Sunday Morning Positive Perks

from your Sassy Small Town Missus

THE RAINBOW CONNECTION

This song was created in 1979 by Paul Williams and Kenny Ascher for Kermit The Frog. Unless you are living under a lily pad you have heard it. Kermit is alone in the marsh with his banjo singing his little soul out because he believes his dreams are more than illusions and feels the pull to follow them. I love how he looks so tortured yet hopeful all at the same time. I think we can all relate to those mixed feelings. It was the version of this song I heard on the 2019 CMA Awards with Willie Nelson and Kacey Musgraves that really spoke to me. It is a song about adventure, love, dreaming and not being afraid to see "what is on the other side". If you wish on a morning star and believe that every wish is heard and answered, then you fall under the spell of The Rainbow Connection. That is what keeps the dreamers and believers "stargazing" as the song's story goes. It is a thought provoking melody about examining your life, finding yourself and your dreams. I think the reason that this version touched me so much was because it featured a young musician paired with an iconic Willie Nelson. She is just starting her journey over the Rainbow and he is nearing the other side. Her voice is young and youthful and his has the tone that only a man of many seasons possesses. He knows her dreams because they were once his, and she sees where his dreams have taken him. Many people are looking to the morning star these days unsure of what is on the other side of the Rainbow. It is during this disquieting time many of us are at a cross roads. What are your dreams? Are you creating a path to make your dreams come true? If not, then ask yourself why. There is a lot of truth to the theory that one must be at peace with themselves before they can find true happiness. Daydreaming makes you feel hopeful that someday your dreams can come true. But it is important to know that in order for dreams to come true you have to get your head out the clouds and start making the effort to seek out the other side of the Rainbow. "You never know what a day will bring." I say that a lot, because nothing is ever guaranteed and things can change on a dime. Listen to those voices talking to you when you are sleeping telling you that "It will be Alright". Trust in the magic of The Rainbow Connection. It is not just an illusion, but a reality waiting to happen, if only first you believe in yourself. Take a listen to both versions First Kermit's <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=WS3Lkc6GzIk> Then Willie & Kacey's <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=4juzFaW12j0>. Both will tug at the heartstrings because we all have had those times when we want to live a dream, but are held back because of fears of the unknown. Choose to believe in The Rainbow Connection, let yourself fall under it's spell and live the dream on the other side.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY NATHAN D. PACE
ATTORNEY AT LAW

WHAT IS AN "IRREVOCABLE" CONTRACT?

A contract is a legally binding agreement between parties that consists of an offer, an acceptance of that offer, and agreement on the financial terms of the contract. Once those three steps are completed, a contract is considered "irrevocable" unless conditions have been established, in writing, for revoking it. Offers can usually be altered or withdrawn at any time before they are approved, but once accepted, both parties are legally bound to the contracted terms. This does not mean that one party can be forced to carry out services if they change their minds, but it does mean they can be held financially responsible in a court of law for doing so.

The term irrevocable does not mean that a party cannot refuse to perform its obligations, but rather that it can be held financially liable in a court of law for such refusal. The only exception would be if the terms of the contract specifically state that one or both parties can revoke it in certain situations. From proper documentation for major contracts to intellectual property cases, the Law Office of MACK & PACE can provide you with the representation you need to protect your business. Please call (585)798-1000 to schedule a consultation.

HINT: Irrevocable offers are common in option contracts, like property transactions, and in waivers and releases, but parties should be sure that the contract clearly states that it is indeed irrevocable.

Recommendation for Cloth Face Coverings

The CDC continues to study the spread and effects of the novel coronavirus across the United States. We now know from recent studies that a significant portion of individuals with coronavirus lack symptoms (“asymptomatic”) and that even those who eventually develop symptoms (“pre-symptomatic”) can transmit the virus to others before showing symptoms. This means that the virus can spread between people interacting in close proximity—for example, speaking, coughing, or sneezing—even if those people are not exhibiting symptoms. In light of this new evidence, CDC recommends wearing cloth face coverings in public settings where other social distancing measures are difficult to maintain (e.g., grocery stores and pharmacies) especially in areas of significant community-based transmission.

It is critical to emphasize that maintaining 6-foot social distancing remains important to slowing the spread of the virus. CDC is additionally advising the use of simple cloth face coverings to slow the spread of the virus and help people who may have the virus and do not know it from transmitting it to others. Cloth face coverings fashioned from household items or made at home from common materials at low cost can be used as an additional, voluntary public health measure.

The cloth face coverings recommended are not surgical masks or N-95 respirators. Those are critical supplies that must continue to be reserved for healthcare workers and other medical first responders, as recommended by current CDC guidance.

Keeping Yourself & Your Neighborhood Healthy

We’ve all seen the old cartoons where a character is faced with a choice. They have a devil on their left shoulder and an angel on their right, each trying to influence their decision. We may not have a little devil whispering in our ear, but we are constantly surrounded by temptation. That second piece of cake looks so yummy, that couch is so comfy, even though I know I should eat right and exercise. I know that what feels good for me in the short term is seldom good for me in the long term. To be my best self, I must make rational rather than emotional choices.

Acting rationally is easier said than done. The modern world is a massive marketing machine designed to switch off our rational brain and to turn up the volume on our impulses. Marketers are like fishermen, they bait their hook with things that appeal to our desire for instant gratification. Like a fish, we think about the juicy worm, not the frying pan.

Acting on our impulses not only affects the health of our bodies, but also hurts our neighborhoods as well. Online retailers and national chains bait their hooks with promises of low prices and convenience. Choosing to shop at a mass marketer rather than a local business is like choosing to eat a candy bar rather than a yogurt for lunch. The sugar rush won’t last and we’ll regret our decision later when we step on the scale. The difference is that when you shop at a mass marketer, they get fat and local neighborhood businesses starve to death.

Neighborhood businesses have been struggling for decades and their decline has impacted the quality of life for all of us. When you spend a dollar at a big box store, or online, it is lost to the local economy. If you spend that dollar locally, it continues to circulate in the neighborhood. Your local store owner uses your dollar to hire a local contractor, to buy a delivery van at the local car dealer. He or she uses the local accountant, the local insurance man and other local service businesses. A part of your dollar winds up being donated to the local scout troop, supporting the softball team and in the collection plates of local churches.

According to a study conducted by the American Independent Business Alliance, shopping at local businesses has a “multiplier effect,” every dollar spent at a neighborhood business adds $3.50 to the local economy.

When we stop to think about what we eat and how much exercise we are getting, our bodies grow healthy. Likewise, when we stop to think how and where we spend our money, our neighborhoods grow healthy. Both are wise decisions, living a healthy lifestyle leads to a longer and more enjoyable life. Shopping locally leads to a healthier community for ourselves and our families.

DIANE SHAMPINE

COUNTY CLERK

Hello,
 I am Diane Shampine, the Acting County Clerk for Orleans County since Jan. 31, 2020. In the 14 years prior to taking the oath of office on Jan. 30, 2020, I served as Deputy County Clerk for the Hon. Karen Lake-Maynard.

In my 18 plus years at the County Clerk's Office, I have learned the intricate details concerning what the job entails, but even more importantly, have realized that I truly love the job itself.

There is a great sense of personal satisfaction associated with assisting people in need and doing so with efficiency, doing it effectively and with kindness, compassion and professionalism. For these reasons, it is my sincere desire to continue serving the people of our great county for many years to come.

Because of the COVID-19 pandemic, some Clerk's offices in New York State have ceased to provide essential services to the public, but we have not. We have, however, taken steps to ensure the health and well-being of our community and of my staff, so that we may continue to function throughout the entire duration of this unprecedented crisis. In this difficult time in which we all unfortunately find ourselves, up to date information becomes a critical asset. For the current operational status of the three offices which I oversee, please go to www.orleanscountyny.gov click on the Public Record County Clerk page for the most up to date information as policy is changing day to day.

In conclusion, I wish to express the simple fact that I had never before held political aspirations, and never, ever contemplated running for elected office. But circumstances have changed, and as the situation evolved, any aversion I may have had for the political lime-light, has been replaced with a heartfelt desire to continue to serve the people of Orleans County, and to ensure everything continues to run smoothly at the Clerk's Offices during this transition. Although in some of our neighboring counties the Clerk's Office has been used as a political stepping stone for ambitious politicians with greater aspirations, this is not the case for me. I am simply a highly qualified, experienced professional seeking to keep my position, and make certain the offices and the staff for which I care so deeply do not suffer unwarranted turmoil and disruption of services to the community.

I ask for your support at the June 23, 2020 Primary. Help me so that I can continue to proudly serve the residents of Orleans County.

Holley village budget will cut tax rate by 21 cents

By Tom Rivers, Editor
Posted 15 April 2020 on www.OrleansHub.com

HOLLEY — The Holley Village Board has approved a tentative budget that would reduce the tax rate from $16.41 to $16.20 per $1,000 of assessed property. The board held a public hearing on the budget on Tue., April 14. The meeting was done online through Zoom. The Village Office remains closed to the public due to the COVID-19 pandemic. This was the village's first meeting online.

The budget will be formally adopted later this month. The village fiscal year runs from June 1 to May 31. Although the tax rate will be going down, the village will be collecting more in property taxes. The tax levy will go up 2.3 percent or by $20,483 from $887,999 to $908,482. The tax rate will go down because the village's tax base grew by about $2 million. The village assessed value is up 3.6 percent or $1,967,513, from $54,098,660 to $56,066,173. The general fund portion of the budget – office, DPW, police, employee benefits and general debt – totals $1,239,434, while the water budget is $436,401 and the sewer budget is $180,338.

Mayor Brian Sorochty said village officials have been working hard on the budget in recent months. He is pleased the tax rate will go down and the budget is under the property tax cap. However, he said the village will have to be extra careful this coming fiscal year because state and federal funding may change due to the economic strains from COVID-19's impact on the economy. "We will really need scrutinize spending given the uncertainty," Sorochty said.

In other action at the meeting, the Village Board:

- Approving spending $1,500 for the Waste Water Treatment to purchase two submersible pumps from Goodwin and 100 feet of lay flat hose.
- Approved spending $600 for the Police Department's annual defibrillator certification conducted by Zoll.
- Approved spending $3605.83 for the Water Department to buy a Well Pump from Bailey Electric.
- Authorized spending $3,800 for the Water Department to buy four sampling stations from Blair Supply.
- Approved up to $900 for flowers and mulch for containers on Public Square and Wright Street.

The outlook for nurses is very strong

Many people consider the right job one that provides both a sense of fulfillment and the opportunity to achieve financial security and stability as one's career advances. Given that criteria, the field of nursing should make for an attractive career path.

The outlook for registered nurses, often referred to as "RNs," is very strong. In its recent "Occupational Outlook Handbook," the Bureau of Labor Statistics, a division of the U.S. Department of Labor, issued a highly favorable employment outlook for registered nurses. Estimating the projected percent change in employment between 2018 and 2028, the BLS estimated that employment of registered nurses is expected to grow 12 percent during that 10-year period. That's more than double the average growth estimate for all occupations.

The outlook is equally strong in Canada. According to the Canadian Occupation Projections System, which is provided by Employment and Social Development Canada, new job openings for registered nurses and registered psychiatric nurses are expected to total 157,100 between 2017 and 2026. The ESDC anticipates a nursing shortage during that same period, estimating that only 143,900 new job seekers will be available to fill those positions. But that gap between job openings and qualified candidates means that nurses should not experience much difficulty in regard to finding work.

While the outlook in terms of availability of work is strong for current nurses and those who aspire to one day follow this career path, that outlook should not alone compel people to pursue a career in nursing. Few fields can be as demanding as nursing, which means not everyone is necessarily cut out to be a nurse. The demands are perhaps best exemplified by examining the hours registered nurses may expect to work, especially at the beginning of their careers when they have no seniority. The BLS notes that hospitals and nursing care facilities require round-the-clock employees every day of the year. That means nurses can expect to work long hours on nights, weekends and holidays. That requires considerable sacrifice on the part of nurses, and those aspiring to enter this line of work should consider if they're willing to make those sacrifices before enrolling in a nursing program.

Estimates suggest the employment outlook for qualified nurses will be very strong over the next several years, which should compel more and more talented people to pursue this fulfilling career path. ■

LYNDONVILLE – The Memorial Day parade has been cancelled in Lyndonville, Steve Goodrich, the American Legion commander for the Houseman-Tanner Post 1603, announced this morning. Several of the American Legion Posts in Western New York have announced they are cancelling the parades on May 25 due to concerns about COVID-19.

Goodrich said the average age of the post members in Lyndonville is 83. "I can't in good conscience put them at risk," Goodrich said. "I feel it is only prudent to take this action for the safety of everyone."

News organizations in Western New York are reporting Memorial Day parades are cancelled in Kenmore-Town of Tonawanda, West Seneca, Lewiston, Lockport, Rochester and Irondequoit. Goodrich said he has plans to recognize veterans in Lyndonville on Memorial Day. He asked community members to send him the names of local people currently serving in the military. He wants them to publicly acknowledged in the near future.

The American Legion in Lyndonville also places more than 400 flags on veterans' graves right before Memorial Day. Goodrich said he doesn't want the older members to be at risk with that duty. Goodrich said he will place the flags alone when he gets out of work. He said it will be a gradual process and urges the public's understanding.

"If one is missed, I ask you notify me," he said in a Facebook message on the Lyndonville, NY People page. "I will ensure any overlooked will receive a flag."

Salmon, Asparagus and Orzo Salad With Lemon-Dill Vinaigrette

Makes 6 servings

- 6 cups water
- 1 pound asparagus, trimmed and cut into 3-inch pieces
- 1 cup uncooked orzo
- 1 (1 1/4-pound) skinless salmon fillet
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
- Cooking spray
- 1/4 cup thinly sliced red onion
- 1/3 cup Lemon-Dill Vinaigrette

1. Preheat broiler.
2. Bring water to a boil in a large saucepan. Add asparagus; cook 3 minutes, or until crisp-tender. Remove asparagus from water with tongs or a slotted spoon, reserving water in a pan. Plunge asparagus into ice water; drain the ice water and set asparagus aside.
3. Return reserved water to a boil. Add orzo, and cook according to package directions, omitting salt and fat.
4. While orzo cooks, sprinkle fillet evenly with salt and pepper. Place fish on a foil-lined broiler pan coated with cooking spray. Broil 5 minutes, or until desired degree of doneness. Using 2 forks, break fish into large chunks. Combine fish, orzo, asparagus, onion, and Lemon-Dill Vinaigrette in a large bowl; toss gently to coat.

Lemon-Dill Vinaigrette

Yields 1/3 cup

- 1/3 cup crumbled Feta cheese
- 1 tablespoon chopped fresh dill
- 3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
- 2 teaspoons extra-virgin olive oil
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper

Combine all ingredients in a small bowl, stirring well with a whisk. ■
