Sunday Morning Positive Perks
from your Sassy Small Town Missus

TWO TALES OF INSPIRATION IN ONE CITY
It was on my bucket list to visit the Our Lady of The Rockies in Butte Mt. So, I headed to the Copper Mining town and upon arrival discovered 2 things. #1. I had to take a bus ride up a steep winding mountain dirt road to get there and #2. I was too late for the daily tour. I only had one night so I did the next best thing and visited the tiny museum and snapped a picture from the highway of Our Lady. Our Lady was an idea created from the heart of a desperate Husband, Bob O'Bill, who prayed his Wife would recover from cancer. He made a pact with God that if she survived he would build a 5ft statue honoring Mother Mary. His prayers were answered and in 1979 the project began. Six years later, with donations of money and man hours, Our Lady was completed and craned up in sections to Her destination atop the Saddle Rock on Butte's East ridge of the Continental Divide. The end result was the 3rd largest statue in America raising 88.6ft high to the heavens. Fear and bad timing left me at her base, but someday I will make it to the top! However, this story took a turn for me because during our overnight stay at the Old Finlen Hotel in downtown Butte, we traveled off the beaten path and found a Memorial dedicated to the Granite Mountain/ Speculator Mine disaster. In 1917 during Wartime production, 168 Men died in the incident caused by a fire in the mine..the most deadly event in underground hard rock mining. With only us there, the outdoor Memorial felt still. Overlooking the mining site, plaques display the letters Miners left to their families before perishing in the mine. I gazed over the ridge of the memorial and across the way Our Lady overlooks the entire city. Our Lady is meant to watch over all women especially Mothers, but I think she blesses All in her gaze. What really affected me was when I looked through the photos I took across the mine, I noticed a beam of light coming from the sky down onto the mining site. It gave me pause and made me believe that this town was special because it has 2 sources of light and hope shining upon it. The Our Lady and The Souls of those lost shining down in that beam of light. Through grief and sadness hope still shines here. Many find Butte to be a run down town. This active mining town is rich with history. It inspired me because this little town endured many struggles, but as a community they were able to come together and create two destinations of hope from charity and tenacity. That is what communities are built on. A town very much like our own I thought. Deep with history. Much of it in need of love and care...with signs of hope and rebirth everywhere. With history as it's beacon of light.

Your Sassy Small Town Missus from Albion

Perhaps you sent a lovely card, or sat quietly in a chair.
Perhaps you sent a funeral spray, if so, we saw it there.
Perhaps you spoke the kindest words, as any friend could say.
Perhaps you were not there at all, just thought of us that day.
Whatever you did to console our hearts,
we thank you so much whatever the part.

Special thanks to Pastor Stephen Devine, Pastor Susan Thaine, & Christopher Mitchell Funeral Home

With love from the family of

"I have one of the original Higbee's Stream Map of Pennsylvania on my wall behind my desk. It's the best thing available as far as streams are concerned. I use it all the time for reference. Tips on how to write CLASSIFIED ADS that sell!

- 1 USE A KEY WORD. This immediately tells the reader exactly what you have to sell.
- 2 Make your description CLEAR AND FACTUAL. State the year, make, model, color & size and tell what condition the item is in. Also, state the special features.
- 3 STATE THE PRICE. Successful classified advertisers have learned that the price in an ad helps increase the chances for results.
- 4 IF THERE IS A GENUINE SENSE OF URGENCY, say so. The words "We're moving," or "Must sell fast," suggest that readers respond immediately.
- 5 INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER. Classifieds get results fast and often generate immediate sales. If you cannot be available to answer the phone at all times, be sure to specify special calling times such as "after 9pm" or "before 11am."

Foods with Ample Antioxidants

The term “antioxidants” is frequently associated with cancer prevention. Antioxidants are helpful, but many people may not fully comprehend the role antioxidants play in fighting cancer.

Antioxidants are chemicals that interact with and neutralize free radicals, thus preventing them from causing damage, offers the National Cancer Institute. Free radicals are formed in the body by exposure to ionizing radiation and other radiation. An excessive amount of free radicals in the body can negatively affect cells and potentially lead to the formation of various types of cancer and other diseases.

While the body makes some of the antioxidants it uses to scavenge free radicals and render them ineffective, it also relies on antioxidants from food sources.

So what foods offer the highest levels of potentially cancer-fighting antioxidants? The largest and most comprehensive study to date into antioxidant levels was published in 2004 in the Journal of Agriculture and Food Chemistry by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Researchers analyzed antioxidant levels in more than 100 foods. In addition to pointing out many foods people already knew to be antioxidant-rich, researchers uncovered some surprises.

Here’s a look at some of the best bets for beneficial foods that may be part of a cancer-fighting diet.

- small red bean (dried)
- cultivated blueberry
- prune
- wild blueberry
- cranberry
- raspberry
- red kidney bean (dried)
- cooked artichoke
- pinto bean
- blackberry

These foods rank high among those with the most antioxidants per serving, according to the USDA. However, many other foods also are great sources of antioxidants. These include russet potatoes, pecans, gala apples, walnuts, Indian gooseberries, cloves, and mint.

Eating a variety of fruits and vegetables, particularly berries, can provide many of the antioxidants the human body needs to neutralize the potential damage caused by free radicals. ■

Signs of a HEART ATTACK

Some heart attacks are sudden and intense, but most heart attacks start slowly, with mild pain. Often people affected aren’t sure what’s wrong and wait too long before getting help. Symptoms include:

CHEST DISCOMFORT. Most heart attacks involve discomfort in the center of the chest that lasts more than a few minutes, or that goes away and comes back. It can feel like uncomfortable pressure, squeezing, fullness or pain.

DISCOMFORT IN OTHER AREAS OF THE UPPER BODY. Symptoms can include pain or discomfort in one or both arms, the back, neck, jaw or stomach.

SHORTNESS OF BREATH with or without chest discomfort.

OTHER SIGNS may include breaking out in a cold sweat, nausea or lightheadedness

Women are somewhat more likely than men to experience other common symptoms, particularly SHORTNESS OF BREATH, NAUSEA/VOMITING, AND BACK/JAW PAIN.

If you or someone with you has one or more of these signs, don’t delay!

Call 9-1-1 immediately!

SIGNS OF A STROKE

Sometimes symptoms of a stroke are difficult to identify. The stroke victim may suffer severe brain damage when people nearby fail to recognize the symptoms of a stroke. Now doctors say a bystander can recognize a stroke by asking a few simple questions:

- 1 Ask the person to SMILE.
- 2 Ask the person to TALK AND SPEAK A SIMPLE SENTENCE. i.e. It is sunny out today.
- 3 Ask the person to RAISE BOTH ARMS.
- 4 Ask the person to STICK OUT HIS TONGUE. If the tongue goes to one side or the other, that is a sign of a stroke.

OTHER STROKE WARNING SIGNS

- Sudden numbness or weakness of the face, arm or leg, especially on one side of the body
- Sudden confusion, trouble speaking or understanding
- Sudden trouble seeing in one or both eyes
- Sudden trouble walking, dizziness, loss of balance or coordination
- Sudden, severe headache with no known cause

If you or someone with you has one or more of these signs, don’t delay!

Do you have HEEL pain or ARCH pain?

HEEL SPUR SYNDROME/PLANTAR FASCITIS

is a common problem among people who are active. It starts as a dull intermittent pain in the heel which may progress to a sharp persistent pain. Classically, it is worse in the morning with the first few steps, after sitting, after standing, or after walking.

- Plantar fasciitis often begins with irritation and tearing of the fibrous band of tissue on the bottom of the foot, which may eventually result in the formation of a heel spur.

- Contributing factors: flat pronated feet, high arched feet, poor shoe support, increased age, sudden weight increase, increased activity level, family tendency.

- Approximately 2-3 times your body weight of force is exerted on each foot with walking. Flexible, non-custom molded arch support found at those advertised shoe stores cannot support these forces and usually do not provide long-lasting relief, do not come with a lifetime warranty, and are typically more expensive than custom-molded ones made by our office.

- 95 percent of our patients symptoms are resolved with conservative treatment, avoiding surgical intervention.

- We also offer surgical procedures with the best post-op success rates using Endoscopic Plantar Fasciotomy techniques and EPF resulting in minimal incisions and scarring, immediate ambulation and often back in a shoe in one week.

If you can't remember when your feet didn't hurt, now is the time to give us a call!

Roy-Hart Learning Center Spend a Day of Pampering with Cosmetology Students

Students from the Royalton-Hartland Learning Center spent some time with the Cosmetology students at the Orleans Career and Technical Education Center recently.

The classes of Mrs. Haigh, Mrs. Krays, Ms. Mitchell and Mr. Howe were given a spa experience by the beauty experts in Mrs. Carnahan's and Ms. Lindke's classes. The students had haircuts, color, manicures and some just got a new hairstyle that they could show off to friends and family. The teachers say the students had a great time and a lot of fun getting mini makeovers.

the CAREER path

How to ask for a letter of recommendation

Knowledge, skills and personality can get students far, but having the right people in their corners can open doors for new opportunities that students might otherwise never have considered. Perhaps this is why recommendations are so coveted when applying to schools.

Asking for a letter of recommendation is something that should be done with forethought. The correct approach and proper timing can mean the difference between receiving a recommendation or not.

Who to ask

The first step for students is to decide who they want to ask for a recommendation. Select those teachers who know you well or can validate how you performed or improved in class. Opt for a teacher whose class you recently took so the recommendation reflects the student you are today and not the student you might have been when you were younger.

It can also help to ask for a recommendation from teachers or staff who have sufficient experience. Their input may carry more weight than someone whose career is less accomplished. A well-established teacher who leads a class that pertains to your academic goals is a good fit.

Remember to consider the requirements of a college or university as well. Schools frequently ask for recommendations from specific people, such as a teacher in a certain subject.

Ask early

Teachers may be inundated with college letter recommendation requests around application deadlines and at the end of semesters. It's better to leave plenty of time than to put teachers under pressure. The same rule applies to anyone else you're asking to write you a recommendation.

Request in person

Underscore the importance of the recommendation by making it a personal request. Schedule an appointment with the individual and discuss why you believe he or she would be the right person to provide the recommendation. Remind the person of your attributes and point out something that exemplifies your skills. Speaking face-to-face shows respect and gives you the advantage to make your points personally, rather than through email.

Make the process easier

Provide all of the necessary items to help the person along. This can include a brief résumé, academic progress report, required forms, and so on. Also offer any college- or employer-directed requests. As the deadline looms, offer concise reminders that you will need the recommendation. Offer to pick it up personally. Make copies or scan and save the original just in case a mix-up in the admissions office occurs.

Recommendations are a key part of landing a job or being offered acceptance into a college or university. Asking the right people early will translate into recommendations that paint an accurate picture of applicants. ■
