Contending that the pandemic "has made it even more clear that Southwest Michigan is the place to be," Cornerstone

Alliance has launched a full-tilt incentive campaign called "Move to Michigan," targeting remote workers in a bid to get them to relocate to Michigan's Great Southwest. Recognizing that mortgage rates continue to hit historic lows and consumers are increasingly considering the purchase of condos and homes in light of the dramatic increase in time spent both working and studying from home, Cornerstone Alliance and a number of their partners have assembled a menu of more than $15,000 in incentives for those willing to buy a home in Southwest Michigan, where they can still work in Chicago while enjoying a short commute from the sandy beaches and fresh air along the shores of Lake Michigan on this side of the big lake. Cornerstone Alliance President Rob Cleveland says, "We put significant resources into recruiting new companies. We always have and we will continue to do that. However, we also have to recognize that our world has changed. You can work from anywhere, and we were starting to see that change even before the coronavirus pandemic. The pandemic simply intensified that shift." So, Cornerstone Alliance, in partnership with multiple entities in Southwest Michigan, has launched the Move to Michigan campaign to spur interest among Chicago area residents to relocate to Southwest Michigan. Since the beginning of the pandemic, more than 40-percent of adults living in urban areas have indicated they would consider moving to a more rural area, according to a study by The Harris Poll. As Chicagoans consider moving to wide-open spaces, Move to Michigan encourages and incentivizes remote workers from Chicago to relocate their permanent residence to Southwest Michigan by offering up to $15,000 towards a new home for those who meet the criteria, and a choice of over $5,000 in additional perks, such as: Annual membership at an area co-working space... Annual membership to the Renaissance Athletic Club...Annual membership to Harbor Shores Driving Range and Practice area...Car service to and from regional airports for one year...Annual pass to Berrien County Parks, St. Joseph and Benton Harbor Beaches...Membership to the Economic Club of Southwest Michigan...Access to Whirlpool Inside Pass buying program...Two VIP Corporate Hospitality Passes to the 2022 KitchenAid Senior PGA Championship...and Annual pass for the South Shore celebrating, I'd throw out some great seasonal libations for you to enjoy this season!

Bud Light Ugly Sweater Seltzer Variety Pack

Have you seen all the hype with this holiday package? With winter holiday graphics and flavors, this is a sure home run. This seltzer variety pack includes; Cranberry, Apple Crisp, Peppermint Patty, and Ginger Snap. Yes, you read those correctly! I feel people will either love or hate these holiday flavors, but it is a must try. This has hit the market and is available for a short time and is in very high demand. Make sure to grab yourself a 12 pk today!

Other Fun Packages

I will run through many of the other delightful season brews that have hit our market (or will soon hit the market). Blake's is launching their amazing Cranberry Cider for the season called "Barry Cranders," a great cider for the holidays if you love cranberry. Our traditional 12 Days of Milkshake Stout from Rochester Mills has hit the shelves as of November 1st. This is a delightful variety pack for yourself, or as a gift. It features fan-favorite brews from years past, as well as new ones. This year, I am super excited to try the King Cake Milkshake Stout. New Belgium's white IPA, Accumulation, is now hitting the market (although, lets wait on the snow!). Hop-lovers' favorite, Celebration, just came out this week. It is a delightful fresh-hop IPA that I certainly look forward to each and every year.

This beer has been the Sierra Nevada Winter Seasonal since 1981 and certainly has a place in the heart of every craft beer lovers. Local brewing company, Tapistry, just launched Ski Bum, which is a great easy-drinking American pilsner. The can design looks amazing, and the liquid inside is just as great! Shiner has their delicious winter brew out, called Shiner Cheer. This delightful ale is a pecan and peach brew that is super delicious. I hope you all have a safe and healthy Thanksgiving, and that as always you enjoy responsibly! Cheers!

Fun & Interesting Things to Do in Michigan's Great Southwest

Huminsky

We have a lot to be thankful for and the first 10 days of this month are certainly one of those things! We should also be thankful that there are fun and interesting things to do in these challenging times.

Each Sunday Dablon Winery hosts live music by various artists. Tomorrow's artist is Chris Behre. Chris Behre is a regional Michiana singer/songwriter who soulfully transforms songs that we all know. His musical artistry affects whatever venue he's playing in. Chris was born in New York and raised in both Brussels, Belgium (until 10) and South Bend, Indiana. He began playing the guitar at age 8, and writing songs at age 11, inspired by the acoustic singer/songwriters of the 1970's. He was educated at the Berklee College of Music in Boston, and went on to play many places in the U.S. and around the world; Boston, New York, Chicago, L.A., Seattle, London, Paris, Amsterdam, Brussels, Munich, Stockholm, Ecuador, Brazil...singing in every kind of venue there is, cafes, concert halls, restaurants, night clubs...His style is a rhythmic/acoustic/folk/rock. Whether telling a story in one of his originals, or singing one of his favorite acoustic covers, Chris is able to communicate something to whomever is listening.

Sunday, November 22, is Donald Savoie. Original blue-eyed soul steeped in the tradition of Chicago blues and Motown passionate vocals, high energy on piano, guitar and harmonica, both raw and with finesse.

For our last Sunday this month, November 29, is Dale Wicks. Dale Wicks of Grand Rapids has been performing all across Michigan for the past three years. His rootsy, flatpicking style of guitar playing fits well in both the alt-country and folk-rock traditions. His live sets feature material from his three albums, "Someone Else's Songs" (2013), "Only Passing Through" (2016), and "Soon" (2018), as well as a respectable selection of popular tunes from the 50's through the present day. His songs "House On Fire" and "Murder Ballads" appeared in the movie Ten Miles Back (2017), and he has been featured in such publications as The Holland Sentinel, Ludington Daily News, and Michiana Life Magazine. His favorite songs to cover live include "Amie" by Pure Prairie League, "I Want You Back" by Jackson 5, "Bare Necessities" from the Jungle Book, "You Don't Know How It Feels" by Tom Petty, and "Feelgood, Inc." by Gorillaz.

The folks at Journeyman's Distillery invite you to their Autumn Artisan Market, November 21 and 22. For two days, artists and makers of all kinds will fill Journeyman's iconic event spaces for their annual Autumn Artisan Market! Wander the old Featherbone Corset Factory with your favorite craft beverage in hand and meet some of the area's most talented and dedicated creative professionals. From locally sourced gourmet and personal care items, to hand-crafted decor and jewelry—you'll find gifts for everyone on your holiday shopping list. Food and beverages will be available for purchase. Don't miss this popular event!

Last this month, but certainly not least, is St. Joseph Today's Small Business Saturday. On Saturday, November 28, they are excited to celebrate Small Business Saturday in Southwest Michigan! Support the movement - shop small. Remember, when you spend $100 locally, $68 will stay in town supporting the local economy!

At this time, we want to wish you all an amazing Thanksgiving. A time for family and friends to gather. And as you gather, please do it with the utmost respect of each other. Together we can beat this virus.

Please visit www.swmichigan.org for all the details. Also, please check with each individual location before you travel. We'll be back in a couple of weeks with more fun and interesting things to do in Michigan's Great Southwest!

Restoration

Whatever you bind on earth will be bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth will be loosed in heaven. ~ Matthew 18:18

Dr. Robert Morin transforms lives. There simply are no two ways about it. of forgiveness, he brings us healing. He brings us restoration. In himself, he puts the pieces of our lives back together.

Dr. Morin specializes in reconstructive surgery. Every year, he gathers a medical team and travels to a poverty-stricken part of the world. There, he and the team offer to restore the faces of children—children whose faces have been broken for a wide variety of reasons.

The waiting lines are long to see Dr. Morin's team. The work is exhausting. It's not uncommon for the staff to labor from sunup to sundown for six days straight. Family after family. Face after face. Heartbreaking story after heartbreaking story. Procedure after procedure. After each one, however, there are tears—tears of gratitude from the families; tears of joy from the medical team. The tears come easily. After all, everyone there knows that such a restoration will transform that child's life.

Imagine you are part of Dr. Morin's team. Imagine how it must feel to have in your hands the means to change a life. According to Jesus, we do.

In love, Jesus saw our lives in all of its brokenness—lives broken by our own sin. He knew we were helpless to put the pieces back together. And so he came to us. He became one of us. In our place, he lived a perfect life—sinless and holy. On our behalf, he carried the entire sorry mess of our wrongs to the cross, blotting them out in his blood. Then he rose from death. Now he comes to each of us through his living Word. He calls us to repentance. And in his gospel message

But as he does, he also entrusts us with something extraordinary. He entrusts us with that same message of restoration. He says that because he has paid for the sins of the whole world, we have the right to announce forgiveness to repentant sinners—to restore their relationship with God.

And the beauty of this restoration is that it does not simply last a lifetime. It lasts forever.

Prayer: Lord Jesus, thank you for your gospel message of restoration. Move me to bring your healing to a broken soul. Amen.

Taking Care of You, the Family Caregiver

Diane Genovese, Owner

While caring for your elderly moms and dads or other family members, it is easy to put aside caring for yourself. Many boomers have assumed the role of caregiver while often juggling work and raising children. Caring for a family member is a loving commitment and definitely a rewarding role in life.

As devoted sons and daughters, we readily step up to care for family members. During this journey you may often forget to take care of yourself. Caregivers often acquire poor eating habits, are sleep deprived, do not find time to exercise and at times do not keep up with their own medical appointments. Many caregivers experience occasional bouts of anger or frustration and then feel guilty for having these feelings. Try to find positive ways of coping with these difficult feelings, by talking with others who are caring for family members and facing the same challenges. Be kind and patient with yourself. In the long run, it is a benefit not only to you but to the person on the receiving end if you make the time to rejuvenate by enjoying your favorite hobbies, exercising and going on outings that truly make you happy.

When it comes to siblings sharing the care, it is important to understand that we are all in different places with our emotional growth and have different life pressures. Accepting your siblings for who they are is key. Not everyone thinks, feels or acts the same way, especially when a situation is emotionally charged. Try to keep your own expectations in check, and strive to accept and work with your siblings' personalities and abilities. Communicate and support one another as much as possible to ensure this role of caring for parents is a fulfilling one which can ultimately bring siblings closer together.

Our gift as children and grandchildren is to accept our parents and grandparents individual method of traveling the course of aging and to take as much time out of our lives as we can to just be with them; to sit and listen to their stories, to share a meal and to give some extra hugs along the way. The growing sense of isolation and aloneness can be a frightening path. We can walk with them on this path with encouragement and love.

As you honor your mother, your father or other loved ones, remember they wish for you to be true to you, by taking good care of yourself.

"To care for those who once cared for us is one of the highest honors."

Your Chamber Update

Sarah Spoonholtz,
Regional Director,
SMR Chamber

One of the biggest challenges brought on by COVID happens to be that of bringing people together for some good ole fashion face-to-face networking. However, I'm proud to say we've been able to do so safely and effectively since returning to in-person events this summer. While we haven't held a ton of them, so far we've hosted Business After Hours, our 60th Annual Golf Outing & Steak Fry, as well as the Lake Side Fitness Ribbon Cutting. When given the challenge of doing yet another Ribbon Cutting, this time at an assisted living and care facility, we've taken additional steps to ensure the success of the event as well as the safety of our members, staff, and community.

On Tuesday, November 17th at 4:00 p.m., we will be gathering together outdoors to celebrate the new ownership of Caretel Inns of St. Joseph. If you're familiar with Caretel Inns, I can assure you the staff there are continuing the tradition of being one of the most innovative providers for assisted living and post-acute care in Southwest Michigan. With a wide variety of short-term rehabilitation and full-time living options, the staff there continues to provide options that best suite the individual and their special requirements.

I had the pleasure of touring the inside of Caretel Inns of St. Joseph a few years ago and have to say I was completely blown away at the different on-site amenities that they offer. Those include the on-site restaurant, beauty salon/spa, pub, movie theater, and a very long list of activities. You can schedule a tour, or take the virtual tour by visiting their website at caretelstjoseph.com

While we will be fully outdoors for this event, attendees will see examples of the service that Caretel Inns of St. Joseph continues to offer, including gifting everyone in attendance with a special "thank you" in the form of a pie. In keeping with the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS) guidelines for COVID, we will be social distancing, masks are required – yes even outdoors, and we will be staying a safe distance from the building to keep those inside safe and sound.

If you're curious about Caretel Inns of St. Joseph's new owner, here's a bit about them: Symphony Care Network of Chicago expanded its footprint when it officially added five former Caretel Inns of America centers to its network on June 1 of this year. This expansion represents Symphony Care Network's debut in the Michigan assisted-living and skilled-nursing markets. The five former Caretel Inns centers join Symphony's strong portfolio, now totaling 29 centers across four states.

Caretel Inns of Lakeland officially became Caretel Inns St. Joseph in June when the complete acquisition was confirmed. General Manager, Dawn Long, said, "It was important that the Caretel name remain part of the new branding. This facility has been serving the community for nearly 25 years, and residents have a warm place in their hearts for Caretel. We want to enhance that relationship by providing new resources to serve the community's evolving needs for years to come."

To learn more about this event, the Chamber, find current members, view additional events, or to learn about member benefits visit our website smrchamber.com. You can also reach me at sspoonholtz@smrchamber.com or call my direct line at 269-932-4040 if you'd like to chat. We look forward to seeing and connecting with you soon!

Rail to and from Chicago. Cleveland reiterates, "The pandemic has made it even more clear that Southwest Michigan is the place to be," pointing out, "People want to be outside, in a less dense area. It has never been easier to work remotely. Today, we are putting our money where our mouth is to encourage people to relocate to this beautiful area." "So," says Cleveland, "We are making a proactive effort to recruit new people to our community — new people from anywhere in the world. Our expectation is that we can bring another 20 or more people into our community on a full-time basis. This will be equivalent to recruiting a new company to our area." Cleveland adds, "I want to be clear, this program is designed to recruit full-time residents. We are looking for people to move here, to contribute to our community, to put kids into our public schools, who will eat dinner at someplace like The Buck on a week-night, and become lifelong Michiganders." go in 2020," Southwest Michigan is one of the most beautiful places in the country. Only 90 miles from Chicago, it is an easy commute for anyone who works in the big city but prefers to live in a beautiful coastal community. Featuring miles of sandy beaches, first-rate culinary cuisine and excellent schools, Southwest Michigan is a great place to raise a family.

Cleveland explains that for the incentive program, "We will be working with our local lenders — banks and credit unions — to help these people buy homes. With mortgage rates near historic lows, now is the time to consider home ownership, especially if you have never owned a home before. This program will incentivize people to make Michigan their primary residence." The community is well aware of the attraction it brings, as Cleveland explains, "Each year hundreds of thousands of people visit our community. They do it throughout the year, not just in the summer time. We're grateful for the spending they do while they're here, however our goal is to turn them into full-time residents. We have tremendous public schools — and that is backed up by data. We have world class breweries, wineries, distilleries and restaurants." And, he adds, "People can work from anywhere and the competition for those people is fierce. This program gives us a competitive advantage when trying to get their attention." A recent weekly virtual meeting of the Rotary Club of St. Joseph-Benton Harbor was a truly global affair as a non-Rotarian supporter on duty for Whirlpool in Milan, Italy was "delivered" the Rotary District 6360 Golden Trowel Award. The prestigious award was presented to Casey Tubman, Vice President of Product Marketing, currently deployed to Milan, who was nominated by the club for his work with the Interact Clubs and their efforts in the Dominican Republic. The Rotary Club of St. Joseph-Benton Harbor sponsors the Interact Clubs at St. Joseph High School, Upton Middle School, and Lake Michigan Catholic High School and Middle School, and has embarked on annual trips to Batay 106 in the Dominican Republic, dating back to 2015. Unfortunately, the 2020 trip this year was cancelled due to COVID-19. Tubman was introduced to the efforts through his three children's experience with Interact, and has been a chaperone on three of the five trips. He was a driving force behind the #Interact4DR effort. Tubman expressed his gratitude for the recognition, saying "It's not about getting awards or adding to a list of personal accomplishments, it's about who you do it for." He went on to thank Rotary for providing the opportunity to serve, and noted that it was "as much for our kids here as it is for the youth in the Dominican Republic and that it's great to see our teens inspired to serve and give back." Early on, the annual Dominican Republic trips were focused on building homes and latrines in Batay 106. Haiti shares the island with the Dominican Republic and is an incredibly poor country. Many Haitians go to the Dominican Republic to work in sugar cane fields. A Batay means "Haitian community." Batays average around 800 people and anywhere from 50 to 200 homes. In 2019, the group shifted their focus more to education, with the idea to sponsor three kids to go to school. In the Dominican Republic, schooling is provided by the government but the kids need supplies, backpacks, books, and a uniform. For junior high and high school age students, they also need transportation. The approximate cost per year is $60 for elementary students and $325 for junior high or high school. The group quickly found that it was impossible to pick only three kids, and by the end of the trip, the conversation had shifted to how they could raise funds to support education for all 125 students. When the pandemic hit, the kids stopped going to school, however by not going to school, they also lost access to food. The Interact funds were diverted to supporting food needs for kids in the Batay. In June, Tubman was a guest speaker, along with representatives in the Dominican Republic, to provide an update on the project and the well-being of those in the Batay. Current efforts are underway to help support virtual education through providing laptops, wifi access, and on-site educators. Rotary District 6360 covers 15 counties in Southwest Michigan. The Golden Trowel is awarded annually to up to four non-Rotarian individuals or groups who have made a major contribution to a Rotary project. Gary Campbell represented the District Foundation to present the award at the recent meeting.

After the year that 2020 has turned out to be, the holiday season this year will be a major focus for many families hoping to renew traditions and gain some semblance of normalcy, and St. Joe Today is offering one of the best ways to kick start that in a safe way by strolling the central business district for the 2020 Luminary. The holiday season will begin with the warm glow of hundreds of luminaries lining the streets of downtown St. Joseph from 5:00pm-8:00pm next Saturday, November 20th. Luminary, sponsored by The Boulevard Inn & Bistro and Holt Bosse, creates a joyful atmosphere for all ages to enjoy sales and promotions, specialty items, drawings and giveaways, free gift wrapping and gift ideas galore from participating restaurants and shopkeepers. Amy Zapal, Executive Director of St. Joseph Today, says, "All ages are invited to head downtown for this festive event," and adds, "Whether you're looking to enjoy a delicious cup of hot chocolate, grab a sweet treat, or get a jump start on your holiday gift shopping it's a great way to kick off the holiday season." Additionally, St. Joseph Today will kick off the holiday music a little earlier this year. Zapal reports, "St. Joe Today added holiday music throughout downtown in 2019 as part of Window Wonderland," adding, "This year we wanted to start the holiday festivities a little earlier during the unofficial kickoff to the holiday shopping season. We're hoping to spread a little extra cheer this year." Participating locations include the following: 221 Main Restaurant & Cocktail House...Baroda Founders Winery... Caffè Tosi...DK Boutique...G&M Variety...Grins of St. Joseph...Oh My Darlings...Olive Cart...Perennial Accents...ReVive Spa...Silver Harbor Brewing...State Street Stuff...The Buck Burgers & Brew...The Natural Gem...Third Coast Surf Shop...and White Pine Winery. New this year, St. Joseph Today, the Southwestern Michigan Tourist Council, City of St. Joseph,

Southwest Michigan Regional Chamber and Cornerstone Alliance have partnered this winter season to create a magical experience that will bring more consumers and business to downtown St. Joseph. Through the partnership, new winter lights will be placed downtown along State St. (from Elm St. to Ship St.) as well as Broad St. and Ship St. (Lake Blvd. to Main St.) and Pleasant St. (Lake Blvd. to Court St.). The winter lights will kick off on November 20th, during the Luminary weekend, and remain up through February in conjunction with Light up the Bluff. St. Joe Today offers up special thanks to Edward J. Todd for helping to bring that winter project to the downtown, saying, "Edward J. Todd is devoted to supporting the education of our local youth as well as supporting the growth of local businesses through community events." Zapal explains, "Our hope is to make outdoor spaces more inviting during the winter," and adds, "Downtown St. Joseph will transform into a winter wonderland, enticing visitors, shoppers and diners alike, for the holidays and throughout the winter. We invite the community to enjoy this winter season and support local businesses." For more information on Luminary visit online at: www.stjoetoday.com/luminary. St. Joe Today also invites everyone to catch these upcoming fall and winter events: Small Business Saturday: Saturday, November 28th (all day)...Window Wonderland: Friday, December 4th (7:00pm-8:30pm)...Reindog Holiday Parade: Saturday, December 5th (3:00pm).

Will my mother-in-law be okay?

Dear Dave,
My mother-in-law is 60. She works hard and has no debt, but she also has no savings or retirement accounts.

However, she owns a couple of paid-for rental properties that are worth about $350,000 each, and her home is worth $700,000. What can I do to help her plan for the future?

Paul
Dear Paul,
The best plan would be to first see if she's already got a plan. I understand you're worried about her not having any savings or retirement. That makes you a good son-in-law. But it sounds to me like she's got the makings of a pretty good retirement situation lined up, even if she didn't go the traditional route to get there. You just told me she's sitting on nearly $1.5 million in paid-for real estate. Dude, she's a millionaire!

If the time comes where she decides she doesn't like landlording anymore or just wants to retire, she can always sell the rental properties, invest that big pile of cash in mutual funds, and live off the income. I've got a feeling this lady isn't going to be starving or depending on Social Insecurity.

If you're concerned about things, just sit down with her and let her know. Ask her if she needs any help with her money situation and plans for retirement. If she doesn't want to talk about it right now, that's fine, but making the offer shows you care. And, having a good, strong game plan means fewer worries!

—Dave

Get dialed in

Dear Dave,
My wife and I have two kids and one on the way. We're debt-free except for our home, and we have our emergency fund in place. We've also been saving for retirement, with me putting 15% into a 401(k) and her putting 10 percent into her retirement account. On top of all this, we're putting a little money toward college funds for the kids. We talked the other night, and after that we started thinking about pulling back from retirement saving and getting the house paid off. What do you think about that?

Callen
Dear Callen,
I teach people to start investing 15% of their household income for retirement after they've completed Baby Step 3, which is saving three to six months of expenses for an emergency fund. Baby Step 4 would be both of you putting 15% of your income into retirement, and you're not quite doing that yet. Saving for college comes next in Baby Step 5.

I don't teach people to put less than 15% of their income into retirement in order to pay off the house a little earlier. It's tempting when you've got the debt-free bug, but it's not the shortest distance between where you are right now and wealth. The average person who follows my plan—the Baby Steps—can pay off their home in about seven years.

You've got offense and defense to think about, Callen. Defense is getting rid of debt, and the offense is building wealth. You don't want to let your guard down on offense in order to just play defense and get the house paid off. What you're talking about is a normal reaction for lots of folks in your position, but it's not what I would recommend right now.

I love your fire, but follow the Baby Steps as they're laid out. My goal isn't just helping people get out of debt. It's to teach people how to become wealthy as a result of being out of debt and encouraging them be outrageously generous along the way!

—Dave

How Being Stellar and Steller Landed Me in the Cellar

The wife has been casting about lately for a new job, and this past week, she landed one!

The story will likely never be told of how critically instrumental I was in helping her land this new gig. For example, as she went through the interview process, I was constantly:

• Wearing and re-wearing the luckiest of my lucky clothes;

• Doing a huge range of activities — such as performing a number of motions that, from a far enough distance, resemble exercise — in multiples of the luckiest of my lucky numbers, which these days are 21, 19, and 18 . . . The dates that the world's three most intelligent, charming and beautiful grandchildren were born;

• Microwaving and reheating all foods and drinks for the luckiest of my lucky cook times (36 seconds is an important one, derived from adding 4 + 20 + 6 + 6, the month and date numbers of my parents birthdays; 16 is another, derived from adding the days my five kids were born on, which comes to 106, then adding 10 + 6; and 58, recently elevated to a first-string lucky number, it being the sum of my three grandkids' birth dates.)

One cannot overstate the impact of these actions on the wife's job prospects (and as a bonus, it appears that I was simultaneously helping myself, inadvertently, of course, to achieving a 7-1 start to my Fantasy Football season!)

When everything got wrapped up and the job was officially hers, I celebrated the stellar achievement in a Steller fashion – I made myself a cup of tea in a mug that I had never used, waiting for a moment like this to celebrate (it was originally supposed to be used to toast another Chicago Cubs World Series championship, but . . .)

This particular mug, from the Cornell Lab of Ornithology, was highly appropriate for toasting stellar outcomes because it features a painting of a bird called the Steller's Jay. (The Steller's Jay is a mostly blue Jay, but isn't a Blue Jay. But they share some features, like a prominent crest on the head, a rather unmelodious voice, and a propensity to steal food from unwary picnickers.

It was named for a German naturalist named George Steller, who incidentally has a fairly stellar list of plant and animal species named after him, including the now-extinct Steller's Sea Cow, an 8-10 ton(!) manatee-like creature of far northern waters that is said to have sported a hide of blubber 8-10 inches thick! To put that in perspective, that's nearly as dense as what rests atop my No. 4 son's head (he has yet to get a COVID haircut).

Excitingly, George Steller's Wikipedia page has a photo illustrating for the wife how we job-hunted together in such a stellar/Steller way. The pic is of a statue of Steller and "his" Sea Cow, and it looks for all the world as though the 10-ton critter just soared out of the water and is being held in George's outstretched arms.

So I sorta compared myself to George (tirelessly supporting her in landing the job), and her to the leaping Sea Cow. But I guess something got lost in translation. And that's why I'm sleeping on the cellar couch for the next 58 days.
