INTEGRITY. TRANSPARENCY. ACCOUNTABILITY. GRIT.

"I know you may have been seeing some unnecessary shots thrown my way the last few weeks, and that is okay - it has become part of politics, and I signed up for this. Unfortunately, it has found its way to the local level. I have always strived to rise above the farce of politics, the putting others down while building up oneself, and the win at all cost mindset. These attributes are based upon past or personal vendettas and do not stand any chance at constructive discourse. My beliefs have always been compassion and hard work. That is how success is grown, nurtured, and cultivated."

"I will run on my character and my record. It would be foolish to think I have been able to please every person out there. Yet, breaking a promise has never been an option. I am not the type to look for the spotlight. I am not the type that needs a suit on to be 'the most serious man;' nor am I the type that will belittle or demean my fellow man for self-gain. My hand is always extended to help. My intentions are simple - I love Cullman and will do what is best for all its people."

"The last four years can speak for themselves. Take what you know and go to the polls, and go strong. If you're the type that thinks your local government needs to be more intertwined in separate entities and venture into even more roles that will be of risk and costly, then I am not your candidate. However, if you think we have something so special here in Cullman that you do not want to go into uncharted times with blanket promises and expensive dreams that could cost us dearly, then the choice is clear. We are no doubt better off now than we were four years ago; but, with uncertainty from a pandemic, we must tread lightly as we progress into the future."
