ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Personal matters claim a good deal of the Lamb's time in the early part of the week. But by midweek, pragmatic considerations (work, school, job-seeking, etc.) begin to take priority.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) The seasonal shift ignites the Bovine's creative aspects. You could do well if you try to combine your penchant for innovation with the more pragmatic demands of the week.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Ideas come easily to you this week. And never mind that some might suggest they're unworkable and/or impractical. It's your vision that counts. Work them out and see what turns up.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Personal matters continue to dominate the early part of the week. By midweek, more workaday issues once again begin to emerge. Balance your time to give both the attention they need.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) A new contact could provide an expanded opportunity. But be sure you get all the facts before you consider signing on. Ask questions, and be wary if you don't get the right answers.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) An unexpected development could cause some supposedly resolved disagreements to reignite. Deal with the situation before it leads to some really serious problems.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) A clash of work-linked viewpoints needs to be discussed openly, honestly and calmly by all concerned before it can impede progress on an ongoing project.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) The Scorpion's pragmatic side helps you accept the possibility that a change of plans might be the wise thing to do. Be sure to weigh all your considerations carefully.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Some people might not take no for an answer. Never mind. Keep your resolve if you're sure you don't want to be involved in a potentially sticky situation.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) All other facts and figures aside, it's what you learn about potential colleagues that can be most helpful in assessing any decisions you're likely to make regarding a new project.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) You might want to reconsider some of your outside commitments if they continue to demand more time than you can spare. Be honest with yourself when making a decision.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Pay attention to that inner voice of Piscean wisdom counseling you to remove those rose-colored glasses and take an honest look at any decisions you might face this week.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have a penchant for persuasion that would make you a fine candidate for a political career.

Don't Take a Chance with Your Health – Get Vaccinated for Flu Season

By Sheranda Gunn-Nolan, Sovah Health Chief Medical Officer

It is hard to believe that in the coming weeks, the temperature will begin its downward trend, and the fall season will already be upon us. This also means that flu season is just around the corner – a period which usually peaks between December and February but can last as late as May. Influenza (flu) is a contagious respiratory illness caused by influenza viruses. It can cause mild to severe illness and can even lead to death in certain situations. Anyone can come down with the flu, but individuals with a greater risk of developing flu-related complications include children younger than five years old, adults 65 and older, pregnant women, residents of nursing homes and other long-term care facilities, and those with certain medical conditions like asthma, heart disease and blood disorders.

At Sovah Health, our mission is Making Communities Healthier, and one of the most important ways we do that is by ensuring that our community understands how to fight preventable diseases, like the flu. And given the challenges posed by the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic this year, it has never been more important to be proactive about your health. Fortunately, there are a few simple things you can do to protect yourself, your family and our community; prevent the flu from spreading; and even speed up your recovery if you do become ill.

First – and most importantly – make the wise decision to get vaccinated. Flu vaccination is the single-best way to protect yourself from the virus. While it is still possible to contract the flu after getting vaccinated, it is much less likely; and should you get sick, studies show that flu vaccinations can make your illness less severe. Plus, getting your vaccination will help give you valuable peace of mind that you're doing everything you can to guard against the flu, particularly as the COVID-19 pandemic surges on. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) believes it is possible to test positive for flu (as well as other respiratory pathogens) and the virus that causes COVID-19 at the same time. So, while there still isn't a vaccine for COVID-19, you can – and most certainly should – take advantage of the flu shot to reduce your risk of illness this fall and winter.

The CDC recommends annual flu vaccination for everyone six months and older, with any age-appropriate flu vaccine. If you are considering a nasal spray flu vaccine, it is important to know that this option is approved by the CDC for use in non-pregnant individuals, ages two through 49, and that there is a precaution against this option for those with certain underlying medical conditions. You should talk with your healthcare provider regarding what flu vaccination method works best for you.

Flu vaccines can take approximately two weeks to become fully effective, so you should plan to receive your flu vaccine before flu activity begins in your area, if possible. A good rule of thumb is to get vaccinated no later than the end of October.

Beating the flu truly begins with you. In addition to getting vaccinated, there are several other simple actions you can take to protect yourself and your family, and help prevent the spread of flu and other infections during flu season and year-round, including:

- Washing your hands regularly with soap and water for 20 seconds, or using a hand sanitizer that is at least 60 percent alcohol-based
- Avoiding touching your eyes, nose, and mouth
- Avoiding sharing food, cups or eating utensils
- Regularly disinfecting your home and belongings, such as door knobs, light switches, children's toys and play areas
- Staying home from school or work if you are sick to prevent the spread of germs
- Covering your mouth and nose when coughing or sneezing with a tissue, your sleeve or elbow, and NOT your bare hands
- Calling your local hospital or your primary care provider with any questions

Sovah Health also is taking the appropriate steps at our facility to help prevent the flu, COVID-19 and other respiratory illnesses from spreading by:

- Implementing universal masking for patients, providers, employees, visitors and anyone entering our facility
- Setting up stations stocked with alcohol-based sanitizers, tissues and hands-free trash cans throughout our facility
- Enhancing our already stringent cleaning and disinfection protocols
- Encouraging all patients, staff, and visitors to get their flu vaccination
- Providing educational materials to all visitors about everyday preventive actions

If you or someone you know begins to notice symptoms including coughing, sore throat, fever or other upper respiratory symptoms, please see your healthcare provider right away. Many of the most common symptoms of flu are consistent with COVID-19, so it may be hard to tell the difference between them. Testing may be needed to help confirm a diagnosis. Regardless, it is very important to take action and not ignore symptoms when they occur. You should limit contact with others as much as possible after noticing symptoms and stay home (or keep your child home) for at least 24 hours after the fever is gone, except to seek medical care. The good news is that when flu is detected early, prescription antiviral drugs can often help treat the illness and shorten the time you are sick by one or two days.

You can visit the Health Department, a walk-in clinic or pharmacy, or your primary care provider's office to receive a flu vaccination. If you don't have a provider, we can connect you with one. Visit our website, and browse our Find a Doctor tab at <https://www.sovahhealth.com/find-a-doctor/>, or call 844-GO-SOVAH.

For additional information about the 2020-21 flu season, visit the CDC website at www.cdc.gov/flu or contact your local Health Department.

Pittsylvania County bolstering public safety with CARES Act money

CHATHAM -- Pittsylvania County is creatively using $2.7 in federal funds from the CARES Act to bolster both its career and volunteer fire and rescue operations. Just under $1.1 million has been allocated for the purchase of five ambulances that would be split between the volunteer agencies and the Pittsylvania County Public Safety Department.

"We have utilized CRF funds for strategic investments that improve the level of service we can offer our citizens not only during this pandemic, but for years to come," said Pittsylvania County Administrator David Smitherman. "These ambulances, along with the other equipment we've purchased, will allow our career and volunteer first responders to coordinate better and improve our emergency response time and quality."

The ambulances will be stationed with:

- Chatham Rescue Squad
- County Public Safety staff in Chatham
- Mt. Hermon Rescue Squad and County Public Safety Staff
- Brosville Rescue Squad
- Callands Rescue Squad

"We are going to replace ambulances that have had serious mechanical problems and haven't been reliable," said Pittsylvania County Public Safety Director Chris Slemp. "Having additional space and better HVAC systems in these ambulances will also allow us to better protect our staff when working with potential and confirmed positive COVID-19 patients."

After being offered an ambulance through CARES Act funds, the Tunstall Rescue Squad has elected to purchase an ambulance themselves instead. Along with all capital expenses in Pittsylvania County, a scheduled allocation of $90,000 for the purchase of a new ambulance at Tunstall was frozen due to the uncertainty around COVID-19—a fact that has concerned Tunstall Chief Troy Tolley.

"It seems there is enough money in Chatham to keep hiring people with menial jobs," he said in an email opting out of the ambulance. "We were offered an ambulance through the CARES ACT federal funds... but we elected to go with our original plans that we started in January to meet the needs of the citizens we serve."

The Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act is a federal stimulus bill passed in late March that sent money through all levels of the economy in response to the economic fallout caused by COVID-19. Through that bill, Pittsylvania County received $10.5 million in funds to use on expenses that weren't in the original budget and can be directly attributed to COVID-19. Part of the goal in purchasing these ambulances is to ensure that each of Pittsylvania County's first due EMS vehicles, volunteer or otherwise, will be less than five years old. Each of the new ambulances will have great air circulation systems, UV lighting that kills bacteria, and increased space for working with patients. In addition to buying ambulances, Pittsylvania County bought multiple quick response vehicles that improve response time and allocated $500,000 for the construction of a new EMS station in Hurt.

Additionally, all EMS agencies have received medical supplies, medications and equipment as well purchased with CARES funds. An online fire and rescue training program was purchased that allows volunteer to take classes remotely.

To go along with a wide range of technology improvements and new medical equipment, Pittsylvania County also allocated a significant amount of money for personal protection equipment that allow first responders to safely work with COVID patients. During the COVID-19 pandemic, volunteer and paid EMS staff in Pittsylvania County have gone on calls for hundreds of patients who were showing symptoms of COVID-19, and many of those went on to test positive for the respiratory virus.

"The county has used quite a bit of Coronavirus Relief Fund (CRF) money to assist with Volunteer Fire and Rescue as well as Public Safety," said Bryan Fox, Chairman of the Pittsylvania County Fire and Rescue Commission and a volunteer with Mt. Cross Volunteer Fire and Rescue. "All of these resources will benefit the citizens of Pittsylvania County when emergencies arise."

Peggy Boswell Bosworth

July 2, 1933 ~ September 12, 2020 (age 87)

In the quiet morning of Saturday, September 12, 2020, God reached out His hand and quietly whispered, "My child, it is time to come home." Peggy Boswell Bosworth, a loving mother and Grandmother, passed to that celestial home not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

She was born July 2, 1933, in Danville, the daughter of the late Norman H. Boswell and Ione Boswell Lovelace.

She was a member of Mt. Hermon Baptist Church and had been a resident of Roman Eagle Rehabilitation Center for the past 8 years.

She loved writing poetry and wrote a book of poems called "Poems by Peggy". She loved acting in Danville's Little Theater under the direction of Marcia Dalton in "Fiddler on the Roof", "Sound of Music", and many others. When she wasn't acting, she was either singing with the Sweet Adeline's or in her church choir. Music and writing were very dear to her.

She retired from Nationwide Insurance as a secretary for Pat Scearce. Soon after, she went to work as the church secretary for Schoolfield Baptist Church right
