Moody on The Market

Moody

Video gamers familiar with Super Mario know that, as with many other games, there are many hurdles along the way to winning. They also know that a determined Super Mario can get the job done, and there's tangible proof of that with a real-life Super Mario right here in Michigan's Great Southwest. Mario Jenkins might shy away from the moniker Super Mario, but he's proven to be super in every other regard as he has established the fledgling barbershop business along Red Arrow Highway in St. Joseph that he calls New Era Cuts. Jenkins certainly earned his "Super Mario" rights by single-handedly building his beautiful new space literally from the ground up all through the pandemic quarantine period. All day every day he was hard at it installing new floors, painting everything in sight, hanging mirrors, artwork, sports banners and other team memorabilia, large flat screen TVs that showcase sports every minute that the shop is open, and three luxurious and professional barber chairs in red and black leather, along with all of the other tools of his trade. Mario says he was inspired by his mother who opened her first beauty salon 25 years ago in 1995, and worked at her trade until she retired seven years ago in 2013. Born and raised in Southwest Michigan, Mario attended St. Joseph High School where he played football and ran track until finishing up in 2002. He admits "It took a little time to figure out what I wanted to do in life," however, after finally selecting his mother's career track and heading to cosmetology school in 2012, he graduated three years later and beginning working shortly thereafter for Great Clips. Mario stayed with Great Clips for close to three years running, but decided to go "the booth rental route," and got his feet wet with all of the in's and out's of barbering for a couple of years before decided to step out onto his own, creating his dynamic space at New Era Cuts, located at 3914 Red Arrow Highway, in the small commercial strip next to Season's Pass, the sports gear lover's paradise. He's been well received thus far, and says, "I'm excited to bring what I have to offer to the people. I've dedicated the last 8 years to craft my skills in this field, hoping one day I'd have the opportunity to own my own shop. That time is finally now." Now a Licensed Professional Barber for more than five years, Mario is open for business Monday through Fun & Interesting Things to Do in Michigan's Great Southwest!

This area has been known for its abundance of fresh fruits and vegetables for hundreds of years and this time of year is the perfect time to enjoy southwest Michigan produce. Plums, nectarines, peaches, blueberries, raspberries, melons, squash, pickles, tomatoes, peppers, onions, potatoes, apples, corn and much, much more are ready for the picking, or just to pick up at your favorite farm market. While you're out and about enjoy the outdoor activities that are available for your enjoyment.

Ghost Isle Brewery is hosting their 2nd Annual Octoberfest, September 19-October 4. Join them during this time to enjoy special food, beer, and special surprises. The outdoor views are amazing! The Sima Family has owned the 3.5-acre site where Ghost Isle now sits since the 1950's when Jim's grandfather purchased hundreds of acres in New Buffalo, MI. The Brewery overlooks 156 acres of wetlands that was donated by the Sima Family to Chikaming Open Lands, a non-profit organization that now maintains this Michigan state-designated "critical wetlands." The beautiful, sweeping wetlands view to be enjoyed by patrons of Ghost Isle carries the name "Louis J Sima Great Lakes Marsh," after Jim's beloved Grandfather Louis J Sima. "Ghost Island" itself sits to the left and west of the brewery, and takes its name from generations of residents who played there as children and teens, and who claim there is supernatural activity on the island.

Live music is back at The Mendel Center September 19 and 27. We're again taking the entertainment outdoors onto the spacious grounds of Lake Michigan College where we can all socially distance while having a great time complete with trivia contest, prize give-a-ways, and other fun! Here's how it works. One ticket gets your carload of friends and family (up to 6 people) onto the lot on the Grand Upton Hall side of The Mendel Center. Park and get ready to enjoy the show from inside your vehicle by listening to the FM radio broadcast, or break out the lawn chairs and safely social distance with your group in your personal tailgate space. The live action on stage will be projected on a big screen for great viewing throughout the lot. The September 19 line-up includes The Big Payback, Sankofa and Siusan O'Rourke and Zig Zeitler. The Big Payback is an award-winning jazz-rock band featuring the soulful vocals of Leah Isabel Tirado and a smoking horn section. Sankofa is a group of local musicians from Benton Harbor who love and respect the emotions that develop when good, deeply felt music is played. Siusan O'Rourke & Zig Zeitler opened The Mendel Center's Remotely Interested online series. Now, they'll be with them in person! Together, this husband and wife duo have been 3-time committee nominated by the Irish Music Association for Top Duo internationally.

The September 27 line-up includes Alex & Erin, John Latini, and Mike Talbot. Alex Holycross (The Native Howl) and Erin Zindle (Erin Zindle & The Ragbirds) have joined forces, from vastly different musical backgrounds, to perform as a new duo. Their fresh sound, dubbed 'Outlaw Americana', splices Alex's heavier bluegrass/metal style with Erin's sultry songwriter/world music influences.

New York native and longtime Michigan resident John Latini, a 3-time Detroit Blues Champion, is a dynamic performing force to be reckoned with. This engaging musician is a celebrated songwriter who connects with fans across many demographics. Latini's muscular, rockin' blues grabs you by the throat from the get-go and won't let go.

Mike is considered a master vocalist, guitarist, and pianist, as well as a prolific and innovative songwriter. His performance history, spanning three decades and totally over 30,000 hours, includes a wide range of gigs, from local haunts to headlining concerts.

For information on these events and other fun and interesting things to do visit www.swmichigan.org. We'll be back in a couple of weeks with more ideas for your next outdoor adventure.

The Veterans Voice – Service Connected PTSD (Part 2)

September is “Suicide Prevention Month.” According to the Disabled Veterans National Foundation (see www.dvnf.org/september-suicide-prevention-month-spread-word), approximately 22 military service members and veterans take their lives every day. Last week we discussed combat related PTSD. Today we will discuss service connected PTSD as a result of personal injury/trauma. The most frequently filed claims with Veterans Services involving personal injury/trauma have to do with Military Sexual Trauma (MST). The Department of Veterans Affairs have many excellent resources for victims of MST at www.mentalhealth.va.gov/mentalhealth/msthome/index.asp. There are, of course, other situations besides MST a veteran experienced. You can visit www.vba.va.gov/pubs/forms/VBA-21-0781a-ARE.pdf and view page 3 for MST and other personal injury/trauma symptoms. We also have counselors from the South Bend Vet Center who come to Berrien County on Wednesday's and Thursday's for individual and family counseling to deal with all forms of PTSD. You can contact them at (574) 231-8480 for more information. To qualify for the free counseling services you need to be a combat veteran, combat drone operator, medical professional who treated injured combatants, loaded/unloaded casualties, MST or immediate family member who lost a loved one on active duty. There are also many fine local private organizations who offer coping therapies ranging from pet/dog and horseback riding therapies to float tank and fishing therapies. You can Google many other excellent resources and please also take time to visit the Lone Survivor Foundation website at <https://lonesurvivorfoundation.org/service-members/resources>. Even if the event(s) were't documented in service, we have other ways of service connecting the PTSD. One method we use are statements from the veteran, family members and fellow service members. We also look carefully at the service members personal performance evaluations. If they, for example, were performing at a certain level consistently and then there was a noticeable decline in their regular level of performance or personal appearance following the personal injury or traumatic event (e.g. they started using drugs and/or alcohol at a higher level than normal to self-medicate from the pain or shame of the event, etc.) we can make those arguments with the VA and in many instances prevail. According to VA law, lay testimony/statements are supposed to have the same weight of evidence as medical, especially when medical record entries are minimal or lacking entirely. We frequently cite 38 CFR § 3.159(2), “Evidence not requiring that the proponent have specialized education, training, or experience. Lay evidence is competent if it is provided by a person who has knowledge of facts or circumstances and conveys matters that can be observed and described by a lay person.” Several significant precedent setting Veterans Law Federal Circuit cases we use include Buchanan v. Nicholson and Jandreau v. Nicholson (2006) and Davidson v. Shinseki (2009), which reminds VA raters of the significance of lay testimony when adjudicating a veterans claim. If you were in combat operations or suffered from a personal injury/traumatic event(s) in service and believe you have PTSD, please contact our office for additional information.

Lee Lull is the Veterans Affairs Administrator for Berrien County. He has served in that position since May 2012. You can contact Berrien County Veterans Services at (269) 983-7111 Ext. 8224, via e-mail at veterans@berriencounty.org or visit their website at www.berriencounty.org/veterans.

PastorGood in All Things*Rosenbaum

And we know that in all things God works for the good of those who love him, who have been called according to his purpose.

Romans 8:28

How can the Bible say that God works all things for our good? It's not that we don't want the statement to be true. It's just that it does not seem to be true. That little word "all" makes it hard to believe.

How can God work all things for our good when so much badness piles up? Think of the cancer diagnosis, or the lost job, or the car accident, or the sick friend. Take your pick of any awful scenario that has happened to you or someone you care about. How can it be good? Why does God allow it?

Is it maybe because you don't love God enough? After all, the verse says that God works all things for the good "of those who love him," and you can probably think of many times when you have not loved God.

Don't go down that path. It only leads to uncertainty and despair. Instead, focus on how "those who love God" are further described as people "who have been called according to [God's] purpose." What a relief! God's calling was not of your doing or deserving; it was according to God's purpose. He loves you, and his plan has always been to work bad things for your good.

He did this in the past when he sent Jesus, who "took up our infirmities and carried our sorrows" (Isaiah 53:4). Jesus knew a thing or two about badness. And yet God worked Jesus' horrific suffering and death for the greatest good of all: your eternal salvation.

He continues to work all things for your good in the present. Your life is also part of God's purpose. He is in control and makes sure that everything that happens to you will fit together in a good way. You may not understand the plan, but he does. And in the end, you know that the outcome will be perfect because that is God's promise.

Prayer: Lord God, help me to accept your good purpose for me in bad times as well as good. Amen.

Your Chamber Update

Gyms officially reopened in our region Wednesday morning, after being closed for nearly six months due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

As with other re-openings, the public can expect things to look differently than normal. The executive order places various stipulations on fitness-related facilities including a 25% cap on capacity; requiring an increase in circulation of outdoor air through use of windows, doors, and fans; regularly sanitizing fitness equipment and ensuring social distancing requirements are met; encouraging outdoor classes vs. indoor; and mandating gym-goers to wear a mask at all times, including when working out.

I must say, my reaction to these restrictions are mixed. While I'm ecstatic gyms are finally open and completely understand the need for restrictions, I'm frustrated there was nothing new or innovative about the precautions ultimately placed. Fitness facilities have been told they've remained closed due to the nature of their industry, yet now they are re-opening with restrictions nearly identical to the ones restaurants had for dine-in back in June.

That begs the question, what precluded these restrictions from being placed on every gym in Michigan three months ago? Gym owners and their patrons would have welcomed these concessions if it meant they could open and exercise. After all, people who frequent the gym care about their health in the first place.

Instead, those "invested" in our fitness industry had to wait 5 months and 24 days – a whopping 48% of the year – before fully re-opening. In the 177 day stretch, there have been 171 executive orders – nearly one a day – and it was not until executive order 2020-176 that this industry received even a word of when they would be able to re-open. In these columns, I have frequently written about business owners needing customers, cashflow, and certainty in order to survive. That struggle for gyms may finally be over, but the plight for many other Michigan businesses continues on.

Movie theaters, arcades, amusement parks, bowling alleys, ice rinks, climbing facilities, trampoline parks, performance venues, and more still remain closed to the public in Michigan. (Bowling alleys, roller rinks, and ice rinks may open for the sole purpose of serving as a venue for organized sports, not the public.) With property taxes due in mid-September and still no revenue coming in, many are at their breaking point.

Again, I must ask why? The overwhelming majority of other states have now figured out how to re-open these industries safely and most of them have less potential for contact and transmission of the virus than industries that have already been given the green light. Movie theaters for example can easily accommodate 25 to 30 masked and physically distanced patrons, all of whom will face the same direction for the duration of their visit, with no contact at all. Not only that, the seats within theaters can be sanitized and the air circulated after every single show.

In fact, the cinema industry is so beleaguered a historic alliance of more than 380 cinema companies representing over 3,000 locations and 33,000 screens nationwide have together to recommend and implement expert-backed, industry-specific health and safety protocols to help states working through their re-opening process. They've even launched a website where the general public can view their efforts called www.cinemasafe.org. I encourage you to visit and see their thoughtful approach for yourself.

Despite all this, Michigan remains one of just seven states that have still not re-opened movie theaters. Yet another alarming example of the lack of industry input in our state's decision-making process.

I've said it before and I'll say it again, these businesses are desperate and fighting for survival. Their only true path to solvency and long-term stability is re-opening and it is well past time we let them.

Dave

Ramsey

Christmas in... September?

Dear Dave,

I know it may be early to talk about

Christmas, but do you have any advice on saving for the holiday season?

Carlie

Dear Carlie,

It's never too early to talk about Christmas! I'm glad you're thinking about things ahead of time. A lot of people wait until December to buy gifts and make plans.
That's fine if they've got the money set aside to handle things, but most of them don't.
Then, they panic and turn to credit cards.
You don't want to end up in a situation where you're still paying off Christmas in April.

If you don't have anything put aside yet,
I'd suggest setting some spending goals
now. Taking a close look at your income and living expenses should be part of this. If you're not doing it already, what I'm talking about here is living on a written, monthly budget. Look at how much you can afford to put toward Christmas each month, make a gift-giving goal amount, and stick to it.
Along with this, you might consider opening a separate account just for your Christmas savings. Start looking for gift deals now, too.

Dave Says

There are end-of-summer sales still going on, and you never know what you might find.

You don't have to spend a lot of money to have a wonderful Christmas or make the season special for others—even when it comes to giving. Thoughtful handmade items, meaningful photographs set in a frame, or special baked goods are great ways to show the folks in your life you're thinking about them and how much you care.

Now, let's talk about next year. There's absolutely nothing wrong with including a line just for Christmas in your budget each month. Christmas doesn't sneak up on you.
It's on December 25th every single year.
Putting a little money aside all year long might just take some of the stress out of your Yuletide planning.

Good question, Carlie!

Mario's stated purpose at New Era Cuts is straight forward: To not only provide you with a euphoric feel, but to bring sensation and confidence to your life. He adds, "No matter what ethnicity or background you come from, at New Era, we stand by change, which inspires us to inspire you!"

The Bridgman City Planning Commission has voted unanimously to proceed with a recommendation to the full City Commission for a zoning ordinance amendment which would pave the way for creation of an Interstate Gateway District covering some 29 parcels of land encompassing Red Arrow Highway at I-94 in the community. The intent of the district as stated, is "To provide commercial uses to serve the larger community and the traveling public in the vicinity of I-94, and to promote the economic development of the city, while establishing standards for curb cut locations, parking, loading & unloading areas, landscaping and building material, to enhance the connectivity, safety and appearance of the city's primary southern entrance." It would change the designation from a Commercial Corridor District to an Interstate Gateway District in order to support new development. The planners conducted a virtual Zoom meeting on the measure and heard only one objection from a Kalamazoo Attorney, Michael Bingen, who represents property owner Gurwinder Gill and his BP Gas Station at that interchange. Gill through his attorney earlier this week and again in the meeting argues that the zoning amendment "will turn Red Arrow Highway into a commercial wasteland of unregulated fast food restaurants, automobile dealerships, service stations, and asphalt." They contend that while the city's stated intent for the Interstate Gateway District is to promote economic development by establishing standards for parking, landscaping, and building material, reality is that "this 'District' will eliminate the provisions in the current zoning ordinance which regulate these industries by requiring special use permits." Bingen argued that the district "violates the intent and spirit of the City of Bridgman Master Plan that was just adopted in 2019, which envisions a high quality and attractive commercial strip for Red Arrow Highway." He then pointed out that one of the city's Master Plan goals (Goal 10) states: The preservation and enhancement of natural features of the community will be a central consideration in all civic decisions in Bridgman. Buildings and infrastructure will be planned, constructed, and maintained to protect and improve the quality of the natural environment while serving the needs of the population and giving residents and visitors appropriate access to enjoy natural features. Instead, the service station owner and his attorney contend that, "The Planning Commission wants to reduce thoughtful regulation so that an automobile dealership and a Casey's General Store can locate on Red Arrow Highway without complying with the requirements of special land use permits and the current Zoning Ordinance." Bingen told the Planning Commission that they should not be allowed to abandon the intent of the Master Plan just to satisfy businesses that do not want to enhance Red Arrow Highway and the community. Weko Dunes resident Peter Loveland was unable to participate in the meeting, however he dispatched a letter to City Manager Juan Ganum saying, "I attended one of these meetings and expressed the need to make major improvements on our Red Arrow gateway entrance to Bridgman. Red Arrow sees far more traffic than Lake Street does. With the exception of the Monogram Building renovation and the new McDonald's, little or nothing has been done to improve our major thoroughfare, Red Arrow Highway, in the past 15 years." He went on to write, "I can understand Mr. Gill's desire to maintain a monopoly with the only gas station at Exit 16. If I owned it, I'd fight to keep the same monopoly. However, by growing our visitor base through new business investment, everyone has an opportunity to reap the rewards. Fighting over the same limited business volume (small pie) we have today is not a winner. The addition of a modern, attractive auto dealership, a hotel and a family friendly Casey's General Store would definitely 'make the pie bigger' in terms of market size. And yes, the old timers like Mr. Gill and Lou Dominion may have to re-invest in their businesses in order to compete. Competition makes the game keener. We need to find new ways to attract visitors to Bridgman; to shop, to dine and to stay in the area to enjoy our great community." Southwest Michigan Regional Chamber President & CEO Arthur Havlicek also voiced strong support for the proposed changes. Havlicek argued, "The fact that Bridgman has potential investors looking to locate along this corridor – in this economy – is a testament to the City's innovative approach to economic development and its commitment to removing unnecessary and outdated barriers to investment." He applauded the approach of the plan saying, "You've struck the important balance of maintaining the natural beauty of the gateway district while removing these barriers, and your actions are wholly consistent with the City's 2019 master plan that envisioned a 'high quality and attractive commercial strip for Red Arrow Highway.'" Havlicek, whose team serves as the Chamber for the Bridgman community, is excited by the prospect of the Interstate Gateway District, suggesting, "Once development begins along Exit 16, the City of Bridgman will see incredible growth. Due to Bridgman's strategic location within Berrien County, our County will see growth as well. On behalf of the Chamber, I could not more emphatically support the City's thoughtful approach to this zoning issue and I strongly encourage a yes vote to adopt the amendment." Adjacent land owner George Lepeniotis, a 30-year resident of Bridgman, echoed Havlicek's support applauding the "very thoughtful approach" that the planning commission has taken on the matter. He called Gill and his attorney "insincere" and contends that they are "only furthering their own interests," and pointed out that the BP Station is not even directly involved in the zoning, inasmuch as it sits on property in neighboring Lake Township and is governed by less stringent zoning rules from that community. A Bridgman couple who reside on Lake Street also expressed support in a letter sent to the commission, applauding changes in accessory structure setback rules which would allow them to put a new shed in their yard in a reasonable manner. The planning commission closed out the public hearing and proceeded to vote unanimously in support of the

If your efforts to renew your driver's license or your license plate tabs have been thwarted by the pandemic, and you've been able to take advantage of the state's renewal extension plan, you are being warned that you will need to act before the end of the month. The Michigan Department of State is reminding drivers that the current driver's license, state ID and vehicle renewal extension plan will expire on September 30th. Under Public Acts 127-129, those with driver's license, state ID or vehicle registration expiration dates between March 1st and September 30th have until September 30th to complete their renewals. With that deadline now just two weeks away, drivers who haven't completed their renewals are encouraged to make a plan to do so immediately. Secretary of State Jocelyn Benson reminds everyone, "As part of our ongoing efforts to address customer needs during the pandemic, we have expanded our branch hours and added a number of appointments to ensure everyone who needs to is able to renew their driver's license or ID ahead of the September 30th deadline," and adds, "There are still many available appointments, and anyone who has not handled their renewals is encouraged to do so immediately." Her department announced recently the expansion of Secretary of State branch office hours to accommodate renewals for driver's licenses and state IDs that expire between January 1st, 2020, and September 30th, 2020, and must be renewed in person. Appointments reserved for that specific circumstance are available from 4 pm to 7 pm Monday through Friday from now until September 30th. To make an appointment, visit www.Michigan.gov/SOS or call 888-SOS-MICH (767-6424). Many driver's license and ID renewals also can be completed online at www.ExpressSOS.com. Vehicle registration and tab renewals should be completed online, by mail or at one of the 121 self-service stations located across the state. To renew at a self-service kiosk, drivers only need their license plate number and the last four digits of their Vehicle Identification Number (VIN) or the renewal noticed mailed to them by the Michigan Department of State.

That's it for this week, folks. Have a great weekend, and we'll see you Saturday right here in MailMax, and 24/7 online at www.MoodyOnTheMarket.com

A Wonderful piece of property in a great location. Not far from Lake Michigan. Property includes 6 Acres of Blueberries (Blue Crop and Elliotts) and has trickle irrigation all set up for the Blueberries. Also has two wells on the property for the irrigation. There is a Carriage House and a shed included on the property. A Wonderful piece of land that has beautiful Catalpa Trees bordering the land. Sellers have ordered to have a survey done to combine the two parcels into one parcel. Right now it has two tax codes on file. Second Tax Code # is 801702105410. A very nice winding path through the trees that goes back to the Blueberries.

A sure cure for the social distancing blues: Read this column of old Baseball Digest blurbs! Then eat it!

Item: A manager pulled a young player aside and asked him if he remembered all the tips he'd been given on batting, fielding and base-running. The young fella eagerly said, "You bet Skipper!" To which the manager replied, "Well, forget 'em all. We just traded you to Kansas City."

Item: When you win the World Series, of course lots of good things come your way. Take Detroit Tiger pitcher Mickey Lolich: He won three games in the 1968 World Series and was named Series Most Valuable Player, earning him this excellent fringe benefit – his National Guard commander informed him he was temporarily exempt from KP duty.

Aiding Your Baseball Digest-tion

Item: Another dizzy Dizzy Dean tale: One spring, he was interviewed for three different feature articles, and he gave each reporter a different birth date and birth place. His manager overheard it all, and asked him, "Diz! Why'd ya do that?" And Dizzy said, "Well, they're all good fellas and I wanted each of 'em to have an exclusive story!"

A baseball "lifer" named Fresco Thompson was a witty guy. Take this BBD anecdote: When Fresco worked for legendary executive Branch Rickey during World War II, he and Branch got into a discussion about cars. Rickey was complaining he was having trouble finding the new Ford he wanted. Fresco said, "Yeah, I'm having the same problem. I can't fine the Cadillac I'm dreaming about." Rickey looked surprised and said, "What? Fresco, I don't think you can afford a Cadillac on what I'm paying you." Fresco replied, "Don't I know it. But if I've got to get along without a car, I'd rather get along without a Cadillac than a Ford."

Item: I love me some good announcer-speak, when broadcasters say wacky things. Here's one from a PA announcer at a Washington Senators game, following a rain delay: "Before the game can resume, spectators in the front row must remove their garments." After several seconds, he hurriedly clarified, "Coats must be removed from the railings."

Item: At a spring training game in 1968, the public address announcer was reading the day's lineups. Spring games always include a lot of players that no one has ever heard of, and this game featured a kid named Alcaraz. Well, the announcer garbled it, and call him "Alcatraz." A colleague in the press box pointed out the boo-boo, and the announcer looked thoughtful and said, "I should have known. After all, no man is an island."

Item: Back in ancient times, big-league manager Burleigh Grimes sent a young pitcher off to a minor league club in Nebraska. He pitched in a few games there and didn't impress, leading the minor league manager to send a wire to Grimes: "Your pitcher too green." To which Grimes wired back: "Repaint him and ship him to Kalamazoo."
