I've pretty much tried everything there was to relieve my pain and nothing was working. After my third decompression, I was actually so surprised because I bent over at home. We have a fireplace and I bent over to shift something and I didn't have pain. And I stood up and it was like the first time I realized that I had bent over without being afraid. I recommend everybody that has any kind of pain; back pain, neck pain you've got to come and have decompression therapy because it works.

- Georgia

I guess over the years I just got used to the pain. I had scoliosis, sciatica, and osteoarthritis in the back and a pinched nerve so I was feeling pretty bad.

How are you feeling now?

A whole lot better, not like I was when I was twenty years old but I can do things that I couldn't do before.

It doesn't hurt you at all?

No ma'am.

- Harold

Last week I felt better than I have in 6 months. I've only been coming for 4 weeks but I think it is really helping.

- Vicki

I came up to Tullahoma Chiropractic to see Dr. Kanan after a seminar that I went to because I was having really bad back pain. I couldn't sit, I couldn't stand, I couldn't do anything. Now that I've done it, I can now walk up straight. I don't lean forward anymore. I also can stand longer without moving and wiggling to ease the pain. And number three, my bowling scores have improved immensely because I can actually stand straight up on the alley and deliver the ball properly.
