Bathing Suit

While shopping for vacation clothes, my husband and I passed a display of bathing suits. It had been at least ten years and twenty pounds since I had even considered buying a bathing suit, so I sought my husband's advice.

“What do you think?” I asked. “Should I get a bikini or an all-in-one?”

“Better get a bikini,” he replied. “You'd never get it all in one.”

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A bit of Arian contrariness could be keeping you from getting all the facts. Turn it off, and tune in to what you need to hear. It could make all the difference this week.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Getting an answer to a vital question involving financial matters might take longer than you'd expected. A new factor might have to be dealt with before anything can move forward. Be patient.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Use your good sense to see what might really be driving a colleague's workplace agenda. What you learn could lead to a new way of handling some old problems.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) A change of mind might once again turn out to be a good thing. True, most of your co-workers might not like the delay, but as before, they might appreciate what follows from it.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) You revel in golden opportunities this week. One cautionary note, though: Be careful to separate the gold from the glitter before you make a choice. Someone you trust can help.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Marriage is important this week, as are other partnerships. Don't let yourself be overwhelmed by sentiment. Instead, try to steer a path between emotion and common sense.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Dealing with someone who has let you down is never easy. But the sooner you're able to clear up this problem, the sooner other problems can be successfully handled.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) A "friend" who is willing to bend the rules to gain an advantage for both of you is no friend. Reject the offer and stay on your usual straight and narrow path.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) After all the effort you've been putting in both on the job and for friends and family, it's a good time to indulge your own needs. The weekend could bring a pleasant surprise.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You might want to do something new this weekend. Close your eyes and imagine what it could be, and then do it, or come up with the closest practical alternative.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Your good deeds bring you the appreciation you so well deserve. But, once again, be careful of those who might want to exploit your generous nature for their own purposes.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Trolling for compliments isn't necessary. You earned them, and you'll get them. Concentrate this week on moving ahead into the next phase of your program.

BORN THIS WEEK: Meeting new people usually means you're making new friends. People want to be reflected in your shining light.

Beyond the basics of food, water, shelter, and veterinary care, there are two very important basic things that owners of dogs and cats can do to provide the most protection for their beloved companions.

The first one is, obviously, having a veterinarian spay or neuter every dog or cat. It is no secret that shelters, humane societies, and other animal welfare groups preach the benefits of the surgery to everyone who will listen (and even to many who do not listen). The people on the front lines of animal welfare may differ in opinions about many things, but spaying and neutering is not one of those topics.

Shortly after forming as the Danville-Pittsylvania County Humane Society in 1975, and long before the surgery was as well-known in this area, the board established a spay/neuter subsidy program. There was not a lot of money, but small rebates were given.

We have helped spay/neuter over 30,000 animals since 1993 through all of those efforts. The E. Stuart James Grant Charitable Trust has continued to fund this program; we have spent almost $1 million helping residents of Danville and Pittsylvania County, with about 75% of the money being used for County animals.

Spaying or neutering every dog or cat is the responsible thing for owners to do. It is estimated that for every human born, there are 15 dogs and 45 cats born. There are not enough homes, and there are even fewer good homes. The medical benefits are numerous. Neutering males decreases and often eliminates diseases that intact male dogs are prone to later in life, including diseases of the prostate, testicles, and other tissues influenced by male hormones.

Spaying female dogs and cats entirely eliminates diseases of the ovaries and uterus, and if performed before the first heat, greatly reduces the chance of mammary cancer. Behavior is only positively affected by the sterilization surgery. A neutered male cat's territorial spraying is decreased. And spayed or neutered dogs and cats fight less and wander less.

We cannot think of any negative to having the surgery done. Like us on Facebook to get updates about our spay/neuter programs.

The second one is to microchip all dogs and cats, even if they stay inside. With the proliferation of posts on social media about lost or found animals, the best way to ensure that your pet can be returned to you is to have them microchipped. That is proof positive of ownership; under Virginia law, dogs and cats are considered personal property. This law does not in any way lower the value of dogs and cats, but it does offer owners protection in cases of theft or mistreatment.

Many people decide to keep stray animals or find them another home. Unless the public animal shelter in the locality where they were picked up is notified, new ownership is not a legal option. Collars and tags can be lost or removed. The advantages of microchips are numerous. The process is quick and no more painful than a vaccination. (Well, at least that is what the microchip companies tell us. I had my dog, Wally, microchipped while he was asleep for the neutering surgery.) The chip does not get lost, and a simple procedure with a scanner alerts a shelter that a microchip has been inserted. The owner's name and address can be registered on a national or regional database.

Spaying/neutering and microchipping offer many benefits and protections to dogs and cats. Sometimes, it takes more than water, food, shelter, and veterinary care to help our pets.

BOBE NAMED ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT DIRECTOR

City Manager Ken Larking announced today the selection of Corrie Teague Bobe as the director of economic development for the City of Danville.

Bobe has served as interim director since the departure of Telly Tucker, who left in January to take a similar position in Arlington County.

“Corrie has done an excellent job leading the department for the past several months,” Larking said. “She has worked tirelessly on behalf of our community for nearly 11 years, and I am thrilled that she will be directing our economic development effort for, hopefully, many years to come.”

Larking said Bobe was selected following a highly competitive national search.

Mayor Alonzo Jones applauded Bobe’s selection, saying, “The City Council has worked with Corrie for a number of years, and we have great confidence in her. Without a doubt, Corrie is the right person to lead our incredible economic development team and maintain the spirit of collaboration in our region.”

Neal Morris, chairman of the Industrial Development Authority of Danville, agreed.

“The city manager made an excellent choice,” Morris said. “Corrie has a full understanding of all aspects of economic development and has continued working with potential companies while serving as interim director. I feel confident she will continue to work diligently to ensure Danville remains competitive in its efforts to bring new companies to the area, increasing jobs, good pay and improving the quality of life for our citizens.”

Bobe will lead the department’s business attraction, retention, and River District revitalization efforts with a staff of four full-time employees and one economic development consultant.

Bobe said regional leaders have invested in assets that have made Danville and Pittsylvania County a place where businesses can thrive, and residents can enjoy a great quality of life.

“This investment has sparked such momentum and energy throughout Southern Virginia, and we are seeing this region transform as a result,” Bobe said. “It has been such an honor to play a part in advancing these economic development efforts since joining the office in 2009. I would like to thank the city manager for this opportunity to continue to serve my community in this enhanced role.”

Bobe joined the City as a marketing and research manager in October of 2009. She was named a project manager in July of 2012 and promoted to assistant director of economic development in January of 2015.

Before that, she worked as a senior account executive for a marketing firm in San Francisco and as an account operations specialist for Infinity Global in Danville. She is a graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University and has a degree in marketing management.

The Danville Office of Economic Development recruits and retains businesses for the Danville area. The office provides information on available sites and buildings, incentives, and other financial resources and offers a website designed for the business community, discoverdanville.com.

WARNER & KAINE INTRODUCE “VIRGINIA PLAN” FOR THE NATION TO REDUCE GUN VIOLENCE

WASHINGTON, D.C. – Today, U.S. Senators Mark Warner and Tim Kaine introduced the Virginia Plan to Reduce Gun Violence Act of 2020, a bill to federally enact a series of commonsense gun violence prevention measures adopted by Virginia earlier this year. Included in the bill are measures to remove firearms from those at risk of harming themselves or others, close current background check loopholes, mandate reporting of lost and stolen firearms, prevent children from accessing firearms, and implement a one-handgun-a-month policy.

“Too many communities across the Commonwealth have been affected by gun violence. That’s why earlier this month, Virginia led the charge by adopting reasonable measures to help prevent future tragedies. Now it’s time for Congress to act,” Warner said. “Today, we are introducing a commonsense approach to help make our communities safer by helping to keep guns out of the wrong hands while still respecting the rights of law-abiding gun owners. We owe it to victims and their families to stop talking about the problem and start doing something to address it and this bill is an important step in that direction.”

“We have seen the scourge of gun violence in the tragedies of Virginia Tech and Virginia Beach, drive-by shootings, domestic violence, the hundreds of suicides by firearm every week, and other crime in cities and towns across our country,” Kaine said. “For too long, Congress has remained a bystander while states like Virginia have taken action. While no single piece of legislation can eradicate gun violence, as elected officials we have a responsibility to act. We must learn painful lessons from these horrific events and follow the Commonwealth’s example to take commonsense steps that can help save lives.”

The Virginia Plan to Reduce Gun Violence Act of 2020 builds on Virginia’s commonsense framework to reduce gun violence by including the following provisions:

- Ø Universal Background Checks: Closes loopholes in existing federal law by requiring background checks on all firearm sales and transfers, with exemptions for certain family members, law enforcement officers, servicemembers, hunting, target shooting, and self-defense.
- Ø Extreme Risk Protection Orders: Establishes a federal extreme risk protection order process to temporarily remove firearms from individuals who pose a high risk of harming themselves or others, incentivizes states to implement their own extreme risk protection laws and court protocols.
- Ø One-Handgun-a-Month: Limits purchases of handguns to one per month to curtail firearm stockpiling and trafficking.
- Ø Reporting of Lost or Stolen Firearms: Requires gun owners to report lost or stolen firearms to the appropriate state or local law enforcement agency within 48 hours. State and local law enforcement agencies would be directed to report data collected to the FBI’s National Crime Information Center.
- Ø Preventing Firearm Access to Minors: Promotes responsible gun ownership and safe storage practices by holding individuals liable for recklessly leaving a loaded, unsecured gun in the presence of a minor.
- Ø Protection Order Prohibitions: Bolsters safeguards for victims of domestic violence by closing the “boyfriend loophole,” expanding firearms laws to prohibit persons convicted of dating violence from possessing firearms, and prohibiting persons convicted of stalking from possessing firearms.
