

Keller Names Pounders

SHEFFIELD – Helen Keller Hospital recently welcomed Brad Pounders as Director of the Materials Management Department. Pounders comes to Keller from Russellville Hospital where he was the Supply Chain Director. He received an Associate of Science in General Studies from NW-SCC, a Bachelor of Science in Marketing and Master of Business Administration from UNA, and Master of Business Administration from Columbia Southern University.

Pounders is a certified Materials and Resource Professional, and a member of the Association for Healthcare Resource and Materials Management. He has also served as Secretary-Treasurer and President of the Alabama Society of Healthcare Materials Management.

In his spare time, Pounders enjoys running marathons and traveling, sometimes combining the two. He co-directs the Huff-n-Puff on the Bluff each spring and works in the preschool ministry at Highland Park Baptist Church.

Fired up 4th

FLORENCE–Fun Independence Day festivities are planned at McFarland Park and Joe Wheeler State Park this year!

Rock 105.5 The Big Dog, University Chevrolet, University Toyota, and University Chrysler, Dodge, Jeep, Ram are presenting the 34th Annual Spirit of Freedom on Saturday, July 4.

Get ready for another massive Independence Day party on the banks of the Tennessee River. It's a full day music, food, and fireworks at McFarland Park in Florence.

See FIRE UP... on Page 6

The Courier Journal will be closed Friday, July 3.
ALL material for the July 8 issue must be submitted by Thursday, July 2.

Wright Takes Bench Post

ST. FLORIAN–Florence attorney Cliff Wright was recently sworn in as St. Florian's Municipal Court Judge. Wright replaces the Honorable Judge Will Motlow who was recently selected by the Governor to fill the vacant Lauderdale County Probate Judge position due to the untimely death of the former Probate Judge, James Hall. Wright has been practicing law in Florence for approximately 25 years. He is also currently the Municipal Court Judge for the Town of Killen. Both jobs are part time. He will continue to practice law in Florence.

Wright is a graduate of the University of North Alabama. He earned his law degree from the Cumberland School of Law at Samford University in Birmingham. Wright's practice has been focused in Municipal Court Law, Personal Injury, and Social Security. His first court date in St. Florian was June 18.

CJ Earns Nineteen Awards at APA Convention

DESTIN, FL – Winners of the 2015 Alabama Press Association Better Newspaper Contest and APA's Advertising Contest were announced recently during the closing banquet of the APA's Summer Convention in Destin, Florida.

Seventy newspapers submitted 2,888 entries in the annual Better Newspaper Contest. Forty-four newspapers submitted 1,032 entries in this year's Advertising Contest. The contests were judged by the Tennessee Press Association.

This was the third year that associate member publications have been eligible to enter. Associate member publications, of which the Courier Journal is part, comprise their own broad category. Those include free papers, university publications, magazines, and all other publications which are not considered subscriber-based newspapers of general circulation.

The Courier Journal received a total of nineteen awards, six in the Better Newspaper Contest (editorial content) and thirteen in the Advertising Contest.

Lifeline Service Offering

The Public Service Commission of Alabama designated TEC the "Eligible Telecommunications Carrier" for its service area for universal service purposes. The goal of universal service is to provide all citizens access to essential telecommunications services. As part of its service offerings, TEC offers a program (Lifeline) to assist qualifying low income individuals with the charges for their telephone service. Lifeline is part of the federal Universal Service Fund program instituted by the Federal Communications Commission and overseen by the Universal Service Administrative Company.

Lifeline Assistance enables eligible subscribers to pay reduced charges for all residential service plans that provide voice telephony service, including bundled service packages combining voice and broadband, or packages containing optional calling features. TEC Residential flat rate voice service includes unlimited incoming and outgoing local calling per the subscriber tariff filed with the Public Service Commission of Alabama and found on the web at www.tec.com. Toll limitation is free for qualifying Lifeline customers. The current FCC mandated discount provided under the Company's Lifeline service is $9.25 per month for each month that the customer qualifies. To receive these discounts, an individual must meet certain eligibility criteria such as participating in one of the following federal assistance programs: "Medicaid; Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), formerly known as Food Stamps; Supplemental Security Income (SSI); Federal Public Housing Assistance; Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP); Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) or National School Lunch Program's Free Lunch program (NFLP)." Alternatively, an individual would be eligible if the household gross monthly income does not exceed 135% of the Federal Poverty Guidelines. [47 C.F.R. §54.409(b)] Only eligible customers may enroll in Lifeline. Federal regulations allow only one Lifeline discount per household. An individual may not transfer his or her Lifeline discount to someone else, even if he or she is eligible.

Other terms and conditions apply. For example, customers must apply for Lifeline and provide the required qualification documentation and the Company is required to verify the continuing accuracy of the qualifying information annually provided by those individuals. In addition, as long as a qualified individual agrees to toll limitation, that individual is not required to pay a deposit prior to the service being offered. A complete set of terms and conditions for this program is available at TEC's local business office at 955 Second Street, Cherokee, AL.

We encourage you to contact us if you believe you may qualify for this program. Please contact us at 256-359-4321 or visit us at 955 Second Street, Cherokee, AL. Our Customer Relations Representatives can work with you to answer any questions you may have.

July's First Fridays is on Friday, July 3 from 5-8pm in downtown Florence. It is all about celebrating America, a great way for locals to begin the long holiday weekend. There will be a classic car cruise-in on the northern end of Court Street, and vendors are asked to decorate their booths in a patriotic theme for the Red, White, and Booth contest. Over 100 vendors have been approved for the evening. Downtown merchants are invited to participate, too by decorating their storefronts and windows with a patriotic theme.

Music is set to begin at 5pm with Dorothy Cole, a Tina Turner impersonator, taking the Big River Broadcasting stage. She'll be followed by Strange Waves and Way Whileago. Music will conclude at 8pm.

4th of July Barbecue & Chicken Stew - St. Michael's Church (behind Riverhill School). Starting at 5:30am until sold out. Games for children from 10am-noon.

Fish Fry East Colbert Church of Christ will not take place this month on Saturday, July 4, due to the holiday.

New Celebrate Recovery group in Rogersville at the United Methodist Church. Tuesday, free dinner at 5:45pm. Meeting at 6:30. Our Celebrate Recovery is a chapter of Saddleback Church Celebrate Recovery. CR is a program that helps ANYONE with a hurt, habit or hangup. ## Ask Dr. Webb

Mom has emphysema and has just been diagnosed with Alzheimer's. She wants to stop everything except what is needed for shortness of breath and pain, and not end up a burden to our family—and die naturally when God calls her. Her doctors and my brother want her to keep treating all her problems. Can she just stop 'everything' like that?

Dr. Robert Webb This is not uncommon: the family doesn't want to lose mom and hopes by making her follow doctors' orders for her other conditions, such as the heart disease, they can "keep her around longer". It's important to ask "why" has she made this decision? Many families state that dementia is worse than cancer because it robs them of the person they knew. Since most adults have witnessed the suffering endured by dementia patients and their families, it's not surprising when they don't want to follow a path that easily strips away their dignity. Patients tell me they know there is a better life waiting for them, one without suffering, so why be kept alive only to suffer longer? The ethical principle of autonomy allows anyone the right to refuse any treatment, even if it may lead to an earlier death. Dementias are life-limiting diseases that eventually cause death if some other illness doesn't cause it first. Having another fatal disease could be her 'blessing', interrupting the undignified course of dementia, and be her 'best friend', as pneumonia often was before antibiotics, allowing them to escape a "fate worse than death"! Treating her against her wishes, interfering with 'God and nature', could result in unintended suffering. She has the right to choose. Families need to understand that living as long as possible doesn't usually include being "kept alive" only to suffer.

Awards...

including the Advertising Sweepstakes Award.

The Courier Journal received a total of seven awards in 2013 and thirteen last year.

"Once again we have to credit our graphic design team of Jim Allen, Andrea Gray, Gwyn Jones, and Russell Roden for much of the Courier Journal's success in these areas. They receive little fanfare, but they are always an integral part of what we do as a publication," according to Tom Magazzu, the paper's editor and publisher. "The nature of our product is such that we must be advertising-heavy. It's a perfect opportunity for our team to put their combined 85 years of graphics experience to good use. Our five advertising executives bring over 80 years of newspaper sales to the party. Such high levels of dedication and experience prove beneficial for our advertisers every day."

In spite of the emphasis on advertising, the Courier Journal was recognized in six of the eight Better Newspaper categories in which it was entered.

"Earning nineteen APA awards with limited categories in which we would qualify says a lot about the work we create," Magazzu added. "We try to improve our quality and appearance and hope to learn new things every week. It's good to know that other professionals beyond our readers and advertisers recognize our work. The Advertising Sweepstakes Award is a nice bonus. It demonstrates teamwork front-to-back."

The Advertising Sweepstakes Award is the top award presented in each division. Winners are considered to be consistently outstanding, issue to issue.

Unity and Purpose Replaced Division

Any of our local officials would have been satisfied with any occupant. The restaurant had closed long ago and no other takers were in line. One corporate president briefly considered using it for his office. Taxpayers were not happy, and that idea eventually fizzled anyway.

It was 2001 and the Shoals was strapped and hoping to avoid staring indefinitely at a deteriorating 250 ft. eyesore. This community appeared out of options. As I recall it was Shoals Chamber of Commerce, president, Steve Holt, who in casual conversation with a few chamber members suggested that we should see if David Bronner had any ideas. Neither Holt nor anyone else could have imagined what would develop from that off-the-cuff comment.

Few people think that Dr. Bronner, CEO of the Retirement Systems of Alabama, had any initial interest in creating something here. For decades Northwest Alabama was known in Montgomery as an area divided. The Tennessee River was an ever-widening chasm separating towns that failed to recognize this area as one community. We would maneuver ourselves out of manufacturing and expansion opportunities, because we could not grasp the idea that a plant in one town could benefit the residents and economic vitality of the others.

Bronner made an aggressive proposal

A Walking Kid Parade

SHEFFIELD - The city of Sheffield announces its annual Fourth of July Children's Walking Parade Saturday, July 4 at 10am. Sign-up begins at 9:30am at the Montgomery Avenue side of Sheffield City Hall.

The parade will proceed up Montgomery and end at the Standpipe where watermelon and lemonade will be served. Non-motorized vehicles - bikes, scooters, wagons only - (except small battery-operated children's toys). Prizes will be awarded for the best decorated entry.

KD Presents Mostly Blues

FLORENCE- Kennedy-Douglass Center for the Arts in Florence presents Mostly Blues, an exhibition of paintings, drawings, photographs, sculptures and mixed media pieces by area artists. The works are in many styles, media, and techniques, but they all have a common

Alabama Photos

Robb's Images Stir Historic Imagination

FLORENCE-Frances Osborn Robb will present the program, Alabama-made Civil War and Reconstruction Photographs: Recent Discoveries, at Kennedy-Douglass Center for the Arts in Florence on Thursday, July 9 at noon. This presentation features images from the 1860s, a few of which are familiar and others that have rarely been seen or published. Attendees are invited to bring a sack lunch and any family photographs of the mid-to-late 19th century to share. Admission is free.

Images include a rare photograph, now in Limestone County Archives, of the Sulphur Creek Trestle Bridge a few miles north of Athens. It was destroyed in a September 1864 battle that has been called the bloodiest

Why Tossed On Side?

Editor:

I am not one to complain much but something has to be done. Our garbage truck runs on Wednesday, and EVERY week the sanitation dept just tosses the can every which way. Today as usual, it is upside down on its side.

The city just invested some of our money in recycle bins this year. Yes, we are paying for them, but if they continue to tear and destroy the garbage cans, should we be the ones to have to pay for them again?

I have called and emailed the supervisor three times. The last time he said he would fix the problem. Well, it is still going on. This time I am going to send the picture and e-mail Mayor

” Kudos to Director Dixie Griffin, Dick Cooper, and all the staff and volunteers who are doing yeoman's service in promoting the Alabama Music Hall of Fame.

Mickey Haddock. If you are having the same problem let me encourage you to REFUSE to pay for the next garbage cans.

Charles Swindle
Florence

Bloviating is Malarkey

Editor:

It amazes me how people don't understand that the Dixie flag represents slavery.

The southern government (under president Jefferson Davis) that created the flag was pro-slavery. So, that flag is an insult to black people! Period!

That heritage B.S. that the flag supporters bloviate about is a bunch of malarkey! Should people sport the Nazi flag just because their ancestors fought for what they believed in and fought for Hitler?!

Newsflash: It's the same concept, just from a different century!

thread. Each has a musical theme or depicts scenes from the W.C. Handy Music Festival. The exhibit includes works by artists from Colbert, Franklin and Lauderdale counties and will be open July 6-August 6. The exhibit will be open special hours on Saturday, July 25, from 10am-12:30pm.

Well-known and established artists are included as well as new, up-and-coming artists. The exhibit was started in 1994 to honor W.C. Handy, the Father of the Blues, and to celebrate the strong ties our area has to the music world.

The Kennedy-Douglass CeKennedy-Douglass Center for the Arts is located at 217 East Tuscaloosa Street and is open free of charge from 9am-4pm, Monday-Friday. Museum programs are made possible in part by a grant from the Alabama State Council on the Arts. This event is sponsored by the Florence Department of Arts and Museums.

I HAVE THE MOST WONDERFUL, understanding, patient clients in the world -- except for those few that aren't. Over the past 20 years of doing business, we've gotten pretty good at soothing clients who are frustrated with technology. But sometimes, despite our best efforts, we fail. Some of you won't be consoled no matter how hard we try and you say bad words to my nice employees. I'd like to think that we have thick skins around here but the truth is that some of you just ruin our whole day. So, for those one-in-a-thousand clients, I'd like to impart a bit of advice: Make friends with my competitors!

Fisher

SEND MY COMPETITION SOME LOVE

by "The Computer Skeptic"

They LOVE folks like you! For example:

I know the movies would have you believe differently, but computer technicians are not "hackers." If you forget your password to pretty much anything, there is usually not much we can do. Passwords are hard to crack for a reason. If anyone could break them, passwords would be useless. That especially goes for your webmail password, Mr. Haughty Lawyer Guy who screamed at my technician for not being able to crack your webmail password. My competitors, however, are all hackers. Just like in the movies, they can break into stuff that would take everyone else a billion years to crack.

When we tell you that it will take 24 hours to clean the tons of viruses from your computer, we do not mean "1 hour." Calling us every hour to check the progress is expected (we are addicted to our computers, too) but getting miffed that we aren't finished after two hours does not speed-up the process at all. Cleaning up your mess takes time so you have to give it to us. If you are one of those who absolutely must have your computer back in one hour and will cuss at my office manager for being unable to do so, you should know that our competitors can clean viruses and make your computer run like new again in less than 30 seconds!

My competitors and I love very busy, hectic days (seriously). We also enjoy giving free advice to walk-in clients (seriously). However I'm not much of a fan of this, but my competitors love it when you interrupt their free help by answering your cell phone while they are explaining something to you. They appreciate that 5-minute break they receive while patiently listening to you explain how exhausted you are after your last shopping spree.

Lastly, my competitors love it when you disagree with their diagnosis. My technicians understand that you may have already scanned your computer for viruses and "It didn't find nothin'." You can still have malware on your computer. While my technicians don't really take well to being accused of trying to rip you off, my competitors LOVE to have their integrity questioned. Give 'em a call!

Dear Fellow Alabamians,

Our State has big financial problems. That hurts all of us.

As a Tribe, we've faced these issues before, and we know what its like to not be able to make ends meet. Now, more than ever, we need to come together as citizens of this great State to solve our immediate budget crisis and make sure we never find ourselves in these desperate straits again.

We have a solution that is RIGHT FOR ALABAMA.

Right away, we can solve the State's current budget deficit crisis with a $250 million advance. That money will prevent painful cuts in healthcare and mental health services, and it will keep law enforcement on the job so our families can stay safe.

Going forward, we are prepared to share a portion of our business revenues with the State — funds that will ensure Alabama's long-term financial security.

Our businesses are built for the collective good, not individual gains.

Our Tribe has lived through lean times, and those years taught us to be careful with our money and to help others when we could. Today, our highly-regulated gaming businesses provide our people—and our neighbors—with the kind of essential services that everyone in the State needs—healthcare, education, police and fire protection, and a lot more.

We have a track record for creating successful businesses, good jobs and giving back.

We are committed to being good neighbors and helping others in times of need. We are blessed to be able to donate millions of dollars annually to various organizations throughout the State.

We understand the situation is dire. The Governor and the legislature have some difficult choices ahead. Our Tribal government has had to make tough choices in the past, too.

Over the years, we have brought a solution to Alabama — a compact that would generate state revenue and benefit our neighbors. Today we stand ready with a similar plan to protect jobs and essential services in Alabama due to budget cuts. We hope we never find ourselves in these circumstances again.

We can partner with the State and share both our resources and the business lessons we've learned over the years.

Working together, our Tribe and our State can fix this problem. Let the Governor and your legislators know that you support our solution because it's RIGHT FOR ALABAMA.

Governor's Office 334-242-7100

Legislature: Alabama House 334-242-7600, Alabama Senate 334-242-7800.

Sincerely,

Stephanie Bryan

Civil War battle in North Alabama. Another photograph by a German immigrant shows Alabama militia soldiers at a training camp near Pensacola. Another photograph made in Huntsville in 1868, depicts two individuals wearing KKK disguise. Perhaps the earliest of its kind, its compelling story is filled with twists and turns.

Frances Osborn Robb is a photograph historian from Huntsville. A graduate of Birmingham-Southern College, University of North Carolina, and Yale University, Robb has been researching Alabama's photographic history for the past twenty-five years. Her book, Shot in Alabama: a History of Photography in a Deep South State, 1839-1941, is due out in late summer 2016. She is currently working on a book about Allen Christopher Oxford who fought with General Joseph Wheeler in the Civil War before becoming Birmingham's first resident photographer. Robb is also working with the Alabama Bicentennial Commission to develop local history projects for the state's 200th birthday celebration.

ASK THE ATTORNEY

Workers Comp Laws Are Complex

In writing this column for the past ten years, I have tried to answer questions in a way that both teach and explain the law. I have been clear that Joel and I want personal injury cases, and enjoy meeting with people and answering questions and evaluating their case. While that is true I also have been clear that what is more important to us is that people are represented by good lawyers and that through this column they know something about the case they have and can avoid common mistakes.

There is no replacement for the education of handling hundreds and hundreds of different workers compensation cases. The perspective gained from trying cases in court and handling the appellate work is something that we are grateful to be able to share.

A gentleman spoke to me in Lowes about his on-the-job injury case. He thanked me for this column and even though he had a very good lawyer he told me that we had answered some of his questions and he felt more comfortable with his case because of us. That is success.

What people injured on the job need to know about comp law is too large a subject to cover in a column, but here is an overview.

First, all injuries must be reported promptly. If the report is ignored write a letter, copy it and hand it to a supervisor. Use the employers doctors and get approval for treatment. You have the right to ask for another doctor only once but you need a good comp lawyer to help you choose.

You should be paid 2/3 of your average week wages while you can't work during the healing process and that 2/3 is known as temporary total disability payments (TTD).

When the doctor believes you've healed as much as you will, he will place you at maximum medical improvement (MMI). This immediately stops the TTD checks so be ready.

Some injuries, such as fingers, hands arms, feet and legs are paid a scheduled number of weeks, while hip, neck, back and shoulders are paid on a vocational basis that accounts for the loss of jobs you could have done and a decrease in wages if you can not return to your previous job.

A lot of the law is both complicated and unfair. For example, if a court finds a worker 99% impaired and that person never can find a job that's a final ruling the court can't change. But if the court rules against the employer and finds the worker 100% permanently totally disabled, the employer can reopen the case to prove that the employee could work as many times as they want with no time limit.

While the law is that 100% disabled does not mean that the injured worker can't do some work, and the appellate courts have repeatedly upheld this principle, as a practical matter judges are reluctant to find a 100% permanent total if the worker even has a part time job. Remember that a 100% permanent total pays weekly for life.

Great Show at Music HOF

Dear Editor:

A special thanks goes to all those who were responsible for a very entertaining program on Tuesday, June 16 at the Alabama Music Hall of Fame. This was part of a continuing weekly series of musical programs featuring local talent. It was accented by the appearance and performance of others in the Shoals renowned recording industry.

Kerry Gilbert and Hugh Banks were the featured artists with bass guitarist accompaniment by Tony Lee. We were also treated to impromptu songs and music by Dan Penney, Rene Stamps and Terry Richardson.

Kerry and Hugh presented a variety of songs professionally done along with sparkling humor. Their rapport with an enthusiastic audience along with remarkable acoustics left never a dull moment in a solid, two-hour program.

Kudos to Director Dixie Griffin, Dick Cooper, and all the staff and volunteers who are doing yeoman's service in promoting the Alabama Music Hall of Fame.

There is no charge for this musical program. If you haven't been already, try to attend soon and support a local and national treasure.

to local officials that required financial, physical, and emotional involvement from our entire community. With our history such requirements were likely to fail, and he would be off the hook.

However, he was also positioning the Shoals and RSA for potential success. Bronner shared his vision with a group of local officials who made up the Public Park Authority. The PPA was established in such haste that the positions were established as individuals, and not by the official positions they held at the time. Technically, those individuals were now lifetime appointees instead of the PPA responsibility rolling over to newly elected officials.

A Robert Trent Jones golf course on TVA trail property in Colbert county, a premier 125-200 room hotel on twelve acres just east of the Renaissance Tower Florence Conference Center complex, and a recreational facility of some type at Veteran's Park would require everyone's cooperation, environmental assessments, and permanent easements through TVA.

The public comment period in early 2002 brought significant opposition to using the TVA Trail area from those vehemently opposed to the inevitable nature/environmental upheaval and from others aware of potential chemical hazards.

The entire project was on life support until local businessman, Harvey Robbins, came to the table with some property on the river in the Ford City area. He could donate the property and offset that with higher property values for a subsequent surrounding housing development.

RSA easily could have afforded the $80-$100 million investment for the project. However, Bronner wisely mandated that our area come up with about $17-20 million of the expenses. It was a two-fold process that Bronner knew could strengthen the project while making the Shoals a viable community in future discussions.

The Shoals would have to work together to raise $20 million, creating a long-term vested interest in ensuring that the project is successful. We would have some skin in the game.

The proposed two-cent per gallon gas tax in Colbert and Lauderdale required state legislation. It would also require unanimous support among the Shoals delegation before getting any traction in Montgomery.

That process was not easy. The expected outcries of, "I don't play golf," "How will a hotel in Florence and a golf course in Ford City benefit me in Rogersville?" and "Vote 'em all out!" came loud and often. Some from the local delegation were not willing to play initially. When they did agree, many in their districts promised defeat at the polls.

Fast forward twelve years, and the naysayers are awfully quiet.

The Marriott Shoals recently celebrated its tenth birthday on June 17 with friends, their 232 employees, and some interesting facts.

- Hotel employees have earned over $40 million in combined wages since opening.
- The hotel has spent over $655,000 booking local musicians.

- The Marriott Shoals has hosted 700,000 hotel guests, served 1.8 million meals, and collected $106 million in revenue since opening. Utility bills in ten years have totaled $8.87 million.
- The PPA is on schedule to pay off the $20 million, 20 year bond issue in 2018.
- Visitor expenditures in Lauderdale County have grown by 230% in the last decade, more than double the statewide average growth.

- The two courses at RTJ at the Shoals in Ford City opened in late 2005 and early 2006 respectively.

That facility now employs over 100 people and has hosted 415,000 rounds of golf to date. It is well ahead of its expected pace, despite the long recession.

- One of the main early concerns was how the hotel would draw enough guests so as to not squeeze out other existing hotels. Perhaps the most incredible fact is that since the Marriott opened, seven new hotels have opened in the Shoals.
- Lodging taxes have increased 353% to over $1 million per year.
- Hospitality positions in the Shoals have increased by over 1,000 in the last ten years.

- In addition, the association with RTJ and David Bronner has resulted in several successful industrial expansions this area simply would not have had otherwise.

We still have the obligation of finding that recreational facility for Veterans Park. However, the urgency of that has subsided with the current successes.

"The Marriott Shoals Hotel and the Robert Trent Jones golf courses, immediately changed the Shoals market forever," Holt said recently during the Marriott's tenth birthday celebration. He is right about that.

For only two cents per gallon, even those initially opposed have to agree we are much better off for it.

Decide

Writer's note: While on vacation and thinking about family, I re-read the following column and decided to share it with you again. I wrote these words in 2005. The young lady that I speak of here is now in college and is dating a young man that comes from a wonderful family. No one knows their future, but obviously she is making choices to continue the kind of family bond that she has known since she was a child.

There is a mother and daughter that sit in front of me in church week by week. They are such a pleasure to watch. There are hugs and sweet whispers between them. Sometimes they wear the same dresses. The young one is nine. She'll still wear matching dresses with her mom. She's the age wherein she still lies her head on her mom's shoulder or on a weary Sunday night, after a busy afternoon, she will put her head on her mom's crossed leg. Then small strokes of long, blonde hair happen. Sometimes curls are extended through caressing fingers only to snap back in place.

Sometimes the little one will do math problems that her mom has written. Sometimes, she reads books, but most of the time she plays with dolls – paper dolls, Little Bratz™ dolls, and bigger baby dolls. She quietly dresses and cares for them. Recently, she brought the doll that must be her favorite. She cuddled that baby. At one point, she put a burp cloth on her shoulder and propped that baby up and patted the doll.

When I watch them interact, I am reminded that it takes a woman to raise a woman. Matching dresses, nurturing babies – this teaching keeps the world going. Not that this mom doesn't love her son, she is just as endearing when he is on her shoulder. But I know this dad. He knows all the rules of basketball. He is always in the stands, cheering and coaching. He's a leader in the community and he leads his family. Reminds me, that it takes a man to make a man.

Sometimes it seems that two parent families are falling by the wayside, but they are not. Weekly, I am surrounded by a host of them. Strong families are a staple that this world can not do without.

Some of my friends say that my thinking is simplistic, optimistic, and outdated. But solid families are a decision. One might choose to leave because of abuse or infidelity, but even these and anything else can be totally retracted with faith and commitment. Strong families only survive through hope and perseverance. There has to be a decision to keep and make better the lives that we have.

Some weeks when the children sit with their friends, the mom and dad in front of me take a seat with their shoulders touching. Their decision seems to be made.

DAVE Says

by DAVE RAMSEY

STAY AWAY FROM INTEREST-ONLY MORTGAGES

Dear Dave,
Can you explain interest-only mortgages? Are they a good idea?

Dale

Dear Dale,
An interest-only mortgage is just what it sounds like. You're paying only the interest on the loan, and none of what you actually owe. It's a good way to stay in debt for the rest of your life, so they're not a good idea.

Lots of people look at this product and say, "Wow, I'll get a lower monthly payment, and then I can throw tons of cash at the principal." Guess what, in most cases it doesn't work out that way. Why not take out a good 15-year fixed rate mortgage and put a bunch of money toward the principal? Everyone thinks they have a great idea for tricking the system. But the only system that really works is to pay off debt as quickly as you can.

Interest-only mortgages are like adjustable rate mortgages and high fixed rate mortgages — they're good things to stay away from completely!

—Dave

TRAPS TO AVOID AFTER GRADUATION

Dear Dave,
I'm currently a senior in college. I'm completely debt-free right now, and I am wondering what I should do to stay this way after graduation.

Cary

Dear Cary,
You're already primed for a great start. Doesn't it feel great to know you won't have a bunch of payments hanging over your head when you walk out into the world? I'm really proud of you!

There are three major traps I tell all new graduates to avoid. One, don't buy or lease a new car. Save up and pay cash for your cars for the rest of your life. If you saved the amount of an average car payment — about $485 a month — and put it into a good mutual fund from age 25 to 65, you could easily retire a millionaire. Now that's something to look forward to!

The second trap to avoid is rushing in to buy a house. The first few years after college will be some of the most volatile in your life in terms of career and relationships. Save up a big pile of cash and be patient. Too many young people today go crazy and buy houses they can't afford just because their friends bought one, or everyone is telling them it's what they should do.

Last, don't ever get caught up in the credit card trap. Your income is your greatest wealth-building tool, so why would you want to take a chance on wrecking your future by sending everything you make to some bank? Live on less than you make, and live by a written, monthly budget.

I think you've got a really bright future ahead, Cary. Just remember to have a plan, pile up some cash and stay away from debt!

IN GOD

WE TRUST

BLESSED IS THE NATION WHOSE GOD IS THE LORD

PSALM 33:12

FOUNDING FATHERS

"An appeal to arms and to the God of hosts is all that is left us! . . . Sir, we are not weak if we make a proper use of those means which the God of nature hath placed in our power. . . . Besides, sir, we shall not fight our battles alone. There is a just God who presides over the destinies of nations and who will raise up friends to fight our battles for us. . . . Is life so dear, or peace so sweet as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it, Almighty God! I know not what course others may take; but as for me, give me liberty or give me death!"

Patrick Henry

"To the kindly influence of Christianity we owe that degree of civil freedom, and political and social happiness, which mankind now enjoys. . . . Whenever the pillars of Christianity shall be overthrown, our present republican forms of government – and all blessings which flow from them – must fall with them."

Jedediah Morse

"I've lived, sir, a long time, and the longer I live, the more convincing proofs I see of this truth: That God governs in the affairs of men. If a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without His notice, is it probable that an empire can rise without His aid? We've been assured in the sacred writings that unless the Lord builds the house, they labor in vain who build it. I firmly believe this, and I also believe that without His concurring aid, we shall succeed in this political building no better than the builders of Babel."

Benjamin Franklin

EDUCATION

"Let every student be plainly instructed and earnestly pressed to consider well the main end of his life and studies is to know God and Jesus Christ which is eternal life (John 17:3) and therefore to lay Christ in the bottom as the only foundation of all sound knowledge and learning. And seeing the Lord only giveth wisdom, let every one seriously set himself by prayer in secret to seek it of Him (Proverbs 2, 3). Every one shall so exercise himself in reading the Scriptures twice a day that he shall be ready to give such an account of his proficiency therein."

Harvard: 1636 Student Guidelines

"All the scholars are required to live a religious and blameless life according to the rules of God's Word, diligently reading the Holy Scriptures, that fountain of Divine light and truth, and constantly attending all the duties of religion."

Yale: 1787 Student Guidelines

CONGRESS

"We are a Christian people. . . not because the law demands it, not to gain exclusive benefits or to avoid legal disabilities, but from choice and education; and in a land thus universally Christian, what is to be expected, what desired, but that we shall pay due regard to Christianity?"

Senate Judiciary Committee Report, January 19, 1853

"At the time of the adoption of the Constitution and the amendments, the universal sentiment was that Christianity should be encouraged. . . . In this age there can be no substitute for Christianity. . . . That was the religion of the founders of the republic and they expected it to remain the religion of their descendants."

House Judiciary Committee Report, March 27, 1854

PRESIDENTS

"It is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey His will, to be grateful for His benefits, and humbly to implore His protection and favor."

George Washington

"We have no government armed with power capable of contending with human passions unbridled by morality and religion. Our Constitution was made only for a moral and religious people. It is wholly inadequate to the government of any other."

John Adams

"Before any man can be considered as a member of civil society, he must be considered as a subject of the Governor of the Universe."

James Madison

"And can the liberties of a nation be thought secure when we have removed their only firm basis, a conviction in the minds of the people that these liberties are of the gift of God? That they are not to be violated but with His wrath? Indeed I tremble for my country when I reflect that God is just; that His justice cannot sleep forever."

Thomas Jefferson

"Is it not that in the chain of human events, the birthday of the nation is indissolubly linked with the birthday of the Savior? – that it forms a leading event in the progress of the Gospel dispensation? Is it not that the Declaration of Independence first organized the social compact on the foundation of the Redeemer's mission upon earth? – That it laid the cornerstone of human government upon the first precepts of Christianity?"

John Quincy Adams

SUPREME COURT JUSTICES

"The Bible is the best of all books, for it is the word of God and teaches us the way to be happy in this world and in the next. Continue therefore to read it and to regulate your life by its precepts."

"Providence has given to our people the choice of their rulers, and it is the duty, as well as the privilege and interest of our Christian nation, to select and prefer Christians for their rulers."

John Jay: First Chief-Justice on the U.S. Supreme Court

"Human law must rest its authority ultimately upon the authority of that law which is Divine. . . . Far from being rivals or enemies, religion and law are twin sisters, friends, and mutual assistants. Indeed, these two sciences run into each other."

James Wilson: Original Justice on the U.S. Supreme Court

"One of the beautiful boasts of our municipal jurisprudence is that Christianity is a part of the Common Law. . . . There never has been a period in which the Common Law did not recognize Christianity as lying at its foundations. . . . I verily believe Christianity necessary to the support of civil society."

Joseph Story: U.S. Supreme Court Justice

SUPREME COURT RULINGS

"There is no dissonance in these [legal] declarations. . . . These are not individual sayings, declarations of private persons: they are organic [legal, governmental] utterances; they speak the voice of the entire people. . . . These, and many other matters which might be noticed, add a volume of unofficial declarations to the mass of organic utterances that this is a Christian nation."

Church of the Holy Trinity v. U.S., 1892

(Unanimous Decision Declaring America a Christian Nation)
Significantly, the U.S. Supreme Court cited dozens of court rulings and legal documents as precedents to arrive at this ruling; but in 1962, when the Supreme Court struck down voluntary prayer in schools, it did so without using any such precedent.

"Why may not the Bible, and especially the New Testament, without note or comment, be read and taught as a divine revelation in [schools] – its general precepts expounded, its evidences explained and its glorious principles of morality inculcated? . . . Where can the purest principles of morality be learned so clearly or so perfectly as from the New Testament?"

Vidal v. Girard's Executors, 1844

(Unanimous Decision Commending and Encouraging the Use of the Bible in Government-Run Schools)

Milstead's Lasting Legacy

Two sports meant the world to Sheffield native George Milstead—football and bass fishing. Milstead was a three-sport letterman for the Sheffield Bulldogs in football, baseball and track. Milstead was a high school All-American quarterback for the Bulldogs in 1958. He was signed to a scholarship by legendary coach Shug Jordan of Auburn.

Year titles. Milstead was a fierce competitor in bass fishing tournaments around the country and earned national recognition among his peers.

In 1992, he became a director for Anglers Choice and Bass West USA running bass tournaments. Winning tournaments was a proud achievement for Milstead, but he probably got the most enjoyment spending time on the water with his many friends. And he certainly had plenty who enjoyed his company just as well.

George competed all over the country and his passing left a void not only among his many friends and acquaintances, but also among the bass fishing fraternity. Milstead was inducted posthumously into the Colbert County Sports Hall of Fame this past spring, joining his son, Tommy who was a 2010 Hall of Fame inductee. Georgia Milstead's lasting legacy will not soon be forgotten.

Milstead was a pioneer in the sport of bass fishing in the early 70s and was instrumental in the charter of the first local bass club—the Quad-Cities Bassmasters. During his time in the club, he won many Angler of the Year titles. Milstead was a fierce competitor in bass fishing tournaments around the country and earned national recognition among his peers.

Don't Forget Headlights When Performing Routine Maintenance

Veteran and even novice drivers understand the importance of visibility when they get behind the wheel of their vehicles. When visibility is not an issue, drivers can more easily see their fellow motorists and better anticipate potentially dangerous situations.

But when visibility is compromised, drivers and their passengers are vulnerable to a host of dangers, including inclement weather and aggressive motorists.

Many things can affect drivers' visibility on the road, but those who take a proactive approach to improving their visibility can put themselves in a better position to handle any negative situations that may arise. One of the ways to do just that is to pay more attention to your headlights. Often overlooked when performing routine vehicle maintenance, headlights must be maintained to ensure optimal visibility for drivers.

The following are a few ways drivers can improve the performance of their headlights to make their vehicles safer for themselves and their passengers.

• Pay attention to the headlights' output. Perhaps the most noticeable indicator of an aging headlight is its light output. As bulbs start to dim, drivers may find themselves struggling to see during twilight and at night. That difficulty is not necessarily because drivers' own vision is failing, but may be a result of aging bulbs whose light output is gradually reduced by the effects of humidity, electrical resistance and filament fatigue. Drivers who notice their headlights are not producing as much light as they once did should know that reduced output is a telltale sign of aging bulbs that need to be replaced.

• Say "so long" to the status quo. Recognizing dimming bulbs is just the first step toward improving the performance of your headlights. The next step is for drivers to recognize that all headlight bulbs are not created equal. Instead of replacing existing bulbs with the same type of bulbs provided by their vehicle's manufacturer, drivers can vastly improve their visibility by upgrading to a bulb designed to provide more light than the standard halogen bulbs found in many of today's vehicles. Visual acuity is reduced by 70 percent at night, when statistics from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration indicate 49 percent of all fatal accidents occur. The NHTSA also notes that the fatality rate per mile driven at night is roughly three times as high as it is during daylight hours.

• Find the right fit. The right headlight bulb can dramatically improve visibility when driving at night, but what's good for the goose is not always good for the gander. That's because motorists drive for various reasons and on various roads, so the right bulb for seniors who don't often take to the highways will not necessarily be the best fit for commuters who routinely drive long distances.

• Let there be light. Regardless of how effective a bulb has the potential to be, drivers who don't routinely clean their headlights will continue to have their visibility compromised. Certain preventative measures can help drivers address headlight issues before they appear, ensuring their visibility is not compromised. When checking your oil in the driveway or even when you're filling up at the gas station, take a few moments to inspect your headlights and address any issues that arise as soon as possible.

Can You Imagine

These fictional conversations in heaven by millions like this? "Man, let me tell you what beautiful things I did on earth to get here." And others, "Yeah, I knew about faith and grace and that Christ shed His blood and died for my sins, but let me tell about some good works and how I was faithful in keeping the law and commandments and I joined the right church and just barely got in." Others; "But I was actually better than you, I was baptized and took communion every week and was more faithful than you and my works and life style was much better than 90% of folks here."

But God says Job 14:4 "Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? not one." Isaiah 64:6 "But we are all as an unclean thing, and all our righteousnesses are as filthy rags; and we all do fade as a leaf; and our iniquities, like the wind, have taken us away." Romans 3:10 "As it is written, There is none righteous, no, not one." Romans 3:23 "For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God;" Acts 4:12 "Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name (Christ) under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved."

God further states Romans 4:16 "Therefore it (salvation) is of faith, that it (salvation) might be by grace; to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham; who is the father of us all." Romans 3:27 "Where is boasting then? It is excluded. By what law? of works? Nay; but by the law of faith." Ephesians 2:8-9 "For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: Not of works, lest any man should boast." Titus 3:5 "Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost;" 2 Timothy 1:9 "Who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began." Quit trusting others and read the Bible for yourself.

Ian Teaches Aaron

Ian: "You know, without God's grace we are lost."

Aaron: "That's right and I've heard we are saved by grace alone."

Ian: "Well, not quite. The Bible says we are saved by "grace, through faith" (Eph. 2:8). Grace is God's part and faith is man's part. But without works, faith is dead (James 2:17). If we are saved by grace alone that would mean we are saved by "grace with a 'dead' faith."

Aaron: "I had not thought of that. So we are saved by grace when, by faith, we obey God's commands."

Ian: "That's right. The Apostle Paul taught obedience and said "work out your own salvation with fear and trembling" (Phil. 2:12).
