Bob was sitting on the plane waiting to fly to Detroit, when a guy took the seat beside him. The guy was an emotional wreck, Pale, hands shaking, moaning in fear.

"What's the matter?" Bob asked.

"I've been transferred to Detroit - I've heard the people are crazy there. They've got lots of shootings, gangs, race riots, drugs, poor public schools, and the highest crime rate in the nation."

Bob replied, "I've lived in Detroit all my life. It's not as bad as the media says. Find a nice home, go to work, mind your own business, and enroll your kids in a nice private school. It's as safe a place as anywhere in the world."

The guy relaxed and stopped shaking and said, "Oh, thank you. I've been worried to death. But if you live there and say it's OK, I'll take your word for it. What do you do for a living?"

"I'm a tail gunner on a Budweiser truck !!!"

When you just can't be bothered to put in the effort

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) That change in holiday travel plans might be more vexing than you'd expected. But try to take it in stride. Also, it couldn't hurt to use that Aries charm to coax out some helpful cooperation.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Your Bovine determination helps you deal with an unforeseen complication. And, as usual, you prove that when it comes to a challenge, you have what it takes to take it on.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Although a romantic theme dominates much of the week, all those warm and fuzzy feelings don't interfere with the more pragmatic matters you need to take care of.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Best not to ignore those doubts about an upcoming decision. Instead, recheck the facts you were given to make sure nothing important was left out. A weekend surprise awaits you.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) No time for a catnap -- yet. You might still have to straighten out one or two factors so that you can finally assure yourself of the truth about a troubling workplace situation. Stay with it.

VIRGO (August 23 September 22) News from an old friend could lead to an unexpected (but nonetheless welcome) reunion with someone who had once been very special in your life. Be open to the possibilities.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) It might be time for a family council. The sooner those problems are resolved, the sooner you can move ahead with your holiday preparations. Don't let the opportunity pass you by.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Take some time out to give more attention to a personal relationship that seems to be suffering from a sense of emotional neglect. Provide that much-needed reassurance.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Cheer up. That unusual circumstance that might faze most people can be handled pretty well by the savvy Sagittarian. Look at it as an opportunity rather than an obstacle.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Someone you believe has hurt you in the past might now need your help. Reaching out could be difficult. But the generous Goat will be able to do the right thing, as always.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Prioritizing is an important part of your pre-holiday scheduling. Try to give time both to your workday responsibilities and those personal matters you might have neglected.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) With the vestiges of your anger about that painful incident fading, you can now focus all your energy on the more positive aspects of your life, including that personal situation.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have a way of bringing your own strong sense of reassurance to others and encouraging them to hope.

* A potato peeler plus a bar of chocolate makes for a very fancy garnish for cake tops or even for hot drinks.

* Holidays got you stressed? Take a breathing break. Deep belly breaths, sometimes called "focus breaths," can lower blood pressure, calm stress-induced heart rate and induce a relaxation response. Simply sit or lie down somewhere safe and close your eyes. Breathe in deeply, and let your belly rise with the inhalation. Breathe out slowly and evenly.

* "If a gingerbread house is just too complicated for the kiddos, try this: They can make a holiday forest of trees! Give the kids several ice-cream cones to frost and set them upside down on a tray. Decorate with small candies, etc. You can chip out a 'door' and make one of them an elf house if you feel like it." -- W.L. in North Carolina

* Candy canes can be pulverized in a food processor to dust cookies and cakes. Add a bit of confectioner's sugar to stretch it if needed.

* "Our family of carol singers is happy when they return home from a singing sleigh ride: We serve everyone a big mug of hot chocolate. Our secret for keeping it hot for a crowd? We use our slow cooker and ladle it straight out of the pot!" -- R.E. in Minnesota

* Potatoes can be boiled whole, then plunged into icy water briefly when cooked. The skins should slip right off. No need to spend all that time peeling potatoes!

Physical Fitness Class

During my physical fitness class, I had everyone lie on their backs with their legs up as if pedaling a bike. After several minutes, one man suddenly stopped.

"Why did you stop pedaling?" I shouted.

"I didn't stop," he said, wheezing. "I'm coasting."

PIEDMONT PETS

December 5, 2019
By Paulette Dean

In the past, most animal shelters would not allow adoptions at Christmas time. The concerns were valid ones - a busy holiday morning is not the calmest time to introduce a new animal into a home and some people simply did not want the gift of a new pet.

That has changed and now many shelters allow gift adoptions, last-minute adoptions, etc. Each shelter must have the policies they feel comfortable with.

We changed our policy from a "no-adoption the week before Christmas" policy years ago. We still did not allow gift adoptions; boyfriends/girlfriends were not allowed to adopt an animal for each other. The compromise was to have the potential recipient be part of the process. If the one to receive the gift was a teenager, we absolutely had to have permission from the parents; in fact, they had to be the ones to sign the adoption contract.

That policy remains in place. We still hesitate to have a new puppy or kitten be placed in a box and unwrapped on Christmas morning. We encourage parents to wrap a leash or collar to be unwrapped, and then the family can come the next day and pick up the new pet. From time to time, we have sent a letter to Santa Claus, asking if he will bring the new animal early Christmas Eve as he flies over this area on his way to the other side of the earth. He has always cooperated with us and the families have been very happy.

Our holiday policy is not meant to break hearts or to be difficult. It is in place to help the animals have as quiet a transition into their new home and family as possible, decrease the chance of an animal being returned to the shelter, and do our due diligence in making sure our shelter animals will never again be unwanted or neglected.

If parents want to adopt a family pet, we urge them to visit the shelter on the 14th during our special Santa event with police officer elves from 11-2. That will start the process and will help decrease the likelihood misunderstandings and hurt feelings will happen.

After all, 'tis the season for goodwill and that can extend to animals and their needs!

Covenant Honors Local Evangelist

Dr. John Carpenter presents Joe Scruggs with a plaque to mark his service as an elder and local evangelist, November 24, 2019.

Covenant Reformed Baptist Church honored Joseph Neil Scruggs, II, for a life-time of service as a local evangelist and for completing two terms as an elder of the church. Scruggs is a familiar face around Caswell County, visiting homes of both friends and soon-to-be friends, lending helping hands, and driving buses to pick up kids for church events. He also regularly speaks at the church's GYM meeting on Sunday evenings aimed at teenagers and young adults. After retiring as a rural postal carrier out of Yanceyville, Scruggs served as an elder at Covenant Reformed Baptist Church in Providence, NC (immediately south of Danville). Dr. John Carpenter, the church's pastor, explains, "Elders are the human leaders of the church according to the Bible. Reformed churches follow the Biblical pattern of having both paid elders, that is pastors like me, and lay elders who together lead the church. Lay elders like Joe aren't paid but serve as a volunteer ministry." The church celebrated Scruggs completion of his second consecutive term and his life-time of evangelistic serve with a plaque and a commemorative book and other members spontaneously made cards and a poster. "Joe isn't retiring from the ministry but we thought this was a significant mile-stone to stop and show our appreciation for his faithful service," said Pastor Carpenter.

What Are The Differences Between Guardianship And Power Of Attorney?

We receive calls every week from families caring for a loved one whose health is starting to deteriorate, asking about getting a Power of Attorney. Sadly, far too often in the case of those suffering from Alzheimer's or dementia, most had not done any estate planning documents prior to their worsening condition and by this point may have lost all capacity to sign legal documents! What can be done in instances where no estate planning was put in place ahead of time? The answer is often a guardianship.

By definition of the law, a guardianship is a legal relationship in which an entity or a person is named in a will or is appointed by the court to make decisions for another. One example would be in the case of minors and adults who have become incapable of taking care of their personal needs and can no longer make decisions on their own.

It is also referred to as a conservatorship on occasion, but the term "guardianship" is more frequently used. In the case of minors, the guardianship will apply until he or she is 18 years old. Any family member or close family friend can petition the court for guardianship or a government agency can petition for it.

This is also true in the case of incompetent adults, but the person or ward can select the person that he wants to be his guardian. The judge will take this into consideration before granting the guardianship. After the guardianship is obtained, the ward cannot revoke the guardianship. However, there are cases wherein temporary guardianship is given which can be terminated after achieving a certain purpose. Guardians make all decisions for and on behalf of their wards but must not benefit from transactions made for his ward.

A guardianship is meant to ensure that a minor or an incapacitated adult receives all the necessary care he needs. Every decision that a guardian makes on behalf of his ward must be for the benefit and well-being of his ward.

A power of attorney, on the other hand, is a written, legal document wherein an individual called "the principal" appoints another individual called "the agent" to act on his behalf; authorizing the agent to make transactions for the principal.

Usually, a power of attorney is made when a principal sees that he is becoming unable to handle some of his affairs. This is usually done when he becomes ill or has been in an accident, or when he goes out of town and there are financial transactions that have to be done in his absence. This type of planning should all be done with an eye towards planning for the future, and avoiding possible incapacity. It is a written agreement between the agent and the principal whose consent is necessary for the power of attorney to take effect. Should the principal see that the power of attorney is no longer needed, he can revoke or terminate it at any time.

The power of attorney documents produced by our firm are two separate documents: Durable (for financial matters) and Healthcare (for medical and health-related matters). A Living Will is typically paired with the Healthcare Power of Attorney to address end-of-life decisions. While these documents are very thorough, the only thing worse than not having a power of attorney is having one, but never actually having that conversation with your agent as to what your actual wishes would be if you were unable to communicate them yourself! You are ideally trying to create the situation where someone is not trying to decide end-of-life decisions for you, but to merely voice what they know you would want in those circumstances! The power of the agent is limited only to the content of the agreement, and should be done based on the client's own specific needs and situation both now and in the future.

While guardianship requires the guardian to report to the court and other agencies the financial dealings made for the ward to determine where the ward's money went, a power of attorney does not require the agent to account for every penny that he spent.

The best advice of course, is to plan ahead, as no one knows what the future holds! For those situations where time has run out in regards to planning and estate planning documents are no longer possible, a guardianship is the more expensive and time-consuming route, but is often the only answer.

If you have been putting off the need to begin your planning, contact our office or a Certified Elder Law Attorney in your area to discuss the best options! AN EARLY DINNER FOR NYC SUBWAY RIDERS

New York City subway riders were treated to an early Thanksgiving dinner this year courtesy of an anonymous benefactor, according to the Association of Mature American Citizens [AMAC]. The catered affair took place on a Brooklyn-bound-train-turned-diner chockfull of traditional dishes, including turkey, mashed potatoes and yams. The table was set in one car of the train, but volunteers made up heaping plates of festive food for all of the riders lucky enough to be on board the Sunday night before Thanksgiving.

THEY LIVED HAPPILY EVER AFTER

Charlotte and John Henderson of Austin, TX were married in 1939 and will celebrate their 80th anniversary in December. But that's not the reason they made it into the Guinness Book of World Records. The Association of Mature American Citizens [AMAC] says it is because they are officially the oldest known married couple. He's 106 years old and she's 105. And they said it wouldn't last.

'TIS THE SEASON

Some people just can't get enough of watching Christmas movies and now one lucky binge watcher can have his or her movies with a side of cash. The folks at Hallmark is offering to pay $1,000 for someone who is prepared to watch 24 holiday movies over a period of 12 days. The greeting card company turned TV channel has rules for its version of The Twelve Days of Christmas, reports the Association of Mature American Citizens [AMAC]. "Rule #1: You don't like Christmas—you love it. Rule #2: You must be over 18-years-old and be a US resident. Rule #3: You know how to work the Gram, Twitter, or Facebook. We want someone who's willing to document their Hallmark marathon with their followers. We want you to have opinions—lots of them! Think the grumpy Grandpa turned jolly Santa was a little overdone? Felt like the plot was a bit half-baked? Be as honest as possible in your review."

DOGS GO FOR A JOY RIDE

A Port St. Lucie, FL driver left Max, the dog, alone in his car and as he stepped away the pooch managed to accidentally put the auto in gear and went on a joy ride-- in reverse, reports the Association of Mature American Citizens [AMAC]. Anna Sabol, who lives nearby, watched as the car went round and round in a cul-de-sac for some 30 minutes, coming to a halt when it backed into a mailbox. The unidentified owner of the vehicle promised to pay for the minimal damage Max caused. But, Ms. Sabol was impressed with Max, telling a reporter for the Sun-Sentinel newspaper: "They should give that dog a license. He drives better than some people I've seen on the roads here."

DO YOU CRAVE A "BIGGER BURGER?"

Some fast-food restaurants brag that their hamburgers are made with a half-pound of ground beef. But Bangkok's Chris Steaks and Burgers boasts that they're ready to serve you a burger made with a 13-pound beef patty, says the Association of Mature American Citizens [AMAC]. It comes with fried onion rings, bacon, mayonnaise and a cash prize of more than $300, if you can down it in nine minutes. The owners say that at least three of their customers have already managed to devour what some call the "whopper of all whoppers."

A PENNY SAVED IS A PENNY EARNED

Guinness World Record holder Cory Nielsen finished building a penny pyramid with more than a million pennies last spring. He assembled the project without resorting to the use of an adhesive in quest of the title, reports the Association of Mature American Citizens [AMAC]. It made it a lot easier for him to dismantle the 6,000 pound structure recently so that he could exchange the 1,030,315 pennies for 10,303 dollars and 15 cents.

POOCH-SITTER WANTED

Attention job-seekers: a British couple is seeking a full-time dog sitter/housekeeper and is willing to pay the lucky applicant some $40,000 a year plus room and board, according to the Association of Mature American Citizens [AMAC]. The ad they posted on the Silver Swan Search Web site specifies that applicants "MUST have a passion for dog care," noting that "experience looking after dogs is essential."

HOW TO CURE TECH ADDICTION

If you're concerned that tech addiction is having a negative impact on our children, you are not alone, says the Association of Mature American Citizens [AMAC]. In fact, smartphone dependence is a worldwide epidemic and has triggered a search for a cure. For example, in the Indonesian city of Bandung, West Java

What to Do When Medicare Tells You No

Dear Savvy Senior,

How do I go about appealing Medicare when they won't pay for something that they covered in the past?

Rejected Rhonda

Dear Rhonda,
If you disagree with a coverage or payment decision made by Medicare, you can appeal, and you'll be happy to know that around half of all appeals are successful, so it's definitely worth your time.

But before going that route, talk with the doctor, hospital and Medicare to see if you can spot the problem and resubmit the claim. Some denials are caused by simple billing code errors by the doctor's office or hospital. If, however, that doesn't fix the problem, here's how you appeal.

Original Medicare Appeals

If you have original Medicare, start with your quarterly Medicare Summary Notice (MSN). This statement will list all the services, supplies and equipment billed to Medicare for your medical treatment and will tell you why a claim was denied. You can also check your Medicare claims early online at MyMedicare.gov, or by calling Medicare at 800-633-4227.

There are five levels of appeals for original Medicare, although you can initiate a fast-track consideration for ongoing care, such as rehabilitation. Most people have to go through several levels to get a denial overturned.

You have 120 days after receiving the MSN to request a "redetermination" by a Medicare contractor, who reviews the claim. Circle the items you're disputing on the MSN, provide an explanation of why you believe the denial should be reversed, and include any supporting documents like a letter from the doctor or hospital explaining why the charge should be covered. Then send it to the address on the form.

You can also use the Medicare Redetermination Form. See CMS.gov/Medicare/CMS-Forms/CMS-Forms/downloads/CMS20027.pdf to download it or call 800-633-4227 to request a copy by mail.

The contractor will usually decide within 60 days after receiving your request. If your request is denied, you can request for "reconsideration" from a different claims reviewer and submit additional evidence.

A denial at this level ends the matter, unless the charges in dispute are at least $160 in 2019. In that case, you can request a hearing with an administrative law judge. The hearing is usually held by videoconference or teleconference.

If you have to go to the next level, you can appeal to the Medicare Appeals Council. Then, for claims of at least $1,630 in 2019, the final level of appeals is judicial review in U.S. District Court.

Advantage and Part D Appeals

If you're enrolled in a Medicare Advantage health plan or Part D prescription drug plan the appeals process is slightly different. With these plans you have only 60 days to initiate an appeal. And in both cases, you must start by appealing directly to the private insurance plan, rather than to Medicare.

If you think that your plan's refusal is jeopardizing your health, you can ask for a "fast decision," where a Part D insurer must respond within 24 hours, and Medicare Advantage health plan must provide an answer within 72 hours.

If you disagree with your plan's decision, you can file an appeal, which like original Medicare, has five levels. If you disagree with a decision made at any level, you can appeal to the next level.

For more information, along with step-by-step procedures on how to make an appeal, visit Medicare.gov and click on the "Claims & Appeals" tab at the top of the page.

Get Help

If you need some help contact your State Health Insurance Assistance Program (SHIP), which has counselors that can help you understand the billing process and even file your appeal for you for free. To locate your local SHIP, visit ShiptaCenter.org or call 877-839-2675. The Medicare Rights Center also offers free phone counseling at 800-333-4114.

SENIOR NEWS LINE

What We Need for Winter

There are three things we seniors need to get through a cold winter: flashlights, insulated mittens and space blankets.

Check your battery and flashlight supply and stock up on what you need. One of the big-box stores has small flashlights, about 4 inches long, for $1, and they come with three AAA batteries. (At that price it's cheaper to buy new flashlights than the batteries that go in them.) While they won't light up your whole house (20 lumens), they are small enough to carry in a pocket and get you from room to room if the power goes out. Keep a few of them scattered around the house: kitchen counter, dining-room table, nightstand and right inside the front door, just in case. That way you won't have to feel your way across the room to find a light.

Look for insulated mittens instead of gloves. Mittens have the advantage of keeping your fingers together and holding in warmth. Knitted mittens won't keep you warm. Be sure they're not too big and that your wrist is covered.

Consider buying one (or more) of those thermal foil Mylar emergency space blankets. They look like large sheets of aluminum foil, folded down to a few inches. When opened, these blankets are said to hold in 90% of body heat. Right now you can get a pack of two for less than $8 on Amazon, or check the sporting goods area of your local big box store. (Be sure to check the size.) Keep one in the glove compartment of your car.

In the event you have a hard winter, make calls now to find out where warming stations will be held in your town if there is a long power outage. Be ready!

TIMBERLAKE AREA HAUNTED HOUSE RUNS OUT SPOOKS TO PUT ON SPECTACULAR CHRISTMAS HOUSE PROVIDING GOOD LOCAL YULETIDE FAMILY FUN & ENTERTAINMENT

There were two issues that came into view for a group of local firefighters and volunteers in the rural area out in Person County: 1) How to provide a community venue where people come to enjoy something special about Christmas, and 2) an event or venue that could help raise additional monies for their local chapter of the Firefighters' Burned Children Fund (FFBCF-PC). Thus, the Barton Manor Christmas House was established in 2016 to give back.

Planned and presented as a "totally non-scary" Christmas themed house of fun, wonder and joy, Barton Manor is going through a total transformation from its 13th Door Haunted Manor to the Christmas Manor, according to FFBCF-PC President Brandy Horton. According to Brandy, a captain the Roxboro Fire Department, "We have a Grinch and Who's. We have Harry Potter and Jack Skeleton. Best of all, we have Elves and the jolly ole man himself, Santa Claus. To put it simply, it's a beautiful display of Christmas decorations, lights, and so much more. There is absolutely nothing scary about it. We can't wait to show it off to you and help create lasting memories for you and your family."

The Christmas House, at 970 Frank Timberlake Road, in Timberlake, will be open for 13 evenings from 6:00 PM until the crowd wanes, but if you have a group of a dozen or more, the volunteers running the Christmas House will gladly set up a special time for your group. Make your request for a special group visit through Facebook at HYPERLINK "https://www.facebook.com/Firefighters-Burned-Children-Fund-of-Person-County-246706472621686/" <https://www.facebook.com/Firefighters-Burned-Children-Fund-of-Person-County-246706472621686/> or call Brandy Horton at (336) 504-1053. A calendar with the schedule of dates is also on the page.

Admission is $5.00 per person for everyone age six and older and the house is open from 6 pm - until.

Firefighters' Burned Children's Fund - Person County

Horton added, "All proceeds from this fundraiser benefit the Firefighters' Burned Children's Fund of Person County. We are a non-profit organization dedicated to the support, education and recovery of burn survivors and their families and the prevention of burn injuries thru fire safety education and fire escape route planning. At any given time, the organization is helping anywhere from a dozen to two dozen local children. We provide their parents gifts cards to help with special needs during hospitalization time. We provide education to the survivors and their families regarding how to deal with short and long-term burn injuries. We also work with the whole family on preventative measures such as smoke detectors. Our FFBCF-PC group, comprised of more than fifty firefighters and volunteers from all over Person County, also works to help burn families to develop escape plans in case there might be another fire."

The Person County chapter of the Firefighters' Burned Children's Fund was formed in 2001. The group is a 501C3 organization and they do take donations straight from the public which are tax deductible.
