A woman who is 3 months pregnant falls into a deep coma. 6 months later, she awakes and asks the doctor about her baby.

Doctor: You had twins, a boy and a girl, and they are both fine. Luckily, your brother named them for you.

Woman: Oh no, not my brother! He's an idiot! What did he name the girl?

Doctor: Denise.

Woman: Well it isn't so bad, and what did he call the boy?

Doctor: Denephew.

Legend has it that this car belonged to a man who parked in the shade while his wife ran into hobby lobby for just a few things.

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Use that Arian charm to help make a difficult workplace transition easier for everyone. News about a long-awaited decision can be confusing. Don't jump to conclusions.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Although you might well be tempted to be more extravagant than you should be at this time, I'm betting you'll let your sensible Bovine instinct guide you toward moderation.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) An opportunity for travel could come with some problems regarding travel companions and other matters. So be sure you read all the fine print before you start packing.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Make an effort to complete your usual workplace tasks before volunteering for extra duty. Scrambling to catch up later on could create some resentment among your colleagues.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) A financial matter could have you rethinking your current spending plans. You might want to recheck your budget to see where you can cut back on expenses until the situation improves.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) One way to make your case for that promotion you've been hoping for might be to put your planning skills to work in helping to shape up a project that got out of hand. Good luck.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Be careful about "experts" who have no solid business background. Instead, seek advice on enhancing your business prospects from bona fide sources with good success records.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Standing up to support a colleague's viewpoint -- even if it's unpopular -- can be difficult if you feel outnumbered. But you'll win plaudits for your honesty and courage.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) While progress continues on resolving that recurring problem, you might feel it's taking too long. But these things always need to develop at their own pace. Be patient.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Someone close to you might have a financial problem and seek your advice. If you do decide to get involved, insist on seeing everything that might be relevant to this situation.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A personal matter takes an interesting turn. The question is, do you want to follow the new path or take time out to reconsider the change? Think this through before deciding.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Moving into a new career is a big step. Check that offer carefully with someone who has been there, done that, and has the facts you'll need to help you make your decision.

BORN THIS WEEK: Your warmth and generosity both of spirit and substance endears you to everyone.

Clobbered Porcelain

The English word "clobbered" has been used since at least the 1600s, but its meaning has changed. It still means beaten up, badly injured or damaged. But the word had a very different meaning in the 1700s. It describes porcelain dishes or ornaments with blue-and-white underglaze decoration that were altered. And in an auction catalog or antiques display, the clobbered alterations are not bad and not damaging, but enhancing, and not a reason to pay a lower price.

A pair of clobbered Chinese urns decorated with blue-and-white pictures of houses and a river were overpainted with colored flowers, leaves and a cracked ice design. The pair sold for $5,750.

The Chinese made most of the blue-and-white pieces in the late 1700s to early 1800s. They were shipped to many countries and overpainted with colored glazes because the public would pay more for colored urns or dishes. The decorations did not follow the blue-and-white outlines of the original glaze, but were applied as new pictures and ornamental designs over the old glaze. The English did the same overglaze decorating, but many thought it was damaged, not improved. The Germans called it "schwarzlot" (blackish) decoration.

A pair of "Chinese Export clobbered porcelain vases" were sold at a New Orleans auction for $5,750. Clobbering in green, pink, yellow and copper red in the mid-1800s has added to its value today.

Q. Wouldn't spoons made in the 1800s be worth more than the silver meltdown price? What makes sterling silver flatware eligible to be called "museum quality?"

A. Most old silver flatware is no longer popular and doesn't sell well. People don't want to bother cleaning silver. It needs to be washed by hand, polished regularly and stored properly in order to avoid tarnish, scratches and dents. It shouldn't be put in the dishwasher with stainless steel or other metal flatware. Certain foods, rubber, felt, wool, oak and some types of paint will cause silver to tarnish. Silver flatware should be stored in special flannel bags or chests lined with tarnish-resistant flannel. Storing silver in plastic wrap or newspapers, or in cardboard boxes, causes it to discolor. Sterling silver has a "meltdown value," the cash price of the amount of silver the piece contains. "Museum quality" is whatever the museum decides it wants to include in exhibits as interesting art, design or history. Even the name of a famous or early maker doesn't guarantee the piece is of great value. Best sellers include Tiffany, Georg Jensen and some top-of-the-line Gorham.

CURRENT PRICES

- Creamer, porcelain, pink and brown border, company monogram, marked, Elleman Lines, 1900s, 3 3/4 inches, $25.
- Basket, purse, lightship, scrimshaw lid plaque, Nantucket style, signed, 7 x 9 inches, $125.
- Tazza, bronze, gilt, cat, owl, arabesque, leaves, vines, berries, Antoine-Louis Barye, 7 1/4 x 6 1/2 inches, $170.
- Fireplace, andiron, brass, steeple finial, ball, scrolling legs, ball feet, 22 inches, pair, $480.

TIP: If a white powder forms on a piece made of lead, or glasses or pottery decorated with a lead glaze, immediately remove the piece from your house. The powder is poisonous. Consult an expert conservator if it is valuable and should be saved. Do the ecologically correct thing if you must dispose of the piece.

PIEDMONT PETS

January 16, 2020
By Paulette Dean

If you have bird feeders in your yard, chances are you also have squirrels that take advantage of the ready source of seeds. Some people do not like that, while others gladly provide extra food for them.

One of my favorite childhood books is a story about Perry, a squirrel that lives in a tree. Since my parents read me that book decades ago, I have loved those little animals.

My father used to love watching the squirrels in the backyard and he would especially love it when the squirrels came up to the glass door in the kitchen, waiting patiently for their treats of peanuts.

I love the squirrels in my yard; in fact, when I do not see them for a few days, I begin to worry. I really worry about them in the extremes of weather, whether that be in winter or in the heat of summer. I buy a bird seed mixture that has black oil sunflower seeds because they have more fat in them.

During the fall, squirrels are busily preparing for cold weather. They eat extra to put on extra weight; in fact, it is thought that squirrels can eat as much food as their body weight in just one week. This extra fact is one way they can survive extremely cold temperatures.

Squirrels also work to make a cozy den in a tree. Amazingly, baby squirrels can be born in January; they stay warm by huddling together in the den that their parents have made for them.

From childhood, we learn that squirrels store nuts and seeds for the winter months. Often times, they may forget where their stash of food is. Mother Nature is wonderful though, because those hidden caches of seeds turn into bushes and trees that will provide food for future generations.

If you have squirrels that come to your bird feeders and if you like that they do, be sure to keep the feeders filled. It is always nice to provide a source of water, too.

Although you may not see squirrels in the winter as frequently as in the summer, they can still be a source of joy. They are also a living testament to the wonders of nature.

Drone Business Takes Flight Following DCC Course

Danville Community College student David "Hutch" Hutcheson flies a drone during a hands-on training exercise through DCC's unmanned aerial systems program.

Danville, Va., January 3, 2020 — Two recent Danville Community College (DCC) students have launched a company that uses drones to feature real estate.

Gordon Martel and David Hutcheson created Showcase Your Properties following their attendance in DCC's eight-week introductory drone flight course: Intro to Unmanned Aerial Systems (UAS).

The company provides three-dimensional and aerial imaging for businesses.

Martel, 64, said that a Rotary presentation given by DCC Assistant Professor of Information Systems Technology Steven Carrigan generated his interest in the UAS program.

"Being able to fly a drone places you at the ground floor of numerous opportunities," Martel said. "Flying drones gives you a whole new perspective of filming and taking pictures."

Regarded as a local celebrity for his on-air work on radio stations WBTM and WAKG in Danville, Hutcheson, 65, is also known for his love of flying and aerial photography. Those interests naturally lend themselves to exploring drone flight and photography as imaging technology continues to evolve.

DCC's UAS program prepares students to become Federal Aviation Administration (FAA)-certified drone pilots by passing the knowledge test under Part 107, a critical step to ensure safe and legal drone flight.

"DCC gave me the knowledge and confidence to be able to start this business," Martel said, adding that his instructor's knowledge and passion for UAS was his favorite aspect of being a DCC student.

Martel also offered some advice to anyone considering learning more about drones at DCC.

"Think outside the box as to how drones can be utilized and the many applications of this new technology," Martel said, adding that he expects demand for a variety of drone applications to grow. "Drones and their current applications have only scratched the surface. Every day, new uses for drones are being discovered and DCC and its drone program will be a huge part of that process."

Showcase Your Properties is headquartered in Danville and can be contacted by phone at 434-489-1168 or by email at gpm4415@gmail.com.

Danville Community College is a two-year institution of higher education under the state-wide Virginia Community College System. DCC's service area includes the City of Danville, Pittsylvania County, and Halifax County. For more information about the college's nearly 100 programs of study, visit www.danville.edu.

* To extend the shelf life of your bunch of bananas, try wrapping the stem tightly with a piece of plastic wrap. They also can be kept in the refrigerator if you don't mind cold bananas, like when you are slicing them into cereal or using them in a smoothie. The skins may brown, but the inside will not overripen to match.

* "If you have extra books hanging around, why not contact your local nursing homes to see if anyone would like some new reading material?" -- T. in South Carolina

* H.W. in Massachusetts writes: "I use a bathroom chair in my tub and always wash the exterior. One day, a tip came off one of the legs and when I turned it over to replace it, I was horrified to see black mold underneath. I sprayed it with cleaner and it cleaned up perfectly. Please offer this tip to my fellow senior citizens. Mold is really bad."

* Energy saving tip for the kitchen: Use pots and pans that are the correct size for the burner. There's no sense in using the big burner for a small pot, and a small burner will have to work twice as long to heat up a large pot of water. Also make sure your pots are flat (not warped) and clean, so heat can transfer more efficiently.

* "Many people have resolutions to eat healthier or to get more exercise. Why not connect with friends to be accountable to one another? You can cook together so that you will have healthy options for meals and snacks, and even if you cannot walk or go to the gym together, you can check in with each other a few times a week to make sure the person hasn't fallen off the wagon. Be an encourager!" -- F.L. in Oregon

Elvis Presley's Favorite Pound Cake

INGREDIENTS

- 2 sticks (1 cup) unsalted butter, softened, plus additional for buttering pan
- 3 cups sifted cake flour (not self-rising; sift before measuring) plus additional for dusting
- 3/4 teaspoon salt
- 3 cups sugar
- 7 large eggs, at room temperature 30 minutes
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 1 cup heavy cream

Special Equipment

a 10-inch tube pan (4 1/2 inches deep; not with a removable bottom) or a 10-inch bundt pan (3 1/4 inches deep; 3-qt capacity)

PREPARATION

Put oven rack in middle position, but do not preheat oven.

Generously butter pan and dust with flour, knocking out excess flour.

Sift together sifted flour (3 cups) and salt into a bowl. Repeat sifting into another bowl (flour will have been sifted 3 times total).

Beat together butter (2 sticks) and sugar in a large bowl with an electric mixer at medium-high speed until pale and fluffy, about 5 minutes in a stand mixer fitted with paddle attachment or 6 to 8 minutes with a handheld mixer. Add eggs 1 at a time, beating well after each addition, then beat in vanilla. Reduce speed to low and add half of flour, then all of cream, then remaining flour, mixing well after each addition. Scrape down side of bowl, then beat at medium-high speed 5 minutes. Batter will become creamier and satiny.

Spoon batter into pan and rap pan against work surface once or twice to eliminate air bubbles. Place pan in (cold) oven and turn oven temperature to 350°F. Bake until golden and a wooden pick or skewer inserted in middle of cake comes out with a few crumbs adhering, 1 to 1 1/4 hours. Cool cake in pan on a rack 30 minutes. Run a thin knife around inner and outer edges of cake, then invert rack over pan and invert cake onto rack to cool completely.
