A Weapon Against Fear and Sickness

The current worldwide epidemic of coronavirus has created much fear and anxiety in the hearts of people everywhere. This is not how our heavenly Father wants us to live.

Psalm 91 deals with just such an outbreak of disease. Pray these scriptures from Psalm 91 over yourself and your family every day.

Verses 2 and 3 "I will say of the Lord, He is my Refuge and my Fortress, my God; on Him I lean and rely, and in Him I confidently trust! For then He will deliver me from the snare of the trapper and from the deadly pestilence (disease)."

If you need to talk, want some encouragement, or desire more prayer, give us a call at 585-319-6471. We want to help.

AMERICA:

God's Judgement is upon This Nation! Upon This Whole World!

We have turned against Him doing our "own" thing.
Chronicles 7:13 speaks of locusts and pestilence being sent. We are a sinful country.

These locusts are in this world!

Pestilence... it's here! Disease...it's here!

We need to turn back to God.

Repent, be humble, pray and turn back to GOD.

HE will heal our land!

Christians...are you prepared? Famine is coming.

II Timothy says troubled times are coming.

Get prepared. Ask Jesus into your heart. It's time!

EMC Selects Earth Day Award Recipient

The Livingston County Environmental Management Council (EMC) has chosen Brian Sheldon to receive this year's Livingston County Earth Day Award. This annual award is presented to an individual or organization to recognize outstanding achievements that are directed to help preserve, improve, or educate about the Livingston County environment. Earth Day is a global event, it is celebrated on April 22, and this year marks the 50th anniversary.

The EMC recognizes Mr. Sheldon for more than 10 years of exemplary service as a Science teacher with Livonia High School, his dedication to student education, and his innovative and engaging science curriculum. The EMC notes Mr. Sheldon's creative approach to bringing the real-world experience to his students, from tours in the community, to research projects in the field, to clean up events in the community. Mr. Sheldon is known by his peers as a catalyst for learning, an agent for change, and an outstanding educator.

Encouraging students to learn within and beyond the classroom is a hallmark of Mr. Sheldon's dynamic approach to connecting his students with their social and natural communities. Working with his students, Mr. Sheldon has created new opportunities, such as a recycling program, an environmental club and a college level course, Global Environment, with SUNY School of Environmental Science and Forestry (ESF) on the Livonia campus. As part of the ESF course, students complete college level caliber of work, including detailed field work and community presentations. The work of Mr. Sheldon and his students is highly regarded in our community.

The Environmental Management Council commends Mr. Sheldon for his contributions to the science and environmental education of our youth and are pleased to select him as the recipient of the Earth Day Award, on the 50th Anniversary of Earth Day. It is anticipated that the Award Presentation at the Livingston County Board of Supervisors meeting will be announced at a later date. ### CUTTING MILLIONS IN LIBRARY FUNDING SENDS A TERRIBLE MESSAGE TO OUR COMMUNITIES

New York state’s local libraries are institutions that provide educational materials, meeting spaces, internet and computer access and a sense of community to their patrons. They are invaluable. Yet, Gov. Cuomo’s executive budget reduces their aid by $5 million and slashes construction aid grants by $20 million. This is a dangerous proposition that makes little sense and has become an annual negotiating tactic.

To put the second number in perspective, the $20 million cut is more than the entire construction budget he is proposing to keep, which he proposes should be only $14 million in total. Library construction grants are critical resources available to public libraries for the acquisition, rehabilitation, renovation or construction of library buildings. They are the lifeblood of the library system and help ensure literacy rates and academic metrics in New York can keep pace with the rest of the nation.

Sadly, it is not uncommon for Gov. Cuomo to nickel-and-dime away important funding in order to exert greater control over the budget process. Much like the $6 million in veterans’ program funding the governor has cut out of his budget proposal, these are relatively small amounts of money when put up against the $178 billion New York will likely spend this year.

These funds are extremely important to the individuals who rely on them, yet they represent a drop in the bucket compared the enormity of our state’s budget. Gov. Cuomo’s proposed library cuts will do next to nothing to fix New York’s massive deficit and its unsustainable spending. He knows this. These cuts are a calculated distraction to mask the real problems we must mitigate, like out-of-control Medicaid costs and the state’s $57 billion debt.

The Assembly Minority Conference is well aware of New York’s budgetary shortcomings, many of which are self-inflicted. Too much money is spent and tax-payers get too little in return. New York state’s operating expenses are wasteful and funds are too frequently misallocated.

For example: audits have found millions in erroneous Medicaid payments going out the door. In addition, the governor spends billions on his economic-development pet projects, with often questionable results. Stripping $5 million from our library system is a terrible place to try to make up for past failures.

These cuts cannot be included in the final, enacted budget. If they are, we will be sending a terrible message to the people of New York, especially our children.

With questions or comments on this or any other state issue, or if you would like to be added to my mailing list or receive my newsletter, please contact my office. My office can be reached by mail at 200 North Second Street, Fulton, New York 13069, by e-mail at barclayw@nyassembly.gov or by calling (315) 598-5185.
