- Be thankful that you don't already have everything you desire ... if you did, what would there be to look forward to?
- Be thankful when you don't know something ... for it gives you the opportunity to learn.

It's easy to be thankful for the 'good' things ... yet, a life of rich fulfillment comes to those who are thankful for the setbacks.

Gratitude can turn a negative into a positive ... find a way to be thankful for your troubles and they can become your blessings.

The parable of the marbles

Once upon a time, there was a foolish boy who had a bag full of beautiful marbles. Now this boy was quite proud of his marbles. In fact, he thought so much of them that he would neither play with them himself nor would he let anyone else play with them.

He only took them out of the bag in order to count and admire them; they were never used for their intended purpose. Yet that boy carried that coveted bag of marbles everywhere he went.

Well, there was also a wise boy who wished he could have such a fine bag of marbles. So this boy worked hard and earned money to purchase a nice bag to hold marbles. Even though he had not yet earned enough with which to purchase any marbles, he had faith and purchased the marble bag.

He took special care of the bag and dreamed of the day it would contain marbles with which he could play and share with his friends.

Alas, the foolish boy with all of the marbles didn't take care of the marble bag itself, and one day the bag developed a hole in the bottom seam. Still, he paid no attention and, one by one, the marbles fell out of the bag.

It didn't take long, once the foolish boy's marble bag developed a hole, for the wise boy to begin to find those beautiful marbles, one at a time, lying unnoticed on the ground. And, one by one, he added them to his marble bag. The wise boy thus gained a fine bag full of marbles in no time at all. This boy played with the marbles and shared them with all of his friends. And he always took special care of the bag so he wouldn't lose any.

Because the foolish boy was selfish and careless, he lost all of his marbles and was left holding the bag.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME

BY AL SCADUTO

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) While it seems that chaos is taking over, you get everything back to normal, even if it means being more than a little assertive with some people. Expect to hear more job-related news soon.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Expect to be able to move ahead with your workplace plans now that you have a good idea of what you might have to face. You also can anticipate a welcome change on the home front.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) A quieter period settles in, giving you a chance to catch your breath, as well as allowing for more time to handle some important family matters. The arts dominate this weekend. Enjoy them.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) The frustrations of last week have pretty much played themselves out. You should find things going more smoothly, especially with those all-important personal matters.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Once again, you find a creative way to resolve a pesky problem in short order. However, a matter involving a possible breach of confidence might need a bit more time to check out.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Reuniting with an old friend could lead to the sharing of some great new experiences. But be careful you don't find yourself once again being super-critical or overly judgmental.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You should be seeing some positive results following your move toward repairing that unraveling relationship. There might be some setbacks, but staying with it ultimately pays off.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Encouraging a friendlier environment in the home could go a long way to help dissipate anger and resolve problems, especially those affecting children. It won't be easy, but you can do it.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A recent act of kindness is beginning to show some unexpected (but very welcome) results. On another note, expect to hear more about a possible move to another locale.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) The good news is that the sure-footed Goat can rely on his or her skill to get around obstacles in the workplace. The not-so-good news is that new impediments could turn up later.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A change of pace is welcome but also confusing. Before you make decisions one way or another, be sure you know precisely what it is you're being asked to do.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Don't fret if you don't get the gratitude you think you're owed for doing a nice thing for someone. There might be a good reason for that. In any event, what's important is that you did it.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have a way of making the sort of wise decisions that ultimately shed new light on dark situations.

November 21, 2019
By Paulette Dean

Many lessons of simple gratitude have come to me from animals. We have seen starving dogs eat dog food as if it were manna from heaven, and have heard cats purr when they were offered water. Generally, animals ask for so little, sometimes receive even less, but they are always grateful for what they do receive.

I will never forget the emaciated dog that licked the hand of a volunteer after we rescued her from impending freezing temperatures with only the hard, cold ground to sleep on. I will also never forget the way a skeletal horse watched me from several feet away as I recount to the veterinarian the call that took us many miles to seize her from a cruel life. As I spoke, she slowly walked to me and put her head on my shoulder.

We are thankful for the many kindhearted people who live in this area. So many of you support us with donations, and we promise that we use the money wisely to help the animals.

We are very aware of the fact that many of you serve the animals privately, by picking up strays, buying doghouses for a neighbor's dog, putting extra food out so the stray cat will learn to trust you, and being a friend to the animals in valuable ways. You make a difference for the animals.

We are grateful for business, large and small, who sponsor donation drives or who support our fundraising efforts. Thank you again, Piedmont Pets, for allowing us space to spread the humane messages.

996 South Boston Rd.,
Danville, VA 24540
Phone: (434) 799-0843

We appreciate the shelter employees who take care of the animals every day, even as their hearts are breaking.

We are grateful for "nosy" neighbors. We appreciate your willingness to call us when you see an animal who needs our help. You take a chance that you will make a neighbor, a friend, or a family member mad, but you make the call because you recognize that the animal in need is helpless.

We are thankful for the animals. We love the quiet, gentle lessons they teach us, and we are so thankful that we share the earth with so many wonderful creatures.

On behalf of all the Board members and employees, I offer our appreciation for all you do for the animals and for the Humane Society. Through your efforts, perhaps we will one day become a truly humane society.

KOVELS® Antiques & Collecting

By Terry and Kim Kovel

Metallic Postcard

Postcards are among the most popular inexpensive collectibles today, perhaps because they are easy to find. But they require time and searching to create a special collection. Postcards are wanted for the postmark, the stamp, the message or the picture on the front, and they can be framed and hung or displayed in scrapbooks.

clubs, stores, sales and research for collectors buying postcards.

This unusual card, featuring the side of an attached metal turkey, seems great for a Thanksgiving message, but the raised turkey would not allow it to go in the mail. It's part of a group of cards that have strange attached or moving parts known as "mechanicals." It also has a divided back, suggesting a date as early as 1907. The postcard has an old price tag of $20.

Q. I bought a green Thanksgiving plate at an auction and am curious to see its value. A colonial couple is pictured on the front, and underneath it says: "Speak for yourself, John." There are four other scenes around the border. The back of the platter has a picture of pilgrims, and underneath it says: "Pilgrim Exiles" and "Colonial Times by Crown Ducal, England." Can you help?

A. Crown Ducal is used on some pieces of porcelain made by A.G. Richardson and Co., Ltd., of Tunstall and Cobridge, England, beginning in 1916. The Colonial Times series was made in the early 1930s. It includes 12 different designs and was made in several colors, including blue, brown, green, mulberry and pink. Plates were made with scalloped or smooth edges. A square plate also was made. Colonial Times plates sell for $25 to $50.

CURRENT PRICES

Egg beater, tin and steel, wood handle, side gear drive, teeth and crimp, Holt's, 1899, 10 3/4 x 3 inches, $75.

Mechanical postcard, Thanksgiving greeting, opens into booklet, Indian maiden holding turkey, Germany, 1913, $95.

Tin, Thanksgiving, round, orange and black, pilgrim girl holding basket, pumpkins and turkeys, 1920s, 1 3/4 x 3 3/4 inches, $125.

***

TIP: Use your lace and lace-trimmed tablecloths. It is more damaging to let the linens get dusty than it is to wash them. If you're really worried about stains, don't serve red wine or cranberries.

HOLLYWOOD

by Tony Rizzo

HOLLYWOOD — Taylor Swift, who has won 295 major music awards, including 10 Grammys, is putting in a serious bid to win an Oscar. While visiting "Cats" creator Andrew Lloyd Webber, he played her a new melody he'd written for the film "Cats." Before the afternoon was over, Swift and Lloyd Webber had written "Beautiful Ghosts" for "Cats." The song is sung first by Francesca Hayward, then is reprised by Dame Judy Dench and finally sung over the closing credits by Swift. It's the only original song written for the film and will qualify as a best-song nominee for Taylor and Lord Andrew. Swift admits she studied for her big role as Bombalurina by going to cat school, where they watched film of cats walking, and by studying her own three cats, Meredith Grey, Olivia Benson and Benjamin Button.

Universal Pictures

Taylor Swift in "Cats"

With the honeymoon over, Justin Bieber is easing into acting by lending his voice to the title role of "Cupid" in an upcoming animated film being produced by his manager,  Scooter Braun.

Rachel Weisz, an Oscar-winner for "The Constant Gardener" (2005) and a nominee this year for "The Favourite," is taking on the difficult job of playing two-time Oscar-winning actress and legend Elizabeth Taylor. Instead of following her films and marriages, the film chronicles her beginnings as an HIV/AIDS activist that began after the 1985 death of her friend Rock Hudson, who died in 1985 from AIDS. Weisz is married to the current James Bond, Daniel Craig.

To prepare for battle with new streaming services such as Disney, HBO Max, Amazon Prime, Hulu and Apple, Netflix has canceled a slew of established shows. Among the longest running were "Orange Is the New Black" (seven seasons), "House of Cards" (six seasons), "Fuller House" and "Lucifer" (five seasons each),

"The Ranch," "GLOW" and "The Unbreakable Kimmy Schmidt" (four seasons each) and three-season shows "A Series of Unfortunate Events," "One Day at a Time," "Santa Clarita Diet," "Designated Survivor" and "Daredevil." In all, 42 shows were canceled ...war is hell!

Melissa McCarthy and director husband Ben Falcone have pulled their film "Superintelligence" from its Dec. 20 theatrical premiere in favor of having it become Warner Brothers first streaming movie for its HBO Max platform. All aboard the streaming train!

Shooting begins in London in January on "The Batman," with Robert Pattinson in the title role. He'll be aided and abetted by Zoe Kravitz as Batwoman, Tony and Emmy winner Jeffrey Wright as Commissioner Gordon and Paul Dano as The Riddler. The slender Pattinson is either going to have to become a gym rat or wear store-bought muscles to fill out that famous suit!

DANVILLE NAMED AMONG TOP DIGITAL CITIES

The City of Danville has been named by the Center for Digital Government as one of the top cities with populations up to 75,000 for its use of technology.

In its 2019 Digital Cities Survey, the center ranked Danville second in its population size group – directly behind the City of Weston, Fla. Now in its 19th year, the annual survey recognizes cities making smart investments in technologies from infrastructure and citizen engagement to data storage and cybersecurity.

“We are honored to be recognized as a Digital Cities Survey winner,” Inez Rodenburg, Director of Information Technology for the City of Danville, said Tuesday. “This prestigious award recognizes the advancements in technology the City has made over the past year.”

In that time, the City’s information technology team has completed several projects, including new crime dashboards for police, a branded mobile app, a metrics dashboard for performance management and interdepartmental collaboration, and an upgraded VoIP communications system.

Citizen-centric practices have focused on improving government experience through connected applications, mobility, and open data. The City provides a portfolio of applications to help build citizen engagement, including GIS-based story maps, the Danville VA mobile app, the City’s budget visualization tool, the City’s Social Media Hub, and the City’s Geographic Data Hub.

Currently, the staff is working on setting up a one-stop-shop permitting portal for residents that will integrate with its enterprise resource planning system, as well as researching smart city opportunities such as camera analytics to publish downtown’s real-time parking availability to the public.

Rodenburg said the technology enhancements lean on effective collaboration with other organizations.

“Through successful collaboration efforts with Smart Cville, Averett University, and the Southern Piedmont Technology Council, the City has been able to leverage resources and ideas to help foster technology advancements,” Rodenburg said.

Teri Takai, executive director for the Center for Digital Government, said this year’s Digital Cities winners are working to make their communities more secure, user-friendly, efficient, and resilient.

“Their efforts are making technology a driver of better, smarter, more responsive government,” Takai said.

The survey honors cities in five population classifications: 500,000 or more, 250,000 to 499,999; 125,000 to 249,999; 75,000 to 124,999 and fewer than 75,000. The City of Norfolk ranked first in cities with populations of 125,000 to 249,999. The City of Lynchburg ranked first in the group with populations of 75,000 to 124,999.

The cities of Alexandria and Virginia Beach also were ranked in the top-10 in their population sizes.

The top-10 ranked cities will be honored Thursday at an awards dinner during the National League of Cities’ annual conference in San Antonio, Texas.

Jobs and Careers for Military Spouses

If you are debating whether to re-up and one of your concerns is your spouse’s employment opportunities, perhaps the Military Spouse Employment Partnership (MSEP) program will help you decide.

There are currently 350,000 job listings for military spouses on the MSEP website. In a partnership with 390 employers, the Department of Veterans Affairs has expanded opportunities as part of its Department of Defense MSEP program. Those employers have committed to hire, promote, recruit and retain military spouses in portable jobs. At this point they have hired over 134,000 military spouses.

Portable means you can take your skills with you, possibly to one of the many other employers in the program, should you need to relocate.

There are big names in the list, but not just retailers or convenience stores. Also included are organizations with community networks that provide career resources and mentoring, and federal agency partners.

The program is part of the Spouse Education and Career Opportunities program that aims to reduce the horrible 25% wage gap that military spouses face. It offers career guidance, education, resources, tools, training, licensing and more.

To search for open jobs, go online to msepjobs.militaryonesource.mil/msep and click Search Jobs, or call 800-342-9647 to speak to a career coach. You’ll need to sign up. Once you reach your personal online dashboard, you can search by location or special skills.

Or if you think you’re not quite ready to land a job, go online to myseco.militaryonesource.mil. Click on career exploration, education and training, and employment readiness. Do not miss the list of coaching packages further down the page. They have everything to get you ready, some very specialized: health care coaching package, cybersecurity coaching package, K-12 education coaching package and more.

If you want to advance your career, there is a scholarship program with funds up to $4,000 in tuition assistance.

* Want to keep certain rooms off limits to wandering little ones? If you slip a baby sock over a doorknob, then secure it with a heavy-duty rubber band, it will keep toddlers out! -- E.R. in Ohio

* You might be tempted to reserve your silver flatware for special occasion use, but it can be used daily. If you do so, it will be less likely to tarnish and require special cleaning and polishing. Hand wash gently -- never put silver in the dishwasher -- and store in drawers lined with a tarnish proof cloth for best results.

* Substitute cottage cheese for sour cream in dips by running it through a blender until smooth. It's lower in calories and higher in protein than sour cream.

* "If you eat one meal out in a restaurant each day, let it be lunch. The prices are typically lower, and the portions are not really smaller. It'll keep you going all day, and you can have a light meal or snack in the evening." -- S.L. in Nevada

* Self-care tip: It's a great idea to set aside a bit of time before bed to think about your goals for the future or to review the successes and lessons learned of the day -- or just to not think at all. Double down on the me-time by taking the time to hydrate your skin with some lotion.

When Holidays are Hard

Tips for coping with a food-centric season

FAMILY FEATURES

During the holidays, no matter where you turn, you find food, food and more food. From vendor treats filling the office breakroom to celebratory dinners with family and friends, virtually everything and everyone seems to be focused on food. For someone working to overcome an eating disorder, it makes the season anything but festive.

Eating disorders affect 20 million females and 10 million males in the United States and can be diagnosed in boys and girls 7 years old and sometimes even younger.

Eating disorders are not a lifestyle choice; they are mental health disorders similar to depression, bipolar disease or schizophrenia. It is not an individual choice to develop an eating disorder, but rather severe underlying pathological factors which drive individuals to take part in self-destructive behaviors associated with eating disorders.

Genetic, environmental and social factors all play a role in the development of an eating disorder. Interpersonal issues, past trauma, low self-esteem, abuse, co-occurring mental health disorders, substance abuse disorders and unhealthy family and personal relationships can all contribute to the environmental and social factors associated with eating disorders.

Even for someone who is well into a successful recovery program, the holidays can trigger unwanted thoughts and comments surrounding food. Whether you are actively treating your eating disorder or suspect you may have one, you can take steps to make this holiday season more comfortable with these tips from eating disorder expert and licensed therapist Dawn Delgado, director of clinical development at Center for Discovery.

- 1. Always have a safe plan. If you plan on attending a holiday party or gathering, you may want to consult with your dietitian to have a plan beforehand, especially if you feel triggered to binge, or if you feel pressured by another individual, create an escape plan, which may mean having a friend accompany you to the party or even come pick you up. Your plan may also involve finding a safe place at the party where you can be alone to gather your thoughts until you feel comfortable re-engaging with others.
- 2. Be prepared to say "no." Many individuals, with good intentions, will push food your way. They will want you to try their favorite dessert or their new recipe without understanding your struggle. Know that it is OK to say "no" and to take care of yourself in these situations. You can choose to clarify why you are saying "no," but do not feel obligated to do so. Also give yourself permission to decline joining holiday office parties, family parties or other holiday-themed get-togethers if your recovery could be compromised, or plan to bring a supportive friend.
- 3. Know your triggers before you engage in social situations. Understanding your triggers and learning how to use coping skills to control them at holiday functions can help keep negative thoughts and self-sabotaging at bay. If there are certain topics of conversation that trigger you then avoid those topics or change the conversation when those topics arise. Be honest with yourself, be honest with others, recognize your emotions and learn to take control of your scenarios.

Mindful Eating Tips

These simple steps can help you rediscover your natural intuition about food and hunger. These tips can be used all in one meal or you can choose one tip at a time to focus on. When you feel you have mastered one, try a new one. Over time, eating mindfully can become second nature.

- 1. Practice mindfulness: Start by eating one meal a day in a slower, more aware manner.
- 2. Hunger check: Before eating, check in with yourself to determine how hungry you are. Are you hungry enough for a meal or just a snack?
- 3. Emotional check: What are you feeling? Are you happy, content, stressed, bored or something different?
- 4. Senses check: What type of food are you hungry for? Do you want savory, sweet or salty? Do you want something hot or cold?
- 5. Time check: Do you have time to sit and savor? Or are you crunched for time?
- 6. Time crunch: Planning to nourish your body is an act of mindfulness. Taking the time to grab some food or packing food to eat on the go is being mindful that your body needs fuel.
- 7. Focus: Concentrate on the meal in front of you. Avoid doing other activities while you eat such as working, talking on the phone, watching TV, driving or reading.
- 8. Savor: While eating, notice the colors, smells, flavors and textures of the food.
- 9. Food awareness: Notice your reaction to the food you are eating. What do you like, what don't you like? If you are enjoying your food, savor it. If you don't like your food, choose something more appealing.
- 10. Patience and grace: Mindful eating is a practice that takes time to learn and develop. Since there is no judgment in mindful eating, give yourself grace and patience as you learn.

Supporting a Loved One

Watching someone you care for battle an eating disorder can be emotionally challenging, but your love and support can make a big difference during the stressful holiday season with these tips from the experts at Center for Discovery:

- If you're uncertain how you can help, just ask then be prepared to listen without judgment.
- Make it clear you are willing to be a sounding board or assist your loved one in getting to a safe place if he or she is triggered during an event.
- Voice concerns privately. Public comments about weight, body shape or food choices can only exacerbate the angst your loved one is feeling, and when you put him or her on the defensive, he or she is less likely to be receptive to your genuine concern.

Easy Potato Rolls

Ingredients

- 2 packages (1/4 ounce each) active dry yeast
- 1-1/3 cups warm water (110° to 115°), divided
- 1 cup warm mashed potatoes (without added milk and butter)
- 2/3 cup sugar
- 2/3 cup shortening
- 2 large eggs, room temperature
- 2-1/2 teaspoons salt
- 6 to 6-1/2 cups all-purpose flour

Directions

In a small bowl, dissolve yeast in 2/3 cup warm water. In a large bowl, combine mashed potatoes, sugar, shortening, eggs, salt, remaining 2/3 cup water, yeast mixture and 2 cups flour; beat until smooth. Stir in enough remaining flour to form a soft dough.

Do not knead. Shape into a ball; place in a greased bowl, turning once to grease the top. Cover and let rise in a warm place until doubled, about 1 hour.

Punch down dough; divide into thirds. Divide and shape 1 portion into 15 balls; place in a greased 9-in. round baking pan. Cover with a kitchen towel. Repeat with remaining dough. Let rise in a warm place until doubled, about 30 minutes. Preheat oven to 375°.

Bake rolls until golden brown, 20-25 minutes. Remove from pans to wire racks. Serve warm.

The three hardest things to say are:

1. I was wrong
2. I need help
3. Worcestershire Sauce

* Frozen grapes make great ice cubes for white wine and punch. They are tasty straight out of the freezer, too.

* Want to keep certain rooms off limits to wandering little ones? If you slip a baby sock over a doorknob, then secure it with a heavy-duty rubber band, it will keep toddlers out! -- E.R. in Ohio

* You might be tempted to reserve your silver flatware for special occasion use, but it can be used daily. If you do so, it will be less likely to tarnish and require special cleaning and polishing. Hand wash gently -- never put silver in the dishwasher -- and store in drawers lined with a tarnish proof cloth for best results.

* Substitute cottage cheese for sour cream in dips by running it through a blender until smooth. It's lower in calories and higher in protein than sour cream.

* "If you eat one meal out in a restaurant each day, let it be lunch. The prices are typically lower, and the portions are not really smaller. It'll keep you going all day, and you can have a light meal or snack in the evening." -- S.L. in Nevada

* Self-care tip: It's a great idea to set aside a bit of time before bed to think about your goals for the future or to review the successes and lessons learned of the day -- or just to not think at all. Double down on the me-time by taking the time to hydrate your skin with some lotion.
