A LAUGHING MATTER

Funny Joke. That is how my conversation started with Fin, My Cat. Her jaw was agape with laughter. Can't recall what the joke was, but knowing Fin it was all about trouble, because trouble is her middle name. She makes me laugh alot with her silly ways. With all the uncertainty in the world lately, it put me to thinking about what it is that can put me at ease quicker than anything else. You know what it is? A great big belly full of laughter. Laughter is a funny thing. Get it a funny thing...hahaha, sometimes I am my own best audience. I can find all kinds of things to laugh at and when all else fails I just laugh at myself. I figure there are different kinds of laughter. When many of us were young we could get on a fit of laughter for no reason at all. Maybe your Brother was making faces at the dinner table. Your Parents were annoyed and wanted you to "knock it off" but you just couldn't. Loved those laughing fits. It was like a secret club for you and whoever provoked it. How about the nervous laughter brought on by embarrassment, like when you miss a step going up stairs and tinkle a little on your way down. Yep I seen that happen once. I personally am really famous for the inappropriate laughter, that is my all time favorite. Like when my Friend's dog flew through the air with the greatest of ease and bit my Hubby on the butt. He was sore, but I laughed all night. I had to have a conversation with myself to impress upon the fact that it was not funny. What about the laugh or cry laugh. That has come in handy alot. When we had our house fire I fell back on laughter like a crutch. No matter what you are struggling with always find a way to turn to laughter. It truly is the best medicine (Rx). Maybe it is a TV show like The Golden Girls. That Blanche always cracks me up. The great thing about laughter is that you can write and fill your prescription for free. Laughter is a great anxiety release and sometimes we all really just need a good belly laugh to get the blood pumping and clear our heads. Laughter releases all those good hormones that help keep our immune systems strong. I challenge everyone to think about laughter as your oxygen mask. When you are struggling release it from the "overhead" compartment. Then take whatever is on your mind and find the laughter in it, even if it is not appropriate..that is OK. I know that many things are not a joke, but allow yourself to be happy and take back your joy. Most challenges pass with time so don't get bogged down with the uncertainty. Laughter is contagious so spread it around. Everything does not have to be so serious, unless it is seriously funny! Life is so much better when you are laughing :) Back to Fin, I remember her joke now - Q. Why do Cats make terrible storytellers? A. They only have one tail!

MEDINA MAYOR URGES SUPPORT FOR LOCAL BUSINESSES DURING THIS TOUGH TIME

Editor:

As we all struggle with COVID-19, there is one segment of our communities that are feeling the effects even harder, that is our locally owned small businesses.

They need our help more now than ever during these uncharted times. Now is the time to show them our support. If you have a special occasion coming up this year, such as a birthday, anniversary, wedding, baby shower, etc, please consider purchasing gift cards and/or gift certificates now.

I am challenging everyone who is reading this or have been told about this letter to go out this week and purchase a $10 or $20 gift card or gift certificate at your favorite locally owned restaurant or store for yourself or someone else to use throughout the year.

Stay healthy,
Mike Sidari, Mayor
Village of Medina

3 GREAT REASONS TO BUY FROM Independent Businesses

1. Build Community: The casual encounters you enjoy at neighbor-scale businesses and the public spaces around them build relationships and community cohesiveness. They're the ultimate social networking sites!

2. Strengthen Your Local Economy: Each dollar you spend at independent businesses returns three times more money to your local economy than one spent at a chain (almost 50 times more than buying from an online mega-retailer) a benefit we all can bank on.

3. Give Back to the Community: Small Business donate more than twice as much per sales dollar to local non-profits, events, and teams compared to big businesses.

Message from Adam Johnson, Treasurer, Orleans County Chamber of Commerce

I received a call this morning from Karen Sawicz, owner of Lake Country Pennysaver and Orleans Hub that struck a chord with me. Lake Country Pennysaver and Orleans Hub are small and local businesses, just like my own. Karen, like every other small business owner right now, faces uncertain times ahead. In spite of that, her instinct was to put together a page celebrating small business in these trying times. Karen's action is inspiration to me personally to continue to do all that I can to support fellow small business owners in any way that I can. Please know that the Board stands behind local businesses 100%. The entire Board is comprised of volunteers and nearly all of us are small business owners. Any perceived lack of visibility is the result of all of us doing exactly what every other small business owner is doing right now. Over the next several weeks, as we are able to get our affairs in order, we will continue to work on a plan to support our fellow business owners in any way we can. As you know, things are changing rapidly and it is a challenge to stay up to the minute.

As a business owner myself, I will take a minute to speak about what I am doing and what I think will help. First and foremost, don't panic. That is really easy to say, much tougher to practice. I have my own private meltdown moments, but as business owners, we are natural leaders, so now is our moment to shine. Over the past week, I have had to make some very difficult decisions with very little time to consider them. My focus is to ensure that my business survives so that I can go back to doing what I do - provide a service, employ outstanding local people and support a truly awesome local community.

I have had countless people come to me, many of them customers, to ask me how they can help me. I have had my moments here too, where it is a bit overwhelming. I am so used to having people ask me for help, be they employees asking for guidance with a task or community members asking for donations from my business, that I am not used to people asking me how they can help me. I think I can speak for ALL small business owners in saying that this means more than we can express in words. Owning a small business can be very lonely at times. So many people look to us for the answers, yet we may not always know or have those answers. We are used to carrying the load, but not used to people asking us how they can help us carry it. To all of the members or our local community, THANK YOU, on behalf of all of the local business owners.

To answer the question that so many members of the community are asking, "How can we help our small local businesses?", I will say just one thing. Don't forget about us. Right now, there is a lot of attention being paid to supporting the small businesses that are feeling the direct impact of this. We really appreciate all of your support! As a business owner, what concerns me isn't so much today or tomorrow, it is 2 months, 6 months, even 12 months from now after we settle into a new "normal" again. What will my business look like? Will people remember to buy from me? Will I still have a business? That is the time that we will need the support of the community the most.

We are all being asked to minimize contact with each other as much as possible right now, rightfully so. I would like to ask/challenge all business owners and community members to use that time to think about what we can do to help each other. We all need to lean on each other to get through this, and we will get through this. Let's come up with some creative ways to support our small local businesses. We are the ones that sponsor your Church functions, your kid's ball team, and numerous other great local causes. As business owners, we are typically the LAST people to reach out and ask for a little help, but we will need it more than ever after this is behind us. Walking into a local shop and spending a few dollars, or calling a local service provider to do something that you might get done yourself someday might not seem like a big deal. As a business owner, however, I assure you that every time my phone rings or a customer walks through my door, I gain a little reassurance that I will be able to carry on my mission of supporting local people and local causes. I think I can safely say the same is true for every other small local business in Orleans County.

Be safe. Be well. Support local.

Thank you,

Orleans/Niagara BOCES Students Take Top Prizes at Taste of Education

The ProStart Culinary teams from the Orleans and Niagara Career and Technical Education Centers came home victorious from the Taste of Education's yearly event at Salvatore's.

This year's competition celebrated plant forward foods. The NYSRA's (New York State Restaurant Association) WNY Chapter wanted to celebrate the push for more sustainable foods with an emphasis on plant proteins.

The annual event, held March 10, featured local chefs and up and coming culinary students across Western New York who are looking to show off their skills. The ProStart team from the Orleans Career and Technical Education Center consisted of Lillie Gollhardt (Lockport), Eve Hicks (Newfane), Josh Rastelli (Royalton-Hartland), Sarah Sornberger (Royalton-Hartland), Jada Elias (Lockport), and is taught by Chef James Atzrott and teacher aide Darlene Harriger. The took first place for the Judges' Choice for their menu of: Butternut Squash Kibbeh with Labneh, Smoked Carrots with Lemon Tahini Yogurt, Tabbouleh, Baba Ganoush, Muhammara, Rye Berry Salad with Roasted Red Pepper Dressing, S'mores with Aquafaba Marshmallows, Vegan Chocolate Cherry Dessert Bites, Flat Bread and Pomegranates. The ProStart team from the Niagara Career and Technical Education Center took home first runner-up for the Judges' Choice with their menu of Polenta with Mushroom Sauce, Spinach Feta Phylo Bites, Taco Bar, Beef N Broccoli with Rice, Black Bean Burger with Carrot Risotto and Chipolte Sauce, Oatmeal Cookie with Peanut Butter Frosting, Carrot Cake Cupcake and Homemade Potato Chips.

That team consists of: Samantha Seely (Starpoint), Katlyn Volmer (Lewiston-Porter), Dominik Linde (Niagara Falls), Alex Stoelting (North Tonawanda), Gina Ellis (North Tonawanda) and Megan Brown (Starpoint) and are taught by chefs Lisa Cook, Robert Ihle and Caitlin Kucharski and teacher aide Theresa Bettinger.

This year there was also an exciting Alumni Challenge, where three Iron Chefs from the past competed with three student sous chefs. Chefs Alex Dispence, Darian Bryan and Arthur Pepe went head to head in the fast paced one hour culinary contest. Jada Elias from the Orleans Career and Technical Education Center's team was paired up with Chef Arthur Pepe, who is the Chef Instructor at the New Buffalo School of Culinary Arts and Hospitality Management in downtown Buffalo and an adjunct professor of Culinary Arts at the Niagara Falls Culinary Institute. They took first place in the heated competition! Niagara Career and Technical Education student Cody Scruggs teamed up with Chef Darian Bryan, who owns and is the Executive Chef for The Plating Society, a pop-up restaurant in Buffalo and is a private chef. They took second place!

Orleans/Niagara BOCES could not be prouder of all our amazing young chefs and their talented and dedicated instructors!

Health Alert: COVID-19 Response Update

"On March 17, 2020 one resident in Genesee County tested positive for novel COVID-19 (coronavirus)" stated Paul Pettit, Director of Genesee and Orleans Counties Departments of Health. The individual is over 65 years of age. The individual was confirmed through testing at the Erie County Health Lab Tuesday afternoon, Pettit continued. The individual has had no recent out of county travel. "The individual is in mandatory isolation at home and is 'recovering nicely."

The Genesee County Department of Health has begun an intensive investigation to identify potential close contacts of the individual. Once identified, any close contacts will be notified of their potential exposure to COVID-19 and placed under mandatory quarantine to monitor for symptoms.

While spread of COVID-19 is concerning, it is not unexpected. The Genesee and Orleans County Health Departments have been preparing and responding to this possibility for weeks under the guidance of the NYSDOH and the CDC. Residents who are experiencing a fever, with cough and/or shortness of breath are advised to call your health care provider before going to seek medical care.

In order to hamper the spread of the virus, residents can practice social distancing and proper germ prevention practices:

- Wash your hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds, especially after blowing your nose, coughing, or sneezing; going to the bathroom; and before eating or preparing food.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth with unwashed hands.
- Stay home when you are sick.
- Cover your cough or sneeze with a tissue, then throw the tissue in the trash.
- Avoid people who are sick.
- Disinfect high-traffic surfaces often.

If you have questions about recent travel and symptoms regarding COVID-19, please call the NYSDOH Coronavirus hotline: 1-888-364-3065.

Village elections moved from March 18 to April 28

By Tom Rivers, Editor Posted 16 March 2020 on www.OrleansHub.com

Gov. Andrew Cuomo issued an executive order, pushing back the village elections scheduled for March 18 to April 28.

Albion, Lyndonville and Medina all were planning on elections on March 18. The change was made in response to concerns about the coronavirus.

In an effort to keep New Yorkers safe during the COVID-19 pandemic, Governor Andrew M. Cuomo issued an executive order delaying village elections statewide until the April 28 primary election.

"Our top priority has been keeping New Yorkers safe and stopping the spread of the novel coronavirus," Governor Cuomo said. "Public health officials have been clear that reducing density is one of the most effective ways to stop the spread, and delaying village elections will help ensure poll workers and voters are not potentially exposed to the virus and at the same time maintain integrity in our election system."

THE LAW AND YOU

BY NATHAN D. PACE
ATTORNEY AT LAW

YOUR COMPANY NEEDS BYLAWS

Every business should begin with its own, individualized set of bylaws that provide easily understood guidelines for the everyday running of the company. These laws protect the rights of employees, board members, and anyone else involved in the company's functions; they should not be confused with articles of incorporation, which provide the business's structural outline. While bylaws should contain the company's mission, they also need to include detailed descriptions of the roles and functions of all members, company officers, and any committees. They should also include the time, place, frequency, and attendance requirements of any meetings. Bylaws should be regularly amended (at least every five years), and amendment procedures should be clearly defined within them.

If you have your own business, you will need business law representation for a wide range of cases. From proper documentation for major contracts to intellectual property cases, employee issues, and more, the Law Office of MACK & PACE can provide you with the consultation and representation you need to protect your business. We will work as hard as you do to ensure you are happy with our legal services. Please call (585)798-1000 to schedule a consultation.

534 Main St., Suite 6
Medina, NY 14103

HINT: Company bylaws should always include a conflict of interest provision to help avoid IRS penalties for unfair benefits.

Canal mural will add welcoming message in Albion

ALBION – This mural was painted on the northside of the Albion fire hall, facing the Erie Canal, in 1998. It was the Girl Scout Gold Award project for Corinne Toenniessen, who received some help in the design from Terri Wood of the LonoWood Art Company in Albion.

Tim Archer Middle School Citizenship and Service Learning classes have been planning to add "Welcome to Albion" in large letters above the Erie Canal scene mural. The project will be done with Mrs. Kami Feder's art classes.

Orleans Chapter NSDAR Regent Ann Jacobs presented $300 toward the project to Albion Middle School Citizenship and Service Learning teacher Tim Archer.

The project is in conjunction with the state's push to promote the Erie Canal corridor during the bicentennial the canal's construction, which happened from 1817 to 1825.

Previously the classes helped restore three canalside historical markers.

Orleans County declares state of emergency, all public schools closed

Press Release, Orleans County Health Department

Orleans County has declared a state of emergency and all public schools are closed until further notice.

"Over the past week, COVID-19 has evolved rapidly," said Lynne Johnson, chairwoman of the Orleans County Legislature. "While Orleans County has no confirmed cases, there are confirmed cases in a neighboring county and increasing local testing. I believe it is inevitable we will see cases here in Orleans County. With this in mind and after discussion with Paul Pettit, Director of the Genesee and Orleans County Health Departments, I am declaring a state of emergency for Orleans County. I am recommending that all schools in Orleans County close to students effective immediately for an undetermined amount of time."

Paul Pettit, Public Health director: "We still want to remind people the risk in our community still remains relatively low and these decisions are based on the need to slow transmission in our communities. Through ongoing discussions with all 5 school districts and county administration, this unified decision is based on the increased activity in our county and has led to these preventive measures."

The recommendation applies to students, districts can make individual determinations regarding faculty and staff.

"With the announcement of Monroe County schools closing and Kendall and Holley share students with the Monroe County BOCES program, I feel this is a difficult but proactive approach to slow the potential spread of disease," said Julie Christensen, superintendent of Kendall Central School.

"We understand the potential hardship this can have on our families," stated Michael Bonnewell, superintendent of Albion Central School, "but are in agreement with this decision."

"Even though there are no positive cases of COVID-19 in Orleans County we believe taking a proactive approach will help keep our students and their families healthy," said Mark Kruzynski, superintendent of Medina School District.

"We will continue to work with the Health Department to determine when we can get our students back to school, but want our families to understand that this is a rapidly evolving situation and we are concerned for the safety of our school family," said Jason Smith, superintendent of Lyndonville School District.

"As a District Superintendent it is our charge to provide safe, quality education for the students of our district," said Brian Bartalo, superintendent of Holley School District. "We understand this is an unprecedented response to the COVID-19 outbreak and anticipate that these steps will help protect our communities and limit the potential spread of disease."

Photo by Tom Rivers: Medina Central School is closed until further notice. Albion, Holley, Kendall and Lyndonville are also closed in Orleans County. Gov. Cuomo has closed all schools in the state for at least two weeks.

Get on the Fast Track to Being Organized

People are interested in finding out ways to streamline their lives and conquer the clutter. Even though getting organized may seem like an arduous task, there are ways to get organized and do so quickly.

- Keep a cleanup bin handy. Put an empty basket in a central location, using it to gather stray items scattered around main living areas. Once everything has been collected, items can be returned to their rightful place.
- Purge closets and cabinets. There's no point allowing old, stained or damaged items to take up space. Set aside days to clear expired medication from the bathroom cabinet, discard ripped or ill-fitting clothing from the closet, or to dispose of broken toys in a nursery.
- Write things down. Tasks seem more manageable when they are written down in black-and-white and can be crossed off as completed. Writing things down also helps make the mind feel more organized.
- Exercise caution before buying. Don't buy more than you need; otherwise, you'll have to find space for extra items. Also, keep inventory of food and supplies in the house so you're not unwittingly buying duplicates.
- Sort mail and paperwork. Establish different categories for papers so they can be sorted and discarded as needed. These may include bills, invitations, school papers, and junk mail. Reduce paper clutter by opting for digital correspondence when possible.
- Make one repair at a time. Tackle that source of stress by focusing on one repair and seeing it through to completion.
- Delegate the work. If kids want to help organize, let them. It can be a fun project for an adolescent to rearrange the pantry or offer their ideas for corralling messes. ■

- 1 USE A KEY WORD. This immediately tells the reader exactly what you have to sell.
- 2 Make your description CLEAR AND FACTUAL. State the year, make, model, color & size and tell what condition the item is in. Also, state the special features.
- 3 STATE THE PRICE. Successful classified advertisers have learned that the price in an ad helps increase the chances for results.
- 4 IF THERE IS A GENUINE SENSE OF URGENCY, say so. The words "We're moving," or "Must sell fast," suggest that readers respond immediately.
- 5 INCLUDE YOUR PHONE NUMBER. Classifieds get results fast and often generate immediate sales. If you cannot be available to answer the phone at all times, be sure to specify special calling times such as "after 9pm" or "before 11am."

How to Clean when Faced with a Shortage of Supplies

In light of concerns about COVID-19, various health organizations have issued specific instructions on how to maintain personal safety and cleanliness. These recommendations involve using common household products to sanitize homes, offices and public spaces. As people take such precautions, many are stocking up on extra essentials — resulting in shortages.

Everything from hand sanitizers to paper towels may be hard to find on grocery store shelves, leaving some to wonder what they can do to remain safe without sanitizers?

The Environmental Protection Agency states that coronaviruses are some of the easiest types of viruses to kill because they have an envelope around them that enables them to merge with other cells and infect them. If that protective coating can be disrupted, the virus can't do its job. For those having trouble finding well-known cleaning agents, these alternatives may suffice.

Hot water and soap

The reason hand-washing is at the top of the list of sanitizing methods is because it is so effective at washing away viruses and bacteria. Friction from scrubbing with soap and water can help break the protective envelope, states the EPA. Soap and water can clean all surfaces in a home, especially when applying a little extra elbow grease.

Hydrogen peroxide

As people clear isopropyl (rubbing alcohol) off the shelves, do not discount hydrogen peroxide. The CDC says household hydrogen peroxide at 3 percent concentration can deactivate rhinovirus, the virus that causes the common cold, within six to eight minutes of contact. Coronavirus is easier to destroy than rhinovirus, so hydrogen peroxide may be effective at combatting that virus as well.

Natural items can be used for general cleaning, but have not been endorsed for use on COVID-19 disinfection. In lieu of shortages, white vinegar, baking soda pastes and citrus oils and juices could fill the void of chemically-based cleansers for other home tasks. ■

Healthy Choices

Your guide to looking and feeling your best

The Dangers of Added Sugars

Reading ingredients lists on food-packaging labels can help shoppers determine if foods and beverages contain potentially unhealthy amounts of added sugars. Sugar is often seen as a guilty pleasure that's only to be enjoyed on rare occasions. But that reputation is not entirely accurate, as sugar is naturally occurring in many healthy foods, including fruit.

Naturally occurring sugars do not pose a threat to overall health. However, added sugars, which the American Heart Association notes can be found in soft drinks, candy, pies, and fruit drinks, can contribute to weight gain. Obesity is a risk for cardiovascular disease, which means that added sugars can adversely affect heart health.

One of the difficulties with added sugars is that they are often present in foods and beverages generally considered healthy. Fruit juice, for example, seems like a healthy addition to any diet. However, the AHA notes that many juices contain added sugars from fruit juice concentrates. Such juices may not be seen as such, but they can be as compromising to one's overall health as soft drinks or other beverages generally considered to be unhealthy.

The AHA acknowledges that part of the difficulty with navigating one's way through added sugars is that these unhealthy additives go by many names. The Harvard Medical School notes that added sugars are not currently listed on Nutrition Facts labels, though they are listed among the ingredients on food packaging. Both the AHA and the HMS recommend scanning ingredients lists for words that end in "ose," such as fructose, dextrose, glucose, and maltose. Those are some examples of added sugars, as are high fructose corn syrup, molasses, corn sweetener, syrup, and honey.

The AHA recommends limiting consumption of added sugars and offers guidelines for both men and women. Men should limit their added sugar consumption to a maximum of nine teaspoons per day, while women should not consume more than six teaspoons per day. More information is available www.heart.org.

SIGNS OF A STROKE

Sometimes symptoms of a stroke are difficult to identify. The stroke victim may suffer severe brain damage when people nearby fail to recognize the symptoms of a stroke. Now doctors say a bystander can recognize a stroke by asking a few simple questions:

- 1 Ask the person to SMILE.
- 2 Ask the person to TALK AND SPEAK A SIMPLE SENTENCE. i.e. It is sunny out today.
- 3 Ask the person to RAISE BOTH ARMS.
- 4 Ask the person to STICK OUT HIS TONGUE. If the tongue goes to one side or the other, that is a sign of a stroke.

OTHER STROKE WARNING SIGNS

- Sudden numbness or weakness of the face, arm or leg, especially on one side of the body
- Sudden confusion, trouble speaking or understanding
- Sudden trouble seeing in one or both eyes
- Sudden trouble walking, dizziness, loss of balance or coordination
- Sudden, severe headache with no known cause

If you or someone with you has one or more of these signs, don't delay!

CALL 9-1-1 IMMEDIATELY!

Do you have HEEL pain or ARCH pain?

HEEL SPUR SYNDROME/PLANTAR FASCITIS

is a common problem among people who are active. It starts as a dull intermittent pain in the heel which may progress to a sharp persistent pain. Classically, it is worse in the morning with the first few steps, after sitting, after standing, or after walking.

- Plantar fasciitis often begins with irritation and tearing of the fibrous band of tissue on the bottom of the foot, which may eventually result in the formation of a heel spur.

- Contributing factors: flat pronated feet, high arched feet, poor shoe support, increased age, sudden weight increase, increased activity level, family tendency.

- Approximately 2-3 times your body weight of force is exerted on each foot with walking. Flexible, non-custom molded arch support found at those advertised shoe stores cannot support these forces and usually do not provide long-lasting relief, do not come with a lifetime warranty, and are typically more expensive than custom-molded ones made by our office.

- 95 percent of our patients symptoms are resolved with conservative treatment, avoiding surgical intervention.

- We also offer surgical procedures with the best post-op success rates using Endoscopic Plantar Fasciotomy techniques and EPF resulting in minimal incisions and scarring, immediate ambulation and often back in a shoe in one week.

Signs of a HEART ATTACK

Some heart attacks are sudden and intense, but most heart attacks start slowly, with mild pain. Often people affected aren't sure what's wrong and wait too long before getting help. Symptoms include:

CHEST DISCOMFORT. Most heart attacks involve discomfort in the center of the chest that lasts more than a few minutes, or that goes away and comes back. It can feel like uncomfortable pressure, squeezing, fullness or pain.

DISCOMFORT IN OTHER AREAS OF THE UPPER BODY. Symptoms can include pain or discomfort in one or both arms, the back, neck, jaw or stomach.

OTHER SIGNS may include breaking out in a cold sweat, nausea or lightheadedness

Women are somewhat more likely than men to experience other common symptoms, particularly SHORTNESS OF BREATH, NAUSEA/VOMITING, AND BACK/JAW PAIN.

If you or someone with you has one or more of these signs, don't delay!

Your Solution For ALL Your Automotive Needs

How Your Vehicle Benefits from a Clean Air Filter

Cars and trucks can benefit greatly from clean air filters. Many drivers are aware of the need to change the oil in their vehicles according to the intervals designated in their owners' manuals, but few may be aware of the many benefits of changing air filters. One such benefit pertains to fuel efficiency. The automotive website CarsDirect.com notes that studies have shown that changing clogged air filters can improve fuel efficiency by as much as 10 percent and save drivers as much as 15 cents per gallon of fuel. Clean air filters also can benefit the environment. When vehicle air filters are clogged, air flow to the engine is reduced, adversely affecting vehicle emissions. Clean filters increase air flow to the engine, reducing vehicle emissions as a result. Clean air filters also can help drivers get more out of their vehicle investments. Designed to trap dirt and debris, clean air filters prolong engine life by preventing such particles from damaging engine components. Drivers can check their owners' manuals for air filter replacement guidelines, but manufacturers generally advise drivers change their air filters every 12,000 to 15,000 miles. Such a repair is inexpensive but can go a long way toward ensuring vehicles operate as efficiently as possible. ■

How to Avoid Flat Tires

Nothing can delay road trips more suddenly than flat tires. Unfortunately, because tires are the only part of the vehicle constantly in contact with the road, wear and tear is to be expected. Routine inspection and tire maintenance is essential to their performance. In addition, paying attention to road hazards and avoiding them when possible can prolong the life of tires.

- Tire pressure: Tires should be maintained at the correct air pressure indicated on the sidewall or as advised by the manufacturer. Tires with too much air can be damaged by bumpy roads and potholes. Tires that are not inflated enough may increase friction on the roadway, resulting in a blowout. Check tire pressure routinely, and do so when the tires have rested for three hours.

- Tire wear: The advisors at Select Auto Imports say that inspecting tires for uneven wear should be a routine part of maintenance. If tires show uneven wear, they may be more susceptible to flats or blowouts. Tire rotations can help alleviate uneven wear. The NHTSA recommends tires be rotated every 5,000 miles.

- Tire treads: The Allstate Insurance company says to look for worn tire treads. Check for wear bar indicator marks located between the tread pattern of the tires. If the wear bar is level with the treads, it's time for new tires. Otherwise, place a quarter between the grooves of the tire. If the tread doesn't extend beyond the top of Washington's head, it's a good idea to replace the tires. ■

Common Symptoms of Engine Control Module Problems

The notion of vehicle maintenance often conjures images of greased-stained hands and car hoods propped up. While professional and amateur mechanics are still no strangers to getting their hands dirty, vehicle maintenance in the 21st century also involves diagnosing issues that might arise with a car's engine control module.

What is an engine control module?

An engine control module, or ECM, serves as the primary computer system for many critical components in modern vehicles. ECMs essentially serve as the brains behind the engines, controlling everything from fuel mixtures to emissions controls. Sensors within the engine send signals to the ECM, and the ECM then uses that information to help the car run smoothly. Issues that arise with the ECM can make driving difficult and, in some cases, impossible.

What are some potential signs of ECM issues?

The automotive service provider Aamco notes that a faulty or failing ECM will exhibit various symptoms. However, it's important to note that these symptoms are not always indicative of issues with the ECM, so when they arise drivers may want to schedule appointments with their mechanics so the true culprit can be identified and the problem can be fixed.

- Check engine light comes on: Many drivers have experienced the dreaded check engine light, which indicates some type of issue with the engine. That issue can be a failing engine component, or it may indicate a failing or bad ECM. A mechanic can determine why the light has come on.
- Engine performance issues: Even though the ECM is a separate entity from the engine itself, a bad or failing ECM can affect engine performance. That's because such ECMs throw off the timing and fuel settings of the engine, leading to a sudden and noticeable reduction in engine performance. Engine power may be affected, and the vehicle may experience a drop in fuel efficiency and issues with acceleration.

- Vehicle will not start: A failed ECM means the vehicle won't start, as there's nothing controlling the engine to tell it do so. Failing ECMs may lead to struggles starting the vehicle, and whenever drivers experience these issues, they should consult their mechanics immediately so the issue does not escalate to the point where the engine won't start at all.

- Erratic engine behavior: A malfunctioning ECM can lead to stalling or misfiring. These issues are often sporadic, which may give drivers the impression that nothing is seriously wrong. However, erratic engine behavior is a strong indicator of problems with the ECM, and these issues should be addressed immediately.

Identifying ECM issues and promptly addressing them can help drivers keep their vehicles on the road. ■

What is Octane and Should it Affect Drivers' Decisions at the Pump?

Anyone who has ever driven their vehicles into a filling station is no doubt familiar with the word "octane." But few drivers may know what octane refers to and how it might affect their vehicles.

According to Kelley Blue Book®, octane is a colorless component that boils at high temperatures. Octane is added to fuels, including gasoline used in vehicles, to eliminate preignition in combustion engines. The higher the octane rating, which is a measure of a fuel's ability to resist "knocking" or "pinging," the less likely the fuel is going to explode unexpectedly. In fact, KBB notes that gasoline with a high octane rating can withstand more compression than gas with a low octane rating.

So what does this mean for the average driver when he or she arrives at the pump and has to choose between 87, 89 or 93 octane gasoline? Likely very little. The U.S. Department of Energy notes that most gasoline vehicles are designed to run on 87 octane gasoline. However, some vehicles are still designed to run on higher octane fuel, so drivers should always consult their owners' manuals to determine which octane is best for their vehicles.

Using a lower octane fuel than the one mentioned by the vehicle manufacturer can damage the engine over time. The DOE even notes that using a fuel with an octane rating other than the one recommended by the vehicle manufacturer may actually void the warranty. That gives drivers even greater incentive to consult their owner's manuals before filling up for the first time.

Drivers may wonder if using a higher octane fuel than the one recommended by their car's manufacturer will improve performance. And in certain instances, it might. The DOE notes that higher octane fuel may improve performance and gas mileage and reduce carbon emissions when towing or carrying heavy loads. However, there's typically no such benefit when driving in normal conditions.

Drivers encounter octane anytime they visit a filling station. Learning more about octane and what it does for vehicles can help drivers become more informed motorists. ■

Develop a Vehicle Maintenance Schedule

The oft-sudden expense of vehicle repairs can throw monthly budgets into disarray. Maintaining a routine service schedule is one way for drivers to keep repair costs down.

The online automotive resources Edmunds.com says many car owners do not adequately prepare for scheduled maintenance, and may not give maintenance a thought until it's too late. The first step drivers take upon purchasing a new or preowned vehicle should be to familiarize themselves with the vehicle's owner's manual, which is filled with valuable information and likely includes maintenance interval recommendations.

Next, drivers should learn about their vehicle, which is particularly relevant when buying a preowned vehicle. Getting to know how the car or truck rides, as well as any sounds it may make, can provide drivers with a solid foundation they can then use to keep their cars running strong.

Routine service typically includes tire rotation, oil changes and topping off of fluids. So just how long between service appointments can a car go? Here are some generalized estimates.

• Oil change: Oil chemistry and engine technology have improved so much that most cars can go well beyond the once-recommended 3,000 mile interval between oil changes. Now many vehicle manufacturers recommend between 5,000 and 10,000 miles between changes, advises Edmunds. Drivers should err on the side of caution if they do a lot of stop-and-go driving and short trips. Other drivers may want to invest in vehicles that have oil change maintenance minders built in. A light or countdown will come on the dashboard, indicating when the oil has reached the end of its usefulness.

• Tire rotation: Rotating tires helps prolong the life of the tires and alleviates uneven tread and wear. During the rotation, each tire is removed and relocated to a different position to ensure that all the tires will wear evenly. Michelin Tires states that tires should be rotated around every six months, or between 6,000 and 8,000 miles.

• Vehicle fluids: Your best bet is to see what the manufacturer recommends in regard to fluids such as transmission fluid, differential oil, brake fluids, coolant, etc. Some transmissions need regular maintenance, while others can go 150,000 miles between changes, according to the vehicle information site The Drive. Coolant typically can last 100,000 miles. For these types of changes, it may be best to go to a mechanic or service center familiar with your make and model rather than a quick-lube center, as knowing when to drain and refill can be more complicated.

Service schedules can be designed to adhere to manufacturers' recommendations and drivers' personal preferences. ■

Did You Know?

Improved performance and reliability has increased the life expectancy of many vehicles. As a result, many drivers are keeping their cars and trucks in excess of 10 years. According to an IHS Markit study, the average age of vehicles in the United States is a record 11.6 years, with the average length of ownership at 79.3 months, or nearly seven years. Even after an owner has relinquished his or her new vehicle, that used car or truck can go on to provide many more years of utility for its next owner. Certain models top the charts among the longest kept vehicles, according to iSeeCars, an automotive industry group. These include the Toyota 4Runner, Chevrolet Corvette, Mercedes-Benz SLK, Porsche Boxster, and the Toyota Land Cruiser, which is the longest kept vehicle and also is the automaker's longest-running SUV. This vehicle is held onto for an average 10.6 years after being bought new. To hold on to their vehicles as long as possible, drivers should follow maintenance schedules, keep their cars and trucks clean and make repairs promptly. When it comes time to get a new vehicle, upkeep can go a long way toward improving resale value or getting back more on trade-ins. ■

HOROSCOPES

• FOURTH WEEK OF MARCH •

ARIES – Mar 21/Apr 20

Aries, having friends in high places can open doors to some unique places. But you can only keep those doors open through hard work.

TAURUS – Apr 21/May 21

Widen your social network to have the best opportunities for success this week, Taurus. New people can provide useful information and approaches you never imagined.

GEMINI – May 22/Jun 21

Gemini, surround yourself with people who can help advance your career. The changing landscape of your job means you need to be open to all possibilities.

CANCER – Jun 22/Jul 22

There is no need to keep a calm facade if you are experiencing some anxiety, Cancer. Be honest with those closest to you and you'll benefit from their feedback.

LEO – Jul 23/Aug 23

The strong force of your sensitivity may surprise you over the course of the next few days, Leo. Just try not to let emotions cloud your judgment on the professional front.

VIRGO – Aug 24/Sept 22

Single Virgos will have plenty of opportunity to be flirty and fun this week. But even those in relationships can get in on the action, putting romance to the forefront.

LIBRA – Sept 23/Oct 23

Libra, others may see you as the advice guru this week. That is a role you excel in, but you must balance the extra counseling work with your existing responsibilities.

SCORPIO – Oct 24/Nov 22

Someone who lays on the flattery can win you over in an instant, Scorpio. But once you delve deeper, you may grow suspicious. Accept praise but don't let it cloud your vision.

SAGITTARIUS – Nov 23/Dec 21

Sagittarius, you tend to give freely without worrying about the bottom line. But today's stars flash warnings that you may need to keep a tight hold on your cash.

CAPRICORN – Dec 22/Jan 20

It is never a good idea to enhance the facts, Capricorn. However, you can be enthusiastic about your efforts and what those efforts may lead to. Stand behind your work and opinions.

AQUARIUS – Jan 21/Feb 18

Aquarius, no matter how busy your schedule may be, carve out some time to take care of some financial issues that have cropped up in the last few weeks.

PISCES – Feb 19/Mar 20

Take a new approach to a similar task and you may come away with something surprising, Pisces. Take that leap of faith.
