HOLLYWOOD

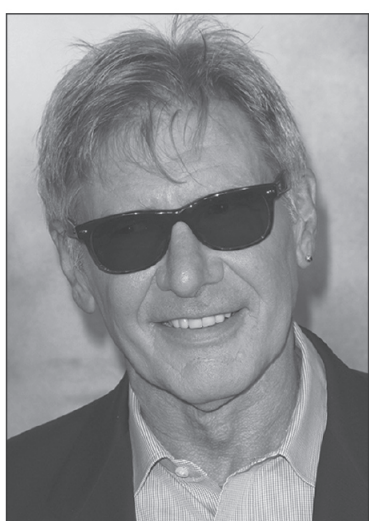

by Tony Rizzo

HOLLYWOOD — Time doesn't go backward, it only goes forward. The movie industry will take a long time to recover from the effects of our pandemic, and it will never be the same again.

Movie studios and producers hate giving up half their profits to movie theaters to show their films. So when theaters closed, by government decree, it gave the studios a chance to test the waters. The first film made for theaters that premiered on-demand was "Trolls World Tour," which brought in a big bounty. Then the new $65 million Chris Hemsworth film "Extraction," which was to premiere in theaters April 24, instead made its debut on Netflix and was viewed by 90 million households in the first four weeks.

That's not to say films made in 3D or IMAX can be streamed first, since their charm is big screens and special effects. Which is why the fourth G.I. Joe epic was instead pushed to Oct. 23 in theaters. This reboot is called "G.I. Joe: Snakes Eyes," with "Crazy Rich Asians" star Henry Golding in the title role. You probably remember that Channing Tatum starred in the original (which grossed $302 million) and Dwayne Johnson in the sequel, "G.I. Joe: Retaliation" (which grossed $678 million). Naturally there's already a fourth film being prepped, "G.I. Joe: Ever Vigilant," though no star has been announced for this one.

Four-time Oscar nominee Saoirse Ronan stars in director Wes Anderson's new film "The French Dispatch." She'll again be paired with Timothee Chalamet (as in "Little Women,"), as well as four Oscar-winning actors: Benicio Del Toro, Adrien Brody, Tilda Swinton and Jeffrey Wright. Chalamet, meanwhile, has a date with "Dune," the reboot of the classic Frank Herbert science-fiction novel, premiering Dec. 18.

Harrison Ford

Superstar Harrison Ford, now 77, recently had his third flying close call (that we know of). In 2015, he crash-landed a vintage World War II plane on a golf course in Los Angeles. He was lucky he was only "battered but OK." Then in 2017, he landed on a taxi runway after he flew over a jet and again was unharmed. Most people were under the impression Ford was going to stop flying. Yet here we are today, hearing Harrison is "under investigation by the Federal Aviation Administration over an incident that happened at a Southern California airport." He apparently was piloting his light plane and crossed a runway where another aircraft was landing. Ford acknowledged the mistake and apologized by saying, "I misheard an instruction from air traffic control."

Ford is a true superstar, and in an era where we have so few, we need him healthy and in one piece so he can be beaten to a pulp in the new Indiana Jones epic!

The following advertisement appeared in a physical culture magazine:

"Here's a good test for stomach muscles. Clasp your hands over your head and place your feet together on the floor. Now bend to the right at the waist as you sit down to the left of your feet. Now by sheer muscular control, haul yourself up, bend to the left and sit down on the floor to the right of your feet. Keep this up and let us know of the result."

The first letter received by the magazine said "HER-NIA"

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Your Aries self-esteem level is high, as is your impatience to see more action come your way in the workplace. Good news, Lamb: It could start to happen sooner than you think.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Changing things now could upset a lot of people. But if you feel you're acting because you believe it's the right thing to do, others will understand and even come to support you.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) A change of mind might not necessarily be a change of heart. You still want to go ahead with your plans, but you might see a better way to make them happen. So go for it.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) An old business dispute could re-emerge and possibly affect upcoming negotiations. Consider opening up the situation to include suggestions from others on both sides of the issue.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Some Leos and Leonas might find it somewhat difficult to get their ideas accepted or even considered. But that's only for a while. Things will soon return to the way you like them.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) The pace seems to be slowing down from the hectic on-the-job run you recently enjoyed. But be assured that you're still in the race to pick up new workplace-related goodies.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Seasonal changes create opportunities for busy Librans. However, be sure to balance your workload with your personal life so that you don't overdo it on one end or the other.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) A former critic could make a surprise turnaround and become a supporter. But if your Scorpion sense suspects a questionable motive, who are the rest of us to doubt it?

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Data on a new project seems less than dependable. But it might turn out to be just the opposite. Consult with someone who knows how you might best be able to check it out.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Capricorneans face many decisions this week, with the Sea Goat's kids rating high on the consideration scale, especially regarding vacations and upcoming school matters.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Showing that you care is what Aquarians do so well. It's your very special skill. And this week, you'll have several chances to show off that gift for a very special person. Good luck.

PISCES (February 19 to March 21) That streak of Piscean wariness should serve you well this week should you be among those who come up against a slippery character offering a fishy deal with nothing to back it up.

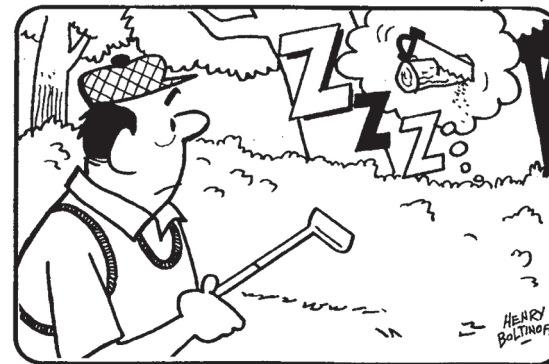

BORN THIS WEEK: You have an artist's sense of how to help others see, as you do, the beautiful things about the world.

PIEDMONT PETS

There is an overlooked, yet much needed lesson that can come to humans from the animal world. In this day of contention when we are broken up into groups determined by religious, political, differing philosophies, or cultural customs, as well as by gender and skin color, the huge lesson is quite simple. It is: Generalizations are as unfair as they are untrue.

Have you ever heard "all pit bulls are mean," "all chihuahuas bite," or even "all cats like to be left alone?"

While it is true that some pit bulls are mean, some chihuahuas bite, and some cats like to be left alone, putting the "all" at the beginning of the sentences makes them false. The same is true when we say "all (insert the name of a group of people)" are bad.

When I first started working at the shelter in 1992, we received very few pit bulls (I am using it as a catch-all phrase) and the accepted practice in those days for most shelters was to not put them up for adoption. We never had that as a policy, but instead had adoption guidelines that would protect the dog (e.g. they had to be allowed inside the house, they could not be chained, etc.). Now, that breed and the mixes of it are one of the most common dogs in shelters. We routinely adopt them and transfer them to other groups.

We have found most to be very sweet, loyal dogs. They are also among the most neglected and even cruelly treated dogs. We have never said "all pit bulls are mean" because it is not true.

Some chihuahuas may be nippy, but our adoption partners have all said that we get such sweet chihuahuas at the Danville shelter. We also get many, many of them each year.

We have found that the vast majority of cats like to be around people. Just a peek into our shelter front lobby proves that. We have three shelter mascot cats that like to hang out in baskets, beds, or laps most of the day. And we tell shelter volunteers that all they need to do is walk into Camp Meow Meow or Kitty Corner and they will be surrounded by a variety of cats and kittens who not only want attention, but demand it!

The converse of generalizations about animals is also true. We have only received one Golden Retriever who was very mean and was willing to bite anyone, but that made the "all Golden's are sweet" sentence false. On and on the stories go.

The lesson is: before we discount any animal or any human, maybe we should take time to get to know them before we judge them! We urge anyone who is interested in adopting a pet to spend as much time as possible at the shelter to determine which one is the perfect match!

Maintaining Your Health, Ensuring Your Safety

By James Isernia, MD, Medical Staff President

As healthcare providers, patient wellbeing is our chief concern every day of the year. Since the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic, part of how we kept our community safe was limiting elective and non-urgent procedures at Sovah Health.

Currently, the threat of COVID-19 in our community seems to be under control, allowing our community to start to re-open and Sovah Health to begin gradually resuming these procedures.

For some, this change is a welcome return to maintaining personal health and addressing medical issues. For others, this news may cause anxiety about safety. I'd like to address these concerns with the hope of relieving fears that might make people overly cautious about seeking care and treatment.

Expanding care - cautiously

Maintaining patient health is vital - but healthcare should never come at the cost of safety. At Sovah Health, you don't have to decide between health and safety. Rest assured that we would not have resumed elective and non-urgent procedures if we didn't have the resources and processes in place to do so safely. You can rely on your medical team to keep you protected while addressing your medical needs.

Throughout the pandemic, our team at Sovah Health has been focused on conserving key resources - including personal protective equipment (PPE), beds for patients and other critical supplies. Due to our teams' stewardship, we have adequate supplies to begin resuming certain elective procedures.

Maintaining a safe environment for all

Keeping our facilities sanitary and disinfected has always been a top priority. Now more than ever, cleanliness is imperative as we fight against infectious diseases such as COVID-19.

To that end, Sovah Health partners with a leading national environmental services vendor to implement the most effective cleaning and disinfecting protocols available in healthcare today. When you enter our facilities, be assured that great intention has gone into maintaining cleanliness.

Enhancing safety with new protocols

As we broaden our services, things look a little different than before COVID-19. For instance, patients won't see much of our faces due to the masks and PPE our medical staffers are wearing. While this is not ideal because connecting with our patients encourages us all, such protection is essential to keeping our patients and staff alike safe. Underneath the masks, know that there are healthcare workers who care very much about your health and wellbeing.

Along with having proper PPE, staff members are being screened daily for the virus. Patients are being screened as they enter our facilities as well, and those who haven't brought their own masks are being issued cloth ones to wear.

We also are taking steps to limit the number of people in our facility. Out of an abundance of caution, we are maintaining our strict no-visitor policy. Additionally, we are limiting patient volume for elective and non-urgent procedures, assessing the situation on a week-by-week basis.

Monitoring the situation

Ultimately, I want to reassure you that Sovah Health is constantly assessing where we are on COVID-19 and making decisions based on the most current data available. While we are confident that we have the resources and capabilities to expand services safely at this time, if at any point we determine that is no longer the case, we will immediately reverse course.

This pandemic is uncharted territory for all of us. As your local ally in healthcare, we are always seeking ways to best serve our community. In doing so, we are balancing two essential priorities: meeting the medical needs of our neighbors and mitigating the threat this virus poses.

For more information about our services and our COVID-19 policies and procedures, visit SovahHealth.com.

Danville Riverview Rotary book giveaway with DPS' meal distribution.

DANVILLE – Danville Riverview Rotary, Danville Public Schools, DPS Education Foundation, Danville Public Library, Friends of the Library, Smart Beginnings Danville Pittsylvania County, and local volunteers teamed up recently to provide local students with reading materials in cooperation with the schools' meals distribution program.

"With the schools having to close, parents have faced the difficult task of continuing their children's educations while providing for their family and weathering an unprecedented global health concern," said Martha Walker, Rotarian and project coordinator. "It truly takes a village, and Riverview Rotary's initiative is part of a community-wide commitment to building strong readers who will develop into the great leaders we know our children will be."

Over 50 volunteers from Rotary, the school system, the library, and the community handed out around 2600 books at the 13 locations serviced by the Danville Public Schools' meals distribution program. While the majority of books were purchased by Rotary with funds from a Rotary District grant, the Doris Wilson Literacy Fund with the DPS Education Foundation, and the Friends of the Danville Public Library, a large portion was donated by Danville Public Library.

"We are incredibly thankful for the opportunity to assist Riverview Rotary in this project," said Russell Carter, interim library director. "As a parent myself, I have been encouraged by so many people in this community and the region doing whatever they can to help my children, who undoubtedly will be stronger on the other end of this. Being able to continue to provide services and assist in endeavors such as this, gives us all hope for tomorrow."

Walker and company met on the morning of the giveaway at College Park Baptist Church to pick up the books ranging from picture books to teen readers and distributed them among the 13 sites. As parents drove through to pick up lunch from the school system, volunteers gifted the students with books and added an additional treat to each person's lunch.

"Riverview Rotary is united with all of our partners to invest in our community," Walker added. "We believe in our students and hope that in the years to come, each student will look back on this challenging time and remember the love that surrounds them."

DCC Professor Makes Masks for Frontline Healthcare Workers

Danville, VA -- Richie Robertson, an associate business professor at Danville Community College, has been using her talents to help frontline healthcare workers during the COVID-19 pandemic.

"When the pandemic started, I saw numerous news stories about the shortage of masks and the recommendation for everyone to wear face coverings," said Robertson. "I also saw stories about people making masks. After watching a YouTube video on how easy it was to make the masks, I decided this was something that I could do to help in the effort."

Robertson began sewing masks diligently, setting a goal for herself to provide as much help as possible.

"I decided that my goal would be to make 100 fabric masks to donate to healthcare workers, family, friends, and members of the community," said Robertson. "I also have family members who are employed in the healthcare field; my niece is a nurse at Moses Cone Hospital and my sister works at UNC Women's Hospital. I turned my dining room into my sewing area and worked on the masks in the evenings and on weekends to accomplish my goal."

After putting in her time and talents, Robertson reached her goal. Even so, she plans to keep going and make even more masks.

"The majority of the masks are being donated to Riverside Healthcare Facility," said Robertson. "Making the masks has been enjoyable and relaxing. Although I have met my goal, I will continue to make more to donate."

Covid 19 Update from PATHS Telehealth Option:

PATHS Community Medical Center is still here to serve you and your family. We want to keep you and our staff safe, while still providing you with the best care possible. Our providers are equipped to do Telehealth visits; all you need is a smart phone, tablet, or laptop with a webcam. If you don't have a smart phone but have access to a phone we can do a phone visit with you.

To set up a Telehealth visit please call any one of our offices to get scheduled. Once scheduled you will receive a link by email or text that you can click and come face to face with your provider.

We also have an App that can be downloaded from the App store if you have an iPhone and Google Play store if you have an Android phone. The App is called Healow and you can interact with our offices, see your meds, appointments, summary of care, lab results and pay your bill. You do need to be web-enabled and any of our front desk staff can get you set up with a username and password.

If you come to one of our offices to be seen, expect to be screened before entry. We are encouraging Telehealth visits if you have a wellness, follow-up for chronic care, Well Child or Behavioral Health visits.

If you feel sick, are running a fever, have a cough, we encourage you to be seen in our offices. We will screen you and have you wait in your car until we have a room available to keep you from being exposed or exposing someone else.

• PATHS Healthcare for Women is still seeing all of our OB patients at the office, normal GYN appointments have been rescheduled.

RECIPES

CHICKEN SKEWERS

Hawaiian Teriyaki Chicken Skewers marinate in the very best homemade Hawaiian teriyaki sauce! Loaded with peppers, fresh pineapple and red onions, these make an incredible and vibrant meal!

Ingredients

- 4 boneless skinless chicken breasts cut into 1 inch cubes
- ½ cup brown sugar
- ½ cup soy sauce
- ¼ cup pineapple juice
- 2 garlic cloves minced
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 Tablespoon cornstarch
- 1 Tablespoon water
- 1 red bell pepper cut into 1 inch cubes
- 1 yellow red bell pepper cut into 1 inch cubes
- 1 green bell pepper cut into 1 inch cubes
- 1 red onion cut into 1 inch cubes
- 2 cups fresh pineapple cut into 1 inch cubes
- green onions for garnish

Instructions

In a small saucepan, whisk together the brown sugar, soy sauce, pineapple juice, garlic, pepper, and salt. In a small bowl, whisk together the water and cornstarch. Slowly whisk into the mixture.

Bring to boil and boil about 1-3 minutes until the mixture just starts to thicken. Remove from heat and reserve ¼ cup of the sauce for later.

Marinate the chicken in the sauce in the fridge for at least 30 minutes. Thread the chicken on skewers along with the peppers, red onion, and pineapple.

Grill for 8-10 minutes until the meat is done to desired liking. Remove from the grill and baste with reserved sauce. Garnish with green onions if desired.
