.

The assembly concluded with a message that encouraged students to learn more about each other's heritage and realize how many important things they all have in common.

Times Community*Power outages and pets: tips and tricks to keep them safe and calmBy Dr. Raj SinghSpecial to the Times*

Like us, power outages affect dogs and cats too.

Even though pets can see better in the dark than we do, it still is a good idea to keep them safe when the power goes out.

Pets can get agitated, reactive or jumpy because they can sense when their owner is nervous during a power loss. Just imagine how we get nervous when a fire alarm beeps. Although electricity loss carries no sound like a fire alarm, our pets pick up clues from our nervousness. The following tips and tricks can be used by pet owners in the event of a power outage.

1. Temperature: like people, pets respond to temperature changes since they are used to the temperatures we set in our homes, so any drastic change can affect them greatly. Keep pets warm in winter by using comfortable blankets and keep them cool in summer by opening windows and providing shade. In the case of extreme weather conditions, it is advised that you board your pet at your vet's office or boarding facility until power is restored. You can also seek help from family or friends by asking if they can keep your pet until power is back on.

2. All the pets should have a collar with ID tags which contain your phone number and address, in case the phone is not working. If a pet is lost during a power outage, the easiest way to get reunited is via the ID tags.

3. As you might have to get water from a different source, make sure that pets also have access to fresh, clean water all the time.

4. If you feed your pet dry food, then please store it in an airtight container to avoid insects getting into the food, and to prevent

Your Pet and YouBy Dr. Raj Singh
Veterinarian

5. Pets staying outside should be supervised at all times, as there may be downed power lines or there may be a work crew that could startle your pet. If a power line is down, keep your pets indoors as they might touch it.

6. Keep the same normal routine for your pet. If you walk them, then take them out for activity or walks. This will help to keep them calm and eliminate some stress from a power outage.

7. If you are a senior or unable to care for your pet during a power outage, contact your family and friends or contact your vet who can provide different options. If your pet is on a medication that needs to be refrigerated, seek help from your family vet.

8. Lastly, if you don't want your pet to have any problems or issues or just want to avoid power outages in the future, invest in a power generator which is quiet and can power your home to keep you and your furry family safe during power failures.

professional production values. Classes are augmented with a variety of resources, including interactive demonstrations, custom-designed animations, key summaries, community discussion pages, virtual office hours, and live sessions with each expert, creating a substantially enhanced online educational experience.

Participating students will also be able to create a professional, educational, and social network of talented individuals through the community they build. The World Science Scholars experience also extends far beyond the coursework, with opportunities for interaction and collaboration with peers, teaching fellows, and faculty via the digital platform and social media networks established for these groups, and during the annual World Science Festival in New York City.

The World Science Scholars program is made possible by a grant from the John Templeton Foundation. The students were chosen after either being nominated from the World Science Festival network of individuals and organizations, or learning about the program through select media and by directly applying. The World Science Scholars program is committed to identifying students from diverse communities regardless of their race, gender, ethnicity, socioeconomic class and location.

This broad, multifaceted approach to identifying and recruiting students who have the potential to become a "one-in-a-million" mind reflects a commitment to creating a network of students from diverse backgrounds with a burning desire to engage in challenging coursework and meet people similar to them. For students with innate, exceptional abilities who lack the means or access to resources to help them reach their potential, the high-quality digital experience of the World Science Scholars program, will be a life-changing experience.

Upon completion of the World Science Scholars program, students become members of an alumni network that helps to identify and support future cohorts based upon their own experiences in the program. Over time, the hope is that the connections between past and present cohorts lead to mentoring relationships, friendships, and professional collaborations, as well as future engagements with the World Science Festival and the larger mathematics and science communities.
