Sunday Morning Positive Perks

ONE YEAR OF PERKING

October 14, 2020 will mark one full year of Positive Perks. To date there have been 60 Perks and many Mid-Week Photo Perks. For those of you who catch a Perk in the Sunday Morning publications of the Pennysaver or Hub, Perking was happening before they were kind enough to share Perks in print and online. To see all Post and Perks you can go directly to my Blog Site at: www.PositivePerksPosts.com

Positive Perks came about because it seemed the world needed a way to experience some light hearted, yet sometimes very meaningful commentary on how the world can be seen. Even if it was through the eyes of a 50+ year old Missus from a Small Town. The Perks started small, but with all the words rattling around in this brain they became longer with time. Like a singer has to sing and a painter has to paint... a writer has to write.

As a young girl I was never one to dream of fancy weddings or even motherhood. Instead there were dreams of laughter, traveling and writing. There is nothing that is unique about me or my life experiences. In fact, I have learned that many people have had similar life situations to those Perked about.

The dream was the Blog would be a place for people to share their own experiences and joys in the comment sections of each Post. By hearing all those great stories that life has afforded us, maybe we cancel out the noise of the everyday nonsense. As it turns out people did not share many comments on the Blog, which made me wonder sometimes if Positive Perks was working. Assurance came from the personal emails and messages people have left me. Many times people stop me in the stores and tell me how much they are enjoying the Perks weekly in the Sunday Morning publications. But what truly is touching and heartwarming is when someone shares how a Perk brought back a sweet memory from their childhood. Sometimes they say the memories brought them happy tears.

Being that I am my own best audience, I enjoy sharing my silly little stories. A special moment that comes to mind is when an older gentleman stopped to tell me that when he read one of the Christmas Perks it reminded him of when he was a young boy and his brother gave him a special watch for Christmas. He said it reminded him of how much it touched him as a child. He thanked me for helping him to remember. It was a Christmas Blessing. This is what Positive Perks is about :) it is working!

For now I will continue Perking in hopes that my passion for babbling can help someone through a tough time, bring hope to someone, inspire someone or just make someone laugh! For those of you who have stories to share, don't be shy, add them to my Blog site for others to enjoy. Share your stories, Head back to the Home page to Join My Blog and receive new post updates and visit the main menu to read past Posts of Positivity!

To see the most viewed Post, visit My Blog live online at <https://www.positiveperkposts.com> and catch up on Weekly Photo Perks and past Sunday Posts. Like and Share Your Comments.

Truly,
Debbie Burgoon London

Travel Thoughts By Kim

Let's go on an adventure together...to Lake Placid, NY!

It's no secret that I love to go on adventures and this year has been frustrating for those of us who love to get out and enjoy life and all it has to offer. Everything I had booked or was considering doing this year was canceled. I've been really itching to get away for a while and more so lately. But, personally, I'm still not comfortable considering getting on a plane, train, bus, or other mass transit option to go out of state...yet. But, that doesn't mean I am content with being grounded from adventuring.

So....I took my own advice and I planned a nice little get-away to the Adirondack Mountains with hopes of catching the leaves turning at just the right time. It was just what I needed – a perfect week away from it all to one of the most beautiful places in New York with all the peace, serenity, and total relaxation I could take. I chose Lake Placid as my destination and I was so happy I did! And, the fall colors? Yeah, they didn't disappoint! By the end of the week I was there, they were claiming the leaves to be at or near peak colors.

A beautiful foggy morning view of Mirror Lake in Lake Placid, NY.

To get there, I mainly took routes 104 and 3, with a few little twists and turns along the way through sweet little towns and gorgeous country sides. 289 miles and roughly six and a half hours later, I was in Lake Placid. I drove up on Monday, September 21st, spent three full days there, and drove home on Friday, September 25th. I stayed at the Mirror Lake Inn Resort and Spa in downtown Lake Placid overlooking Mirror Lake. My room was awesome and had stunning views of the lake and mountains from my terrace. I would not have been one bit disappointed if I never left the room the entire week. But, of course, I did leave the room to do some exploring.

Some of what I put on my list of things to check out were either still closed or not fully operational, so I didn't do everything I considered doing. But, that was OK – the main intent of this trip was to get away and relax. I did a lot of driving around looking at the scenery and spent time along Main Street in Lake Placid at the shops and restaurants. I have never spent time specifically in Lake Placid, before, so it was all new to me.

My Mom used to take us to the Adirondacks on vacations when we were kids. We'd go to all those wonderful attractions that used to be there, but, sadly, are now long gone – Land of Make Believe, Frontier Town, Santa's Workshop, 1000 Animals, and others. I discovered that Santa's Workshop is still there, so I did take time to go there for "old time's sake." The workshop and park were not open due to COVID, but I got to see it, take some photos, and go in the gift shop. It was a bit of nostalgia that warmed my heart.

The main street through downtown Lake Placid, NY is loaded with charm and opportunities to shop and dine.

I'm not a hiker, so didn't get out in the woods, much. But I did go on a lovely boat cruise on Lake Placid that made for a wonderful afternoon of fresh air on the water. I also took the Essex Ferry across Lake Champlain to Vermont for a day. I didn't have anything specific in mind to do in Vermont, except I did want to find the Ben & Jerry's factory in Waterbury. I mostly drove around checking out Burlington and Shelbourne. Shelbourne was a quaint town that had scarecrows all over town dressed like women and men all spiffed up for Sunday church complete with gloves, hats, and jewelry – I took a lot of time driving around looking at them all. I made two specific stops in Vermont - the Vermont Teddy Bear Company in Shelbourne and to have a dish of Cherry Garcia ice cream at the Ben & Jerry's factory (they weren't doing tours, so I'll have to make another trip once the restrictions are lifted to do that). Then, I headed back across Lake Champlain on the ferry to get back to Lake Placid by dinner time.

My trip wasn't meant to be a "go, go, go" week, so I spent it doing laid back, relaxing things – a lot of enjoying the lake and fall colors and reading while enjoying the lake and fall colors – hahaha – and I capped the week off with a relaxing massage in the spa at my hotel the night before I left to come home. But, there are a TON of great things to see and do in the area of Lake Placid and throughout the Adirondack Mountains. Whatever you want to do, you can find it there – camping, hiking, zip lining, climbing, adventuring, exploring, or just simply relaxing. It's all there for you to discover. So, consider a trip to our beautiful Adirondack Mountains, if you're looking for an in-state get-away.

Happy Adventuring,
Kim Pritt

Security and Law Enforcement Class Learn Role of Medical Examiner

Security and Law Enforcement teachers, Dudley Gilbert and Gene Newman, invited retired medical examiner Neal Hodgson to speak to their juniors at the Orleans Career and Technical Education Center.

Mr. Hodgson talked to the students about his former career and showed the students an autopsy video and some photos from cases that he worked on. He talked to them about cases that made an impact on him and what they may encounter as law enforcement when attending accidents or crime scenes.

Many of the students found the autopsies interesting as well as Mr. Hodgson's observations and reactions. The images were no doubt disturbing, but left an impact on the students as far as making poor choices and being in the wrong place at the wrong time.

Mr. Hodgson has been lecturing to students from high schools to college from over 50 years. He currently lives in Florida, but says he likes to travel around the country to talk to students and to share his expertise. "I am probably one of the few medical examiners in the country who do this and it is a very important mission to me. I will keep doing this until I am physically unable to do so. It always amazes me when I run into people who heard me talk years ago and still remember it and now I am talking to some of their children. I love what I do!"

Both Mr. Gilbert and Mr. Newman were grateful for Mr. Hodgson's time and his insights to this side of law enforcement.

Lillian Streich (Lockport), Neal Hodgson and Noah Neff (Lyndonville).

Wedding Guide

Five Great Reasons to Take Engagement Photos

During their engagements, couples will make many decisions in regard to their weddings. Wedding planning can sometimes seem like a runaway train of appointments, schedules and deadlines. As a result, some couples do not take the time to enjoy being engaged, which is a special and unique time in their lives.

Engagement photo shoots can be a unique way for couples to commemorate and enjoy the months preceding their weddings. Engagement photos memorialize the engagement and provide many additional benefits as well.

1. Engagement photo shoots give couples a chance to connect with their photographers. Booking an engagement photo shoot provides helpful information to both the couple and the photographer. The photographer gets to see how the couple interacts in front of the lens and can determine any insecurities or strengths and weaknesses couples may have. These lessons can be filed away and help make wedding day photos look better. Similarly, spending time with the photographer gives the couple an opportunity to develop a rapport with their photographer. If couples and their photographer don't click, scheduling an engagement shoot well in advance of the wedding gives couples a chance to find someone else to take their photos.

2. An engagement photo shoot gives couples time to spend together. An engagement photo shoot is an ideal time to spend an afternoon in a special location focusing on each other without wedding planning taking up your time.

3. Photo shoots provide a chance to get comfortable in front of the camera. Professional photographs taken before the wedding enables couples to view how they will appear in pictures. Seeing these photos might help couples grow more comfortable in front of the camera. This practice can help couples temper their anxieties prior to the wedding. An engagement shoot also can be a great time for couples to speak with their photographers about angles or styles they prefer or dislike.

4. The bride and groom have save-the-date or social media photos. Engagement photographs can be used for save-the-date cards or social media postings (check with the photographer for licensing agreements). This can be a great way to spread excitement about the upcoming nuptials.

5. Photo shoots provide a chance to experiment with vivid backdrops. Engagement photography gives couples plenty of opportunities to experiment with different locales, which may not be possible come the wedding day.

Engagement photography can be a worthwhile inclusion in pre-wedding celebrations. ■

The Covid-19 pandemic has had a huge impact on funding for many of the historic sites along Lake Ontario and we are one of them...

The Oak Orchard Light House Museum

We have been unable to host our annual major fund raiser this year due the COVID-19 restrictions and we are running far short of funds required to maintain and operate both the museum and lighthouse.

We are asking for your help

Located at Point Breeze on Lake Ontario, the Oak Orchard Light House Museum is an exact replica of the original light house first erected in 1871 and destroyed in a storm. The present lighthouse was constructed in 2010 using $200,000 raised by Orleans County citizens.

Each year, the lighthouse serves to welcome boaters, from all directions, as they enter the Point Breeze harbor. Families walk along the shore and visit the museum.

This lighthouse museum draws visitors who also spend tourism dollars in the county, and supports tourist visits drawn by other attractions.

It is a place where citizens, including school groups, learn about our commercial and recreational boating past. They learn the importance and navigational use of lighthouses. They learn local history and the place of this port in history.

The museum is generally open Friday nights from 5:00-7:00 p.m., Saturdays from 10:00 a.m.- 4:00 p.m., and Sundays from noon to 4:00 p.m. It is located where Route 98 meets Lake Ontario, next to the Black North Inn, north of Albion. Or you can arrive by boat to Point Breeze and dock at the first dock on your port side as you enter the harbor.

The light house requires funding by generous donors in order to continue to survive.

Please consider becoming a lifetime member of the museum. During this time, the board is offering a lifetime membership for a
