HOLLYWOOD

by Tony Rizzo

HOLLYWOOD—Once upon a time in the mythical kingdom of Las Vegas, superstars' names lit up the Vegas Strip in neon lights. Stars like Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin, Sammy Davis Jr., Elvis Presley, Prince, Wayne Newton, Tom Jones and Barbra Streisand, and the great comics like Redd Foxx, Phyllis Diller, Totie Fields and Rich Little. Sinatra left us at age 82 in 1998, Dean Martin at 78 in 1995, Sammy Davis 64 in 1990, Elvis 42 in 1977 and Prince 57 in 2016. Great stars such as Rich Little, 81, Wayne Newton, 77, Tom Jones, 79, and Barbra Streisand, 77, hardly appear anymore.

They have been replaced by pop singers, classic-rock acts and country superstars: Santana, Jan. 22-Feb. 1; Foreigner, Jan. 24-Feb. 1; Van Morrison, Jan. 31-Feb. 8; The Doobie Brothers, Feb. 7-22; Chicago, Feb. 28-March 14. The singers include Keith Urban, January-November; Shania Twain, March 13-28; Gwen Stefani, Feb. 7-22; Mariah Carey, Feb. 14-29; Christina Aguilera, Feb. 27-March 7; Rod Stewart, March 6-21; Kelly Clarkson, April 1-11; Lady Gaga, April 30-May 16; Sting, May 22-June 6; and showgirl replacements in RuPaul's Drag Race Live, Jan. 30-Aug. 1.

Once I drove from Los Angeles to Las Vegas, across the desert, during 100 degree heat, in July 1969, for Elvis Presley's grand opening in Vegas. He gave the most spell-binding show ever seen to this day. But you couldn't get close to Elvis because he had six or eight guys called The Memphis Mafia who were his bodyguards and surrounded him wherever he went.

I knew his chauffeur, and one night I tore a $100 bill in half and gave it to him, saying he could have the other half if he'd let me know when Elvis was going somewhere without his bodyguards. I returned to L.A., and five days later he called and promised me that The King was going on a secret date that Saturday, alone. I drove across the desert again, without air conditioning, and arrived at the secret exit, which was like a "Star Wars" location without windows and doors. I gave him the other half of the $100 and waited for Elvis.

Earlier at his press conference, I had asked Elvis, "As the survivor of twins, some of your closest friends say you act like one twin on stage and the other off stage, can you comment?" He was stunned and offered, "I've often wondered about that!" My frontpage Vegas newspaper story read, "Elvis Presley, One Man or Two People."

When he finally came out, I asked to photograph him and he said, "Great story man, I really liked it!" I was thrilled. They'll never be a Vegas like that again!

Whale Oil Lamp

Many 18th-century lamps used oil to get light. If whale oil was not available, the lamps could use olive oil. The oil was kept in a reservoir, usually metal, that had three or four burners with wicks. Several were needed to get enough light. A group of these lamps also had reflectors on a pole, usually shaped like a moth with spread wings. The pole held the needed tools, wick cutters, wick picks and snuffing caps, and could raise and lower the reflector to direct the light. Many were made of brass to withstand heat, and silver was added for decoration where it would not melt. This late-19th-century silver-plated lamp that burned fat has it all — a silver-plated reflector brass pole, tools, moth reflector and a finial.

Q. I have a 1967 Barbie and Ken wedding set in the original unopened (but not perfect) box. It was made by Mattel. How do I get information on the value of this set, and how could I sell it?

A. Quite a few Barbie bride dolls have been made since Barbie was introduced in 1959. Your wedding set is the 1964-1965 Barbie Wedding Party Gift Set (No. 1017) by Mattel. It is a set of four dolls dressed in wedding finery, which originally sold from about $14 to $20. The set includes a bubble-cut Barbie doll (with blond, brunette or titian hair) in the outfit called "Bride's Dream" (No. 947); a painted-head Ken doll (in blond or brunette) in "Tuxedo" (No. 7897); a Midge doll (with brunette or red hair) in "Orange Blossom" (No. 987); and a Skipper doll (with blond, brunette or red hair) in "Flower Girl" (No. 1904). The set came with a wire stand for each doll and a pillow with a wedding ring on it, which was exclusive to this set.

Many Barbie and friends gift sets were offered between 1960 and 1974. Some were department-store exclusives. When found "mint in the box," they are some of the priciest and hardest-to-find Barbie items. Theriault's, an auction company in Annapolis, Maryland, specializes in auctioning dolls and often sells Barbie and accessories. A wedding set like yours sold at Theriault's for $1,100 in 2009.

This unusual light, a Lucerne whale oil lamp, is made of brass and is silver plated. It gives the light from a small burning flame. The unusual shape coaxed a bid of $242.

TIP: Candle wax on your antique metal candlesticks? Put them in the freezer. After a few hours, the wax will easily flake off. If there is a large lump of wax in the candle cup, run hot water on the stick until the wax melts. Do not let water get into the hollow.

PIEDMONT PETS
January 23, 2020
By Paulette Dean

On Monday, my 15 1/2 year old cat, Becky had surgery to remove her thyroid. Other treatments were not possible in her case, so the choice was surgery or eventual euthanasia.

I adopted her from the shelter (of course) when she was about four months old and she has had the same veterinarian her entire life. As a result, even though I was quite nervous about such an elderly cat being sedated for surgery, I trusted the veterinarian's opinion. After all, she is the one who has carefully charted Becky's health for her entire life, minus four months.

One of the best things that a pet owner or guardian can do for their animal friend is to have such a relationship with a veterinarian. Whether people adopt, buy, or are given a pet, the safest action is always to take that animal to a clinic for an examination, updated vaccinations (if needed) and any preventive care that will help that animal lead a long, happy life.

We are very fortunate because in this area we have wonderful veterinarians who can be trusted with any animal; in fact, I would not hesitate to take my animals to any of them.

The first step in choosing a veterinary clinic is to take with friends and family members. You will probably get a wide variety of opinions.

An on-site visit would be the next step. Ask questions about hours, how they handle after-hours care, fee schedules, etc. Find out if you will be able to see the same veterinarian for each visit, if that is important to you. Does the clinic have friendly and capable support staff? Do

996 South Boston Rd.,
Danville, VA 24540
Phone: (434) 799-0843

they seem to value your pet? Is the facility clean and odor-free? Is the clinic in a good location for you?

In the end, your comfort level is a good indication about what clinic would be good for you and your pet.

After you have chosen a veterinary clinic, regular visits will help cement the relationship. Normally, annual check-ups are suggested for animals until they become senior citizens. Dogs and cats that are seven years old generally should have check-ups twice a year.

Sometimes, disagreements sadly happen and the decision is made to change clinics. In those cases, make sure that your former veterinarian sends the records to the new veterinarian. It is always better for your trusted veterinarian to have a complete picture of your animals' health.

Of course, I was still concerned and even worried about Becky's surgery, but I was not concerned at all about her surgeon's competence and that made my decision easier.

1. What did fans throw at the Beatles during their first U.S. concert?
2. When the Doors were on "The Ed Sullivan Show" in 1967, they were asked to change the lyrics to which song?
3. How much more money does the operator want each time in "Sylvia's Mother"?
4. Who released "The One Who Really Loves You"?
5. Name the song that contains this lyric: "She tunes in to Bandstand every day to watch the kids dancin' 'cross the USA."

Answers

1. Jelly beans. The boys had made the mistake of saying they loved them. Unfortunately they meant the U.K. version of soft jelly babies. The Beatles were on a round stage with no place to hide from the stinging barrage of hard jelly beans.
2. "Light My Fire." But they didn't, claiming they forgot. (The Rolling Stones also caused the show problems with their questionable lyrics.)
3. The operator keeps wanting "Forty cents more for the next three minutes."
4. Mary Wells, in 1962.
5. "Queen of the Hop," by Bobby Darin in 1958. Although written long ago, the song hasn't been forgotten. It was used on the soundtrack to the "Porky's Revenge" film in 1985 and Shakin' Stevens' 1987 "16 Rock 'n' Roll Greats."

City issues notice on skilled game machines

The City of Danville today reminds owners and operators of convenience stores and other businesses with electronic skilled game machines that they cannot operate those machines without the approval of City Council.

Failure to comply is a violation of the City's zoning code and will result in criminal charges being filed.

The zoning code requires businesses to obtain a special use permit to operate the machines. City Council has remanded several applications for special use permits to the Planning Commission until regulations can be established for indoor gaming.

When a draft of the regulations is ready for consideration, the Planning Commission will hold a work session to review the draft. City Council has the final authority on the code language.

AccessVA: One Portal to Rule Them All

Tired of remembering all the usernames and passwords you need to do things online? The Department of Veterans Affairs has created a one-door portal to access all the VA-related places you need to be with only one set of sign-on information to remember.

AccessVA is a new single-entry portal to VA websites and online applications. The list of locations is long and growing. At this point it includes veteran patient statements, life insurance online policy access, My HealtheVet, veterans ID card, community care referrals and authorization, and much more. If you already have government approved sign on with DS logon, ID.me, VA ILogon, My HealtheVet and more, those will work with AccessVA. If you want to sign up in multiple places, you only have to do it once. Some of the locations might require additional registration to get started, but that will be made clear at the beginning. If you're already enrolled in Defense Enrollment Eligibility Reporting System (DEERS), you'll be good to go. There might be a security requirement and a need for a higher level of credential if, for example, you're a doctor who needs to access patient records.

To learn more, go online to access.va.gov/accessva. Click on About AccessVA. You'll find information on updating your information (phone numbers and links), the level of credential you'll need, the different levels of security and a FAQ. Does this process sound complicated? It really isn't. One of the biggest benefits of AccessVA is the need for just one set of credentials, your username and password. Having multiple sets means you're more likely to write them down, which makes it more likely that scammers and thieves can access your information. With two small pieces of information to remember, your info is safer. Start with the FAQ and if you need assistance, call the eBenefits helpdesk at 800-983-0937.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

* It was noted Irish author and wit Oscar Wilde who made the following sage observation: "There are only two tragedies in life: one is not getting what one wants, and the other is getting it."

* The very first CD of a musical recording was made in 1982. The album was "The Visitors" by Swedish pop superstars ABBA.

* Immigrants arriving at New York's Ellis Island in the early years (1892-1920s) were given bananas to eat. Many had never seen a banana and didn't know how to eat one -- some ate the whole thing, peel and all.

* In the small African nation of Swaziland, the Civil Aviation Authority has set a ceiling of 500 feet on light aircraft. These aircraft, as well as kites and remote controlled toys, are not allowed to go above that limit. Also included in the category of light aircraft are broomsticks. Any witch who flies on a broomstick above that limit is subject to a fine of more than $50,000 and possible arrest.

* If you're thinking about moving to another country, you might want to consider Finland. In that country, employees are offered, on average, 44 paid vacation days every year. Of course, you might want to consider that even in the warm southwestern part of the country, winters last about 100 days, with snow covering the ground from mid-October to early May.

* The name of the state of Iowa (unsurprisingly) comes from a Native American language. The original word, "ayuxba," means "sleepy ones."

* Early science-fiction author E.E. "Doc" Smith wasn't just a writer; he also was an engineer. He's the guy who figured out how to get powdered sugar to stick to doughnuts.

Thought for the Day: "To be capable of embarrassment is the beginning of moral consciousness. Honor grows from qualms." -- John Leonard
