At The Corral Gate

No matter where you live or your personal tastes, music is a part of your life. It definitely is of mine! Here's a few "notes" from recent local music events.

I am part of a duo called "Sentimental Journey". Mike Shing and I perform favorite older pop tunes, classic romantic songs by Frank Sinatra and Patsy Cline, and upbeat duets by George and Tammy, Dottie and Kenny and June and Johnny. Sentimental Journey performed at the Sulphur Springs Country Club on Valentine's evening. Love was in the air, as the restaurant was full. At every table, couples were celebrating their own story!

The Reilly Springs Jamboree held on Saturday February 15 featured a lineup of Texas talent. RJ Vandygriff delivered a healthy size portion of cowboy entertainment, song and comedy. I got the chance to sing "I'm An Old Cowhand" with him. Local radio personality Norm Allen from the "Out of the Norm Show" on Star Country, was there with a one-man show. Amy Asbill Patrick made her return to singing for the public after a two-year absence. Her step-father, the Bluegrass legend Bill Grant from Hugo, Oklahoma, experienced a lengthy illness led to his death in Summer 2019. He and Amy were a duo during his final years. Amy is back, her voice is strong and distinctive, and she's ready to entertain again in Country and Bluegrass events. Love and best wishes to Amy! Also, Doyle Hayes appeared with Brad Davis, yes THE Brad Davis! and Tom Glosup, Arturo the Pizza Man and Steve Blezinger for an hour's concert of originals written by Hayes. Hey, they're great!

A new academy and venue in Sulphur Springs is Chaffers Place, at 410 Main Street. Charles and Kenya Chaffer opened the Academy and Arts Center one year ago as a Christian Homeschool and a place for music instruction. During 2019, the stage area was completed and now that portion of the building serves as a family-friendly music venue nights and weekends. Attend one of the Tribute Thursdays or a Sabbath Session on Friday nights. The growing success of their academy and music-related business warms my heart!

Kenya and Charles

As we endure the rain and look forward to sunshine, let's never forget that rain is a life-giving gift from God! Only He knows when it's enough! Remember too that Daylight Savings Time begins March 8, Easter is April 12 and Mother's Day is May 10. Til next week, I will watch for you and Spring at the Corral Gate!

STRUMMING, WRITING AND PAINTING

Tumbleweed Smith

I heard that Bob Haydon was a fantastic banjo player so I went to interview him at his home in Winnsboro. I found out he is much more than a banjo player with a gold record, singles and albums on the charts and a worldwide audience. He has written 3 books (murder mysteries) and paints in the Taos style of art. I recorded him playing his banjo. It was like hearing a performance in Carnegie Hall. His fingers flew up and down the instrument and produced some amazing music.

Bob was born in Kensington, Maryland and his family moved to Dallas when he was in his early teens. He attended Saint Marks School and met a classmate named Steve Miller who told Bob he played guitar. Bob said he played, too and they hit it off. The formed a band called The Marksmen and played for high school and college dances all over Texas and Oklahoma. "We weren't playing Top 40," says Bob. "We were playing the stuff that Stave was brought up on. It was Blues, but it was Rock and Roll Blues. The kids hadn't heard it and they loved dancing to it."

They played for a teenage style show at Neiman Marcus and the National Cheer Leaders Convention at SMU. Not bad for a bunch of 14 year olds. "We were booked solid and played all over the place. We were playing at a frat party in Oklahoma at about 4 AM and I looked over at Steve and said 'this is it, isn't it.' He said 'yep, this is it. This is what we want to do.'" Bob's music career just zoomed. Besides playing with Steve Miller he toured with the Beach Boys. His bluegrass album Collage earned him honors. For 12 years he was art director for the largest yearbook publishing company.

Bob admits he wasn't a good student in high school. "I was too busy being a musician. I wanted to be a Rock and Roll star and didn't have time for school. I made Ds, Es and Fs. I finally wore out the teachers and graduated form Highland Park High School when I was 21 years old. They were running out of classes to give me."

Then he found out he could draw, something he enjoyed doing. He went to a 2-year school in Dallas for a while, taking English, History and 2 art courses. He got As in art but barely passed the others. His father, recognizing his son's talent, urged him to go to SMU. "I passed the entrance exam and took only art courses the first semester. They gave me a partial scholarship for the second semester. After that they gave me a full scholarship, but I had to take all those other courses. I did good, learned how to study and do things the right way and ended up with a 3.7 grade point average during my 4 years at SMU."

He got interested in southwest art in 1969 when he and his wife went to Taos for a vacation. "I loved it and so did my wife. Just the feel of the place. When we got there we met another couple who were hippies. They invited us to dinner and during the meal we noticed that there was something funny about the food. The more we ate the happier we got. We never did ask them what they did but there was something in that food I can tell you that."
