Anybody interested in a free ride in a helicopter flight for 4 people?! I'm still looking for 2 more people to join us. We leave early Saturday (November 21st) morning from Ozark, AL, and will fly to St. Augustine Fl where we will have breakfast and then board a yacht for a cruise and lunch.

Then we'll do a sight seeing flight along the coast to see the Jacksonville, FL port and continue to Savannah, Ga. for dinner, then fly back home. If interested please pm me.. Preferably someone with a helicopter and yacht, otherwise we can't go.

If everything goes perfectly, something's wrong.

I have learned not to correct people even when I know they are wrong. The onus of making everyone perfect is not on me. Peace is more precious than perfection.

If you always defend your children's mistake, one day you'll hire a lawyer to defend their crime. Discipline is nor child abuses.

Happy Thanksgiving Ya'll

PECAN PUMPKIN CRUNCH

Ingredients

- 4 tablespoons (1/2 stick) unsalted butter, at room temperature, plus more for baking dish
- One 15-ounce can pumpkin puree (not pie mix)
- 1 cup heavy cream
- 4 large eggs
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 cup packed light brown sugar, divided
- 1 tablespoon bourbon, optional
- 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon, divided
- 1/8 teaspoon table salt
- 1 1/2 cups roughly chopped pecans
- 1/4 cup all-purpose flour

Bourbon Whipped Cream

- 1 cup heavy cream
 - 1 tablespoon confectioners' sugar
 - 1 tablespoon bourbon
- Add the heavy cream to a medium bowl. Beat the cream with a hand-held mixer until thick and frothy. Add the sugar and bourbon and beat until medium peaks form.

Directions

- Heat the oven to 350 degrees F and arrange a rack in the middle. Coat an 8 by 8-inch baking dish with butter and set aside.
- Combine the pumpkin, cream, eggs, sugar, 1/4 cup brown sugar, bourbon, if using, ginger, nutmeg, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/8 teaspoon salt in a large bowl. Whisk until evenly combined and pour into the prepared baking dish.
- Cut the butter into small pieces and add to a medium bowl. Stir in the pecans, flour, and the remaining 1/4 cup brown sugar, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, and 1/8 teaspoon salt and mix until it holds together somewhat but still crumbles. Scatter the topping over the pumpkin mixture and bake until the edges are puffed and the filling is set in the center, about 45 minutes to 1 hour. Remove to a rack to cool to room temperature. Serve with the Bourbon Whipped Cream

GINGER SNAP PUMPKIN PIE WITH GINGER CREAM

Crumb Crust:

- 5 tablespoons butter, melted, plus more for greasing
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon fine salt
- 16 gingersnap cookies
- 1 sleeve graham crackers (about 9 sheets)

Filling:

- 2 cups pumpkin puree (about 1 1/2 cans)
- 1/4 cup dark brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 2 large eggs
- 1 banana, mashed
- 1 egg white
- One 5-ounce can evaporated milk

Ginger Whipped Cream:

- 3/4 cup heavy cream
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 3 tablespoons candied ginger, minced

Directions

For the crumb crust:

1. Preheat the oven to 350 degrees F. Grease the sides of a 9-inch spring-form pan with butter. Wrap the bottom of the pan in foil to prevent leaking. Combine the sugar, salt, 8 of the gingersnap cookies and the graham crackers in a food processor and pulse until crumbly. Drizzle in the butter and continue pulsing until the mixture is the consistency of wet sand. Pour the mixture into the pan and push into the base and halfway up the sides using a glass with straight edges.
2. Bake the crust for about 10 minutes, and then let cool completely while you make the filling.

For the filling: Stir together the pumpkin, dark brown sugar, cinnamon, eggs, banana, egg white and milk in a large bowl. Pour the filling into the baked crumb crust and bake for about 50 minutes. Let cool completely while you make the ginger whipped cream.

For the ginger whipped cream: Whip the cream with the sugar until soft peaks form using a hand mixer. Fold in the ginger. Run a thin knife around the edge of the pie to release it from the pan. Load the whipped cream into a piping bag with a large star tip. Pipe rosettes around the perimeter of the pie and decorate with the 8 remaining gingersnap cookies.

Cook's Note: Make sure you use a piping bag with a large star tip so the ginger bits in the whipped cream don't clog the tip.

MEYER LEMON-CRANBERRY BUNDT CAKE

Ingredients

- 3 1/4 sticks unsalted butter, cubed and at room temperature, plus more for the pan
- 3 cups cake flour, sifted, plus more for the pan
- 1 12 ounce bag fresh or frozen cranberries, thawed if frozen
- 2 1/2 cups granulated sugar
- 6 tablespoons whole milk
- 4 large eggs, plus 2 egg yolks
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- 2 tablespoons finely grated Meyer lemon zest
- 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder

- 1/2 teaspoon salt

For the Syrup and Glaze:

- 1/4 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 cup plus 2 tablespoons Meyer lemon juice
- 1 1/2 cups confectioners' sugar

Directions

1. Butter and flour a 10-cup fluted Bundt pan.
2. Heat the cranberries in a pot until they start to release their juices. Add 3/4 cup granulated sugar, and cook over medium heat until until juicy and the mixture reduces to 1 1/4 cups, about 15 minutes. Let cool completely.
3. Position a rack in the middle of the oven and preheat to 350 degrees F.
4. Whisk the milk, whole eggs and yolks, and vanilla in a medium bowl; set aside.
5. Whisk the 3 cups flour, the remaining 1 3/4 cups sugar, the lemon zest, baking powder and salt in a large bowl. Add the 3 1/4 sticks butter and beat with a mixer on low speed until moistened. Add half of the milk mixture, increase the speed to medium and beat 1 minute. Add the remaining milk mixture in two batches, beating between each addition. Scrape down the sides of the bowl and beat again, about 30 seconds.
6. Transfer 2/3 of the batter to the pan. Spoon the cranberry mixture in a ring around the middle of the batter (do not let it touch the pan). Top with the remaining batter and smooth evenly. Bake until a toothpick inserted into the center of the cake comes out clean, 55 to 60 minutes.
7. Meanwhile, make the syrup: Dissolve the 1/4 cup granulated sugar in 1/2 cup lemon juice in a saucepan over low heat. Remove the cake from the oven, poke the surface all over with a skewer and pour the syrup on top. Let cool in the pan for 10 minutes. Carefully invert the cake onto a parchment-lined rack to cool completely. Wrap tightly in plastic wrap and let sit overnight.
8. When ready to serve, whisk the confectioners' sugar and the remaining 2 tablespoons lemon juice until smooth. Spoon over the cake.

Cream Cheese Icing:

Directions

2. Melt the butter in a large saute pan over medium heat. Toss in the apples and stir to coat them with the butter. Add the lemon juice and the apple cider. Cook until the apples have softened and the cider has reduced by half. Transfer the mixture to a food processor and pulse into a coarse paste. Reserve.
3. In a large mixing bowl combine the flour, cinnamon, baking soda, nutmeg, both of the sugars and a pinch of salt. Make a well in the dry ingredients and add the pureed apples, the egg and vanilla. Stir to combine. Toss in the walnuts and raisins.
4. Butter and flour a loaf pan. Pour the batter into the prepared pan and put it in the preheated oven. Bake until a toothpick, inserted in the center comes out clean, about 40 to 45 minutes.
5. Remove the pan from the oven and let cool for 10 minutes. Remove the cake from the pan and cool completely.
6. Cut the cake in half equatorially and spread half of the icing on the bottom layer. Replace the top half and ice the top of the cake, leave the sides bare. Slice and serve.
7. Cream Cheese Icing:
8. Beat together all of the ingredients in a stand mixer or with a hand mixer until light and fluffy.

Collateral Needed!

An old Native American wanted a loan for $500. He approached his local banker. The banker pulled out the loan application, asking, "What are you going to do with the money?"

"Take jewelry to city and sell it," said the old man.

"What have you got for collateral?" queried the banker, going strictly by the book.

"Don't know of collateral."

"Well that's something of value that would cover the cost of the loan. Have you got any vehicles?"

"Yes, I have a 1949 Chevy pickup."

The banker shook his head, "How about livestock?"

"Yes, I have a horse."

"How old is it?"

"I don't know; it has no teeth."

Finally the banker decided to make the $500 loan. Several weeks later the old man was back in the bank. He pulled out a roll of bills, "Here's the money to pay loan," he said, handing the entire amount including interest.

"What are you going to do with the rest of that money?"

"Put it in my pocket."

"Why don't you deposit it in my bank?" he asked.

"I don't know of deposit."

"Well, you put the money in our bank and we take care of it for you. When you want to use it you can withdraw it."

The old Indian leaned across the desk, looking suspiciously at the banker, and asked, "What you got for collateral?"

You might be a redneck if you think Duct Tape is spelled Duck Tape.

Is Jesus enough?

Pastor Josh Sims

I want to apologize right off the bat for the title. Online that title is referred to as "click bait". The author's purpose of clickbait is to entice users to click on controversially titled articles. This creates a lot of hype over the title for no reason in comparison to the body of the article. That is not the case here. A few weeks ago, I preached a message with the same title and I felt led to share the principle of that message with you as we are moving into the season of Thanksgiving. When we read that title, we immediately know the easy answer is yes, Jesus is enough. However, answering the question and living out that answer is two different things all together. I challenge you to go and read Revelation chapter 5 verse 1-14. In this passage, John is seeing a vision of a scroll that has been sealed with seven seals and there is no one in Heaven who is worthy enough to open the seals. John begins to weep because without the scroll being opened God's plan can't be fulfilled. Suddenly there is commotion in Heaven and an elder reveal to John to stop crying because there was in fact one worthy. Can you guess who that person was? It was Jesus! All of Heaven erupted into praise and worship because Jesus was there. Ok let's stop right here. Jesus hasn't opened the seals and yet Heaven is rejoicing.... Friend read that again and let it sink in. The mere fact that Jesus was present was all that was needed for Heaven to rejoice. Verse 9 says, "And they sang a new song, saying: ...You are worthy to take the scroll, And to open its seals; For You were slain, And have redeemed us to God by Your blood Out of every tribe and tongue and people and nation". Those in Heaven began to sing praises to Jesus because of what He did on earth was qualification for what He was about to do in Heaven. OK sure, there are areas of our life that just are not the same anymore. 2020 has hit some of us very hard and we will never be the same, but I want to remind you that Jesus is still enough. If you are dealing with loss, Jesus is still enough. If you find yourself stuck, Jesus is still enough. If you feel like Will Smith in the Fresh Prince of Bel-Air, Jesus is still enough. In this season of thankfulness, let us all be thankful that Jesus is still enough.

Consulting With God

By: Wallace Kennedy, Jr.

When we hear the word consultant, we think about a person's who provides expert advice or counsel. We have consultants in many different areas of life, and this professional person help does not come free of charge.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if we had a default setting in our brain that when troubles and issues arise, we immediately consult with God on how to solve the problem and what courses of action to take?

However, unfortunately human wisdom is often our default mode of operation, but we need to learn to consult God before we engage in major undertakings or decisions.

How many times have you looked back on your life and wished if I only would have consulted with God before I: Got married, dated the wrong person, suffered buyer's remorse, a job/employment that turned out bad, wish we would have took the investment plan they offered at my job, a business deal gone sour etc. Certainly this is not an exhausted list of things we should have consulted God about.

God's Word instructs us: Proverbs 3:6 In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths. Acknowledge - to know, implies intimacy with the Lord Bible terms. We are to admit that God is true in all our ways. To acknowledge Him is to say, "He is true." That gets us off to a good start. If we don't acknowledge that He is true, we might as well not go any further.

We may at times find ourselves on the wrong path, yet God never stop being our wonderful consultant/counselor. He says: Isaiah 45:2 I will go before thee, and make the crooked places straight/ elevated places plain/ rough places smooth:...

The stronger our conviction that God's Word is true, and He must be consulted, the greater our sense of urgency to seek His Will in the matter. Which makes our willingness to follow His guidance and accept the outcome, whatever it may be or wherever it may lead.

Happy Thanksgiving my friends, if God has blessed you with more than enough, share with someone in need. God keep you all is His care is my prayer.

Military Inspection Corporal Conroy needed to use a pay phone, but didn't have change for a dollar. He saw Private Duncan mopping the base's corridor floors, and asked him, "Soldier, do you have change for a dollar?" Private Duncan replied, "Sure."

The Corporal turned red. He said, "That's no way to address a superior officer! Now let's try it again. Private, do you have change for a dollar?" Private Duncan replied, "No, SIR!"

Claybank Master Gardeners

Greetings Gardeners!

Since Hurricane Sally, the rain has ceased for October, but hopefully things will revive with some hand watering. Weed and rogue grass growth has given this gardener plenty to keep up with. While the heat and drought caused some die-back of the smaller shrubs and younger plants, we took the opportunity to clear out the overgrowth and clean up the landscape. The soft, moistened soil was then ready for weeding and cleaning up the garden areas, to prepare for planting the fall veggies and spring bulbs. We happily welcome cooler FALL! (insert graphic)

Soil preparation for your fall veggies and plants will be greatly enhanced by MULCH, a FREE goldmine of beneficial nutrients from layers of pine needles, decaying tree leaves and grass clippings that prevent weed growth and provide moisture. Allow your gathered mulch to decompose in a dampened pile for a couple weeks or more before adding them around your plants and shrubs. Busy little bugs will munch away at the decaying mulch and add aeration and nutrients, turning the mulch into more beneficial soil. Earthworms will also show up, a good sign of healthy soil! (Composted kitchen scraps can also be added.)

The Alabama Extension's free SOW app (without ads!) tells us we can now plant broccoli, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, collards, kale, lettuce, mustard, onions, radishes, spinach, strawberries and turnips. If you click on broccoli, for example, it recommends different methods (seeds or transplants) depending on whether you are in zone 8a or 8b. Some of us in the Wiregrass area are in 8a, some in 8b.

If you love gardening, and are interested in meeting some down-to-earth Master Gardeners, please join us for our Thursday November 19th meeting at Hoppergrass Restaurant in Ozark at 11 AM. You can buy your lunch, if you wish, and bring it to the meeting room to the right of the buffet line.

It was very crowded at the supermarket, and the customer in front of me had a large order. As the harried-looking clerk lifted the final bag for her, its bottom gave way, sending the contents crashing to the floor.

"They just don't make these bags like they used to," the clerk quipped to the customer. "That was supposed to happen in your driveway."

DAVE SAYS

Financial advice with Dave Ramsey

Dear Dave,
What exactly is a zero-based budget?
Dean

Dear Dean,

Simply put, a zero-based budget is income minus outgo equals zero. If you earn $4,000 a month, and you're doing a zero-based budget, every item you spend, save, give and invest should add up to $4,000. It's a method of knowing where every single one of your dollars is going. Most people don't live on a budget. They just cash checks, write checks, then they look up and wonder where all their money went. Not having a plan, especially for your money, is a bad plan.

List all your income from all sources for the month. Next, list every single expense you have each month. Rent, food, cable, phones, and anything else you pay for gets added to the list. Your expenses vary from one month to the next, which is why you make a new spending plan each month.

Now, here's where it gets real. Subtract your income from your expenses. Ideally, this number will be zero. It might take some practice, so don't be discouraged if everything doesn't balance out perfectly the first few times. All that means is you need to find a way to bring one of the numbers up, the other one down—or both. But whatever you do, don't spend a dime that's not accounted for.

If you have a problem with spending more than you make, make some cuts in order to equalize your income and your outgo. Using coupons, cutting back on groceries, or carpooling to work are great ideas to reduce spending. If you want to generate more money, get a second job on weekends or sell some stuff.

You're the boss of the budget—in the beginning. Once it's committed to paper, in a spreadsheet, or on an app like Every Dollar, the budget is the boss!

The mail would always be early, the check would always be in the mail, and it would be written for more than you expected.

Potato chips might have calories, but if you ate them with a dip, the calories would be neutralized.

If the guy from the government said to you, "I'm here to help," not only would he mean it, but also he'd do it.

First impressions wouldn't count for nearly as much as ultimate performance. Winning might be a nice thing, but that would be about all.

All people could expect to be accepted.

Every once in a while at least, a kid who always closed the door softly would be told, "Go back and slam the door."

Highway patrolmen would never be around when you're running late, but would always be at your side when a BMW blows past or a Mac truck won't get off your bumper.

The better food tasted, the less calories it would have.

Warranties would be for 13 months and products would fail at 12.

More would be accomplished by governments when they spent more.
