The history of the graduation cap

(Metro Creative Connection) Graduation ceremonies are a tradition that dates back to the first high schools and universities. While many aspects of graduation ceremonies have evolved over the years, the graduation cap has remained a hallmark of such ceremonies.

Graduation caps are one of the most visible aspects of graduation dress. Many scholars believe the mortarboard style cap graduates don was developed from the biretta, a similar-looking Italian hat worn by Roman Catholic clergy. In the 12th and 13th centuries, students and teachers typically wore clerical clothing because the church was highly influential at this time. Medieval universities helped inspire academic dress, including the familiar graduation cap.

Mortarboards are shaped like a square, perhaps to give them a scholarly appearance like a book or to represent the shape of a quad on the campus of England's Oxford University, where many graduation dress customs are believed to have originated. Others theorize that the mortarboard, which is named after the flat board used by bricklayers and masons, represents the skill of a master workman.

Many graduation caps were initially black or gray. According to the graduation information site Graduation Source, when color photography became the norm in the 20th century, schools began to use gowns and caps in different shades because they would show up in photographs. Schools often coordinate caps and gowns so their colors reflect their official school colors.

While certain degrees warrant different styles of gown, cowls and hoods, mortarboard caps are relatively standard. In addition to the cap, there is a single button at the top. Tassels hang from these buttons. At commencement, tassels are traditionally worn on the right side of the cap and then moved to the left once graduates receive their diplomas.

Graduation caps are part of the larger scope of academic dress that comprises school traditions. Millions of graduates across the globe will don their caps and toss them into the air later in celebration of their hard work.

Breakthrough Treatment

for Patients Suffering with

Depression

Ketamine Infusion Therapy

When Standard Treatments have Failed, There is Hope!!

Ketamine is a popular anesthetic that has been used for decades due to its dissociative properties. Most recently it has been hailed as a breakthrough therapy for treatment resistant depression. Ketamine Infusion Therapy is a very effective treatment option for other conditions such as: Anxiety, OCD, PTSD, Substance Abuse, Chronic Pain, and Postpartum Depression. Our care team has routinely seen vast improvement in the patients being treated with Ketamine Infusion Therapy at our facility. Call today for more information.

Gift ideas for high school grads

(Metro Creative Connection) High school graduation is a significant milestone in the lives of teenagers. The moment a teenager receives a high school diploma marks the culmination of years of hard work, and many parents and extended family members reward that hard work with gifts.

The transition from high school student to college student or working professional is significant, and various items can help make that transition go as smoothly as possible.

Travel gear: Whether it's utilized during road trips with roommates or on those handful of occasions when students come home on holiday breaks, travel gear can make for a useful gift for new high school graduates. A sturdy backpack/duffel bag combo can be ideal. It's great for college students who might not be ready for more expensive luggage, and it can be ideal for high school students taking gap years to do some overseas traveling before enrolling in college.

Coffee machine: A pot of fresh coffee can make late-night cram sessions or hours spent typing research papers into the wee hours of the morning more manageable. For students who will be living in crowded dorm rooms, opt for small coffee machines that don't take up much space, such as those that are traditionally found inside hotel rooms.

Television: Parents want to imagine their college-bound teenagers spending hours holed up in the library. But college kids watch plenty of television, too, so a new television can make for a great gift that figures to get ample use.

Academic planner: College course loads tend to be considerably more demanding than high school coursework. An academic planner can help new college students manage the rigors of their coursework by encouraging them to plan their days and weeks, ensuring no classes are missed and no assignments go unfinished.

Cash: Cash can make a great gift whether a grad is heading off to college or entering the workforce. Cash can help college students pay for their books and help those entering the workforce purchase a reliable car that will help them get around.

Gifts for newly minted high school graduates can help them transition to the next phase of their lives, whether that will begin on a college campus or in the workforce.

Sara Geduldig
Mentor High School

Sara is a senior at Mentor High School. Sara is so excited to be attending The Ohio State University with plans of becoming a dentist and tailgating every football game. She is saying goodbye to Mentor where she started out as a Bama cheerleader, played volleyball and basketball for Memorial, basketball, soccer and LAX for MHS- and is so sad to have missed her last year of varsity LAX. Some notable achievements were graduating Summa Cum Laude and being voted "most contagious laugh" by her class. She loves hanging out with her friends, cheering for her friends on the field from the student section, driving 45 minutes to Cane's with a carful of friends just for chicken, summers at the boat/jetski/beach, sleeping and you may have spotted her working at Yankee candle at the mall. We are so proud of her!

YOU DID IT! Congratulations! You are the very special class of 2020. We are so happy for you and of course so proud. You succeeded in academics, had fun, made lifelong friends and met your lovely girlfriend to share your journey with. Your future is waiting and holds so much promise. There is so much for you to yet accomplish, even as the world around you is changing and adapting to new normals. The University of Dayton is waiting, go with an open mind and open heart. Welcome new people and experiences, continue to learn and grow, you will make a difference in the world someday. We love you, keep being you!

Mikinzie Bumbarger

Sage Neidbalson
Newbury High School
Sage, this world is a crazy place, and it throws curve balls at us. Your world has been turned upside down and you have refused to quit. You impress me more everyday. Continue to shine, set goals, and dream big. Shoot for the stars, Bubba. The world is your canvas and you can make of it whatever you choose. I am so proud of the young lady you have become. I love you to the moon and back. Love Dad.

Nate Esker
Notre Dame Cathedral Latin
Congratulations Nate! Throughout your life, you've shown strength of character and kindness of spirit. You've always won, or learned. When you listened to your soul and understood that you were blessed with special God-given qualities of strength and will, you realized your path forward. Your grit and hard work and determination rewarded you with seven State titles in weightlifting before you turned 18. We are so proud of the man you have become and can't wait to see what your future holds. Your physical strength, indomitable will, strong moral compass and unyielding kindness is what will make you unstoppable. Veni, Vidi, Vici!

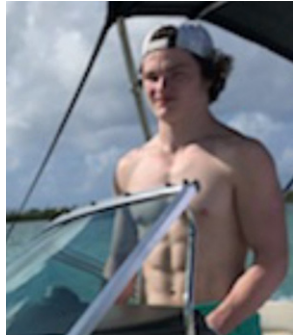

Taylor Sligh
Notre Dame Cathedral Latin
Congratulations Taylor on your 2020 graduation from NDCL! We are so proud of you!!! Congratulations also on being accepted into Miami University in Oxford! We are so sorry that you are not having the graduation ceremony that you expected, but remember this it will definitely be a graduation ceremony that is a part of history. How many graduates have that claim to fame? We love you very much. Love, Dad, Mom and Madeline

Cleveland Medical Institute

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE CLASS OF 2020!

We Specialize in Treating All Types of Pain

Back Symptoms

- Lumbar Back Pain
- Sciatica
- Thoracic Back Pain
- Head Pain
- Neck Pain
- Nerve Injury/Pain
- Arm and Leg Pain
- Shoulder Pain
- Joint Pain
- Knee Pain

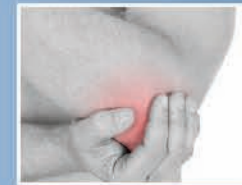

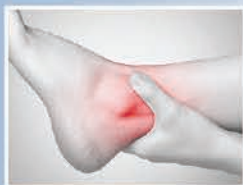

Back Treatment Options

- Epidural Injections
- Nerve Root Blocks
- Various Nerve Blocks
- Radio Frequency Treatments
- Joint Injections
- Facet Joint Blocks
- Trigger Point Injections

DO YOU SUFFER FROM KNEE OR JOINT PAIN OR ARTHRITIS... BUT DON'T WANT SURGERY?

Cleveland Medical Institute offers both conventional and cutting-edge therapies to relieve knee and joint pain.

NOW OFFERING PRP JOINT INJECTIONS

Do you Suffer from Joint Pain?

At the Cleveland Medical Institute, we take pride in our ability to develop comprehensive treatment plans based on our own expertise and the individual needs of each patient. Our goal is always to improve function, increase activity level, reduce pain and restore our patient's control and enjoyment of their lives. If you suffer from significant joint pain, come see us at the Cleveland Medical Institute.

Corticosteroid injections

Corticosteroids are powerful inflammation-reducing drugs. People with Rheumatoid Arthritis and other types of inflammatory arthritis (but not Osteoarthritis) often take corticosteroids such as prednisone by mouth to reduce inflammation throughout the body. When a corticosteroid is injected directly into a joint, it reduces inflammation just in that joint, which can result in a decrease in pain and improved mobility.

Hyaluronic acid injections

What do hyaluronic acid injections do? Hyaluronic acid is a substance found naturally in the synovial fluid in the joint. It gives synovial fluid the viscous quality that helps to lubricate and absorb shock in the joint. In a joint affected by Osteoarthritis, there may be less hyaluronic acid in the joint fluid. Injecting a synthetic version of hyaluronic acid into the joint is thought to improve the viscosity of synovial fluid, thereby allowing for smoother movement and reduced pain.

Now Offering PRP-

Platelet rich Plasma (PRP) is a ground breaking non-operative treatment option that relieves pain by naturally enhancing the healing of musculoskeletal degenerative conditions. The acronym PRP has most recently been featured in the news with the rising popularity of the treatment among professional athletes, recreational athletes and highly functional individuals. Many have attributed PRP injections, particularly for the athletic injuries, with enabling them to return back to regular activities and competition with minimal to no pain at all. This rapidly emerging techniques is very promising for improving many conditions such as arthritis, tendonitis and ligament sprains and tears. PRP therapy can be a long lasting, permanent solution to utilizing the body's natural healing process. PRP is not something that wears off over time as with a traditional pain injection.

What does a joint injection treat?

A joint injection can be used to treat virtually any type of joint pain, whether caused by osteoarthritis, trauma, or overuse:

- Lower, mid, and upper back pain
- Neck pain
- Shoulder pain
- Knee pain
- Hip pain
- Heel pain
- Tennis/Golf Elbow

Dr. David Demangone M.D.

Treatment is covered by most major health insurance plans, including Medicare
