ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Events could inspire adventurous Lambs looking to make a major career or personal move. But as always, get all the facts before rushing into any sort of deal or commitment.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) What seems to be a great opportunity could cause even usually practical Taureans to ignore their inner caution cues. Best to move carefully to avoid falling into unseen traps.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Need a holiday now that the seasonal festivities are behind you? Good idea. Plan to go someplace wonderful. You'll return refreshed and more than ready for a new challenge.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Progress continues to be made on that pesky workplace problem. Meanwhile, don't assume a personal situation will work itself out. Best to get more involved earlier than later.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Catnaps are definitely recommended for Leos and Leonas who had been going at a hectic pace over the holidays. Adding relaxation time to your schedule helps restore your overdrawn energy reserves.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Sure, some of the new friends you made over the holidays might move out of your life at some point. But at least one might show significant "staying power" with some encouragement.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Encourage family members to join you in supporting a relative who could be facing a difficult emotional challenge in the New Year. Showing your love and concern helps keep his or her hopes up.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) While a long-deferred decision suddenly might take on some urgency after news on a related matter, you still need to weigh all factors carefully before deciding one way or the other.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) This is a good time to reassess the earlier plan you made for the New Year. Some elements you felt you could depend on to make it work might no longer carry that assurance.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Forming a renewed connection with a former associate is only the first step toward working out your new plans. Be prepared for problems, and deal with them as soon as they arise.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A romantic situation that was going smoothly not too long ago might take a new turn. Be honest about your feelings before you decide whether to follow it or take another path.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) The wise Pisces (that's you, of course) will make sure everyone knows your plan to keep your options open and listen to all sides of the situation before making any decisions.

BORN THIS WEEK: Your honest approach to life and living is always an inspiration for others fortunate enough to know you.

Turmeric Can be Helpful for Arthritis Pain

DEAR DR. ROACH: I am 88 and have had osteoarthritis in my hands and knees since I was in my 50s. I began taking Tylenol and Advil for pain. But on a recommendation from a health food store clerk, I started taking turmeric. Since that first dose, I have never had to take any pain medication again. I also have not had a knee replacement. My specialist is very pleased with my condition, and encourages my use of turmeric. I plan to up the dose from 150 mg daily because of research that shows its benefits in avoiding Alzheimer's disease. -- D.D.L.

ANSWER: Turmeric has been shown to be helpful in some people with osteoarthritis, and is unlikely to have serious side effects; however, stomach upset is possible, and turmeric should be used with caution in people on warfarin or other anticoagulants. However, there is no good evidence showing that turmeric prevents or treats dementia.

DEAR DR. ROACH: I have been hearing a lot about making yogurt at home. Is homemade yogurt a recipe for food poisoning? -- H.C.

ANSWER: Homemade yogurt is easy to make, can be more healthy than store-bought as it has very little sugar, and can be made very safely with minimal precautions. The key is to make sure the milk is fresh and sterile, then to carefully add in healthy bacteria. All you need to do is boil fresh milk to a bare simmer (to kill any unhealthy bacteria); cool it down to 100-110 F (37-42 C), which is an optimal temperature for growth of the healthy bacteria that help prevent the growth of unhealthy bacteria or yeast; stir in a few tablespoons of plain yogurt with active healthy bacterial cultures; and keep it in a warm place for six to 12 hours or so. You can use the yogurt you just made as the starter for the next batch. Add in some pureed fresh fruit, and you have a healthier, tastier and cheaper yogurt than you can buy at the store.

DEAR DR. ROACH: I take 40 mg of lisinopril for high blood pressure. One doctor told me to take a 40-mg tablet in the morning, while another said to take 20 mg in the morning and 20 mg in the evening. Will separating the dosage better control my blood pressure? On average, mine is 130/75. -- M.A.P.

ANSWER: For lisinopril in particular, taking the medication twice daily showed a better reduction in blood pressure than once daily, according to a study performed last year. People who took lisinopril twice daily had about a 10-point systolic (4 point diastolic) improvement in BP control, so your blood pressure might be more like 120/71 if you started taking it in two doses, if you are similar to the subjects in the study (that sounds like a big drop to me, despite the study results). People who are doing just fine on once-daily lisinopril don't need to change. Don't make any changes in your medication without discussing it with your own doctor.

Dr. Roach regrets that he is unable to answer individual questions, but will incorporate them in the column whenever possible. Readers may email questions to ToYourGoodHealth@med.cornell.edu.

By Paulette Dean

If helping animals is one of your New Year's resolutions, we have the perfect place for you to begin! Our large group of shelter volunteers provide much-needed socialization, exercise, and fun time for the shelter animals. People do not have to commit to huge amounts of time or even to come on a particular day. Some volunteers come to walk just a couple of dogs or to hold one kitten for a few minutes. Others prefer to stay for a couple of hours.

We had a volunteer who came every Thursday for years until her health declined. She washed, dried, and folded towels for us. She was always very humble about her service, but employees were so grateful for her help.

The reality of a busy open-admission shelter is this: The employees stay quite busy with the tasks of cleaning, watering, feeding, vaccinating, de-fleaing, de-worming, checking on animals, etc. We do not have a large staff and with thousands of animals received each year, their days are filled with the daily care required.

That means that we rely heavily on volunteers to do the fun work of the shelter. They bathe puppies, play with kittens, take dogs for walks, and help us socialize the animals.

A volunteer orientation is required. It is held the first Thursday of each month at 4:00 at the shelter. We give a tour

996 South Boston Rd.,
Danville, VA 24540
Phone: (434) 799-0843

and explain our procedures, laws, and the regulations we abide by. The orientation is designed to keep the volunteers and the animals safe and lasts about 45 minutes.

We love our large group of volunteers and are always in search of ways to improve the program. Will your service have an impact? Most certainly. You will be able to have a positive impact on the lives of animals.

The next orientation is scheduled for Thursday, February 6, at 4:00 at the shelter. If we have enough interest in having a Saturday orientation, we will be thrilled to schedule one.

If serving animals is one of your goals, we guarantee that you will be so happy on December 31st that you kept that resolution!

Blown Glassware

It is very difficult to identify early blown glassware from the 18th century because talented modern glass blowers can make good copies in the earlier styles and colors. Today, chemical anal-shaped like an acorn, but the best clue to its age is the engraving "A.G. 1780" on the glass and the knowledge that it has been in a famous glass collection for many years. Experts think it was made in the Pittsburgh area.

This amazing piece of blown blue glass made in 1780 in Pittsburgh is a rarity that sold for $2,340. But be careful when buying antique glass; many fakes were made in the 1930s and may still fool buyers.

ysis of the glass, along with other modern methods, can identify the source of the sand (silica) used in glass. This led to the discovery that many museums had 1930s Mexican copies.

If you are lucky enough to find a piece of early American blown glass, look at the shape and clarity of the glass, ask about the history, and look for scratches and other marks that indicate wear. Then get a bill of sale that describes the piece and includes the probable age and history. Also, be sure there is a money-back guarantee if the piece turns out to be a fake. Most auctions do this, but online sales of unknown dealers or galleries can be dangerous, especially when you are buying old glass.

A bright cobalt blue-blown covered sugar bowl was sold at a Norman C. Heckler & Co. auction for $2,340. It is 6 3/4 inches high and 4 3/4 inches in diameter. Of course, it has a scar from the pontil rod. The finial on the lid is

Q. I have a Carlton Ware walking teapot, four cups and sugar bowl with Hawaiian decoration. What are they worth?

A. Walking Ware tea sets are creamy rounded earthenware pieces mounted on quirky legs. They were designed in 1974 by husband-and-wife team Roger Michell (1947-2018) and Danka Napiorkowska (b. 1946) and made in their English studio called Lustre Pottery. Pieces were handmade by Roger, then decorated by Danka. Later, Walking Ware was also made by Carlton Ware, a Stoke-on-Trent pottery factory started in 1896. After a trip to the island of St. Lucia, the couple designed the Caribbean Series in 1978 with a tropical theme decoration in light blue, green and yellow. The legs are wearing white socks with a blue band and yellow shoes. Pieces were made by Lustre Pottery and also by Carlton Ware until they closed in 1986. Limited-edition items were made in the 2000s. Plain Walking Ware pieces sell for $10 for an egg cup to about $50 for a teapot. Caribbean-decorated pieces sell for about twice that.

Now is a time when many of us reflect back on the past and try to implement a plan for a better future. Many of us have a goal to lose weight, exercise more, or stop some habit that may not be good for us. Are you including your finances in your goals for 2020? Give this some thought and decide what kind of financial goals you need to set for yourself. Here are some suggestions you may want to consider:

- Improve your credit score
- Set a goal for a savings account
- Pay off debt
- Savings plan for retirement

After you determine what your goal is the next step is to develop a plan to reach that goal. Setting a short term goal and reaching that goal will encourage you to set a larger goal. Putting your plans in writing will also help you in deciding what you need to do to reach that goal. Changing habits is never easy but one thing is for sure...nothing changes if nothing changes. Let us help you reach your financial goals!

DCC Quality Control Instructor Earns NIMS Certification

DCC Photo - Josh Worthley at DCC: Danville Community College Instructor of Dimensional Metrology Josh Worthley explains the functionality of an instrument of measurement in the college's new metrology/dimensional inspection lab. The dimensional inspection/metrology program at DCC can lead to a career in quality control and other areas in precision machining. Worthley recently earned the NIMS Inspector certification, which allows him to inspect parts constructed by students on site, rather than sending the parts to be assessed externally.

Danville, Va., January 3, 2020 — Danville Community College (DCC) Instructor Josh Worthley earned the NIMS Inspector certification last semester, which allows the conducting of on-site student-made part inspection.

The intent of the credential is for instructors to ensure they can properly check the machining parts built by students.

"The machining students at DCC take up to seven NIMS credentials while enrolled, several of which require inspection, which I can now do instead of having to send it out to an outside company and pay for it," Worthley said, adding that convenience and cost savings are joined by a faster turnaround for the benefit of DCC's students.

NIMS focuses on and emphasizes continuous improvement in its industry, and Worthley said upcoming improvements would increase the credibility of current testing methods.

"This credential isn't abnormal for those of us in the quality world as integrity is crucial to us, but it does help DCC's students as we will now be able to check machined parts made by students in house. This will expedite the process over paying an outside source," Worthley explained.

Due to his high performance on the test, NIMS has requested Worthley's help and expertise in improving it.

"After completing the test and raising concerns with NIMS, following their contacting me and telling me I had the highest score by a long shot on a test that had a very low passing rate, I met with NIMS Executive Director Montez King to provide feedback on several questions with the intent of offering improvement suggestions," Worthley said. "Since then, I've heard from their credentialing and accreditation manager on how appreciative they are of my help."

Worthley has taught at DCC for three years as of this month.

Danville Community College is a two-year institution of higher education under the state-wide Virginia Community College System. DCC's service area includes the City of Danville, Pittsylvania County, and Halifax County. For more information about the college's nearly 100 programs of study, visit www.danville.edu.

IALR-SPONSORED HOLIDAY TREE PROGRAM RAISES $16,585 FOR CHARITIES

The Institute for Advanced Learning and Research (IALR) is pleased to announce that its 10th annual Decorating the Trees for a Cause program raised $16,585 for nonprofit organizations over the holiday season. Forty-four organizations participated in the program, and each selected a charity for which to collect votes in the form of donations.

Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company's tree received the most votes and donations and, therefore, won the first-place bonus of $1,000. The company's charity of choice, the United Way of Danville-Pittsylvania County, received donations of more than $4,000. Foster Insurance's tree received the second most votes, and their donations, which totaled more than $1,400, were selected to go to God's Pit Crew. As the second-place winner, they received a $700 bonus for their charity. Make a Wish of Greater Virginia was selected as the random drawing winner and received a bonus of $500. The bonus awards were made possible through an anonymous donation as well as sponsorships by Sodexo Inc. and HomeTrust Bank.

The three-week voting and display period for the Decorating the Trees for a Cause program ended Dec. 20, and all participants received 100 percent of the donations contributed for their trees. Since the program's beginning in 2010, $117,183 has been raised for charitable causes.

FOSTER FUELS DONATES TO LOCAL SCHOOLS

In lieu of a company Christmas party this season, Foster Fuels made the decision to donate the party budget to 13 local elementary schools in their market. Employees located near each school represented Foster Fuels as they hand delivered each check.

Foster Fuels' Mission Critical Marketing Manager, David Fredricksen, had the privilege to participate in one of the donation drop-offs. "It is crucial that we uplift those in our community who need it most. The smiles on their faces are sincere and meaningful and I feel fortunate to be a part of that."

These funds will go entirely towards meeting the unique needs of each school and will directly benefit children in our local communities. Faculty at several schools shared their plans to use the donations to purchase school supplies and books as well as winter coats for students.

Jennifer Bryant-Foster, Vice President of Real Estate Sales and Management, and Trustee of the Watt Foster Family Foundation, expressed why giving to these schools are so important to her. "While there are so many valuable non-profits in this community, let us not forget our schools and teachers who work so hard every day for our children. If we want to change the future for our children, we need to start with the schools—both public and private. We can change things one child at a time." Foster Fuels is proud to support and partner with these local schools who make the community great.

Lori Ann Harmon Leath

The family of Lori would like to thank everyone for all the kind and loving gestures of prayers, food, flowers, cards, and money.

To all who attended her funeral and visitation. It was an outpouring of Love for Lori, and our family.

A special thank you to Tim and Jan Case, who were by our side through our most difficult times. To Pastor Freddy Vicks, for his most loving words which gave our family peace. God is with our family through this time. To Eden Flea Market, and all there, for your kind acts. To the Halifax County State Police Troopers who lovingly were Lori's pallbearers. To Norris Funeral Home, for the gracious service and everything they did for us.

May God Bless.

The Family of Lori Ann Harmon Leath

by Tony Rizzo

HOLLYWOOD — There's a new addiction to add to your list ... it's The Hallmark Channel. They've been playing their Christmas movies since last Christmas, amassing a list of 136 holiday films (40 filmed in 2019). The Hallmark Channel was acquired by Crown Media in 2001, and their first Christmas movie was "Meet the Santas" (2005), with Steve Guttenberg and Mariette Hartley. In 2006 they produced the original film "The Christmas Card," with Ed Asner and Lois Nettleton. In 2017 they beat all four major networks in one night with "The Christmas Train," starring Joan Cusack, Dermot Mulroney and Danny Glover.

Hallmark Channel

Lacey Chabert

The Hallmark Hall of Fame produced classic movies for television that won 81 Emmys out of hundreds of nominations. They're using the same actors and actresses and supporting players over and again, like the old studios system did. Upcoming in 2020 they have "Winter in Vail," with Lacey Chabert and Tyler Hynes; "Alice in Winterland," with Chad Michael Murray; "A Beautiful Place to Die: A Martha's Vineyard Mystery," with Jesse Metcalfe; "Hearts of Winter," with Jill Wagner and Victor Webster; "Love on Iceland," with Kailin Doubleday and Colin Donnell; and "Crossword Mysteries: Abracadaver," with Lacey Chabert and Brennan Elliott. They have 23 more new films in development.

Their films have a basic formula. It's usually about an ambitious rising female executive who has lost her Christmas spirit or hasn't been home for a visit to her small town, where she meets a widower with a child. One hour and 15 minutes later they almost kiss, but are interrupted by a ringing phone or a person. One and a half hours in, a conflict occurs when one sees the other with their old flame, gets the wrong idea and bolts. Miraculously, in the final six minutes everything is resolved, they kiss, and we fade out. The majority of the films are shot in Canada, but there are other locations. "Moonlight in Vermont" was shot in Chester, Vermont (population 3,000); "Christmas in Homestead" in Dahlonega, Georgia (population 6,437); "A Christmas Wish" in Mapleton, Utah; "Christmas Land" and "Pioneer Village" in the Lagoon Amusement Park, Farmington, Utah; and "Christmas Cookies," in Squamish, British Columbia. These are real places you can visit, as is the set of "When Calls the Heart," which was erected in 2013 in Langely, near Vancouver. The series has been renewed for a seventh season, and they offer a town tour (one hour for $20) or a private tour (two hours for $35).

I thought it was just me, but friends have confirmed that they, too, found it hard to turn off the TV while these film were aired all night long during the Christmas season.
