A few weeks ago, Albania was struck by a 6.4 magnitude earthquake along its shoreline, taking the lives of over 50 people and leaving several thousand injured. This was the deadliest earthquake that has struck Albania in 99 years, and is as present, the world's deadliest earthquake of 2019. The damage was primarily had in the city of Durrës and the village of Kodër-Thumanë. In both locations, the earthquake effectively collapsed multiple hotels and apartment blocks. In addition to the lives tragically lost and those injured, many thousands are homeless, having been displaced from their residences.

Last week, I decided to travel to Albania to offer my aid in their relief. I, being of proud Albanian heritage, as many of you are too in our 13th City Council District, was compelled to help their nation rebuild from this disaster. I travelled with several Albanian-heritage engineers from our Bronx community to help assess damage and aid in rebuilding where possible, in order to expedite the return of displaced persons to their homes.

I am also proud to announce that us New Yorkers have successfully raised about $44,000 (as of the writing of this article) in funds to be used for Albanian earthquake relief and rebuilding.

The fundraising efforts, the interest and the gestures of good faith toward other nations are behaviors certainly native to the empathetic and globally-oriented people that are New Yorkers. It has given me tremendous satisfaction to witness such generosity, especially when the effects of the earthquake, separated by many miles, cannot be seen first-hand. I thank you for your interest and commitment to the Albanian people, who are as an important component of my ancestry as they are too many of you as well.

To donate to the Albanian Earthquake Relief Fund, visit www.gofundme.com/f/albanian-earthquake-relief-fund?utm_source=customer&utm_medium=email&utm_campaign=p_cf+share-flow-1
