HOME EQUITY LOAN

Borrow $25,000 for 15 years and your payment could be as low as $200!

7 Year as low as 4.75%
10 Year as low as 5%
15 Year as low as 5.25%

*Rates assume A+ credit and are the lowest rates available at this time. CCFCU will determine your interest rate based on your credit rating, amount and term of the loan, collateral, and other underwriting factors. Your rate may be higher than the advertised rate. We will offer our best possible rate based on your qualifications. Rates listed are Annual Percentage Rates (APRs) and are subject to change at any time. CCFCU is federally insured by the NCUA and is an Equal Housing Lender. Membership is open to anyone that lives, works, worships or goes to school in Orleans County. You do NOT need to be a member to apply for any type loan.

What does Solar Energy mean for your community?

Protected property values

It is a common misconception that ground mounted solar farms decrease nearby property values.

Here are the real facts!

Examining property value across the United States demonstrates that large-scale solar arrays often have no measurable impact on the value of adjacent properties, and in some cases may even have positive effects. Proximity to solar farms does not deter the sales of agricultural or residential land.

Sunday Morning Positive Perks

from your Sassy Small Town Missus

APPRECIATION WITH WORDS NOT GIFTS

We are entering the first 2 weeks of National Procrastination Week. I was going to touch on that, however I think I will wait until later. Why do today what you can do tomorrow. Instead lets talk about today, Sunday March 1st which is World Compliment Day created by a Netherlander named Hans Poortvliet. The idea is to appreciate people with words not gifts. What an awesome concept. Words are so powerful because they are often driven by a thoughtful heart. Everyone loves a good compliment. don't deny it because you know you do too! Makes you feel all good up in your "feels" when someone pays you a compliment. Personally I like it when people compliment my baubles or tell me I am a good person. That is a good balance. One is for vanity and one is for validation that you are making a positive difference. You know what I like better than receiving a compliment? Giving a compliment. I told a waitress that she had great skin. She was older than I but her skin was dewy fresh. Well you would have thought I left her a $100 tip. She smiled from ear to ear. Men, here is little tip. If you aspire to make a lady happy, a good skin compliment never fails, trust me on that one. Some people deserve validation so I like to pass out a good compliment there too. For example, if I am lucky enough to be entertained by a street performer that is making my day a bit brighter. I pass along a little "green" and tell them they are doing awesome. I think next time I will just say they made my day brighter. I feel that would mean more. Then there are people who need a compliment. Perhaps the trickiest because you don't want to come across as pitying. Like if someone is struggling at work, find an opportunity to compliment what they are doing right. I might tell a Designer at The Shop what specifically they have done that made a design special. Perhaps I find the color scheme uplifting. Be specific for those who need a compliment so they know their actions created a positive impact in some way. That will make the compliment more meaningful and motivational. Whatever it is that compels you to offer a kind word to someone else, know this for sure...you really just helped yourself as well. A compliment is a mirror of an emotion. There is no greater joy than knowing you created happiness in another person. The joy on their face, is now joy on yours! This brings me to another important March Day on the 20th World Happiness Day. Two great holidays in one month that can be celebrated with one kind act - A Compliment. Procrastination is the thief of time, so if you see someone deserving or in need of a compliment offer it today. It is free but pays back immeasurably.

Obituaries

David James Adler, 64, passed away on Jan. 11, 2020, in Boulder, Colo. following a brief illness. Born in Dec., 1955, to Barbara (Grant) Adler and Dr. S. David Adler, he was the grandson of Goldena (Morgan) Grant and Alexander William James Grant of Medina, NY. Fondly known as "Jimbo," he grew up in Newton, NJ and graduated from high school in 1974. He later earned his B.A. in Journalism and Communication in Greely, Colo. He loved photography. Jim's life was colorful and pushed boundaries. He lived life to the fullest. His sense of humor and appreciation for family, friends and nature was profound. He fostered much joy within his family and lived his life with a sensitivity rarely found. He worked at Whole Foods in Boulder. He enjoyed nature, animals and spending time with his sister, Nancy Dene Adler and her life partner, Mr. Kim Daldos. Prior to his later years in Boulder, Jim spent time in Rhode Island with his sister, Elizabeth and Arthur Rodrigues, and his nieces, Audrey, Chelsea and Jocelyn. Jim's passion, humor and love endeared him to his family and friends. He adored his cousin-sister, Debby Grant Rodrigues; every moment spent with his extended family were cherished mutually. He loved, and was loved by his friends from Newton, NJ. Family members will celebrate his life with a private ceremony in Medina, NY in the spring of 2020. To honor Jim's life please feel free to donate to an environmental or animal rights organizations, adopt from a shelter or plant a tree. ## Guest Author Shares Book and Thoughts on Mental Wellness

Author Sarah Klaiber says her battle with depression inspired her to write her book "Treasures." "It was about my journey about appreciating the positives in my life and helping to improve my mental wellness with more natural means."

She recently read her book to students at Medina's Oak Orchard Elementary. "I want them to know that it is okay to feel blue sometimes and to look to the things in their lives that make them happy, their treasures so to speak. There are so many people, young and old, who suffer from depression and I think it is great that schools are now focusing on that and how to help students cope with these emotions."

Studies show that one in five young people will experience a mental health challenge each year, with issues like depression and anxiety acting as significant impediments to academic success for students. There is a campaign in many schools to promote mental health understanding and dialogue, and decrease shame, prejudice and point students and parents to available resources like guidance counselors and social workers.

School librarian Molly DeBottis says she loves the message that Mrs. Klaiber is sharing with the children. "Her message is so important about happiness and mental health. It is good that we are starting at a younger age discussing this with them." She says she is also grateful that Mrs. Klaiber can discuss the writing process with the classes. "It helps them to see the possibilities about being an author and what they are capable of."

Come in and inquire about our new mobile homes!

A MOBILE-HOME COMMUNITY

LAKEWOOD VILLAGE Mobile Home Park is set on 38 acres of land in Medina, N.Y., midway between Buffalo and Rochester, surrounded by beautifully wooded areas and centered by a two-acre lake. The latest concepts in park construction have been incorporated to create a comfortable mode of country living away from the hustle and bustle of crowds, traffic jams and noise.

Secluded but within walking distance of a complete shopping complex, it is only minutes away from a golf course, restaurants, Oak Orchard Wildlife Preserve and Lake Ontario.

Our recreation building includes a party room and a fully equipped kitchen.

Each LAKEWOOD VILLAGE site is spacious enough to accommodate maximum-length mobile homes, a screened patio and carport. We offer the better quality available to the mobile-home industry, where you will find comfort, convenience, more room and better dollar-for-dollar value than ever before.

Decking Materials

Warm weather often gives rise to thoughts about spending time in the great outdoors. Decks can expand outdoor living spaces, making them popular home additions. However, when it comes time to map out a deck building plan, individuals may be unsure as to which deck material will meet their needs.

Wood

Wood is a versatile and attractive decking material. According to the wood resource Real Cedar, some people think that wood is too expensive and requires too much maintenance. In fact, domestic softwoods can be very cost-effective decking options.

In terms of maintenance, choosing a rot-resistant wood can result in less maintenance. Durable woods include cedar and redwood. Periodic cleaning and inspection/repairs will be needed, but wood can be much more durable than people may think.

Composite

Composite decking and its close cousin, plastic lumber, are some of the fastest-growing decking materials on the market. Composite manufacturers continually experiment with manufacturing processes to duplicate the look of natural wood grain.

Homeowners are often drawn to composite decking because such decks require little maintenance. These decks do not need to be sanded, stained or refinished. However, mold and mildew can grow in shady, damp areas, so homeowners must realize that these products are not completely maintenance-free.

Aluminum

Although aluminum decks are not seen that often, there are reasons why this decking material is becoming more popular. According to LockDry®, a manufacturer of aluminum decking materials, power-coated aluminum does not need to be replaced due to rotting, cracking or warped boards. Aluminum also has the advantage of being a very strong but lightweight material.

Some people may think that aluminum decks would be hot underfoot, but the material actually stays cooler in the sun because of its heat-dissipation properties. For those who have green goals in mind, aluminum is totally recyclable.

Various decking materials can meet the look, price point and maintenance level homeowners desire. ■

Time to Replace Old Wiring?

Old homes can be charming and contain architectural elements not often seen in many modern housing developments. But what older homes may have in design appeal, they may lack in updated features.

Wiring often falls into the “out of sight, out of mind” category. Homeowners may make allowances for inadequate electrical systems, such as running extension cords or using multi-plug connectors to increase their wiring capacity. However, they may not be diligently keeping on top of upgrades needed to stay safe. Confirming that a home’s electrical system is safe is a necessary part of home maintenance.

For those who haven’t already done so, schedule an inspection with a licensed electrician to go over the home’s wiring. He or she can determine if any areas pose a safety risk and/or do not conform to local code requirements and the National Electrical Code. Failure to meet code can lead to difficulty obtaining permits to make other home renovations, or difficulty selling a home later on.

The electrician can also go over improvements that can improve safety and function. Additional outlets, including GFCI outlets in kitchens and bathrooms, may be part of the plan, as well as rewiring a fuse box or circuit panel to allow for better flow of power around the house. Frayed wiring or underinsulated wiring also may need to be replaced.

Owners of old homes should recognize possible electrical system dangers that require attention. Plus, considering electrical codes change quite frequently, it is always in a homeowner’s best interest to work with a qualified electrician to keep wiring inspected and up to date. ■
